Why This is Your Catalog

THIS catalog has been made for you and by you. It is not just our concept of what a catalog should be . . . but a composite catalog embodying the information contained in the many requests and suggestions we have received over a period of years from you, our customers.

Some of you wanted more cultural directions, and they have been constantly added.

Some wanted more illustrations, and each year more have been shown.

Some wanted more illustrations in full color. These have been added, and you have freely expressed your appreciation of them.

Others of you said it would be helpful if the plants were given more detailed descriptions, and so this has been done.

Many of you advised us you needed varieties of shrubs and trees which do not grow too big and block out the house or create too much shade. So we have discarded many of the tall growing old timers which have been replaced by choice items which do not grow out of bounds or become too tall and are distinct in character.

All in all, you now have a garden catalog, so informative, complete and up to date in every respect, that it has no equal anywhere in the world.

USE THIS CATALOG NEXT YEAR

If some distraction prevents you from placing an order with us this year, keep this catalog and use it next year: If any item is reduced, you will be given credit for the difference.

$1.00 for Additional Copies

Since we have added so much information and true color illustrations, the catalog has become extremely expensive, costing $1.50 to print and mail each and every copy.

We can mail only one copy to a person or an inquiry. Additional copies as well as copies to be mailed to friends will be sent only if request is accompanied with $1.00 for each book, which is less than its actual cost.

Helpful Information

For those of you who seek additional and more detailed information than is given in this catalog, we have a number of cultural leaflets. They are as follows and cost twenty-five cents each.

Cultural Instructions for Roses

Cultural Instructions for Lilies

Cultural Instructions for Summer-Flowering Bulbs

Cultural Instructions for Spring-Flowering Bulbs

Any of the above, 25c each.

In the event you order roses, lilies or bulbs, you will receive the corresponding Cultural Leaflet free of charge.

They are complete and authentic, you will find them most useful.

In addition to the above, we offer a booklet with complete and accurate cultural instructions of Hardy Plants in general use. You will find it invaluable. $1.00 per copy.

When to Order

Send us your order as soon as you have made your selection. Plants should be "set" in as early in the season as possible because transplanting is best accomplished while plant material is in a dormant or semi-dormant condition. This rule applies not only to planting in spring but also to transplanting in the autumn.

Another very good reason for ordering early is the "weather", which is responsible for much lost time around a nursery. Plant material cannot be stored on shelves as most manufactured items, to be picked up at a moment's notice and shipped at will. For the best results, plants must be dug fresh for each order and assembled before they can be shipped. Some of our plants are growing outdoors in cold frames, some in greenhouses, while others are out in the fields where they are not accessible in rainy weather.

When to Plant

Begin planting early in the spring even though it is still cold; don't wait for weather to "warm up" because that is the time plants should be in the ground, ready to take advantage of nice warm days and start making new roots. Plants which are supplied in pots may be planted as late as June. Ground covering plants grown in pots can be successfully planted throughout the entire summer.

However, all the paper work involved in preparing digging orders, packing slips, answering your questions, can be done well ahead of the rush shipping season. Therefore, the earlier you send your order, the more time we have to carefully prepare your shipment. You cannot order too early—even though your order is received in mid-winter—your plants will not be shipped before the proper planting time for your section of the country, be it for spring planting or autumn planting.

Planting in Autumn

Autumn planting of Iris, Poppies, Peonies and Lemon Lilies may start in August or early September with other perennials following immediately thereafter. Begin planting shrubs in late September or early October with Roses following in early November. All planting may continue until the ground is frozen hard. Plant early . . . reap extra fine results.

Mr. J. J. Grullemans, Pres.
Wayside Gardens
Harwichport, Mass.

Dear Mr. Grullemans:

After some delay due to the preparation of our new Perennial trial grounds we were able to set out the nearly 9,000 Perennials we received from you three weeks ago.

This display of 33 species and 156 varieties will I am sure stimulate great interest in a type of plants (Perennials) which have not had the attention they deserve in Tidewater Virginia.

My main reason in writing you is to comment on the quality of the plants and the manner in which they were received, which reflects the meticulous methods used by your shipping department.

I also wish to express my appreciation to you personally, for the time you devoted in correspondence with me and which eventually led to the selection made for our new Botanical Garden.

Most sincerely yours,

Frederic Heutte

Enjoy the Finer Varieties and More Abundant Flowering of Pedigreed Plants

Your garden can bring you the greatest and most enduring pleasure and the greatest return for the thought, effort, time and money you invest in it, only with pedigreed stock. "Breeding" in plants, just as in animals, is the only way to assure pure, true strains and prize specimens.

Wayside shrubs and plants are reproduced only from pedigreed and selected stock set aside for reproducing purposes exclusively. Cuttings or divisions taken from these selected stock plants are grown into salable specimens. This insures that all of the superior qualities of the parent stock will be retained in the new plants, a scientific principle that assures you the enviable color and profusion you want in your garden—as thousands of our customers have learned to their pleasure.

Perfect Blooms From Careful Breeding

In planning and planting a garden you look forward to an abundance of flowers. In buying plants or bulbs or shrubs you are investing not only money but time, in expectation of this abundance of bloom true to type. You buy in faith in the honesty of the firm using the names, pictures, descriptions which you depended on to guide your selection.

There is only one known way for a grower of nursery plants to deliver without fail what his catalog promises—and this is the Wayside method of reproducing only from pedigreed, acclimatized selected parent plants of known quality. This involves destroying all weaklings.

Insuring Full Vitality for Vigorous Growth

Wayside Gardens Nursery stock is grown in Mentor, Ohio. Within 400 or more acres of Wayside Gardens are several distinct types of soil. This unique condition makes it possible to raise the greatest variety of plants. The climate also affords wide range of heat and cold, wet and dry periods so that plants acclimatized at Mentor on Lake Erie have the stamina and survival characteristics which enable them to thrive anywhere in northern, central and eastern United States.

Pachysandra Terminalis

GROUND COVERS

TO SAVE TIME AND LABOR and
ADD BEAUTY TO YOUR PLACE

in the wider use of ground covers—a group of low growing plants of many different species, possessing the common trait that, once established, they practically take care of themselves. One of their greatest advantages is that most of them can be grown in places where it is difficult or even impossible to get most other plants to survive.

Much of the pleasure in gardening is derived from discovering out-of-the-ordinary plants, that will both add distinction to one's garden and create new effects. A number of the ground covers described in the following pages fit into this category.

While especially useful in beautifying shady areas, ground covers are by no means limited to such locations, but among them are species that thrive on very dry soil; in either sun or shade; and on rough or stony slopes.

The discriminating gardener who may desire something unusual will want to try Euonymus Kewensis, a diminutive "Bittersweet" with dark, evergreen foliage, a really refined plant for small areas that are seen close-up, such as the edges of terraces, the base of a sundial, or the edge of a small, decorative pool. It is equally at home in sun or shade.

Another excellent and too-little-grown plant for the rock garden or a partially shaded, rather dry location under shrubbery or trees is Epimedium. These dainty but tough little plants eventually form a ground cover, but meanwhile their starry flowers and handsome foliage make a most attractive highlight, even if only a small group of plants is used for a start. And if you have a location where some color, but primarily a ground cover is wanted, the answer is a planting of Funkia. Available with variegated, dark green or blue-gray foliage and blue, lavender or white flowers in later summer, Funkias are easy to grow, permanent, free of pests and diseases, inexpensive, and will spread gradually of their own accord.

Among the low, mat-forming ground covers most desirable for shaded areas Pachysandra terminalis (Japanese Spurge) and Vinca minor (Myrtle) are the best known. Both are dependable, tough and hardy; spread rapidly and make ground-hugging carpets of green that withstand considerable wear. Pachysandra Silveredge, with its lighter green leaves narrowly edged with silvery white, makes a distinctive and colorful carpet. A small clump of a dozen or twenty-five plants of this will make pleasing contrasts in a carpet of the usual green. Vinca, starred with its lovely periwinkle-blue flowers is a charming sight when in bloom, especially if a group of the white variety alba is interplanted for contrast. Bowles Variety has larger, deeper colored blooms, produced more freely, and is well worth obtaining if it is to be planted where the flowers can be seen and enjoyed.

An indestructible, neat, clean ground cover universally admired for its sprays of fragrant, pendent flowers is the Lily-of-the-Valley (Convallaria majalis). Of this there are several strains, quite different in vigor and the size of the blooms. For "something special," plant our Wayside type in groups of 25 or more.

Often a low-growing ground cover is wanted to make an attractive summer mantle for areas planted to very early spring-flowering bulbs—such as Crocuses, Snowdrops and Chionodoxas—the foliage of which should be left to mature naturally if they are to continue flowering well year after year. Ajuga (Bugleweed) is a good plant to cover such an area; and attractive in its own right, with massed sturdy spikes of deep blue in May, rising from rosettes of glossy foliage which are handsome all season long. There is a most attractive copper-leaved form but it must be planted in full sun to permit its foliage to develop a deep coppery bronze tone.

Not all spaces where a ground cover would be desirable are shaded. Sometimes they are in full sun, often combined with dry soil. One of the best of all plants for such a situation is Polygonum Reynowtria—grows about a foot or so in height. It will thrive almost anywhere, even under neglect. In fact its spreading underground stems are so vigorous that it is best kept away from the immediate vicinity of flower beds or borders. It is pest and disease free and is attractive throughout the season, though it reaches the height of its beauty as the foliage turns a copper-red in late summer, making a symphonic background for the innumerable, long-lasting, feathery sprays of pinkish-red inflorescence. A wonderful plant for unattractive problem spots.

A superb plant somewhat similar in name, but otherwise entirely different, is Polygonatum multiflorum or Solomon's Seal, another tough character, happy in shade as well as sun. In early summer it develops its typical long, arching sprays of pendent, fragrant white flowers. At any stage, from spring to fall it is superb planted in generous drifts under big trees where roots are close to the surface—and it is valued by flower arrangers as a source of supplementary foliage material at all seasons.

A dwarf, low growing shrub suitable as a ground cover on rocky slopes or banks, in rough terrains or in the rock garden is Stephandra crispa nana. Its ultimate height is not more than 18 inches.

If one has a rough, uncultivated slope or a stony bank in full sun, the Memorial Rose (R. Wichuraiana) will turn it into a delicately fragrant beauty spot during midsummer, and clothe it in a glossy green mantle for the rest of the year—even during the winter in milder climates. Good for a similar location is the well known Lonicera Halliana, one of the very few plants capable of competing with Poison Ivy. But Lonicera Henryi has the great advantage of retaining its dark green foliage all winter. It is a fine rugged vine which can be counted on for year-round deep green cover and not quite as overpowering as Hall's Honeysuckle. Many of the Ivies make excellent ground covers also, and when used for this purpose may be grown much further north than they would be safe as wall coverings. Our Silver Variegated Baltic Ivy is especially beautiful—it is known as Stardust.

Euonymus acuta, forming a dense mat capable of keeping down weeds, thrives in sun or shade, spreading its rich, dark, evergreen carpet which is absolutely hardy, and one of the best of the evergreen vines for this purpose. Use it on large areas only.

These ground covers as a group, require the very minimum of care. Most of them spread very rapidly even if left to themselves. On poor soil, an annual top dressing with an organic fertilizer such as Wayside Organic Plant Food, well watered in to get it down to the roots, will result in more vigorous growth. (Ordinary stable manure is to be avoided as it introduces weed seeds.)

Hardy Ground Covering Plants

Give Character to Any Garden Large or Small For Shady Places as Well as Sunny, Dry Places

There's no need to despair over making attractive the shady places under trees and other places where grass won't grow. Here are several plants that are ideal for just such situations.

Once established they will spread quickly, last indefinitely and require practically no care. Although primarily foliage plants, some have blooms. The Myrtle, for instance, is sprinkled in the early spring with blue or white flowers.

Any of these ground coverings can be planted either in the spring or fall. Let us know the amount of ground you want to cover, and we'll gladly advise how many of any of the plants are needed.

EPIMEDIUM

The Aristocrat of Ground Covers

As ground covers, for edging or the rockery, Epimediums are delightful as well as supreme. In May and June the plants, growing about 9 inches high and wide, are a mass of delicately lovely flowers. Their light green, heart-shaped foliage is leathery in texture and most attractive. They grow well in the shade, better in partial shade, and will also tolerate full sunlight. Ordinary fertile garden soil is satisfactory.

Macranthum Lilacinum

Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00, 100 $80.00

We have found this to be one of the best. Its handsome foliage is pleasant to look at from early spring until winter. It makes nice clumps, spreads well and does beautifully in shade under shrubs and trees, as well as for edging along shady paths or walks. Early in spring the plants produce dozens of stalks with dainty lilac-blue flowers that are a joy to see. Hardy anywhere.

Niveum

Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00, 100 $80.00

A good strong grower producing numerous white flowers of great charm.

Pinnatum Elegans

Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00, 100 $80.00

One of the best; excellent foliage but discreetly bright yellow flowers with short spurs.

Rubrum

Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00, 100 $80.00

This variety produces the deepest color flowers of all. They are deep rich ruby-red on wiry stems which, as they appear above the young bronzy foliage in spring, make a beautiful showing. It is a good grower and multiplies well. Gives excellent results in any shady location. Not particular as to soil and hardy anywhere.

Sulphureum

Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00, 100 $80.00

Clusters of sulphur-yellow blooms in spring. Throughout the year its heart shaped leaves are handsome. Like all other Epimediums a delightful ground cover and distinctive edging plant of great character.

HOSTA - FUNKIA

Plantain-lily or Japanese Day-lily

Hardy, herbaceous perennials with handsome green or variegated foliage, and Lily-like flowers borne on graceful spikes. The ovate, cordate, or lance-shaped leaves grow in tufted form. Excellent plants for growing in partially shaded locations. They soon form a solid bed and they require no care and are as hardy as an Oak.

Coerulea lanceolata

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00, 100 $60.00

Broad green leaves; blue flowers from July to August.

Variegata (undulata media picta)

Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00, 100 $80.00

Variegated foliage; lilac flowers. Is a superb ground cover in shade where its variegated foliage shows up beautifully.

POLYGONATUM MULTIFLORUM

Pendent sprays of delightfully fragrant white flowers borne on stiff, 12-inch stems in May, followed in autumn with black or purple berries. A grand plant for a shady position, does equally well in sun. Use in masses under trees where nothing else will grow. It makes a magnificent ground cover. Its dignified appearance all summer gives that difficult untidy shady spot a new trim look. Plants multiply rapidly, forming a solid carpet. Hardy as an Oak, will grow anywhere, requires no care.

Three $1.85, Doz. $6.75, 100 $40.00

Epimedium

Lily-of-the-Valley—Convallaria

LILY-OF-THE-VALLEY

(Convallaria Majalis)

We are happy to be able to offer you again our fine strain of Lily-of-the-Valley. This bold, strong form is especially well adapted for garden planting. If reasonably taken care of, a bed of them will produce beautiful long-stemmed flowers in abundance for as long as you live.

But you must not be thoughtless about them. Their culture is so simple. True, they will grow anywhere, under almost any conditions—sun or shade, wet or dry, but truly spectacular results are obtained if, during each winter (December preferred), you will cover your Valley bed with a heavy coating of manure or apply a heavy dose of Wayside Gardens Plant Food. The response to heavy organic fertilizing is remarkable. These pips are in units of 25 per bunch and we prefer to sell them that way but will gladly break these bunches if you only want a dozen.

We recommend the Lily-of-the-Valley for ground covering, particularly in shady places.

Bunch of 12 pips $2.25

Bunch of 25 pips $4.00

Pips per 100 $13.50

Pips per 1000 $125.00

AJUGA - BUGLE

Genevensis Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50, 100 $45.00, 1000 $400.00
Grows 3 to 4 inches high, with deep blue flowers in May and June. Is an excellent plant for ground covering and makes a good ground carpet for bulbs, such as Snowdrops and Grape Hyacinths, which may be planted under its foliage. As a ground cover, plants should be spaced 8 inches apart. Of good growth and spreading fast.

Bronze Beauty Three $2.25, Doz. $8.00, 100 $50.00
This is the bronze-leaved form. It is most interesting if small patches of it are planted between the green variety. It also is a fine ground cover in front of yellow Tulips or other yellow flowers. While it grows freely in shade, it does exceedingly well in full sun where its foliage takes on a richer color. Flowers are deep blue and it grows most anywhere.

Pyramidalis Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00, 100 $60.00
This is a plant of considerable value, grows beautifully in the shade, is a perfect ground cover and its flowers in spring are tall and much bigger than those of the common Ajuga; its foliage also is larger and a richer bottle-green. It combines nicely with Daffodils and Tulips in the foreground of a border or a shady spot under a tall shrub, providing a rich green carpet all season long.

Silver Beauty Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00, 100 $60.00
A beautiful ground cover which hugs the ground closely. Its heavily white variegated leaves seem almost silvery which makes for an excellent contrast if planted along with other varieties of Ajuga. It does not readily grow out of bounds although it spreads nicely; is as hardy as all other Ajugas and responds to the same care. This is a choice plant you should have.

BERGENIA (Saxifraga) - Megasea

Megasea cordifolia Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00
These will thrive in ordinary soil in any position. Grow about one foot high, and are admirable for the front of the border or shrubbery, forming masses of handsome, broad, deep green foliage which alone renders them useful. Pink clusters of flowers appear very early in the spring. Fine among rocks or ledges as well as for informal ground covers. It is a plant of tremendous personality and has a decorative quality possessed by few plants.

Bergenia

PACHYSANDRA TERMINALIS (Spurge)

A trailing plant 6 to 8 inches high, forming broad mats of bright glossy green foliage. A ground cover, which will grow in all shady situations and the only plant which will thrive under pine trees. Some of its main uses are: Under all evergreen plantings, under all shrub plantings, for area-way copings, for loggia and inclosed porch uses, for shrub and flower bed borders, for bordering walks and drives, for steep terraces in sun or shade; for city yards it is ideal; for dense shade under any kind of trees. Plants should be spaced 4 inches apart.

Pot grown plants 25 $6.00, 100 $22.50, 250 $53.00, 1000 $200.00
We put 2 plants in each pot. Above prices are per pot.

Frame grown plants, bare root, not potted.

25 $4.25, 100 $16.00, 250 $39.00, 1000 $150.00
Tied in bundles of 25 per bundle. Excellent for inexpensive large plantings.

PACHYSANDRA SILVEREDGE

Pot grown plants Three $1.85, Doz. $6.75, 100 $40.00, 1000 $350.00
This is an exceedingly nice and valuable but still very rare form. It differs from common Pachysandra by sporting a narrow silvery white margin around its leaves, and the leaves themselves are light green instead of dark green. The edge is seldom more than 1/4 inch wide, never discolours.

The effect created by a grouping of this variegated type is most pleasing, giving a much lighter effect; in fact, the contrast is quite sharp. Everyone who has seen it wants it for that very purpose. The variegated form planted at the base of Rhododendrons or other evergreens is just what is wanted for relief of too much green.

PLUMBAGO - Leadwort

Larpentae Each 95c, Three $2.70, Doz. $9.50, 100 $57.50

One of the most desirable of late blooming, low growing hardy plants. If left undisturbed it will very soon spread into a clump 12 to 18 inches in diameter, not over 6 to 8 inches high, solidly covered with small clusters of bright peacock-blue flowers during late summer and fall. It does perfectly in semi-shady or very hot corners or equally as well at the base of shrubs. It may also be used as an edging to a walk or garden path. Its extra long period of bloom plus its fine leathery small foliage set it apart and it is considered one of the finest of garden plants. Grow it in well drained soil; it does perfectly in sand. Space plants 8 inches apart and spread roots flat when planting. It starts into growth quite late in spring so don't be alarmed if no new growth appears promptly after planting. Cover lightly in very cold locations during winter. Once planted it is there to stay for years to come.

*Hardy Baltica Ivy Covering Bank—It is Very Hardy and Excellent on Banks—Creates a Beautiful Easy-to-Keep-Up “Lawn” as Well
A Situation Like This Could Also Have Been Planted with Euonymus Acuta*

IBERIS - Candytuft

These plants are generally grown in the margins of herbaceous borders or as edging to garden walks, but they are excellent for mass plantings. They flower in spring and are covered with a mass of snow-white blossoms. They are of shrubby growth, with dark green, evergreen foliage. Grow in good, ordinary soil. Plant in fall or spring, 6 inches apart. When plants become straggly, trim them directly after flowering.

Sempervirens Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00, 100 $55.00

Covered with a sheet of white flowers in spring, completely covering its rich dark green foliage; a particularly fine plant for the border. Does well in light shade and therefore excellent as a ground cover in front of shrubs. May be used for edging to parks or walks. Little Gem, however, is more formal and upright for these purposes.

Sempervirens, Autumn Snow Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

After long and careful selecting, we have finally obtained an autumn-flowering Iberis. Its first blooming occurs in the spring while the second crop of flowers appears in late September, lasting well into October, depending on the season. Plants grow compact and have dark green leaves. Height about 7 inches and spread about 12 inches. Flowers are pure white and freely produced. A fine plant for edging or clumps of 3 or more in the foreground of the shrub border.

VINCA - PERIWINKLE OR TRAILING MYRTLE

The Periwinkles are suitable to grow as edgings to shrubbery borders, carpet the ground under the shade of trees, or in shady borders with Ferns, Lilies and other bulbs.

Ordinary soil in positions named above. Plant in autumn or spring 4 to 6 inches apart. Additional beauty is obtained by the interplanting of Dafodils, Mertensia or Plumbago larpendae. All these bulbs and plants do well planted under Vinca minor. By mixing all colors of “V. minor” indiscriminately and allowing them to intermingle, a beautiful effect is obtained, particularly if also mixed with variegated Stardust Ivy. Do best in half shade or shade.

Minor

A trailing evergreen, used extensively for carpeting ground under shrubs or trees or on graves, where it is too shady for grass or other plants. Plants from 2½-inch pots Doz. $5.50, 100 $27.00, 1000 $250.00

Minor alba

The rare white-flowered form of the preceding variety. Plants from 2½-inch pots Doz. $6.00, 100 $35.00, 1000 $300.00

Minor, Bowles' Variety

The foliage is broad and rich glossy green, of strong texture. The flowers are not only larger but of a deeper rich blue color and are borne with remarkable profusion. Plants are supplied in pots. Plants from 2½-inch pots Doz. $6.00, 100 $35.00, 1000 $300.00

Minor, Double Blue Each 60c, Three $1.70, Doz. $6.00, 100 $35.00

The same habit of growth of the well known “Periwinkle” but with double blue flowers.

Minor purpurea

In all respects the same growth and habit as the common Vinca minor; it is in the color of its flowers that it differs. Instead of blue they are rich violet-purple. Looks exceptionally well if intermixed with Vinca minor alba.

Plants from 2½-inch pots Doz. $6.00, 100 $35.00, 1000 $300.00

Vinca Minor, Miss Jekyll's White

This is a very choice small leaved and very dwarf growing Vinca. Produces a dense low carpet of deepest green which in spring is completely covered with pure white star-like flowers. Not a rampant grower but neat and orderly, a perfect ground cover for locations where a dainty plant is required. Superb covering over small spring flowering bulbs as Scillas and Chionodoxa.

Each 60c, Three $1.70, Doz. $6.00, 100 $35.00

HEDERA HELIX (Ivy) HARDY BALTIC AND ENGLISH IVY

The famous English Ivy with its familiar evergreen, glossy foliage, requires winter protection in cold sections of the country where it is exposed to chilly winds on open walls. It can, however, be planted with perfect safety as a ground cover or as an edging to flower beds anywhere. Gracilis is perfectly hardy and we recommend its use on the north side of buildings and walls or in shady places or as a ground cover under trees in dense shade. The 2½-inch pot plants offered are very economical.

ENGLISH IVY—Hedera helix

A lovely vine as well as a splendid ground cover. Its beautiful shiny leaves make a wonderful ground cover in densest shade.

Plants from 2½-inch pots Doz. $6.75, 100 $40.00, 1000 $350.00
For ground covering the 2½-inch pot plants are recommended and should be spaced 8 inches apart.

BALTICA IVY—Hedera helix gracilis

Identical in habit with the English Ivy, but with foliage not as large and more cut; a most graceful vine; perfectly hardy and a splendid evergreen vine on walls with north exposures, also an excellent ground cover.

Plants from 2½-inch pots Doz. $6.75, 100 $40.00, 1000 $350.00
For ground covering the 2½-inch pot plants are recommended and should be spaced 8 inches apart.

BALTICA IVY—Silver Variegated

Star Dust Each 80c, Three $2.25, Doz. $8.00, 100 $50.00

This is a lovely silvery variegated form of the Baltic Ivy. The leaves are as if dusted with silver and silver edged, closely set along the vine and they are somewhat smaller than those produced by the green variety. The effect created is cool and so unusual and uncommon it is almost startling in a mild sort of way. Here really is something choice, be it as a vine to grow on a wall, or as a ground cover. It is also very attractive as a house plant in a north window. Only a limited number of plants available in 2½-inch pots.

BULGARIAN IVY—Hedera helix bulgarica

This fine hardy Ivy was obtained by us from the Botanic Gardens of St. Louis. Its foliage is much the same shape as that of Hedera Gracilis differing particularly in its shiny leaves which are also more closely set along the stem. Its hardness equals that of the common Baltic Ivy.

Plants from 2½-inch pots Doz. $6.75, 100 $40.00, 1000 $350.00

For Other Ivies See pages 145, 149, 153.

POLYGONUM (DWARF POLYGONUM)

Reynowtria Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00, 100 $55.00

This handsome ground cover was introduced a few years ago by Amos Perry, one of England's oldest and best known plantsmen. It is of easy culture, very hardy, and establishes itself quite rapidly from underground runners. It does best in full sun and its pale green foliage turns brilliant red in the autumn. Height is between 12 to 18 inches, and in the fall produces numerous airy pink sprays of flowers not unlike those of the “Silver Lace Vine.” The buds are deep red, adding much to its charm. One of the best ground covers for sunny places where Vinca and Pachysandra would not be satisfactory. Plants should be spaced 18 inches apart.

Bistorta Superba Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00, 100 $65.00

Little bottle-brush spikes of pink from late summer throughout fall. Flowers stand erect on 18-inch stems over a solid carpet of prostrate dark green leaves. It is a ground cover which has come into favor in England recently and is used in great quantities because of its ease of growth. It requires no attention. Plant 12 inches apart in full sun, fall or spring.

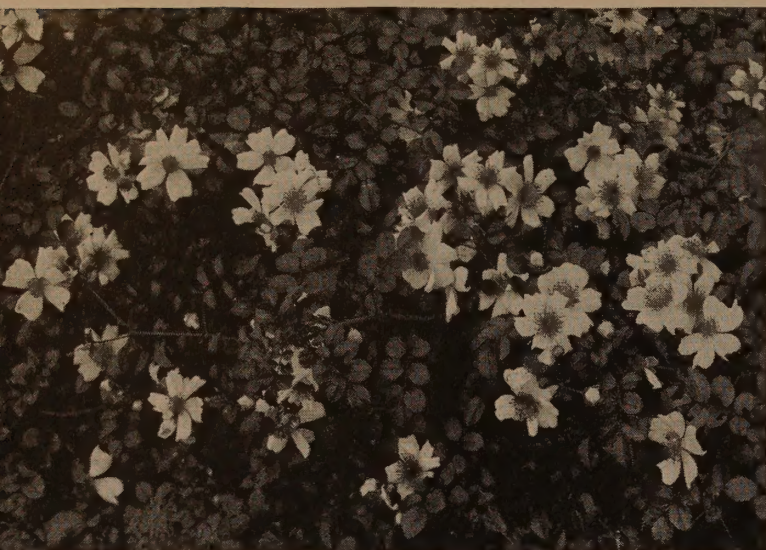

VIOLA ROYAL ROBE

This glorious variety is a lustrous shade of deepest violet-blue. The blossoms are delicately fragrant and open out flat like a Pansy or Viola. It is quite unnecessary for us to expatiate on the transcendent beauty of this Violet. A few plants in the garden will serve to furnish quantities of bloom either during early winter or early spring and at a time when cut flowers are most highly prized. As a ground cover it is superb. It is easily grown, forms carpets of rich green leaves, does well on comparatively poor soil under trees and other shady places. Spreads freely with richly fragrant flowers.

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00, 100 $60.00

Woody Plants for Covering Large Areas and Banks

TRAILING ROSES

Wichuraiana Rose

Max Graf

Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00

A splendid trailing, pillar, or climbing Rose with large single bright pink flowers having prettily crimped petal edges. Fine for planting on steep banks or for trailing over a stone wall.

Rosa Wichuraiana

Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00

Almost evergreen, the Wichuraiana or Memorial Rose trails along the ground, making a green, glossy mat covering a wide area. The flowers are produced in late July or August, in big sprays or panicles. They are pure white, semi-double or single, with an enormous center of brilliant yellow stamens. This is by far the most useful Rose for covering banks and slopes because of its close, clinging habit and its tendency to root wherever it touches the ground. Rosa Wichuraiana is the parent of practically all our modern hybrid climbing Roses, but is by far the best for its own particular purpose.

Crimson Shower

Each $2.50, Three $6.60, Doz. $26.40

A wonderful late blooming Wichuraiana rambler Rose. Flowers July through September. This extension of the flowering period of ramblers should prove of value to all who desire a planting scheme giving a succession of bloom. The flowers are produced in clusters in great abundance, are of rosette form and about an inch across. The clear shade of crimson certainly appears as an improvement on that of other red ramblers. The foliage is of the very best Wichuraiana type, consisting of shiny green leaflets which look highly polished. Use it on pillar, arch, pergola, fence. A great climbing Rose easily grown and prolific, and excellent as a ground cover. See color illustration on page 137.

LONICERA - Honeysuckle

Halliana Ground Covering Size, Doz. $5.50, 100 $25.00, 1000 $225.00

Aside from being a favorite vine for both sunny and shady porches, Hall's Honeysuckle is extensively used for covering banks. Its growth is rapid and because it roots deeply is an excellent plant to prevent washing of soil. The fragrant flowers produced all summer long greatly add to its charm. It may also be used to cover semi-shady places in woods. May be planted in spring and fall. Plants should be spaced 18 inches apart.

Halliana Aurea Variegata

Ground Covering Size, Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50, 100 $45.00

This is the golden variegated form of the well-known Hall's Honeysuckle. The golden foliage is quite stunning and ornamental when seen on trellis or fence. Branches taken from it for use with flowers contribute handsomely to the effect of a vase of flowers. In the garden, the golden leaved Honeysuckle makes a colorful display which lasts well into the winter. In milder climates the leaves are retained throughout the winter. Flowers are the same and as fragrant as the common Honeysuckle.

Henryi Ground Covering Size, Three $3.40, Doz. $12.00, 100 $80.00

The Evergreen Honeysuckle. There are practically no vines which retain their foliage during the winter in the colder parts of the country. Therefore, the Henryi Honeysuckle is a very valuable variety. Its long clean dark green leaves remain on the vine all winter. The flowers, while fragrant, are of no importance, but the blue-black berries produced in autumn add materially to the charm of this plant. Does well in shade and is also an excellent windbreak. Hardy as an Oak.

For Other Lonicera See page 150.

Euonymus Acuta

One of our favorite ground covering plants and also a great favorite with our customers. It is a fine prostrate, rapidly spreading vine; makes a smooth shiny, dark, evergreen carpet, hardy anywhere, dense enough to prevent weeds from coming up through it. Does equally well in full sun, semi-shade or deep shade. Euonymus Acuta is tops with us for covering large areas or banks.

Ground Covering Size Plants,

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00, 100 $60.00, 1000 $550.00

Pachistima

Canbyi Each $2.00, Three $5.75, Doz. $20.00, 100 $150.00

This small Holly-leaved prostrate little evergreen shrub spreads about 18 inches. Several planted together make a perfectly charming ground cover. It grows equally well in sun or shade and is hardy anywhere. Because of its ease of culture and fine habit without any care, it is rapidly becoming first choice as a cover for graves as well as in small shady places in the garden. As a ground cover, plants should be spaced 6 inches apart. Prefers acid soil.

Euonymus Kewensis

EUONYMUS KEWENSIS

This is the miniature "Evergreen Bittersweet," a delightfully effective small vine-like creeper. Everyone who sees it appreciates its value and charm as a ground cover. Of fine texture, perfect for covering ground around small statues or small pools or anywhere a plant of small proportions is required. Rich, dark green foliage all year round and hardy as an Oak. Does exceptionally well in shade or full sun.

Each $1.75, Three $4.75, Doz. $18.00, 100 $125.00

HYPERICUM CALY CINUM

A fine, low growing shrub which spreads from underground runners. We advise planting 18 inches apart which will produce a solid carpet in one season. During the summer, golden yellow flowers add to the attractiveness of this fine little shrub which does not grow over 12 to 18 inches high. Should not be used in too cold a climate where temperatures go below zero. Does well in light shade but prefers full sun. No bugs, no care, ordinary soil.

Each $1.20, Three $3.40, Doz. $12.00, 100 $80.00

STEPHANANDRA

Incisa Crispa Nana

Each $2.00, Three $5.75, Doz. $20.00, 100 $150.00

A graceful and elegant very dwarf shrub with finely incised bright green leaves which in autumn change to a brilliant reddish purple. It has small clusters of white flowers, but it is for its dainty crimped, fern-like foliage that the plant is really grown. It does splendidly in shade and makes a nice ground cover on the north side of a house, or under shrubs or trees. Seldom over 2 feet high but will spread 3 feet across. It is a native of Korea and Japan and a pleasing shrub during the winter as well when its naked brown zigzag branches carry on the show. It is particularly fine as a foreground specimen plant. Combined in a planting of low growing plants in front of a house or below a picture window, it is perfect, and it is equally useful in front of shrubs. It can also be used to make an attractive low hedge. Space plants 12 inches apart for hedge purposes.

USE WAYSIDE GARDENS "EXCLUSIVE" ORGANIC PLANT FOOD

Use It for Permanent Results

Declared by experts "Tops." For Bulbs, Roses, Lawns, Flower Gardens. Used at WAYSIDE in the production of millions of fine plants. It is wholeheartedly endorsed for our customers.

Thousands of customers and strangers alike have visited WAYSIDE GARDENS. They have marvelled at our nursery plants. Invariably, they ask us the same question:

"To what do you attribute the superior qualities of your plants?"

And invariably our answer is the same: "The chief reason for the high quality of WAYSIDE products is due to the fact that we use only the very finest Plant Food that skill and money can produce!"

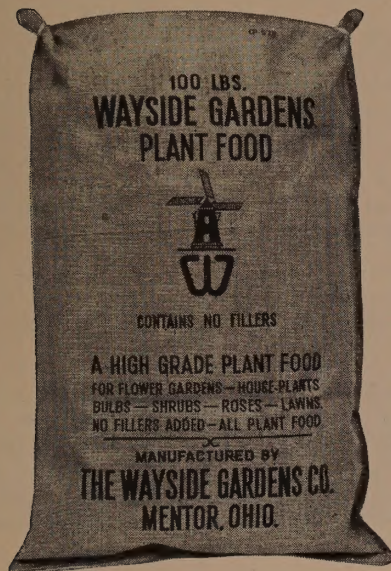

You will agree that we have entirely too much at stake to afford to use any other kind. In addition to the enormous investment represented by our nurseries, we have a reputation to maintain among thousands of the most critical floral customers in the land. We prize and guard very jealously such possessions . . . Contented only with the best we advise our customers to adopt the same attitude, in order that the fine specimens grown at WAYSIDE may be duplicated in your own garden. We recommend only that which we ourselves use.

We Learn from Experience and Experts

We are indebted to a noted English gardener for the Exclusive Organic Plant Food we use in growing millions of plants of superior quality. Among other things, he said:

"A lawn should not be treated like a hayfield, but like a permanent garden. Therefore, I object to chemical fertilizers for lawns. It is not the QUANTITY of grass cut from the lawn each week, but the DENSITY AND LUXURIANCE OF THE GRASS which produces the effect of walking over a thick velvet carpet that counts. If you want a thick lawn in which there is no room for weeds, it is essential that you use a properly balanced ORGANIC Plant Food."

WAYSIDE'S exclusive organic Plant Food is made from bone meal, dried blood, ground fish, phosphate and muriate of potash, in proportions recommended by the "old country" expert. These long-lasting ingredients give your flowers a well-balanced diet, containing in just the right amounts those things that go to make strong roots, sturdy stalks, bright green leaves, a profusion of foliage and an abundance of large and healthy blooms year in and year out. It does not stimulate, but nourishes any and all plants and imparts to them a youthful and lusty vigor. It disintegrates slowly. Use it consistently year after year, and your garden will be among the most beautiful and most permanent.

Wayside Gardens "Exclusive" Organic Plant Food Contains No Useless Weight or Bulk Producing Fillers

A 100-lb. bag for $9.00; 500 lbs. for $40.00; 2000 lbs. for $125.00

Prices are F.O.B. Mentor, Ohio and we ship by truck or rail freight collect unless otherwise instructed.

How to Use Wayside Gardens Organic Plant Food

We need not use much of it to obtain the lasting results. Furthermore, it is easy to use and apply it. If your garden is an established one, apply twice a year, March first and October first. Use 15 to 25 pounds for top dressing a space 500 square feet for Hardy Plants, Roses, Annuals, and Bulbs. Twice this quantity for Shrubs, Azaleas or Rhododendrons. In making a new garden, double the amount recommended and mix with the soil. Planting may be done at once. For old lawns, use 10 to 25 lbs. for top dressing 500 sq. ft. For potted plants, a 3-inch potful mixed with a bushel of soil will give you splendid results.

A little goes a long way and lasts a long time.

HARDY PERENNIALS

Pick of the world's finest

We are very proud of the collection of perennials we have gathered together for the most discriminating gardeners in America. In the following pages you will find described the finest hardy flowers it is possible to get—in fact many of them can be procured only from Wayside. They have been collected from all over the world. We are constantly in contact, by frequent trips abroad, with plant breeders, botanical gardens and private estates throughout the garden world.

In our perennial department our trade mark—ROOT STRENGTH—has a meaning that is of greatest importance to you. Every care is exercised—in soil preparation, in propagation, in culture—to produce plants that will quickly establish themselves in your garden, and yield the maximum in beauty and satisfaction. Moreover, all of our perennials are grown from stock plants that are constantly selected and re-selected to maintain the peak of perfection. So it's good sense on your part to get such plants and be sure of results. Always remember it is not so much the size of the plant you get as is its parentage. It will soon grow big but it never can change its breeding. Also smaller plants of many varieties transplant and grow better than oversized old clumps.

Much of the pleasure of gardening comes from acquiring new varieties of unusual form or color; greater hardiness, making it possible to grow some species where formerly they could not be grown; and, in some instances, fine old plants that have, for one reason or another, become more or less lost track of. That you may more readily find some of these particularly desirable plants, we mention a few of them here.

NEW TYPES. Fine, hardy perennials which are now available in excitingly distinct new types include the Dwarf Oregon Asters, a foot or so in height and in a wide range of the usual Aster colors. Beautiful hardy Asters with double flowers have been brought from England such as Autumn Glory, Blue Radiance, Connie Thrower and others; a remarkable Dicentra hybrid, Bountiful, semi-dwarf in habit and reblooming in autumn, with three other new ones; Shasta Daisies Thomas Killin, single, and Wirral Pride, double, indispensable for cutting; Geranium, Wargrave Pink from England; Heuchera Bressingham Hybrids also from England, in a wide range of colors, a great addition to one of the finest flowers for both garden display and cutting. Iberis Purity, dwarf and absolutely uniform in growth because we grow it from cuttings and not seed are unequalled for low edgings. Don't miss the autumn flowering Iberis only recently offered. The new Canadian Lythrum, Morden's Pink, and Lady Sackville, create a sensational amount of color wherever grown. All of these new types are extremely hardy, and any beginner can succeed with them.

NEW COLORS in our old favorite flowers always create interest. Sometimes they are only slight variations, at others, distinct breaks. In Gypsophila Pink Star from Australia for instance, we have a lovely pink to blend with the usual white forms of Baby's Breath in bouquets or in the garden picture. Geranium grandiflorum gives us a vivid electric blue, a very unusual color in hardy perennials. The rich deep red flower heads of Sedum spectabile Meteor are familiar, but now we can also provide this fine plant in Carmen, soft old rose. Sedum Indian Chief is a superb variety. All three mentioned here are especially attractive grown in tubs on porch or terrace.

In Phlox, one of the most important of all garden flowers, there are both new types and new colors. Wayside feels a just pride in having taken the lead in introducing better varieties to American gardens. In the tall, summer-flowering or Decussata type we have worked to replace the old rather muddy colors with clear and brilliant hues. Captain Symons Jeune, that famous English Phlox expert, has given us many lovely new sparkling kinds. The Mountain or Moss Pinks (Phlox subulata), Nivalis and Stolonifera are universally popular because of their spreading carpets of bloom in early spring; but their colors, often garish, have left much to be desired. Once you have seen the pleasingly soft and artistic shades of Wayside Mountain Pinks and other creeping species such as Camla, a true pink, and Blue Ridge, you will not be satisfied with ordinary sorts.

In recent years no flower has more rapidly gained in popularity than the Day Lilies (Hemerocallis). We still consider Hyperion the finest of all varieties, and this year are offering two noble companions to it—Helios and Apollo; and in addition we want you to grow the dwarf Hyperion called Primrose Mascotte as well as the low growing and most prolific bloomer called Bonanza.

One of the most difficult plants to find is Hosta, Thomas Hogg. It is super excellent for growing in light shade. So also are the several varieties of Epimedium; we have grown nice stocks of these. Plant some, they make your garden different.

SOME REVIVALS. We have mentioned the charm possessed by the rediscovery or reintroduction of old favorites. A perfect example is to be found in our "Lacemaker" Carnations or Pinks, an old strain that was cultivated in Europe long ago, and brought to Scotland by the Huguenots who carried plants of this along with their choice possessions. There they have survived and recently have created new interest. We have secured the genuine strain for discriminating gardeners in this country.

Anchusa Loddon Royalist, Phlox Starfire and Phlox Mother of Pearl, Monarda Adam, Lavandula Hidcote, Daisy Thomas Killin, are but a few kinds that should be in your flower garden. They will grow well and give you infinite pleasure.

Everyone these days has seen or read about the Christmas Rose, Helleborus Niger, which has had a great revival of popularity. Just as intriguing and more easily grown is its cousin the Lenten Rose (H. Orientalis), flowering in earliest spring.

Three oldtimers often overlooked but valuable because they fill a late summer gap in the garden just before the Chrysanthemums begin are Erigeron, Helianthus and Helenium. Of all there are several fine new varieties.

Any one of these out-of-the-ordinary flowers will make a highlight in your garden and give you increasing pleasure for years to come. Why not select a few today?

ACONITUM - Monkshood

Lovely late summer and autumn flowering perennials of stately growth, particularly adapted for shady or half-shady borders.

Culture. Aconitums will flourish in any good ordinary soil that is fairly moist. They are especially suitable for shady or semi-shady positions, and are best grown in groups of three or more. Plant in autumn or spring, and when they have become well established will form large clumps. It is therefore advisable not to disturb the plants frequently.

Barker's Variety Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

The outstanding characteristics of this variety are its much more vigorous growing habits and the branching habit of the flower spike in a well grown plant. The color of the flower is a nice shade of amethyst-blue, a little darker than Wilsoni.

Fischeri Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

A dwarf variety with dark blue flowers. September and October. 2 to 3 feet. This is the hardiest and most popular of all the Aconites.

Sparks' Variety Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

July- and August-flowering. Tall branched spikes, 4 to 5 feet high, covered with deep blue flowers in great abundance.

ACHILLEA - Milfoil or Yarrow

Showy rock and border perennials, some of which are valuable for cut flowers. Some have silvery and others elegantly cut foliage, which adds considerably to the beauty of the plants.

Culture. All will succeed in any good, ordinary soil in sunny borders. A too rich soil should be avoided. Plant in autumn or early spring, 8 to 10 inches apart. As nearly all grow freely, it is advisable to lift, divide, and replant every third year. Directly after the plants cease flowering, cut the shoots back.

Ageratifolia (See Anthemis Aizoon.)

Coronation Gold Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00

A splendid border plant which flowers from June to well into September. Its rigid stems are 3 feet tall, require no staking and are topped by large convex umbels of golden flowers. It is a fine improvement over the variety Gold Plate. Trouble free and hardy anywhere, makes it a No. 1 garden plant with good foliage.

Millefolium, Fire King Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

Silvery gray-green fern-like foliage from which rise 18-inch stems topped with convex umbels of rosy red flowers from July to October. It is a plant eminently suited for hot dry places and is very effective in front of a flower border. Requires little or no care and hardy anywhere.

Ptarmica, Perry's Giant White Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

An improvement on "The Pearl," which we have discontinued, with fuller and more perfect flowers. Best for borders; neat plant. Excellent cut flower.

Taggetea Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

A splendid plant for hot dry sunny places. Does well in the most indifferent soils. The pale yellow flowers grow on 18-inch stems which are produced in great profusion from June until the end of September. Excellent cut flower as well as a first rate border plant.

Achillea Taggetea

Aethionema, Warley Rose

AETHIONEMA - Persian Candytuft

Dwarf rock plants of most fascinating character. The foliage is glaucous blue, stems are woody, at the tips of which are produced rose and rose-pink flowers. Suitable for the rock garden or for grouping on the margins of borders.

Culture. All will thrive in ordinary, light, sandy, or well-drained, gravelly soil. Wet, heavy soils are unsuitable. They are especially adapted for sunny places in the rock garden. When plants are received, cut back about one-half of branches. Plant in fall or very early spring, 4 to 6 inches apart.

Warley Rose Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00

A charming low growing plant with bright blue-green foliage all year. Early in spring, it produces several dozen spikes about 12 inches long, not unlike Candytuft in form, covered with bright Tyrian rose colored flowers. At its best in late April and May.

Aconitum Fischeri

ARABIS - White Rock-Cress

Useful plants, suitable for forming edgings to beds and borders, and fine for rockery or dry wall.

Culture. Any good, ordinary soil that is not too damp will suit the Arabis. Plant 6 inches apart in autumn or spring. After the flowers have faded cut the straggling shoots back moderately to encourage a new tufted growth. Do well in either shade or full sun.

Alpina flore-pleno

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

We consider this one of the nicest of early flowering plants. Spreading in habit but not weedy, it covers itself in late April and early May with double, pure white flowers resembling miniature white Stock. Dozens upon dozens of 6 to 8-inch stems stand above the low foliage and are covered with pure white, double flowers. They make a beautiful showing and are excellent for cutting.

(We send out plants in pots which look unprepossessing; however, that is the nature of young plants. When put in the ground, they quickly develop into plants a foot or more in diameter and bloom profusely the first season after planting.)

Pink Charm

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

A novelty of merit. Its bright clear true rose-pink flowers form a fine contrast for those of the white Arabis. Does quite well in shade, looks fine in the rock garden or on rock walls. Of easy culture and as hardy as the others. This variety completely replaces Alpina Coccinea which we have discontinued growing.

GIANT-SPURRED AQUILEGIAS

A magnificent strain of Columbines, very large flowers with long spurs, robust growth and rich colors. A great step ahead in Columbines.

McKana Hybrids

Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50

A mixture of all colors and shades, many not seen before. Long spurs and beautifully colored as well as good strong growers. They are the best of their kind and are an "All-America Seed Selection first."

Aquilegia, McKana Long Spurred Hybrids Winner of the All-America Seed Selection

Arabis Alpina Flore-Pleno

AJUGA - Bugle

Dwarf, creeping perennials. The leaves are a rich shiny green, and the shoots more or less creeping. Excellent plants for edging or carpeting bare spots. Suitable for sun or shade.

Culture. They will thrive in good, ordinary soil in sun or partial shade. They make excellent edging plants in shady borders or for shady spots in the rock garden where a quick growing plant is required, also excellent for carpeting ground under shade trees where grass will not grow. Plant in autumn or spring, 6 inches apart.

Bronze Beauty

Three $2.25, Doz. $8.00, 100 $50.00

This is the bronze-leaved form. It is most interesting if small patches of it are planted between the green variety. It also is a fine ground cover in front of yellow Tulips or other yellow flowers. While it grows freely in shade, it does exceedingly well in full sun where its foliage takes on a richer color. Flowers are deep blue and it grows most anywhere.

Genevensis

Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50, 100 $45.00, 1000 $400.00

Grows 3 to 4 inches high; dense spikes of blue flowers in May and June. A neat ground covering plant for shady as well as sunny places.

Pyramidalis

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00, 100 $60.00

This is a plant of considerable value, grows beautifully in the shade, is a perfect ground cover and its flowers in spring are tall and much bigger than those of the common Ajuga; its foliage also is larger and a richer bottle-green. It combines nicely with Daffodils and Tulips in the foreground of a border or shady spot under a tall shrub, providing a rich green carpet all season long.

Silver Beauty

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00, 100 $60.00

A beautiful ground cover which hugs the ground closely. Its heavily white variegated leaves seem almost silvery which makes for an excellent contrast if planted along with other varieties of Ajuga. It does not readily grow out of bounds although it spreads nicely; is hardy as all other Ajugas and responds to the same care. This is a choice plant you should have.

Agapanthus

Arenaria Verna Caespitosa

The most satisfactory plant for growing in crevices of stone walks.

ALYSSUM - Madwort; Basket of Gold

Attractive early-flowering perennials, suitable for growing on the margins of sunny borders or in sunny places in the rock wall or rock garden.

Culture. The varieties offered will succeed in any good, ordinary soil which must be thoroughly drained. They are best grown in groups of three or more in the rock garden, or as edgings to beds. Plant in fall or spring, about 6 to 8 inches apart. Alyssum Saxatile is frequently used for carpeting beds planted with spring bulbs, and is very effective for that purpose.

Saxatile compactum Each 70c, Three $2.00, Doz. $7.25
Big clusters of bright yellow flowers in early spring. An excellent plant for the rockery or front of borders. One of the best early yellow plants to use with Tulips; 12 inches high.

Saxatile citrinum Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00
Same habit of growth as Saxatile compactum but the flowers are a lovely pale yellow; much more desirable. They blend beautifully with pink or lavender Tulips and are outstanding in the spring garden or rockery.

ARENARIA - Sandwort

Of dwarf-growing or creeping habit. Splendid plants for the rock garden and for planting in flagstone walks or terraces.

Culture. They require a well-drained, sandy soil, not too rich, and prefer a sunny location in the rock garden or rock wall. Plant in fall or early spring, 4 to 6 inches apart.

Verna caespitosa Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00, 100 $55.00
A prostrate growing plant creeping low over the ground and between cracks in stones. Excellent for planting between flagstones, on terraces or walks. Does well in shade.

ARMERIA - Thrift or Sea-Pink

Dwarf-growing perennials with grassy leaves and a tufted habit of growth. The flowers are borne in globular heads from May until the end of July, plants are suitable for edgings to borders and beds and form lovely clumps in the rock garden.

Culture. Grow in dry, sandy soil and sunny position. Plant 6 to 8 inches apart in autumn or spring.

Carnival Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
Its cheerful rose-pink flowers on rigid stems, a dozen or more on a plant, make this a bright outstanding plant for the foreground in the border. Like all Armeria it loves a sunny, dry location and is easily grown. Excellent for cutting and a bright spot of color in the garden.

Laucheana Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00
Bright rose. May-June. Very free flowering. Evergreen foliage. Very good plant for edgings.

Royal Rose Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
Here is a great improvement in Armerias. It is one of our own hybrids. Dozens of rigid stems about 15 in. tall topped with bright pink globe-shaped flowers spring from a neat rounded tuft of foliage. It is a fine plant for edging walks and gives a good show in front of a perennial border.

ASCLEPIAS - Butterfly Weed

Tuberosa Three $2.00, Doz. $7.25
An attractive native plant flowering during July and August. It grows about two feet high. Rigid stems are topped by flat umbels of bright coppery yellow flowers. A perfectly hardy plant which requires a sandy, well drained soil in a hot sunny location; needs no care or dividing, plant in groups of three or more 4 to 6 inches apart.

AGAPANTHUS - Blue Lily of the Nile (Love Flower)

Beautiful lily-like plants with graceful and ornamental foliage from the base of which spring straight stems topped with clusters of blue lily-like flowers.

Pendula Each $1.80, Three $5.15, Doz. $18.00
(Blue Lily of the Nile.) A most desirable plant for decoration of terrace or formal pools. Planted in large pots or tubs on the lawn or piazza they make a very fine picture. They must be stored inside, however, in cold sections of the country as they are not hardy.

Mooreanus Sold out for this season
This is the hardy Lily of the Nile which will winter over without much or any protection in localities where temperatures do not go much below zero. It is a showy plant much like a small Lemon Lily. Leaves are deep green and straight plants send up many spikes about 18 inches high with handsome clusters of blue flowers. It multiplies rapidly and makes a fine showing throughout the summer. Excellent for cutting. A most unusual and handsome plant.

Campanulatus Each $1.80, Three $5.15, Doz. $18.00
An easily grown, free-flowering variety, particularly good for tubs and garden display. Handsome, arching foliage, rigid stems, topped with bright blue, bell-like flowers. Where temperatures do not go too low, Campanulatus can be depended upon as a garden plant of character, providing it is given some protection during the winter months.

Inapertus Each $1.80, Three $5.15, Doz. $18.00
This choice variety was introduced into Europe in 1898 and came from Transvaal, South Africa. It is exceedingly free blooming and probably the hardiest of the lot. Tested in Mentor it has come through several winters with only slight protection. It does best in a dry sunny location and should not be transplanted to produce the most bloom. A lovely plant for tubs or garden planting.

ARTEMISIA - Southernwood; Sage Brush

Shrubby, sage-like plants suitable for the hardy border. They have more or less hairy, finely cut leaves and yellow or white flowers, borne in panicles.

Discolor Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
A shrub-like plant; stems about 10 to 18 inches high. Its foliage is most attractive and very useful for cutting, white with cottony down beneath, frosty green on top. Blends beautifully mixed with other flowers when cut and gives a nice silvery effect in the flower border.

Silver Mound (Schmidtii nana) Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
A handsome, compact, mound-like plant about 8 inches high and 12 inches in diameter. Foliage fern-like and of the lightest and brightest silvery gray. It makes a very pleasing effect in the rock garden or as an accent plant but it is most distinctive when used for edging beds or walks. Prefers a warm, sunny, dry location. Hardy anywhere.

ASPERULA - Woodruff (See Herbs, page 248)

Armeria, Royal Rose

Also called Achillea Ageratifolia. One of the prettiest of mountain Chamomiles. About 6 inches high. Fine silvery foliage with small Daisy-like white flowers. Charming effect in dry locations. An easily grown plant.

Moonlight Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00
Few plants are more satisfactory in the garden than Anthemis Moonlight. Its pleasing pale yellow, Daisy-like flowers are 2½ inches in diameter and produced by the hundreds, making a gorgeous show in early summer. They are superb for cutting and the handsome flowers last for several days in water. They blend beautifully with all other flowers. The habit of growth is neat. Insects do not bother it, grows in almost any kind of soil, does not spread unduly and crowd out other plants. The foliage is ornamental. Not much more can be asked of any plant.

ANCHUSA - Alkanet

Stately and handsome herbaceous perennials belonging to the Forget-me-not order. It is difficult to imagine a more beautiful plant than a well-grown specimen of a Dropmore when in flower. The leaves are hairy and silvery green and the brilliant blue flowers are borne in racemes on branching stems.

Culture: Anchusas require a deep, well-drained soil, not too damp or heavy, and a sunny position. They are best grown singly, so that they can display their natural contour to good advantage. Plant in fall or early spring, 18 inches apart, except Myosotidiflora, which should be planted in groups of three or more, about 8 inches apart.

Myosotidiflora Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

Loddon Royalist (See page 12)

Betonica Grandiflora

Anemone Pulsatilla

ANEMONE (Species)

A genus which furnishes many showy species of hardy flowers for cutting. Some commence to flower very early in the year, and others early in autumn. Their requirements are simple and all are easily grown.

Culture. Because of the many species offered, most of which require different soils and care, cultural instructions are given with each kind listed. All may be planted in fall or early spring. All hardy and do not require winter protection which is advised for the Japanese varieties.

Pulsatilla Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00
(Pasque Flower.) Grows from 9 to 12 inches high and produces violet or purple flowers during April and May. An interesting plant for the rockery or well-drained border. Plant in full sun, 6 to 8 inches apart.

ANEMONE JAPONICA - Windflower

Valuable plants suitable for massing or as single specimens in the border. They grow rapidly and are profuse in bloom, gaining strength and beauty each year. The blooming period extends from September till mid-November, the large, open flowers furnishing abundant cut flowers and a brilliant display in the garden. All are 2 to 3 feet high.

Culture. Ordinary, good garden soil which is well drained will suit all varieties. They do well in light shade or sun, should be watered freely during dry weather. In temperate parts of the United States, fall planting is practical. Best results are obtained from vigorous young plants set out in late spring. Plant in well drained locations, 8 to 12 inches apart, and protect with straw during winter.

Alba Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
Purest single white, with yellow center. One of the hardiest and of easiest culture.

Alice Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
Large flowers of rose-pink, lilac center; excellent new variety. Strong grower.

Margarette Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
A fine grower, quite hardy and exceedingly free blooming. Several dozen double Tyrian rose-pink flowers on a stem. Established plants will grow 3 feet high and make a superb display in the autumn garden. We consider it the best of the double pink Anemone Japonica.

Profusion Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
As its name implies this is a profuse bloomer as well as strong growing. It is of recent introduction and of particular value because of its low growth, seldom over 24 inches. Flowers are warm, deep rose-pink from August to end of September.

September Charm Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
Flower is of medium size. The color is delicate silvery pink, shaded with rose, presenting a beautiful color mass when grouped. Extremely free and attains an average height of 2 feet.

Vitifolia robustissima Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00
Beautiful silvery pink flowers produced from August to October. This makes it one of the earliest of the fall Anemones to bloom. Plants are robust and extremely free-flowering, making a beautiful show. Attains a height of 32 inches. Hardest of all Anemone and probably the most satisfactory.

Vitifolia albadura Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00
Like the variety Robustissima it is one of the hardiest of Japanese Anemone. It survived without protection the coldest weather we have experienced at Mentor the past few years. Grows about 30 in. tall and throughout the autumn is covered with quantities of blush-white to pure white flowers. A handsome late flowering plant for border as well as cutting.

BETONICA - Betony

An attractive border perennial, yielding a profusion of flowers, which are most valuable for cutting.

Culture. Will succeed in good ordinary soil in a sunny border. Best grown in groups of three or more. Plant in autumn or spring, 8 to 10 inches apart.

Grandiflora Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

Dwarf Oregon Asters

These new Asters originated in Oregon. They are the result of crossing the tall garden Asters with a dwarf Oregon species. This work was done by Professor LeRoy Breithaupt, of Corvallis, Oregon, and well may he be proud of his accomplishment, for here we have as a result of his work, beautiful garden flowers. They bloom from the middle of August until the end of October and do not grow too tall for the small garden. They are hardy as Oaks and will grow anywhere, insects do not bother them. They are fine to use in combination with Chrysanthemums or as follow-ups for Bearded Iris and Oriental Poppies, which at this time of the year leave colorless spots in the garden.

Bonny Blue

Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

An excellent new dwarf hardy Aster, fine for border edges and bedding. The flowers are a medium shade of wisteria-blue and the compact plants are sturdy and vigorous, long-blooming and floriferous. They grow 8 to 10 inches high and 10 to 15 inches wide and bloom from mid-August to mid-October, with the peak late in September. Very ornamental even before blooming and long afterward.

Persian Rose

Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

Masses of rose tinted flowers on plants 12 to 15 inches high. Make a remarkable show in early autumn. Seldom have we seen such handsome displays of color as can be expected of Persian Rose. Starts blooming late August and continues until well into October.

Snowball

Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

The plants grow 8 to 10 inches high and 12 to 15 inches wide. The flowers are pure white with golden centers. When in full bloom in September they fairly smother the plants, giving the effect of big Snowballs in the autumn garden. Snowball blooms from early September into October. The plants are very ornamental for border edges, rock gardens and foreground plantings. It is best to divide each year using 3 to 5 new shoots to make one plant, otherwise they might become too large.

Twinkle

Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

Compact plants which do not grow any higher than 12 to 15 inches. They are completely covered with thousands of flowers of a delicate shade of crushed raspberry and amaranth-rose. It is the outstanding dwarf Aster in the nursery and creates more comment than any of the other varieties. Superb for edging or foreground planting.

NEW SEMI-DWARF OREGON ASTERS

Pacific Amaranth

Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

Compact plant about 15 inches tall. Begins flowering in August and remains in bloom until early October. The amaranth colored flowers are prolifically produced on sturdy stems which have a tendency to grow somewhat horizontally, making a fine plant for the front of the border.

Twilight

Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

A handsome autumn flowering plant. It is about 15 inches high when flowering. Grows into a perfect mound which is completely covered with flowers of rich violet-blue color. Its intermediate height makes it a perfect subject to be planted with the early flowering Chrysanthemums where its sharp color contrast will be very welcome.

New Dwarf English Aster

Rosebud (New)

Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00

A beautiful new dwarf with semi-double, rose-pink blooms. Not over one foot in height, starts blooming in September and lasts until the end of October. A splendid compact, colorful variety.

New English Hardy Asters

They have no counterpart in the hardy border. It is time gardeners remembered the durable and truly perennial Aster tribe. They do not compete with Chrysanthemums but form a perfect color foil for them. The soft blue and lavender shades as well as the darker colors of blue and purple of Hardy Asters make a color combination in the autumn garden that could not possibly be obtained from Chrysanthemums alone. No wonder gardeners in Europe treasure them.

CULTURE: Michaelmas Daisies will thrive in any soil and almost under any rough treatment. They may be grown with other perennials in the mixed border or in a border in conjunction with Lilies and Tritomas, where they form a gay autumnal display. Plant in fall or spring, 2 feet apart, in full sun in moist soil. Asters require a lot of moisture.

Autumn Glory Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00
We are inclined to believe this to be the finest hardy Aster yet raised. Rich claret-red, large semi-double flowers over 3 inches in diameter. Flowers are prettily curled giving them a distinct appearance. Plants grow 3½ to 4 feet high and make a magnificent show.

Blue Radiance Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00
A charming light blue with very finely cut petals, giving a light dainty appearance. The flowers are large, well over 2 inches in diameter, in great abundance during September and October. Excellent for cutting and exceptionally nice when grown in combination with Chrysanthemums. Flowers last well in water and make a fine autumn show.

Connie Thrower Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00
A lovely, semi-dwarf, violet-blue Aster; grows only 1½ to 2 feet high. The plants are smothered under hundreds of double flowers completely covering all foliage. One of the first to flower from early September onwards. It is a first class border plant and one of the nicest Asters for cutting. Blends very well in a planting of Chrysanthemums for greater color effect.

Crimson Brocade Each $2.00, Three $5.70, Doz. $20.00
One of the best of the red Asters. Flowers are intense red and fully double. It is very free blooming and grows to about 3 feet. Of recent English introduction and one of the best.

Eventide Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00
Here we have what may be considered the darkest and richest of deep violet-blue hardy Asters. The flowers are semi-double in heavy clusters which in early autumn completely hide all foliage. It is one of the very best of English introductions which perform beautifully here. One of the best of the dark blues.

Fontaine Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00
Rich petunia-pink flowers of good size with an unusually small eye making it decorative and charming. Habit is light and dainty; a fine early flowering variety.

Lassie Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00
Soft pink flowers in big masses; flowers are double and on good stiff stems. Blooms over a long period and flowers last well when cut.

Marie Ballard (New) Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00
A lovely shade of powder-blue. The flowers are large and double, and show no sign of an eye until they begin to fade. 3 to 4 ft. in height. September-October flowering. They are perfect plants for background in the border and the color leaves nothing to be desired.

Melbourne Early Red Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00
A dwarf growing plant about 1½ to 2 feet high but literally covered with maroon-red flowers in early fall. A brilliant sight when in flower and one of the best of recent introduction.

Patricia Ballard Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00
An outstanding new pink with beautifully formed, double flowers which completely cover the 3-foot high plant in September and October. Makes a superb show in the autumn and it is a splendid variety for cutting as it looks well in water. An English novelty of great worth.

The Sexton Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00
Large single rich blue flowers in big clusters on four foot stems. A beautiful blue Aster showing its fine blue flowers boldly. Looks well planted between Chrysanthemums.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT—As Well as For Your Flowers

What your plants need is a balanced organic food, not just a stimulant. They need one containing in right amounts, those things that make plenty of strong roots, produce sturdy stalks, thrifty foliage and an abundance of good sized blooms. That's exactly the kind of Plant Food we use at Wayside Gardens. Much of our success in growing such unfailingly fine plants is due to it. Turn to page 249 and get the full facts about it.

Aster Rosana

Hardy Asters

Ambrosia Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00
A beautiful shade of peach-pink which is exceptionally bright even on cloudy days. Its rare color makes this one a strong competitor of Yolanda. The plant habit is excellent because it is a nice, dense, compact grower, not too tall. When in full bloom its foliage is practically invisible and its cheerful color is most welcome in the autumn garden.

Aster Frikarti, Wonder of Staffa. Blooms all Summer and Autumn

NEW DWARF ASTER NOVAE-ANGLIAE

Rosana Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00
Here is something new indeed—a sturdy, short-growing Aster of the Novae-Angliae (New England) type with medium-large, rosy pink flowers. This variety grows only about 30 inches high, scarcely half as tall as the older varieties of the type, thus standing without support; and the blooming season is longer—from early September far into October. The vigorous, well behaved plants are excellent in the mid-section of perennial flower borders and for background planting in beds of early, low-growing Chrysanthemums.

Frikarti, Wonder of Staffa Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00
Lavender-blue flowers from 2 to 2½ inches across, produced from June 1st until the middle of November. The plant does exceedingly well in light shade and comes to perfection in full sun. We consider it the finest garden plant introduced during the past twenty years. There are no other hardy plants which bloom so persistently over so long a period—a constant display of flowers the entire summer. Excellent for cutting.

ASTER

Yunnanensis, Napsbury Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00
This is a fine, rich blue, hardy Aster from China. It grows about 2½ feet high with flowers somewhat larger than those of Aster Frikarti. However, they have broader petals and last longer. In addition, they are fragrant and are excellent for cutting. Blooms late May until July and is extremely hardy as well as a rapid increaser.

Farrerri Berggarten Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00
A beautiful Daisy-like Aster; looks something like Napsbury but blooms from early June until late summer. The flowers are large and a beautiful shade of lilac-blue with golden center. Unsurpassed for cutting as well as a showy garden plant. Hardy and needs no particular care.

Bergenia (Saxifraga) Megasea

Aster Yunnanensis, Napsbury

Aster Farreri, Berggarten

BERGENIA (Saxifraga) - Megasea

A large genus of rock plants, only a few of which are suitable for culture in this country. The majority require to be grown on rockeries. The sorts suitable to grow as edgings to, or in masses on the margins of borders are what are known as the Giant-leaved Saxifragas or Megaseas with large, leathery leaves which are also admirably suited for shady borders in city gardens.

Culture. Plant in March or early fall. The Bergenia, or large-leaved kinds, will thrive in ordinary good rich soil in well drained border, by the waterside, or in the rockery. May be grown in sun or shade. Should be watered freely in dry summer. Plant 8 inches apart.

Megasea cordifolia Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00

These will thrive in ordinary soil in any position. Grow about one foot high, and are admirable for the front of the border or shrubbery, forming masses of handsome, broad, deep green foliage which alone renders them useful. Flowers appear very early in the spring. Fine among rocks or ledges as well as for informal ground covers. It is a plant of tremendous personality and has a decorative quality possessed by few plants.

CATANANCHE - Blue Cupidone or Love-Plant

A native of Southern Europe, have hoary, lance-shaped, and crisp, chaff-like, brilliant blue flowers, resembling those of the Everlasting. Is an attractive plant when in flower.

Culture. This perennial requires good, ordinary soil and a dry, well drained, sunny position. Plant in spring, 8 inches apart. If planted in fall, protect lightly during winter. Plant in units of three for bold effect.

Blue Giant

Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

A handsome blue flowered plant for a dry sunny spot. From a crown of gray-green foliage spring as many as a dozen flower spikes 24 inches tall bearing beautiful cornflower blue blossoms from early June until end of September. They are brilliant and effective in the garden and unequalled for cutting. Blue is a rare color in flowers; therefore, Blue Giant is a much admired and desired plant. When established do not transplant or divide.

CLEMATIS, Non-Climbing Varieties

Here we deal only with the herbaceous species, the stems of which die down in autumn, and that are of a bushy and non-climbing habit. Those offered are suitable for the mixed border, and make a very effective display when in flower.

Culture. They prefer a chalky, well drained loam. Where this is not available, mix plenty of lime with the soil. Plant in autumn or spring. In autumn cut stems back to the soil; give a good mulching of well decayed manure.

Davidiana, Azure

Each $2.00, Three $5.75, Doz. $20.00

A fine hybrid of this worth-while border plant. Deep blue flowers in great profusion, sweetly scented. Hardy as an Oak, no insect pests, does well on any soil. Easily one of the best of summer-flowering border plants. Height about 24 to 30 inches. Unusually good in shade.

Mandshurica

Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00

Here we have an exceptionally good plant for cutting. When established this variety will send up in July spikes about 3 feet high which are superb for cutting. The white, fragrant flowers are loosely spaced on wiry branches and mix nicely with other cut flowers. In the hardy border it grows into a large, graceful clump that blends well with other plants. It is an ironclad plant. Nothing bothers it and it will withstand the lowest temperatures encountered in this country.

COREOPSIS - Tickseed

A useful and attractive herbaceous perennial, both for border and cut flowers. They are of easy culture, and produce their golden yellow flowers in profusion throughout the summer.

Culture. All require a well-drained, medium soil. They also need a position in full sun. Plant in autumn or early spring, 10 to 12 inches apart.

Grandiflora

Three $1.70, Doz. $6.00

An improved variety with large bright yellow flowers; one of the best hardy plants. Excellent for cut flowers.

Campanula - Bellflower

In the eagerness these days for new things, some of the lovely old ones are all too often neglected. All the worthy old-timey plants have been greatly improved in every way. None more so than the Campanulas, known by our grandmothers as the Cup and Saucer plant, Bellflower and Canterbury Bells.

In their various sizes from the dwarfs up to those 3 feet high, some thriving in semi-shady places, others glorious in sunny spots, no garden can be quite complete without them. Some bloom continuously from June to October, giving a wealth of white and blue blooms. They are among the finest of the new fashion, old fashion flowers. So be among the appreciative many who have called back to their gardens these outstandingly delightful plants.

Culture. A rich, well drained, light soil will grow them to perfection. It is well to protect fall-transplanted plants with a little dry covering; remove covering early in March before new growth starts. Plant in early autumn or very early spring, 8 to 10 inches apart, in full sun.

Carpatica

A beautiful compact grower and prolific blooming variety of recent introduction. It flowers over a long period from June until October. Plants are completely covered with deep blue flowers. Its uniformity of habit and its remarkable freedom of bloom unquestionably make this the finest of all the Carpatica type Campanulas. It makes a charming low edging to a flower garden or along a walk. Here's an exceptionally good ironclad hardy perennial for the foreground of the border.

Garganica

Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

A gem for the rock garden. Forms a low spreading tuft which, in June, is covered with starry light blue flowers having a white eye. Exquisite hanging over a rock.

Lactiflora, Loddon Anna

Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

A. M. 1952. A flesh-pink form. Here is a fine perennial for the border. Grows about 3 to 4 feet high; erect spikes with trusses of pale lilac-pink flowers. It is exceedingly free-flowering and blends well with other flowers. A great favorite in Europe. Easy to grow; no transplanting and always a lot of bloom.

Latifolia, Brantwood

Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

A handsome, erect growing Campanula flowering in June and July. Well established plants produce up to a dozen rigid stems about 2½ feet high with clusters of violet flowers. Perfectly hardy, requires no staking or frequent transplanting. It is an excellent border plant, prefers sun and well drained location.

Persicifolia grandiflora alba

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

One of the finest Campanulas, with large, handsome, white, bell-shaped flowers. A great plant for the border, growing in size each year. Height 2 feet.

Persicifolia grandiflora coerulea

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

An excellent companion to the white variety, the large bright blue flowers making an effective contrast. Height 2 feet.

(Blue Bells of Scotland or Harebells.) 1 foot. June to August. In the wild it is more slender and taller than in the garden; clear blue flowers. Especially suited for crevices in the rock garden or deep slopes, best planted so as to show pendent habit. Does well also in light shade.

Wedgewood

Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00

"Here is a 'gem' of a plant", one of our visitors exclaimed as she saw it growing in our nursery last summer. We heartily agree with her. We did produce a big quantity of them before we dared offer them in our catalog because we know they will be snapped up quickly. Dozens of brilliant violet-blue flowers on almost rigid stems look skyward from a cushion of deep green foliage not over 6 inches high. A neat subject for edging, in front of other plants or the rock garden. We think it is one of the finest of dwarf Campanulas to date.

White Wedgewood

Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00

This is the pure white form of the handsome Wedgewood variety. The plants are identical in shape, growth and floriferousness. Its pure white flowers on rigid short stems look like so many small, white cups. It is a perfect companion for Wedgewood.

Hardy Cyclamen

CYPRIPEDIUM - Lady's Slipper

Hardy Orchids that thrive in a moist, peaty soil in shade or partial shade. Flowers are very interesting with their odd shapes and uncommon colors and markings.

Culture. It is required for best results that they be planted in shade in peaty soil, such as one finds in woods or swamps. Should be carefully watered during dry weather. Do well along streams or small ponds in the rock garden. Plant in fall or early spring, 6 to 8 inches apart. Do not disturb, once planted.

We offer only 3- to 5-eye flowering clumps.

Acaule

(Lady's Slipper; Moccasin Flower.) This is often called the Red Lady's Slipper, but the flower is rose-purple in color.

Each $1.75

Pubescens

(Large Yellow Lady's Slipper.)

Each $2.00

Spectabile

(Showy Lady's Slipper.) The finest and most showy of all our Orchids. It grows about two feet high, bearing along the stalks several rather large, roundish leaves, and on top one or two quite large, rose-purple or nearly white flowers.

Each $2.50

ORCHIDS—(See page 72)

CYCLAMEN (Hardy)

Most profuse flowering hardy plants. The small, delicately sweet scented flowers are produced in early autumn or late summer literally by the hundreds; a rare bulbous plant for the rockery or shady place in front of the border or under trees. They look particularly well if mixed through a planting of other low growing ground covers such as Vinca or Ajuga. Always plant 3 or more tubers closely together for better effect.

Culture: Cyclamen are dormant from end of May to end of August. They then lose their leaves and completely die down. Be sure and do not damage bulbs while you cannot see them. Plant tubers about 1 to 1½ inches deep in any good garden soil, in light shade. They are perfectly hardy and require no care. Do not disturb them but permit them to grow into nice clumps.

Coum

Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00

Glossy leaves, interestingly twisted, crimson flowers. Grows about 2 inches tall and blooms in early spring about February, March and April, depending on locality where grown.

Europaeum

Each $1.50; Three $4.25; Doz. $15.00

Autumn and winter flowering. Round, olive-green leaves reddish pink blooms by the dozen. Grows 3 inches tall and flowers usually from September until end of October.

Neapolitanum

Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00

Attractively marbled leaves with pink or rose colored flowers in autumn. Grows about 3 inches tall, very free-flowering and blooms from August until end of September.

CIMICIFUGA - Snakeroot

Handsome, herbaceous perennials. They have large, palmate leaves, and small flowers borne in feathery racemes.

Culture. Grow in ordinary moist soil in colonies of six or more, in partially shaded borders or in open woods. Plant in autumn or spring, 8 to 12 inches apart.

Racemosa Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00

Handsome shade-loving plant, bearing in July and August spikes of pure white flowers, 4 to 6 feet high; well suited for planting at the back of borders, or for naturalizing at the edge of the woods.

Simplex Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00

This is one of the finest, if not the finest, of fall flowering plants. Its flower stems are 2½ to 3 feet high, terminated with a dense plume-like spike of white flowers which, when cut, last in perfection a long time. As a garden plant it is hard to beat but its greatest asset is that it grows superbly in shade. We know of no other plant quite as useful for that purpose. The flowers are at their best from September to middle October, and it's perfectly hardy anywhere.

Chrysanthemum Rubellum

(Winter Hardy)

They are of particularly neat habit; each plant forming into a symmetrical bush, which, when in full bloom—with its masses of flowers—appears as a delightful bouquet often 3 feet or more across. They are perfectly hardy and good perennials, ideal for border, bedding and cutting.

Culture. Same as Shasta Daisy.

Their complete hardiness is repeatedly stressed. Their perennial character is established—they are permanent plants—and will continue to add color and beauty to your garden year after year. Last but not least they do exceptionally well in such locations where there is a little shade and it is difficult to grow other Mums satisfactorily.

Anna Hay Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

Big, single, salmon, shading to rosy salmon-pink. Grows into a beautiful rounded plant literally covered with hundreds of big, pink Daisy-like flowers. About 2½ feet high and 2 to 3 feet across.

Clara Curtis Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

This was introduced several years ago and has proven to be one of the finest of perennial plants. The hundreds of single salmon-pink Daisy-like flowers are about 3 inches in diameter and are at their best in August and early September, so early that they are never damaged by frost. They are well arranged on short much-branched stems not over 12 to 18 inches high in such numbers that the plants look like solid mounds of pink. After a short rest period in the fall the plants may be dug up in early winter, potted, and forced into bloom in February and March. They make splendid pot plants. The habit of Chrysanthemum Clara Curtis is spreading. A two-year-old plant grows about 18 to 24 inches across. It is perfectly hardy anywhere and not particular as to soil or location. The other varieties offered have the same habit and are just as hardy.

Jessie Cooper Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

Giant Daisy-like flowers of soft Indian-copper-bronze with big golden yellow centers. An outstanding variety. Produces immense quantities of flowers on a 3-foot plant which is often more than 3 feet across.

Royal Command Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

Big Daisy-like flowers of rich wine-red with velvety sheen completely cover the plant, hiding all foliage. It is exceedingly brilliant and conspicuous. The individual flowers are often 3 inches or more across. Grows about 2 feet high and 2 to 2½ feet across.

Collection—1 each of the 4 varieties for $3.25.

Hardy Chrysanthemum, Clara Curtis

Shasta Daisy, Mark Riegel

Double Shasta Daisy, Mount Shasta

Chrysanthemum Maximum

SHASTA DAISY

Hardy perennials of easy culture, and especially noteworthy for their freedom of flowering. There are two distinct types of this genus. One is the Shasta Daisy, which bears large, white flowers on long stems, and is, therefore, invaluable for cutting, and the other is the Leucanthemum, the Daisy of our meadows.

Culture. The Shasta Daisies require a deep, rich soil. They must have a sunny position. They should be planted 1 foot apart. It is advisable to lift and divide the rootstocks every alternate year, then the plants will be more compact in growth and also yield much finer flowers than if left undisturbed.

Double Shasta Daisies

Cobham Gold Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00

This Daisy in growth and form of bloom is quite similar to Mount Shasta. However, the crested center instead of being white is pale yellow. The guard petals are creamy white. This is the first break from white to yellow in Shasta Daisies. The name Cobham Gold is perhaps misleading. This is not a golden yellow flower but a fine pale yellow.

Mount Shasta Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00

The pure white, fully double flowers have a high crested center and average four inches across or more. A double row of overlapping guard petals enhances the beauty of this fine double Daisy. The flowers come singly on stiff, 24-inch stems from spring until frost. Especially fine for cutting. In our opinion a top notch plant; a healthy, vigorous grower.

Single Shasta Daisies

Alaska Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00

One of the best known of the older varieties. It is particularly liked because of its hardiness as well as being a strong grower and heavy blooming variety. The flowers are of good size, well formed, excellent for cutting. Feed it a little each winter and you will be well rewarded.

Majestic Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00

It is a hardy resistant grower, withstanding unfavorable conditions. Its immense white flowers are real beauties, 5 to 6 inches in diameter with a small yellow center. Has a double row of straight and overlapping petals making the flowers full and compact.

Mark Riegel Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00

The broad glistening white petals which overlap, come in a double row, are long and curved slightly at the tips. The center of the flower is very small and orange-yellow. Stems are thin and rigid and about 2 to 3 feet long. As many as 15 to 20 flowers to a plant at one time. Flowers frequently measure 4 to 5 inches across.

Hardy Chrysanthemum Arcticum

(Northland Daisy)

Astrid (Imperial) Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00

Astrid is a hybrid of the extremely hardy species, C. Arcticum, and the first hybrid of this variety to be introduced. The single Daisy-like flowers are three inches or more in diameter, and are a lovely shade of shell-pink, warmed with old rose tints, with a bright yellow center. The plants have attractive light green foliage, not bothered by disease or insects. It is the hardest hybrid Daisy we know of, having come through many severe winters without protection and without damage.

Good Morning Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00

A fine soft yellow form of Astrid. Its beautiful, sparkling soft yellow, Daisy-like flowers cover the plant completely, and, like Astrid, it is as hardy as an Oak.

Kristina Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00

Large Daisy-like flowers, extremely deep rose-pink with purple glow; color effect is almost true purple. A most unusual shade in the fall garden, brilliant, distinct and colorful. Fine foliage and ironclad hardy. In full flower October 10th.

Polaris Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00

Looks like a buff-yellow Shasta Daisy when in bloom. Makes a fine plant with stems 24 to 30 inches high crowned with big daisy-like flowers of a most pleasing shade of buff-yellow. Extremely hardy.

Thomas Killin

Thomas Killin

Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00

Considered in Europe the finest Shasta Daisy. We are inclined to agree to the opinion of our European friends. Majestic and Mark Riegel most certainly are the finest of Shasta Daisies but Thomas Killin seems to outperform them both. Its broad rigid pure white petals, which occur in a double row, form a perfect background for its crested and gold center. It is a splendid formal flower for cutting and a superb garden variety which grows well and increases in size quite readily.

Chrysanthemum Maximum Hybrids

Here is a splendid mixture of Shasta Daisies. They are grown from seed selected at Wayside. We find this an inexpensive way to produce plants. So if you are not particularly interested in a special variety, but are looking for something unusually good, we suggest you try some of these. You will be surprised in the many fine types and forms of flowers. All good garden decoration as well as for cutting.

Little Bob Pompon Cushion Chrysanthemum

Little Bob is a charming low-growing garden Chrysanthemum of English origin which will surely be grown by everyone interested in Mums. The plant spreads to about 24 inches in diameter and develops into a perfectly symmetrical mound. In early autumn hundreds of small, mahogany-bronze, double, button-like flowers appear on short, stiff, wire-like stems. When in bloom its foliage is almost invisible. One sees nothing but a mound of the handsomest blooms. Its appearance is far more orderly and formal than the Cushion Mums. We are sure you will like Little Bob because of its hundreds of little, perfectly formed, button-like flowers.

Hardy Chrysanthemums, Ashes of Roses
One of the rarest of colors, rarely ever seen in flowers

ASHES OF ROSES

A completely distinct and different color never before seen in Mums and we are frank to admit we can't describe it, neither does the color plate do it justice. Visitors call it rich old rose or rose ash with soft salmon-apricot overtones. The point is there is nothing like it in Mums nor have we seen this rare iridescent color or anything like it on any other flowers in our nursery. We consider Ashes of Roses the choicest and most distinct Mum in our collection. It flowers more freely than most varieties, blooms cover the plant completely; starts blooming in September and keeps on until frost. Flowers are fully double, about 3 inches across. Height about 2½ feet.

Chrysanthemums for the Garden

The Best for Hardiness and Freedom of Bloom

New Chrysanthemums are legion, but all the new ones are not necessarily better. The selection of Garden Mums offered here consists of the very finest early flowering varieties. The color range is complete and represents the most desirable shades and tints. Any one of the kinds listed may be grown by you with the positive assurance of providing you with the loveliest of blooms for garden decoration as well as for cutting. They are outstanding varieties, old or new.

Amatus Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
The pure white, pointed petals form a fully double flower shaped like a Cactus Dahlia. Individual blooms range from 4 to 6 inches in diameter. They are produced in open clusters which permit the showing of their fine details. Plants are vigorous, somewhat bushy in habit and grow approximately 30 to 36 inches high.

Ancaster Peach (New) Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00
A beautiful early flowering variety. The flowers are large and formal, a handsome peach-pink, the petals somewhat cactus-like and pointed. It is a splendid producer of handsome flowers throughout the entire fall season.

Astoria Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
Bright golden amber flowers with broad petals, the whole flower rather tightly formed, giving distinct form as well as color. This is an English novelty which has done splendidly here and is considered in the top class of large flowered Mums. Late September blooming.

Betty Each 80c, Three $2.25, Doz. $8.00
Very lovely, full double pink of unusual shade, combining peach-pink and old rose; one of the finest and nearest to pink in Mums. Good pink Chrysanthemums are few. Here is one of the best. A decided improvement in habit over Pink Radiance. Blooms in early October. Vigorous 2-foot plant.

Calumet Each 80c, Three $2.25, Doz. $8.00
At the moment we believe this to be one of the three most brilliant Mums. "Glowing burnt orange" best describes the play of bronze, red and golden bronze shades; literally, it gleams. The full double blossoms, 3½ inches across, carried on long, slender, nicely branched sprays are perfect for cut arrangements; the heavily branched plant amazingly free and productive. The lusty dark green foliage is carried right down to the ground; the plant alone is a garden ornament. Height 2½-3 feet.

Charles Nye Each 80c, Three $2.25, Doz. $8.00
A neat, upright, 18 to 24-inch plant. Fully double, rounded flowers of rich buttercup-yellow and firm substance, 2 to 2½ inches across. Blooms end of Sept., very free and long-lasting. One of the favorite yellows.

Chippewa Each 80c, Three $2.25, Doz. $8.00
Absolutely distinct is the new rich Aster-purple color and it's an early blooming, free flowering, bushy, 2-foot plant. Semi-double, mid-size bloom. Very striking.

Eugene A. Wander Each 80c, Three $2.25, Doz. $8.00
Have you longed for a big hardy Mum that would flower before those early October frosts? Well, here it is—a brilliant, glistening golden yellow beauty in full bloom by September 20th and so free that the stocky plant is almost obscured by its branching clusters of perfectly formed double flowers. Hardy and easily grown, it requires no special pinching or handling to produce flowers 4½ to 5 inches across—larger, if disbudded.

Gardenia Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
The handsome flowers give a tiny hint of cactus petalage, flaring faintly like a Dahlia. As pure white as any Mum. A creamy center softens it deliciously. Flowers are 3 inches across on stocky 18 to 24-inch stems splendid for garden use. They do not fall over or require staking. Blooms early October, one of the finest white Mums.

Garnet King Each 80c, Three $2.25, Doz. $8.00
Pure dark garnet-red flowers of large size. It really belongs with the greenhouse type Mums. The color is unique. We tried to make a color plate of it but have failed so far. Garnet King might be called the darkest and reddest of Mums grown outdoors. A choice variety.

Golden Age Each 80c, Three $2.25, Doz. $8.00
Rich, clear, brilliant yellow flowers with somewhat pointed petals. A distinctive and beautiful variety from England where it is considered very outstanding. Has proven of top quality in our test garden.

Horizon Each 80c, Three $2.25, Doz. $8.00
Queen of all whites is this big, fluffy, handsome Mum. Flowers over 5 inches across, perfectly formed. Full flower late September. Height 18-20 inches.

Lee Powell Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
Big impressive flowers of bright Chinese yellow shading to coppery orange-yellow at the center. Starts blooming about the second week of September. Stems are rigid and about 2½ feet tall. We feel this is an excellent Mum, one of the best.

Mount Hood Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
Rather dwarf growing but exceptionally free blooming. White flowers with a tinge of chartreuse. Blooms from early October into November. An outstanding fine white variety.

Mrs. Pierre S. Du. Pont III Each 80c, Three $2.25, Doz. $8.00
The iridescence is so pronounced in this fine Chrysanthemum that accurate description is difficult. The dominant shade is a soft peach tint blended with mauve undertones; the whole overcast with an indescribably luminous sheen. Entirely distinct and altogether lovely. Large, full, perfectly formed flowers carried on tall, branching stems, making a sturdy 2½-foot plant. In full flower in early October.

Olive Longland Each 80c, Three $2.25, Doz. $8.00
Apricot and salmon tones nicely blended. Like Mrs. P. S. Du Pont III, but 3 weeks earlier. Blooms September 15th. Height 20 inches. One of the choicer new Mums which should be in every garden.

Red Velvet Each 80c, Three $2.25, Doz. $8.00
Finest crimson garden Mum. Shapely, long lasting blooms. Lustrous, healthy foliage. Hardiness plus. Full bloom early October. Height 2 ft.

Spellbound Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
A beautiful Mum which might be called a large form of the variety "Tapestry." Flowers are bold and formal. Its unusual coloring is generally referred to as ashes of roses. It is very distinct and outstanding and ranks among the top of the new Mum varieties. Late September blooming and fine stiff stems.

Stylish Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
Old rose. Large cactus decorative. Medium height. Handsome cactus-like flowers on stiff stems. Very colorful and quite early. A lovely variety, especially nice for cutting.

5 Hardy Garden Mums Noted for Their Large Flowers

Amber Bright Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
Bright amber-bronze flowers, reflexed in form with somewhat rolled petals make this an outstanding as well as attractive variety which came to us from England. Late September blooming with great quantities of almost cactus-like flowers. One which should be in every Mum collection.

Fascination Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
Lovers of the big Mums will admire this "Amazon" of the fall garden. A large, shapely decorative often 4 inches in size, of a lovely silvery lavender-pink deepening at the center. The blossoms occasionally become almost white towards the end. A paragon of beauty from the deep rosy red buds in late September. A sturdy 2-foot grower, it has many long stems, often with only one stunning flower per stem. Truly a marvelous blend of "big and beautiful."

Flamboyant Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
Large flowers of shining salmon-bronze. Early and prolific. The fine straight stems and superbly colored flowers make this a highly desirable variety. Its coloring is unique.

Ohio State Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
A very shapely formal flower with evenly spaced spiky petals. Deepest golden yellow flowers in great number. The plant is not a tall grower but the size of the blooms plus their brilliant golden yellow color make it a "must."

Sunburst Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
Broad petals of beautiful clear golden color form a bloom over 4 inches across. A rugged grower and free blooming. One of the best yellow Mums.

Pacific Hybrid Delphiniums

Here offered are the newest, the best and the finest to be secured anywhere. The range of colors varies from the palest shade of blue to the deepest indigo-blue and royal purple with many intermediary pastel tones of mauve, pink and lavender blendings. Among these new hybrids are flowers of huge size and fully double.

The Pacific Strain of Delphinium has been in commerce now for 25 years and has become a standard for the highest quality in Delphinium all over the world. Instead of making extravagant claims, we would like to let our flowers speak for themselves when you grow them.

Black Knight Series Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00
The darkest violet. Individual flowers two and one-half to three inches in diameter; of beautiful round form, with heavy velvety texture, which gives the color luminosity and vividness not seen before in Delphinium. Very long, well formed spikes; a true show flower with black bee.

Blue Bird Series Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
A true blue Delphinium has been the hardest thing to produce and we have been reserving the name Blue Bird to signify the best achievement in this color. We can recommend this series as being the clearest medium blues, with white bees. They carry well formed, round flowers 2½ inches in diameter, on very long, graceful spikes. The habit is all one could desire in modern Delphinium and this series sets a new standard in blues of today.

Wayside Gardens Delphiniums

Contrary to the European practice of naming individual plants, we produce from seed a group of individual plants resembling each other as closely as possible. They are interbred until the progeny brings a high percentage of specimens true to description. We then introduce it as a named series. In this manner we can offer new progression of each series each year as the progeny always supersedes the parents and at a much lower price.

Below are listed eight series of distinct colors. The plants we offer are big field-grown roots which will produce many magnificent spikes of flowers.

Cameliard Series Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00
Two-toned lavender with white bee, possessing classic perfection of form of the individual flowers, which are very round and attain very large size, average three inches in diameter. Beautifully balanced spikes, combined with excellent growing habits.

Galahad Series Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
Greatest achievement in giant whites, fully worthy of its name, which possesses all the qualities one expects to find in a fine Delphinium. The standard attained in this series is perhaps responsible for its wide popularity, ranking in demand next to the blues. The clear white flowers, with white bees, are of large size, reaching often three inches in diameter, combined with glistening heavy texture.

Guinevere Series Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00
Clear pink-lavender self, with white bee; with very large individual flowers averaging up to three inches in diameter. This is a true exhibition type and a beautiful garden plant.

King Arthur Series Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
This is still one of the most brilliant Delphiniums so far developed. The color is a rich, royal purple, with a velvety texture and large white bee, and the beautifully formed, long spikes are carried on thin, woody stems.

Lancelot Series Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00
A clear lilac self with white bee. A rare color in Delphinium and one of the most beautiful. It has well balanced spikes and carries large flowers of fine round form.

Summer Skies Series Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
Light, heavenly blue of a summer sky with white bees representing the fleecy clouds; a color long sought in the large hybrid Delphinium. They come almost 100% true to color from seed, with such a uniform growth that many people think they are propagated from cuttings. As a class this is the finest blue Delphinium in existence today.

A Mixture of the Above Series Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00
Mixed colors of Pacific Hybrid Delphiniums including the above shades as well as many others.

GIANT PACIFIC HYBRIDS IN POTS

Many prefer to set out Hybrid Delphiniums from pots. These young plants were started by us last summer and have developed into nice vigorous plants that will flower for you with magnificent spikes of blooms. Space them 18 inches apart and plant in groups of three or more for stunning effects.

Galahad Series Each 75c, Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50, 100 $45.00

King Arthur Series Each 75c, Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50, 100 $45.00

Summer Skies Series Each 75c, Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50, 100 $45.00

Round Table Series Each 75c, Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50, 100 $45.00
The Round Table Series is a superb mixture comprising all available shades in Delphiniums. Nothing yet has been created that equals them for sheer beauty.

WAYSIDE GARDENS ENGLISH HYBRIDS

Illustrated At Left

This is one of the most permanent and at present the most popular strains of the garden Delphinium. It is distinct because of its broad, conical spike and enormous individual flowers, 1½ to 2 inches in diameter, in all shades of blue blended with mauve and violet. Also contains some fine clear white types. For permanent groups in the garden this mixture has no equal.

Field-Grown Plants Each 95c, Three $2.70, Doz. $9.50, 100 $57.50

Pot-Grown Plants Each 85c, Three $2.45, Doz. $8.75, 100 $52.50

Delphinium - Larkspur

Try as you will, one can hardly say enough for these regal midsummer favorites. None quite equal them in the commanding stateliness of their profusely bloom-laden stalks. Their gamut of colors ranging from exquisitely delicate pastel blues, whites and lavenders to those of the deep solid colors in violet and indigo-blue, is but one of their charms.

Culture: Delphiniums require a rich, generous and well drained soil. On soils of a light or medium nature dig in plenty of well decayed manure. In those of a heavy nature it is desirable to fork up the subsoil and compost of two parts loam and one of equal proportions of decayed manure and sand. The plants are best grown in groups of three or six. Allow a distance of at least 18 inches to 2 feet between the plants. Planting may be done in autumn or early spring. Remove faded flowers, and on no account allow seeds to develop, then a second crop of flowers may be expected later on.

DELPHINIUM BELLADONNA

The Belladonna Delphinium does not grow quite as tall as the popular English Hybrids, but they produce more spikes and are more graceful, therefore, more useful for cutting. In fact, they are our loveliest early blue flowers for that purpose. They require the same care and treatment as suggested for the English Hybrids, but may be planted a little closer together, 12 inches apart is sufficient space for them. Their lovely blue spikes are about 3 or 4 feet high and produced in June and again in September.

Belladonna, Cliveden Beauty

Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00, 100 $55.00

This is a fine English improvement over the common Belladonna, growing much taller, many more flowers to each spike and of a brighter color. A fine form for garden as well as for cutting.

Bellamosa

Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00, 100 $55.00

A dark blue form of Belladonna.

Delphinium Belladonna, Cliveden Beauty

Allwood's Carnations and Pinks

Allwood Bros., Hayward's Heath, England, simply means Carnations or Dianthus in Europe. No other firm or person has done so much for such a long time to improve these fragrant flowers as they have.

In 1912, they introduced Dianthus Allwoodi. It resulted from a cross between the American greenhouse Carnation and the old-fashioned Garden Pink. Next came Allwoodi Alpinus, resulting from a cross between some of the Alpine Pinks and Dianthus Allwoodi. Dianthus, Delight was added to the list in 1936, and last but not least, they discovered and reintroduced the Laced Pinks. They were being grown in odd places around Paisley by descendants of the Huguenot weavers. The range of colors was increased and the quality of the flowers improved so that today we have a fine modern form of that charming Pink.

On a recent visit to English nurseries, we arranged with Allwood Bros. to furnish us with seed of their finest strains of Carnations and Dianthus, and this offering is the result of that arrangement. No plants will be offered except those raised from seed of their choicest strains.

Allwoodi Alpinus Mixed Colors Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50, 100 $45.00

These are the dwarf and smaller form of Dianthus Allwoodi. They were obtained by crossing Dianthus Alpinus with Allwoodi. The result was a small, compact plant of fine form and exceedingly free in blooming. It makes an excellent edging to walks and looks particularly good planted between stones in a terrace or paved walk. Grow in full sun and well drained soil. A delightful mixture of colors and delightful fragrant flowers.

(Allwood's) Delight

Three $1.55, Doz. $5.50, 100 $32.50

The origin of these lovely Pinks is quite interesting but quite complicated. The bewildering mixture of colors and their delightful fragrance have made them very popular. They grow quickly and flower freely from early summer until late autumn. So heavily do they bloom that the plants exhaust themselves in one season and for that reason should be considered annuals. Full sun and ordinary soil is all that is needed to grow them in perfection.

(Allwood's) Rainbow Loveliness Three $1.55, Doz. $5.50, 100 $32.50

A unique strain of Dianthus with an intriguing range of colors which, combined with their misty effect, produce a haze of color over the border. They are perpetual flowering from late May to October and will produce a glorious show the whole time. It has made a name for itself by reason of its glorious perfume. An Allwood introduction.

Allwoodi Mixed Colors Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00, 100 $55.00

These remarkable Pinks resulted from a cross between the old-fashioned garden Pinks with the well known Carnation. A wide range of colors and neat growth have made them very popular. The constant blooming throughout the summer will surprise you. They need no trimming. Best grown in full sun in a well drained ordinary soil. Their spicy fragrance is pronounced and delightful.

For Dianthus and Carnation illustrations see pages 41 and 42.

Dianthus (Allwood's), Rainbow Loveliness

Dianthus - Pinks

A great selection of plants for the sunny border or sunny, exposed places in the rock garden or rock wall. In fact, no rock garden is complete without a liberal planting of the various Dianthus. In England where rock gardening is a well understood art, Dianthus are used by the thousands. They are perfectly hardy anywhere.

Culture. Plant in ordinary good soil, which must contain some lime and should be well drained. Planting may be done in fall or early spring, 6 to 10 inches apart, in sunny, dry places in the rock garden, rock wall or on the margin of the border. All love lime and gritty soils.

DIANTHUS PLUMARIUS - Border Pinks

Apple Blossom Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

A new Border Pink which produces large quantities of apple-blossom-pink flowers which are delightfully fragrant. The stiff, wiry stems are about 12 in. tall, long enough for cutting yet not too long for good garden effect. Plants are nicely compact, grow easily and bloom freely. Like all Pinks, must be grown in full sun. Apple Blossom is a tip top variety and with charmingly colored blooms. The loveliest of all Pinks.

Crimson Glow Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

A deep or dark red colored Hardy Garden Pink has always been something we have wished for. Crimson Glow is the deepest red we have been able to develop up to this time. The color is a really dark red and the flowers are freely produced on 15-inch stems. The plant is compact in growth. Foliage a blackish green. Spicily fragrant and hardy. While not a "perfect red Pink", we are coming close to it.

Dinah Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

This "Border Pink" is the companion to Evangeline. It is just as spicily fragrant, just as prolific flowering in spring and autumn. The color is a deep Persian rose with maroon center. The flower stems are perhaps 12 inches long with about 2 to 6 flowers on a single stem which is stiff and just right for cutting. The flowers are perfectly formed, never a split calyx. Plants are about 8 inches high and 10 to 12 inches across.

Essex Witch Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

A very dwarf and compact Pink producing a legion of rose-pink flowers on short stems. They are very fragrant and petals are finely fringed. When in bloom, not over 5 inches high. A fine old-fashioned variety which is hardy anywhere. A splendid variety for edging beds or walks.

Evangeline Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

A new "Border Pink" with a most delightful, spicy, penetrating fragrance. Early in the spring the plants are covered with an unbelievable number of flowers. These, when faded, should be removed so that in the early autumn you can enjoy a second display of flowers equally as prolific. Two to four flowers grow on a stiff 10-inch stem and are perfectly formed. The calyx never splits. The color is a soft Persian rose. Habit is perfect; the plant grows in a low, tight mound about 6 inches high and 10 to 12 inches across. Perfect for an edging.

Her Majesty Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

Grows about 4 inches high and when in bloom it is literally covered with fragrant double white flowers on 6-inch stems. It is an old-fashioned favorite of neat habit and absolutely hardy. Excellent for edging beds or walks.

Moon Mist Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

Pure white and spicily fragrant double flowers on 12-inch stems. This border Pink has Carnation-like flowers which are perfect for cutting. Flowers throughout the summer with its heavy crop of blooms in spring and again in the autumn.

Salmon Unique Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

The richly clove-scented flowers are salmon-pink on stiff stems about 15 inches tall and produced the entire summer and into the fall. Nice compact habit and very hardy. The flowers are crisp and wavy and Carnation-like in form. Always perfectly formed, almost formal in character. You will like this variety very much.

The Bishop Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

Here we have a variety that is a splendid grower; stays neat and compact and at the same time blooms very freely. Its unusual Bishop-purple flowers are very fragrant and are produced in abundance on 12-in. stems. After the first flash of spring bloom, there is a constant procession of flowers throughout the summer and early autumn. Looks very well planted along with the white variety, Moon Mist.

Highland Hybrids in Mixture Three $2.00, Doz. $7.25, 100 $42.50

A beautiful and very varied mixture, including unnamed hybrids of all possible shades. Especially noted for their fragrance and long bloom.

DIANTHUS LATIFOLIUS - Garden Pinks

Latifolius, Beatrix Each 95c, Three $2.70, Doz. $9.50

This everblooming cluster Pink is a very valuable plant for the garden, constantly in bloom from June until September. Its color is a lovely pure pink. A fine cut-flower variety.

Latifolius, Silver Mine Each 95c, Three $2.70, Doz. $9.50

Exactly the same habit of growth as Beatrix or Furst Bismarck but flowers are pure white, very free and constant from June until September. A No. 1 border plant and cut flower.

DIANTHUS BARBATUS - Sweet William

This charming old favorite has been in cultivation for some three centuries. Strictly speaking, it is a biennial, but on well-drained soils it is perennial in character. There are single and double forms of it, but the former are the hardier and more easily grown of the two.

Culture. Sweet Williams will succeed in good, ordinary rich soil in masses in the mixed, sunny border. Plant in autumn or early spring, 8 to 12 inches apart.

Mixed Shades Three $1.55, Doz. $5.50, 100 $32.50

Include all the various tints, which give a most pleasing and harmonious effect.

Dianthus, Old Spice

Dianthus Old Spice (U. S. Plant Patent No. 499)

A choice Hybrid, possessing, it seems, all the good qualities you can ask for in a plant.

First—It is as hardy as an Oak.

Second—Habit of growth is neat, cushion-like and compact. Stems are about 12 inches tall.

Third—It flowers prolifically over a long period, 20 or more flowers on a single plant.

Fourth—Color of the beautifully moulded flowers is rich salmon-pink like that of the popular greenhouse Carnation, Laddie.

Fifth—The calyx does not split as is the case with the old-fashioned Clove Pinks. All the flowers are perfectly formed.

Sixth—The flowers, when cut, last a long time.

Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00, 100 $65.00

ENGLISH COTTAGE CARNATIONS

Flower All Summer and Autumn

This is a new race of Hardy Carnations; many types and species were crossed and re-crossed in its development in England. Below zero temperatures do not bother them. The flowers grow on stout, 15-inch stems. Added to the unusual freedom of bloom is a rich Carnation fragrance not equalled by the greenhouse varieties, the flowers measure 2 to 2½ inches in diameter. They are grown in pots, making transplanting very easy. Both are exceptionally fine for cutting.

Cynthia Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

Pure shrimp-pink without variations in tone. The petals are waxy and entirely smooth at the edges, a beautiful Gardenia-like flower with spicy fragrance. The foliage of this variety remains perfect in the most severe winter weather.

Lucia Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

Deep rose-pink with salmon shadings, petals are sharply edged. The flowers are delightfully fragrant. This variety is a particularly free grower and bloomer, and is a favorite with us for cutting as well as for garden use.

Each 85c, Three $2.45, Doz. $8.75, 100 $52.50

These charming Pinks were first raised by the Huguenot weavers who were driven out of the "low countries" many years ago. These weavers went to Scotland and settled around Paisley where as a hobby they took to hybridizing Pinks. Eventually they bred the peculiar markings which have now become so popular in England. You will find them charming for cutting as well as garden display. You will love their rich clove-like spicy fragrance.

CARNATIONS - Hardy Border

Carnations are one of the most useful and popular flowers. Hardy Border Carnations have acquired, as a result of cross-breeding, the habit of perpetual-flowering.

Culture: Carnations will grow in ordinary good, light well drained soil. Should the soil be very light, add plenty of decayed cow manure. Plant in early fall or late spring. They should be placed 12 inches apart, protect lightly during the winter.

Mixed Shades

Three $2.00, Doz. $7.25

A riot of color and flowers in great abundance in June and July, are the result from just a few plants. Cut back all flower stems when through blooming.

Dianthus Latifolius, Beatrice (See page 40)

Allwood's Laced Pinks

DORONICUM - Leopardbane

Very showy yellow-flowered perennial. Their yellow, Daisy-like flowers are invaluable for cutting. As they flower chiefly in spring, they are indispensable in the border at that period of the year. They have bright green, heart-shaped leaves which disappear during July and August when the plant is dormant.

Culture. Thrive well in heavy soils and succeed in sunny or partially shaded borders. Best grown in groups of six or more. Plant in autumn or early spring, 6 to 8 inches apart.

Caucasicum magnificum

Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00

Height about 15 inches; stems topped by brilliant yellow flowers which are 2 inches or more in diameter. Excellent for cutting, a cheerful early flowering plant.

Madame Mason

Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00

Large, bright yellow flowers on 2-foot stems; one of the most sparkling early spring-flowering perennials. Effective in a hardy border in combination with Tulips. It is a splendid flower for cutting, as it carries well and lasts a long time in water.

WAYSIDE GARDENS

Hybrid Delphinium

This is one of the most permanent and at present the most popular strains of the garden Delphinium. It is distinct because of its broad, conical spike and enormous individual flowers, 1½ to 2 inches in diameter, in all shades of blue blended with mauve and violet. Also contains some fine clear white types. For permanent groups in the garden this mixture has no equal.

FUCHSIA

Culture. Ordinary good loam, well drained. They do not like heavy, wet clay soils. Do well in shady places where it is difficult to flower other plants. Magellanica is a hardy variety, wintering over outdoors if the plants are protected with straw during the winter.

Exoniensis Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00
This resembles Magellanica in color but it has much larger flowers and foliage. It is reported to be harder than Magellanica. It also is a more widely spreading plant, showing its flowers freely.

Magellanica Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00
This most interesting shrub came to us from the New York Botanical Garden, where it has proven entirely hardy. It is in bloom all summer long until stopped by frost. The ruby-red pendent flowers are produced by the hundreds, flowering just as freely in full sun as in light shade. A most interesting plant for the flower border or rock garden, blooming all summer. Like all Fuchsias, they are well adapted for shady locations. We advise protection anywhere north of Philadelphia.

Magellanica alba Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00
Has the same habit of growth as Magellanica but the pendent flowers are blush-white to light pink. A charming variety which also is somewhat hardier.

Magellanica Folia Variegata Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00
This is the variegated or marbled foliage form of Magellanica. The leaves are handsomely colored in shades of pink, bronze, and soft yellow. This foliage coloration is most attractive and very much increases the interest and usefulness of this hardy Fuchsia.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT As Well as for Your Flowers

What your plants need is a balanced organic food, not just a stimulant. They need one containing in right amounts, those things that make plenty of strong roots, produce sturdy stalks, thrifty foliage and an abundance of good sized blooms. That's exactly the kind of Plant Food we use at Wayside Gardens. Much of our success in growing such unfailingly fine plants is due to it. Turn to page 214 and get the full facts about it.

DICTAMNUS - Gas Plant or Fraxinella

An old-fashioned herbaceous perennial. Once firmly established, a plant will continue to thrive in the same spot for several generations. They have ash-like leaves which emit a delightfully fragrant odor, and the quaintly formed flowers are borne in upright racemes. The inflorescence is covered with glands secreting a resinous volatile matter, which may be ignited in the evening of hot days without any damage to the plants.

Culture: They require a deep, rich loamy soil and a sunny, well drained border. Not suitable for heavy, damp soils. Best grown singly, so as to display the handsome contour and beauty of the foliage. Once planted, avoid disturbing the roots. Plant in spring or fall, 10 to 12 inches apart.

Fraxinella Caucasicus Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00
A very showy border perennial, forming a bush about 2½ feet, having fragrant foliage and spikes of rosy pink flowers with deeper veins during June and July. It is not advisable to transplant often, as it improves with age—one of the most permanent features of the herbaceous border.

Alba Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00
The white-flowered variety of above, and much sought after as a long-lasting flower for cutting.

Dictamnus Fraxinella Caucasicus

Fuchsia Magellanica

ECHINOPS - Globe Thistle

Handsome perennials with pinnate or spiny foliage, woolly beneath, and globular, thistle-like flowers. A well grown plant has a pleasing effect in the border.

Culture. Ordinary soil in sun or light shade in border or wild garden. Plant in autumn or spring 10 to 12 inches apart.

Taplow Blue Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00
This variety is particularly desirable. The flower heads are larger and are intense metallic blue. It is very free flowering and does beautifully in difficult, dry soils. A clump of Taplow Blue makes a fine contrast growing alongside white Phlox. Plant in full sun. Hardy anywhere.

Echinops, Taplow Blue

Dicentra

Bleeding Heart

Old-fashioned perennials; also known under the name of Dielytra. The species named below have fleshy, brittle stems and finely cut, fern-like foliage.

Culture. Spectabilis should be grown in a partially shaded border. Eximia will do well in a similar position, or in the woodland garden, or in a shady nook of the rockery. Plant in fall or very early spring, 8 to 12 inches apart.

Eximia Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00
(Plumy Bleeding Heart.) A dwarf-growing sort, with beautiful, finely cut foliage and showy racemes of pretty pink flowers throughout the season. Too much cannot be said for this fine border plant as it is equally at home in full shade or sun and perfectly hardy anywhere.

New Dicentra Hybrids

The new varieties offered here are similar in growth and habit to the now so popular Bountiful. We have selected these three from many hundreds of likely seedlings. They have been tested and tried for five years at Wayside Gardens and we now recommend them unreservedly. They are happy in sun or light shade; do well on any ordinary garden soil. They are profuse bloomers with handsome foliage. Be sure and plant them in a location where water will not accumulate during the winter. They are hardy at 10 degrees below zero without protection.

Dicentra Hybrid, Silversmith (Plant Pat. No. 1596)
Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00

A compact, slowly spreading plant about 10 to 12 inches in diameter and about 8 inches tall. Deep blue-green foliage. The flower spikes are rigid and flowers grow well above the foliage. Color ivory-white to white. Flowers last a long time; plants are seldom out of bloom through summer or fall.

Dicentra Hybrid, Paramount (Plant Pat. No. 1594)
Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00

A strong growing plant with handsome bottle-green foliage and dozens of flower spikes throughout the entire summer and autumn. Slowly spreading, neat plants, height about 12 inches, width 12 to 18 inches. The color of the flowers is several shades darker than Bountiful, opening a lacquer-red slightly fading as they age. Prolific bloomer and handsome.

Dicentra Hybrid, Debutante (Plant Pat. No. 1595)
Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00

The light silvery green foliage forms a perfect background for the prolific amount of blush-pink flowers which are produced without let-up throughout the summer and autumn. Debutante is a strong growing and free-flowering variety. It does well in sun or light shade in ordinary garden soil. Leaves as well as flowers are good for cutting and last a long while in water.

The New Perpetual Flowering Bleeding Heart

FLOWERS FROM EARLY SPRING UNTIL LATE AUTUMN. HARDY AS AN OAK

This is a remarkable Hybrid, in a robust way resembling the Plumy Bleeding Heart (Dicentra Eximia) but vastly superior. It forms a clump fully 18 inches in diameter, of handsome dark blue-green foliage, about 10 inches high. The flowers appear in early May and as many as 30 to 40 flower stems can be counted on a 2-year established plant. Stalks are about 18 to 20 inches tall and topped with fuchsia-red flowers which are about double the size of the common Plumy Bleeding Heart. It comes into bloom before Dicentra Eximia and the flowers last well into July. Throughout the summer a few are produced; but in the early autumn, it blooms as freely again as it did in spring. Perfectly hardy, does well in any well drained soil and prefers sun to shade. As we said before, a remarkable plant with a great future, we predict it will, before long, be growing in most of the gardens in this country. Happy in either light shade or in full sun but if grown in shade the rich color fades and becomes several shades lighter.

Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00

Dicentra Spectabilis - Bleeding Heart

Here is an old-fashioned favorite. Early in spring its long racemes are covered with heart-shaped pink flowers combining beautifully with the spring flowering bulbs. The plants increase in size yet do not require frequent transplanting and respond thankfully to reasonable fertilizing and water when dry. Inasmuch as the foliage of the Bleeding Heart goes dormant early in the autumn, it is well to plant another plant close to it, and we especially recommend the hardy Anemone Vitifolia Robustissima for this purpose as it responds to the same care and treatment as the Bleeding Heart. We send big roots of the Bleeding Heart so you will have immediate effect.

Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00

Eupatorium Coelestinum, Wayside Variety

EUPATORIUM - Hemp Agrimony; Hardy Ageratum

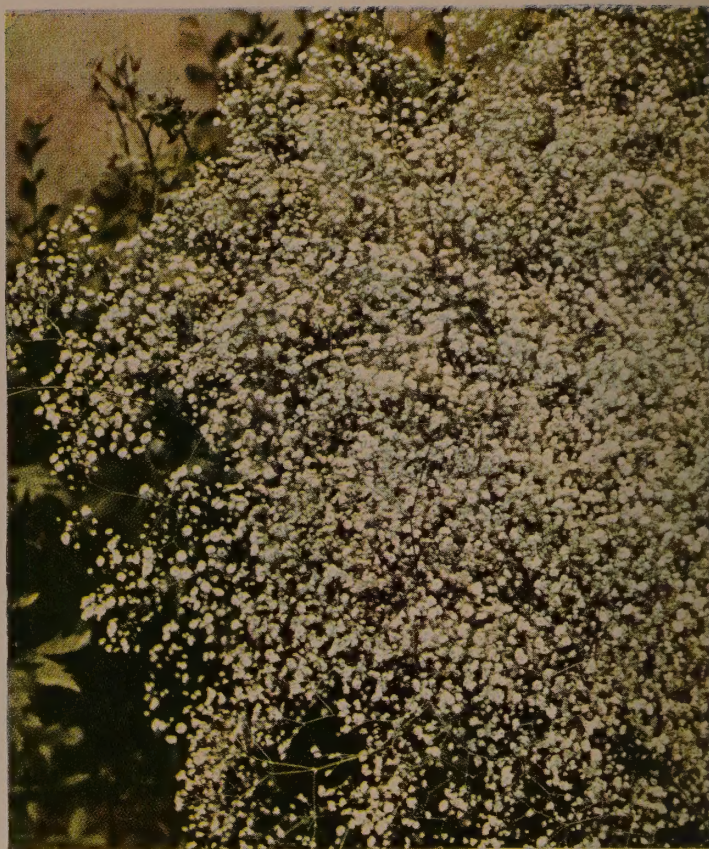

Hardy perennials of robust habit, and suitable for large, mixed borders or the wild garden. Flowers produced in terminal corymbs.

Culture. Ordinary soil and a half-shady position, or full sun. Plant in autumn or spring, 12 to 15 inches apart.

Coelestinum, Wayside Variety Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00

A pretty, hardy plant with light lavender flowers similar to the Ageratum; in flower from August until frost. 12 to 14 inches. Good cut flower lasting a week or more in water and of easy culture. Lovely in fall garden with yellow Chrysanthemums.

Oriental Closed Gentian Gentiana Makinoi

Gypsophila, Perfect (See page 52)

GENTIANA - Gentian

Beautiful perennials, many of which are admirably suited for border gardens. The taller and stronger growing species do well in grass, in colonies, or in a moist, partially shaded border. Gentians may, indeed, be regarded as the most beautiful of hardy perennials.

Culture. All should be grown in a rich, moist loam containing a fair amount of well-decayed manure. Best grown in masses as an edging to a partially shaded border or rock garden. It is advisable in all cases to mix peat freely with the soil before planting. See that the plants are well supplied with moisture in dry weather. Gentians do not like to have roots disturbed, so do not interfere with them once they are established. Plant in fall or spring, 6 to 8 inches apart.

Septemfida

Pendulous leafy stems 8 to 12 inches long topped with deep intense blue tube-like bell-shaped flowers about 1½ inches long. The shade of blue seems impossible to reproduce correctly but it is deep, almost navy blue, brilliant and intense. It is one of the easiest kinds to grow; it is perfectly hardy. Slowly spreading, requires no dividing and is best not to transplant it as this as well as all other Gentians resent being disturbed. For a low patch of vivid blue color in your garden in July and August, there is no equal. This is something to be proud of.

Each $2.00, Three $5.70, Doz. $20.00

Makinoi

The closed Gentian of the Orient is a stately plant about 18 to 24 inches tall. The rigid stems are topped with clusters of deep blue closed bell-like flowers. Three or six plants planted together make an unforgettable sight. A single plant established for 2 or 3 years will send up 6 or more spikes of bloom which last for a month or better flowering in August and September. It is easy to grow; requires no special attention. Insects do not bother it in the nursery and it is perfectly hardy at several degrees below zero. Worthy of all your trouble and care.

Each $2.00, Three $5.70, Doz. $20.00

Gentiana Septemfida

DIGITALIS - Foxglove

The stately Foxglove is a biennial and so, in fact, are the many beautiful strains of it with large, spotted flowers. There are, however, three perennial species of considerable beauty which are suitable for the mixed border. All are attractive plants for the shady border or the woodland garden.

Culture. Plants of the perennial species may be planted in autumn or spring, 6 to 8 inches apart, in well-drained, good garden soil. The biennial strains are best transplanted early in spring; if fall planting must be done, protect carefully for the winter. All the kinds described will succeed in ordinary soil in sun or in shade. They make a charming effect when grown in masses, and readily reproduce themselves from seed.

Giant Shirley Hybrids

Three $1.55, Doz. $5.50

The flower heads are over 3 feet long, crowded with big, bell-shaped blossoms. Colors range from white and shell-pink to deepest rose, many attractively dotted crimson or chocolate.

Dwarf perennials with handsomely marked and leathery leaves which assume a bronzy tint in autumn. Dainty little plants for colonizing on the margins of partially shaded borders and rock gardens. Foliage is classic in design and most useful for cutting.

Culture. Grow in peat and loam in partial shade. Plant in colonies of three or more in fall or spring, 6 inches apart. Do not remove old leaves, as they help to protect the plants in winter.

Macranthum Lilacinum

Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00, 100 $80.00

We have found this to be one of the best. Its handsome foliage is pleasant to look at from early spring until winter. It makes nice clumps, spreads well and does beautifully in shade under shrubs and trees as well as for edging along shady paths or walks. Early in spring the plants produce dozens of stalks with dainty lilac-blue flowers that are a joy to see. Hardy anywhere.

Niveum

Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00, 100 $80.00

A good strong grower producing numerous white flowers of great charm.

Pinnatum Elegans

Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00, 100 $80.00

One of the best; excellent foliage but discreetly bright yellow flowers with short spurs.

Rubrum

Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00, 100 $80.00

This variety produces the deepest color flowers of all. They are deep, rich ruby-red on wiry stems which, as they appear above the young bronzy foliage in spring, make a beautiful showing. It is a good grower and multiplies well. Gives excellent results in any shady location. Not particular as to soil and hardy anywhere.

It is a robust grower with stems about 2½ feet high. Blooms for a long time. Perfectly hardy. Makes a beautiful garden plant and is a splendid cut flower. We recommend that you plant one or more of each variety because the colors blend so subtly in the garden as well as cut.

3 New Erigerons—1 of each variety, $ 3.35
12 New Erigerons—4 of each variety, $12.00

DRACOCEPHALUM - Dragon's Head

They are Salvia or Sage-like plants, not unlike Physostegia. Flowers are borne in whorls on terminal spikes. Very good subjects for the border.

Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00

This is a particularly good form and probably the best of this family of plants. Spike of bloom is about 15 inches high, color of flowers blue. Not unlike a much improved Betonica Grandiflora. Any good garden soil in a cool situation will grow it to perfection.

Eryngium Amethystinum

ERYNGIUM - Sea-Holly

Handsome, hardy perennials with rigid, spiny leaves, and thistle-like flowers surrounded by spiny bracts. They are decidedly attractive plants for sunny borders. The flower heads, with their metallic blue or silvery bracts and stems, are beautiful subjects for cutting for indoor decoration.

Amethystinum Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

A beautiful plant which develops in a few years into a fine clump with striking foliage, flowers, and stems. It is particularly at home in dry sunny warm locations. The stems as well as the flower bracts are amethyst-blue while the leaves are gray-green with blue shadings. Absolutely hardy, requires no particular care or frequent transplanting; can be used as an edging to garden path with fine results assured.

Filipendula

FERNS - Hardy Varieties

The cultivation of Hardy Ferns is remarkably simple. All they want is a little light alluvial soil, and a little loam and peat or leaf mold sufficient to keep the soil light and open, plenty of moisture, position varying from partial to deep shade. The Aspleniums and many others will grow on walls, chinks of rocks, etc. Many will revel in full sunshine in any border.

Culture. A shady position is, of course, preferred, or a spot which gets practically no sun will be an ideal place for a fernery. If the position should be a very damp one, it will be advisable to raise the surface about 6 inches to a foot. For a good effect plant 8 to 10 inches apart.

Ferns for Shady Places

Adiantum pedatum Each 80c, Three $2.25, Doz. $8.00, 100 $50.00

The well known Maidenhair Fern, grows at its best on moist banks, stony and well shaded. It will thrive in any shaded location, even if dry, but will not be as tall as it will with plenty of moisture. Try it with Bleeding Heart under trees.

Aspidium acrostichoides

Each 80c, Three $2.25, Doz. $8.00, 100 $50.00

(Wood Fern.) (Polystichum). An evergreen species with deep green, divided fronds. Should be planted in a shady position. 12 inches.

The most beautiful of the evergreen wood ferns, and most useful, too. It is picked for florists use, but it is as useful in shade, especially if moist, for it will make a strong clump to 30 inches high. Beautifully divided pinnae give a lacy effect. Easily cultivated.

Asplenium filix-foemina

Each 80c, Three $2.25, Doz. $8.00, 100 $50.00

Osmunda cinnamomea Each 80c, Three $2.25, Doz. $8.00, 100 $50.00

In wet swampy land, the Cinnamon Fern will grow six feet tall. Yet it thrives in dry shade, and is tall enough. A luxuriant plant, very sturdy, and because of the root size, able to care for itself in competition.

Osmunda Claytoniana Each 80c, Three $2.25, Doz. $8.00, 100 $50.00

Clothed with loose wool when unfolding its fronds in spring, but soon becoming perfectly smooth. This Fern, two to three feet high, is found in rather dry, shaded places, and does quite well under cultivation and in boxes. Plant about two feet apart if several are needed.

Tall ostrich feather-like fronds, does well in shade or full sun but likes lots of moisture and rich soil.

Ornamental Grass, Erianthus Ravennae

GAILLARDIA - Blanket Flower

We consider the Gaillardia one of the most desirable hardy plants in cultivation. Everyone will have noticed how grandly Gaillardias have thriven through droughts; they seem hardly to need water. The gay blossoms are obtainable in perpetual profusion from June to November, and the greater the drought and scarcity of other flowers the more the utility of the perennal Gaillardia is demonstrated.

Culture: A rich, but light soil is essential to grow Gaillardias successfully. They cannot be depended upon to survive the winter on heavy, clay soils, but do splendidly on those of a light or medium character. Require a sunny position. Plant in fall or spring, 6 to 8 inches apart.

Giant English Hybrids Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00
In lovely shades of orange, yellow and red all summer and fall, flowers measuring 4 inches or more across. The finest mixture available.

GRASSES, Hardy Ornamental

There are several varieties of hardy grasses that are distinctly attractive plants for the flower garden. Many of them are of noble, and others of medium or low growth. All produce a striking effect when growing in isolated positions on the lawn, or add to the grace of the border by their elegant green or variegated foliage.

Culture. All will thrive in good, ordinary and well drained soil. Plant in early spring or fall, about 2 feet apart for the tall growing varieties; dwarf sorts about 12 inches apart. All should have a protective covering of dry straw placed around the base in autumn. In dry weather give plenty of water.

Erianthus Ravennae Each $2.00, Three $5.70, Doz. $20.00
(Blue Lime Grass or Pampas.) 10 to 12 feet high, frequently throwing up 30 to 50 flower spikes topped with silvery plumes.

GEUM - Avens

They belong among the number one hardy garden flowers. Neat in habit, non-crowding, excellent foliage effect when not in bloom. Such virtues along with their charming flowers all help to make them popular. In the foreground of the hardy border they look their best. Princess Juliana, recently introduced, is excellent and the hardiest. The Geums are noted for their fine foliage and good habit when not in bloom.

Culture: All succeed in good, ordinary soil in sunny borders. They, however, require plenty of moisture in summer. Best grown in groups. Plant in autumn or spring, 6 to 8 inches apart.

Princess Juliana Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00

GUNNERA

Manicata Each $15.00
A gigantic perennial and where space can be found there is no other plant to equal it in its colossal dimensions. The leaves attain from 10 to 12 feet in height and 3 to 4 feet across. It is fond of shade and moisture, is reasonably hardy with protection, and a superb subject for locations where it does not get too cold. Protect it with leaves or straw in winter; best kept south of Washington or grow in large tubs near water or pool and bring inside during the winter. A superbly noble plant from Brazil.

Geranium Grandiflorum

HELLEBORUS - Christmas Rose or Lenten Rose

There are two distinct types, one Christmas Rose, flowering in late winter, and the other, Lenten Rose, in spring. Both are valuable for garden decoration because of their flowering during the dull period of the year as well as their handsome foliage which is green the year around.

Culture. Require to be grown in a cool, moist, shady position, such as under the shade of trees or among ferns. The ideal soil is a retentive loam, freely mixed with leaf mold and well rotted manure. As Helleborus are impatient of disturbance at the roots it is advisable to select a position for them where they will not be required to be disturbed for many years. Planting may be done in fall or spring, 12 inches apart. Each autumn add a top dressing of leaf mold and well rotted manure, and let it lie on the surface. In summer give plenty of water.

Foetidas Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00

An interesting and ornamental plant about 18 to 24 inches tall. Dark shining leaves quite leathery and evergreen where not too cold. Does especially well in shade. An upright stem bearing huge panicles of green flowers add to its distinguished appearance. Starts blooming very early in spring; flowers very effective in arrangements. This variety is easily grown and very ornamental.

Niger (Strong plants) Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00

Helleborus Niger is a dwarf growing hardy plant able to withstand temperatures many degrees below zero. Its palm-like leaves are evergreen and of leathery substance. In December, January and February, depending upon locality, large, single, white bell-like flowers fading a month later to a dusky pink which last for weeks, are produced regardless of cold or snow.

Hosta Japonica, Blue

HELLEBORUS

Orientalis Atrorubens

Each $2.00, Three $5.70, Doz. $20.00

This is the purple Lenten Rose. Its growth and requirements are practically the same as those of the Helleborus Niger. It is, however, easier to transplant and better adapted to warm weather. The flowers are amazingly interesting, being chocolate-purple tinted on the outside while inside they are greenish, shot with purple. Foliage is evergreen and palm-like. The unusual coloring and shape of the flowers make them a choice subject for a corsage or cut flower, lasting a long time. Quite rare and unusual!

Shady spots in the garden are often unsightly but this condition is easily corrected with the use of Hosta or Funkia. Their handsome and tropical-like foliage is most decorative and full of character. A few plants of several varieties, or two or three plants of one kind, will transform an uninteresting spot into one of beauty. All are perfect for this purpose. They require no care, are hardy, but love moisture and rich feeding for finest results.

Great Plants for Shade

In Every Instance We Furnish Husky Plants for Immediate Effect

Hostas were known for a long while as Funkias. Names may change but the merit and artistic beauty of these plants does not. Here is a group of plants which may be grown on almost any soil in any location, it just does not seem possible to misplace them. They always look comfortable and natural wherever they are positioned. Their various colors and forms of foliage can be used with most flower arrangements with every confidence of success.

Culture. Hostas will grow most anywhere but come to perfection if given a reasonable amount of fertilizer and water when the ground is dry. Those with blue-green leaves should be grown in full sun to obtain the best coloring of foliage. Minor alba prefers a shaded location. Those with variegated leaves appear best in light shade but do well in full sun. Thomas Hogg, which is quite rare, is a particularly handsome plant. Ordinary garden soil will do, plant in fall or spring. Most effective groups are created by planting 3 of a kind in a triangle 6 inches apart. The plants will outlive you with reasonable care; do not require transplanting or spray.

Albo Marginata Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00

A picturesque plant with handsome big leaves edged with a broad band of white. It grows into a fine ornamental clump and is always showy; does well in sun or shade, hardy anywhere, and not particular about soil. Lavender flowers in September.

Coerulea lanceolata Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00, 100 $60.00

Broad green leaves; blue flowers from July to August.

Glauca (Sieboldiana) Each $2.00, Three $5.70, Doz. $20.00

A very fine species with large blue-gray leaves. It develops into a stately, handsome foliage plant for the open border and is superb in shady places. May also be used in the rock garden. In order to have the blue-green leaves plants must be grown in full sun and should not be fertilized and given much water. A hot dry place brings out the true coloring.

Japonica Blue Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00

This fine Hosta came to us from the Montreal Botanic Gardens. It is a rugged plant with ample foliage and it blooms heavily with many lilac-blue flowers. It is exceptionally hardy and takes heat, cold, and drought in its stride. Quickly develops into a bold ornamental group.

June Beauty Each $2.00, Three $5.70, Doz. $20.00

This hybrid Hosta was developed in our nursery. It is a handsome bold plant 24 inches tall with a dozen or more spikes about 30 inches tall. Blooms in June before any other Hosta. Flowers are white with a slight lavender cast above large cordate leaves. It is best grown in shade as its handsome big leaves might sunburn when exposed to a bright hot sun. A very ornamental plant. Requires no care except reasonable watering during dry weather so as to help it retain its exotic beauty.

Minor alba Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00

Minor alba is a small, compact growing variety with narrow pointed leaves forming neat, medium size plants. It is a prolific bloomer with a dozen or more spikes of white flowers about 12 in. tall. It is best grown in light shade in clumps of 3 or more and is perfect for a narrow edging to a walk in shade where it would be difficult to grow other flowers. Minor alba is quite rare and not found in many gardens. It is a choice, uncommon plant.

Subcordata grandiflora Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00

Very large, pure white, Lily-shaped fragrant flowers in August and September. One of the best and used very extensively as a ground cover for Lily beds. The foliage provides protection to the bulbs, and the flowers because of their Lily-like appearance blend in well with the taller growing Lilies. It is one of the latest varieties to bloom and a fine subject for shady places.

Thomas Hogg Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00

A rare plant with handsome foliage; blooms early autumn. A choice variety probably the most desirable of all the variegated leaf kinds. It does well in shade or sun and loves moisture. Its rich, large, green leaves have a narrow, clear silver edging which remains clean and clear throughout the season. In early autumn dozens of rigid spikes with lavender flowers greatly enhance its beauty. It is hardy anywhere and does not require frequent transplanting. It does not multiply too rapidly but always remains a neat looking plant. One of the best of the Hostas, if not the best. Particularly fine for edging as is shown in the illustration on page 54.

Variegata (undulata media picta)

Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00, 100 $80.00

Wavy leaves handsomely variegated with silvery white, often 12 to 18 inches long, in a tight cluster, create a very fine plant. The leaves are most useful for cutting and blend handsomely with other flowers. This variety is easily grown, is fine for edging or clumps and does especially well in shade. Its flower spikes are about 18 inches high with clusters of lilac, bell-shaped flowers. Plants may be dug in late fall and grown in a shady window where the variegated leaves make a fine show. Increases rapidly and is hardy anywhere.

For special interest in shady places we offer a collection of 1 each of the above listed Hostas for $11.00. (1 each of 9 varieties).

HELIOS, named for the Sun God, that ancient deity who dwelt within the very sun itself, riding the heavens from dawn to dusk, is quite unlike the former mahogany, maroon and other so called "red" Day Lilies. Of a true flame-red; its blazing flowers, with golden rays at the base of the petals, have all the brilliance of the setting sun on an August evening.

Luxuriant and ornamental foliage enhances the quantities of burning blooms up to 5 inches in diameter, freely borne on strong, upstanding stalks, with dozens of stalks on established plants. Here is a wonderful fool-proof plant which never fails to provide a splash of brilliant color.

Hemerocallis Apollo

(Plant Patent No. 1670)

The Finest Apricot Hemerocallis

APOLLO, namesake of the Greek God of light, beauty and youth, who held an unrivaled place in the hearts of his ancient worshippers, bears masses of scintillating, iridescent apricot-yellow, out-facing flowers. In form and texture they are quite distinct and even more graceful than its parent, Hyperion. Throat of flower deep apricot-yellow lessening in depth of color as it reaches the edges of the petals. Rather narrow, graceful foliage sets off the delicately brilliant flowers which are borne on slender stems, 30 inches tall. It is noted for its freedom of bloom, requires no care and is happy anywhere. Here is the perfect plant for those who love unusual and delicate yet bright colors. One of its outstanding qualities is the "carrying power" of its color. It is so forceful it is spotted at once. In addition it multiplies quite rapidly.

They need one containing in right amounts those things that make plenty of strong roots, produce sturdy stalks, thrifty foliage and an abundance of good sized blooms. That's exactly the kind of Plant Food we use at Wayside. Much of our success in growing such unfailingly fine plants is due to it. Turn to page 214 and get the full facts about it.

HOLLYHOCK - Althea Rosea

Handsome garden flowers full of sentiment and association with the past. Extensively grown not only in this country, but throughout the world; were originally derived from Althea rosea, a Chinese species. When well grown, there are no finer hardy plants in the garden than a good group of them in full flower.

Culture. Hollyhocks require a rich, generous, well-drained soil. The plants must have full sun, and they show to the best advantage when grouped together in bold masses. As the plants grow 6 to 8 feet high, they must, of course, be grown at the back of the border, and should be fully 18 inches apart. Plant in fall or spring.

POMPADOUR HOLLYHOCKS IN MIXTURE

Tall, stately spikes of bloom. The tops are solidly covered with big, ruffled, fully double, ball-like flowers in a beautiful artistic range of colors and shades of pink, rose, yellow, copper, red, scarlet, violet, purple, maroon, etc. Here is a selection of colors rarely seen in hardy flowers.

Iris Spuria

Finest Iris for cut flowers. These are so different from all other Beardless Species and Hybrids as to deserve a separate sub-division. The flowers are quite unlike all other Irises, and are very artistic, making exquisite cut flowers for which purpose they are used extensively by florists. They are hardy anywhere. While not indispensable to their success, they prefer a moist spot and make a most imposing effect in the garden.

German Iris (Iris Germanica)

BLUE RIBBON VARIETIES

A truly wonderful collection of lovely new Bearded Iris has been developed at WAYSIDE GARDENS in recent years. These new varieties were created by American and European hybridizers. Genuine progress and lasting improvements have been made in the new varieties of Iris which we offer you now; in fact, so great has been their improvement that Iris which were considered without an equal a few years ago have now been relegated to a secondary position.

Startling new colors and combinations of colors, heretofore unknown in any other Iris, are to be found in the new Bearded Iris.

Of the hundreds of varieties offered to us by ardent hybridizers and enthusiastic specialists, those listed below and on the following pages were selected by us, as well as a committee of experts on Bearded Iris. These successfully passed the rigorous WAYSIDE GARDENS test of the "survival of the fittest." During the past few years we have grown goodly numbers of these new hybrids and they are a sight to behold when they are in bloom.

Make room for some of these lovely new Iris in your garden. You will be enthralled with their dazzling beauty.

Arab Chief

Each 75c, Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50

An Iris of rich and brilliant coloring—very near to burnt orange in effect, of very intense color value. It is of large size, pleasing form and has exceptionally vigorous growing and blooming habits. It has become a favorite simply because it is so good and lively. Arab Chief will be with us a long time no matter what new varieties.

Argus Pheasant

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

A smooth soft brown self which has become justly famous in the short space of 3 seasons only. It thrilled visitors at American Iris Society conventions in both Nashville and Portland, and ranks with Pretty Quadroon as the 2 finest and most beautiful light brown Irises of the day. Huge flowers with broad flaring falls and wide standards; orange-brown beard. 38 inches tall.

Bellerive

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

A heavily textured well formed deeply ruffled cream tinted flower. It was awarded the President's cup at The American Iris Society Convention in 1952. It grows vigorously and produces huge blossoms on stalks often 40 inches high; was also crowned with the Highly Commended and Honorable Mention Awards of The American Iris Society.

Blue Rhythm

Each 75c, Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50

Very large flowers of Cornflower-blue softened by a silvery overtone. The large standards are arched and domed, the broad falls are semi-flaring with smoothly colored hafts. Grows from 3 to 4 feet in height, perfectly branched. A very fine blue Iris of recent introduction which we predict will go a long way.

Cascade Splendor

Each 75c, Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50

Very large, ruffled flowers of a pink, tan and apricot blend with orange beard and yellow style arms. The ruffling is more pronounced than in any variety we have ever offered and is most unusual in so large an Iris. Late blooming. Well substantiated flowers are broad and full, produced on extra heavy stalks 40 inches tall, bearing up to ten flowers. Good branching habit. Too much cannot be said in praise of this lovely Iris.

Chantilly

Each 75c, Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50

A ruffled orchid-pink. The edges of both standards and falls are so heavily ruffled and frilled that they have the appearance of being the same line of breeding as the famous Flamingo Pinks. 36-inch stems, strong and well branched. Makes a very handsome display in the garden and looks well alongside the variety, Blue Rhythm.

China Maid

Each 75c, Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50

It is difficult to convey an adequate impression of the beauty of the flower. It is a soft pink, enhanced by an intriguing blending of golden bronzy buff and soft lilac at the edges of the petals. It is of rare charm and one of the handsomest of pink Irises. The flowers are large, well proportioned, of smooth and even texture, and grow profusely on tall, graceful stems. Planted among soft yellow and pale blue Iris it makes a picture not soon forgotten. The best new pink at a reasonable price.

Chivalry

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

One of the outstanding Iris in the medium blue range. Large blooms of excellent form and proportion, quite ruffled. Sturdy growing. It draws the eye by its beauty in style, color and form. One of the most popular varieties.

Elmohr

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

Dr. Loomis of Colorado originated this magnificent masterpiece, which the American Iris Society referred to as a sensation. Its immense, beautifully rounded flowers are colored somewhat between Bishop's purple and mulberry-purple. Both flower and color are highly praised by the keenest of Iris judges. It is robust, free blooming, hardy, thrives anywhere; foliage lush, blooms immense. What more could be asked? Flowers of exceptionally large size, larger than those of any other variety and greatly contribute to the distinction of this wonderful variety.

Extravaganza

Each 75c, Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50

A very beautiful amoena with almost white standards shading to cream at the base. The falls are deep red-violet with a blue haze. Late flowering.

Fantasy

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

Charmingly distinctive, this lovely rose and orchid-pink Iris with its brilliant tangerine beard always attracts attention. The flowers are exquisitely formed with just a touch of ruffling and the deep purple buds provide a striking contrast to the rose-orchid blossoms which have a touch of purplish raspberry about them.

Golden Majesty

Each 75c, Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50

Clusters of bold, gleaming deep gold unfading flowers, on 3-foot stems, place Golden Majesty among the top quality of yellow Iris. The color is rich and clear and stands out handsomely among other flowers. While not one of the newest of Iris it has not been beaten; each spring its golden masses of flowers defy competition. In our opinion it reigns supreme among the yellow Iris.

Great Lakes

Each 75c, Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50

The purest of the blue Iris. Winner of the Dykes Medal. No other blue Iris can match it for color, hardiness and freedom of bloom. The flowers are of superb substance with a pronounced flare, crispy petal texture and are strikingly fine. Rugged and hardy, exceedingly free blooming, we repeat it is unquestionably the finest of all blue Iris. Yearly, we receive reports from customers how fine it is and that they rank it as one of the finest Iris in their collection. We recommend it without hesitation.

Gudrun

Each 75c, Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50

Winner of the Dykes Memorial Medal by the English Iris Society. A top notch white Iris among so many fine new white ones and by many judges considered the finest of all. It is a massive flower of purest snow-white, undoubtedly the largest and most massive. It is one of the most popular of white varieties. We consider it outstanding and one of the finest.

Helen Louise

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

Here is a new pink with depth of color and a deep red-tangerine beard. The shade is deep salmon with splendid carrying qualities. Good sized blooms with fine form, broad falls and heavy substance. Nice low branching. Good growing habits and free flowering. A wonderful new pink variety.

Helen McGregor

Each 75c, Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50

Clear, pale blue, pure and uniform in color, the sensation of the Iris world the year of its introduction and worthy of all the honors which have been awarded this variety which will be a treasured Iris always. Of perfect form, flaring and daintily ruffled, very large, beautifully spaced on nice stems, it ranks supreme as a light blue.

Indiana Night

Each 75c, Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50

Lustrous deepest, rich velvety purple, almost black. The finest and most satisfying dark Iris of a long series of seedlings from the famous Sable. 38-inch stems, well-branched with every good quality desired in an Iris. Midseason bloomer and long lasting.

Jane Phillips

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

A new light blue that is deeper in color than Helen McGregor. We have seen no Iris which appears near true blue, and for that reason, other experts as well as ourselves consider it an outstanding new variety. It blooms freely, has good stems, and brilliantly proportioned flowers. A hardy, good grower which will be in great demand for many years to come.

Masked Ball

Each 75c, Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50

The only Iris we list whose standards are deeper colored than the falls. The heavily patterned standards are a deep blue-purple, the falls practically white with a small border of the coloring of the standards. A most unusual novelty.

Ola Kala

Each 75c, Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50

Here is a deep yellow Iris that perhaps outdoes all others for depth of color and in addition its petals are heavily ruffled. Medium large flowers on nicely branched, 36-inch stalks. So yellow it is almost on the orange side. Considered one of the finest new Iris.

Orelia

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

Deep crimson-brown, more red than brown. A handsome, bright flaring flower. The gold lines at the haft reflect a glow in the center of the flower. Many dark and mahogany colored Iris are apt to be dull. Not so with Orelia, it is bright and shiny and has a lively feeling about it. One of the best in this shade.

Paradise Pink

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

A self-color of clear, clean pink with no haft markings and a pleasing reddish tangerine beard. Beautifully formed, slightly ruffled flowers with heavy substance, a quality lacking in so many Iris. Five-inch blooms with arching standards and slightly flaring falls. Splendid branching, vigorous and free-flowering. A pink of real value and resistant to sun, wind, rain. Late flowering. 32 inches.

Patrice

Each 75c, Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50

A plicata with semi-flaring falls of clean sparkling white brushed with bright gold across the haft and speckled rose-brown. The standards are cream, flushed rosy lavender. A remarkably fine and distinct Iris which never fails to please. It is exceedingly free flowering and creates a gorgeous as well as distinct effect at blooming time. Good grower and a tip-top variety. Midseason. 40 inches tall.

Pink Cameo

Each 75c, Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50

A lovely translucent cameo-pink, of good substance and excellent branching habit. The flowers are slightly flaring and a startling tangerine-orange beard adds a striking contrast note against the delightful pink background of the flower. Grows about 3 feet tall and is a very prolific bloomer.

Prairie Sunset Each 75c, Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50

All that has been said about this gorgeous creation is true, but it simply has to be seen to be realized. The blendings of peach, apricot, rose, copper and gold are so well done that one is at a loss to describe it in a manner that might be conceived in the mind of the listener. A fine big flower, and the color will absolutely stun you when first you see it, and every time you see it! Dykes Medal, 1943.

Ranger Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

Very dark crimson-red. The standards are closed and are long and cone-shaped while the wide falls are like smooth rich velvet. Most unusual and showy. A late bloomer.

Russet Wings Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

A smooth blend of gold, copper and apricot melting into a true russet self. Wide standards, perfectly domed, and flaring falls which ruffle at the edges make this a lovely Iris. The color is hard to describe and leaves one with the feeling of apricot and lavender mixed. A beautiful shade which blends perfectly with light blue.

Sable Each 75c, Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50

Almost black; a uniform shade of deepest blue-black-violet, with blue beard. Sable has every attribute that a fine Iris should possess; large size, reasonably tall stalks, thick substance and a wonderfully lustrous sheen. Everybody wants Sable.

Solid Mahogany Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

This grand new red is one of the finest dark Irises of recent years. Beautifully formed, the color is aptly described by the name. No haft venation and a deep bronze-gold beard accents the richness of the plush-like falls. Height 3 feet.

Springtime Madonna Each 75c, Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50

A symphony of cream and gold. Standards very pale creamy yellow with a bright gold edging. The falls are beautifully ruffled and frilled and pale yellow which turns to bright gold at the hafts giving the flower the appearance of a spotlight having been turned on the haft section. The contrast between the delicate coloring of the standards and the falls and this bright center section is indeed most attractive. Fragrant.

Tournament Queen Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

A bright fuchsia-toned flower, flaring and of fine texture and lustre. The petals are serrated and are flexed enough so that portions of them are always highlighted. The beard styles are chartreuse with a fuchsia ridge down the middle. Very fragrant; early flowering; hardy everywhere.

Violet Harmony Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

This shapely bloom is one of the classics of Irisdom. The lovely shade of violet with deft touch of lighter tone in the center of each petal gives a positive Orchid-like effect. To behold a stem with three nicely spaced florets open at one time, you will understand why it was the proud winner of the President's Cup in 1953.

Winter Carnival Each 75c, Three $2.15, Doz. $7.50

A fine hardy white, bred in Minnesota. Widely flaring falls, snow-white in color. The throat heavily tinted gold. Branching is excellent and the stout stems hold the big blooms aloft. Surely one of our best whites.

Iris Kaempferi - JAPANESE IRIS

The ancient poets called their Iris. Ground Rainbows; also Children of the Gods. A promise from them that beauty on earth would ever be. The finest of all their varieties is the Kaempferi which we offer you in a wide choice of colors. Not the least of their fine points is the graceful foliage. A thing of beauty after the blooms are past.

Planted in a mass, or as a border, they are ideal. A few edging a reflecting pool or stream, is something to remember. No matter how fine your Iris collection may be, not to have these is to deprive yourself of something that will make it complete.

Culture: Late plantings should be protected by a light covering of straw or leaves after the ground is permanently frozen to prevent roots from being heaved out of the ground by frost. Plant in spring or September and October. Avoid all lime.

Blue Bird Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

Single, low growing, rich blue. Violet-blue standards accentuated by bright yellow center. One of the best.

Caesar's Brother Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

A stately plant not too tall, 30 inches high. It is the best of the entire lot of dark blue Siberian Iris and was given Honorable Mention by the American Iris Society. The flowers are an unusually rich black-pansy-violet of a beautiful depth of color. A superb plant for any flower garden.

Iris Pumila

Autumn Flowering—Flowering in Spring as Well

These autumn-flowering Irises have two or more normal flowering seasons each year. They blossom in spring with other early flowering varieties and again in autumn, beginning in September and continuing until killed by heavy frosts. Some of them also flower intermittently throughout the year.

Autumn Queen Each 85c, Three $2.45, Doz. $8.75

This is a reliable spring and fall bloomer. A pure snow-white. It belongs in almost the same class as Jean Siret and Lieut. Chavagnac so far as size and height are concerned, but is a little larger and a little taller.

Jean Siret Each 85c, Three $2.45, Doz. $8.75

This variety and Lieut. Chavagnac are the most persistent bloomers of the Iris family. They begin to flower quite early in the spring with the earliest miniatures and have a long spring-flowering season. They also have an equally long autumn-flowering season. Clear chrome-yellow.

Iris Kaempferi Japanese Iris

In a Rainbow Mixture of Delightful Colors and Shades

Few plants are as easily grown or provide as beautiful a display of flowers early in summer. Both form of flower as well as the subtle coloring is charming, while the foliage is always graceful and ornamental. The mixture offered here is grown from special seed imported from Japan. It contains a wide range of colors in both single and double flowers. It was gathered from one of the finest collections in that country. If varieties do not particularly matter, we suggest you make a planting of this mixture.

Japanese Iris, Delft Blue

This is the finest of all Japanese Iris. The magnificent delft-blue flowers, veined a slightly darker shade, are of unusually heavy texture as well as beautifully waved. In the center of the flower occurs a tuft of short, curly and thick dark blue petals, made more pronounced by the golden star-like heart. It is a very free flowering variety and not too rank a grower. The flowers are of unusual substance, one can crush the flower petals and they will spring back into shape. The last of the Japanese to bloom. Here is a choice garden plant.

Super Giant Hibiscus

NEW SUPER GIANT HIBISCUS

Blooms 10 to 12 inches in diameter.

When, many years ago, the Giant Hibiscus were introduced, they created quite a lot of comment. The New Super Giants in many instances produce flowers which are 50% bigger or even more. A well grown plant with its immense flowers is quite a sight to behold.

The varieties offered were all produced from selected plants noted for their size and freedom of bloom. Increase from divisions is slow but the results justify the extra effort. Give these plants ample room and grow them in full sunlight, watering freely.

Culture. A rich, moist, well drained soil suits them best. Best planted as single specimens in full sun in the border, or in groups of three or more on the lawn. Plant in fall or spring, 25 inches apart.

Clown

Each $2.25, Three $6.45, Doz. $22.50

As the name implies, this is a gay and happy fellow! White at base of petals; flushed and softly veined fuchsia-pink. A deep crimson "dot" at center adds to its charm. You will want at least one Clown to add gaiety to your garden!

Crimson Wonder

Each $2.25, Three $6.45, Doz. $22.50

Lovely shade, American-Beauty-red; blooms deeply cupped as they first open. Edges of petals gently ruffled.

Fresno

Each $2.25, Three $6.45, Doz. $22.50

A lovely silvery pink, deepening to bright rose-pink at outer edges of petals. Bright cherry-red center. Petals are gently ridged and softly ruffled at tips. A most handsome flower and one of the most prolific.

Pink Giant

Each $3.00

Mammoth pale pink flowers 6 to 8 inches across with small red eye, on a plant never over 3½ feet high. The short rigid stems are well placed permitting the giant flowers to show themselves unobstructed.

Satan

Each $2.25, Three $6.45, Doz. $22.50

Here is the dusky member of the family; a deep velvety crimson, so unusual that it is not to be found in standard color charts. Nicely formed open flowers.

Snow White

Each $3.00

Magnificent pure white flowers with a faint suggestion of light cream halo in the center. The plant is somewhat of open habit, not over 3½ feet high, which permits a perfect showing of its lovely blooms; hardy, free, and easily grown. A number one plant for the sunny border; loves a moist location.

The Bomb

Each $3.00

A fine late blooming variety which grows about 7 to 8 feet tall, a real giant. Flowers are 6 inches across, of unusual bronzy crimson with a bright red center veining outward in fan-shaped fashion to tips of petals.

The Beanstalk

Each $3.00

A tall pink plant up to 7 feet high, foliage is deeply incised and has a bronzy cast. Tremendous amount of deep pink flowers with small red eye. A fine subject for background planting.

Super Giant Hibiscus in Mixture

Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00

These magnificent hybrids contain a wide variation of colors and forms. They are superb.

Iberis, Purity

Iberis Candytuft

Although these plants are perhaps more generally grown in the rockery, they are equally appropriate subjects for the margins of herbaceous borders or as an edging to garden walks. When in flower in spring and covered with a mass of snow-white blossoms, they add considerably to the attractions of the garden. They are of shrubby growth, with dark green, evergreen foliage.

Culture. Grow in good, ordinary soil. Plant in fall or spring, 6 inches apart. When plants become straggly, trim them directly after flowering.

Purity Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00, 100 $65.00

A neat, evergreen, compact and low-growing plant with immense pure white flowers which cover the plant entirely when it is in bloom. This new variety is in our opinion the best of the dwarf Iberis. Its neat, compact habit and rich deep evergreen foliage make it an A No. 1 edging plant for flower beds or along walks. Its uniform habit creates a very neatly finished little edging.

Sempervirens Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00, 100 $55.00

Covered with a sheet of white flowers in spring, completely covering its rich dark green foliage; a particularly fine plant for the border. Does well in light shade and therefore excellent as a ground cover in front of shrubs. May be used for edging to beds or walks. Purity and Autumn Snow however, are more formal and upright for these purposes.

Autumn Snow (Blooms twice a year)

Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

After long and careful selecting, we have finally obtained an autumn flowering Iberis. Its first blooming occurs in the spring while the second crop of flowers appears in late September lasting well into October depending on the season. Plants grow compact and have dark green leaves; height about 7 inches and spread about 12 inches. Flowers are pure white and freely produced. A fine plant for edging, or clumps of 3 or more in the foreground of the shrub border.

Lily-of-the-Valley (Convallaria Majalis)

We are happy to be able to offer you again our fine strain of Lily-of-the-Valley. This bold, strong form is especially well adapted for garden planting. If reasonably taken care of, a bed of them will produce beautiful long-stemmed flowers in abundance for as long as you live.

But you must not be thoughtless about them. Their culture is so simple. True, they will grow anywhere, under almost any conditions—sun or shade, wet or dry, but truly spectacular results are obtained if, during each winter (December preferred), you will cover your Valley bed with a heavy coating of manure or apply a heavy dose of Wayside Gardens Plant Food. The response to heavy organic fertilizing is remarkable. These pips are in units of 25 per bunch and we prefer to sell them that way but will gladly break these bunches if you only want a dozen.

We recommend the Lily-of-the-Valley for ground covering, particularly in shady places.

The best of the Hybrid Lavenders

LITHOSPERMUM - Gromwell

Low growing hardy perennials, some shrub-like and evergreen, splendid for the rock garden in sheltered location, especially suited for southern gardens.

Culture. Any rich, well drained garden soil, fairly free from lime, in sunny position in the rock garden or as an informal edging. Plant in spring only, 10 to 12 inches apart. Clip or prune immediately after flowering. Fall transplanting at your risk.

Prostratum, Heavenly Blue

This lovely, low-growing sub-shrub or woody perennial should be in every sheltered rock garden. During July and August the spot in which it is planted will be transformed into the most gorgeous blue ever seen in the rockery. It is prostrate, giving much the same effect as a clump of Daphne.

Dwarf Liatris, Silver Tips

LIATRIS - Blazing Star or Gayfeather

Showy plants, native of North America. They have grassy, linear leaves produced in a thick, tufty mass, out of which arise the stems furnished with spikes of purple flowers.

Culture. They will all thrive in ordinary garden soil, in sun or in shade, and are grown in groups of three or more. Plant in autumn or early spring. May be grown by the waterside, and bees are very partial to the flowers.

Scariosa, September Glory Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

A giant 6-foot spike solidly covered with purple flowers from top to bottom. The flowers, unlike the common variety, come into bloom all at the same time, creating a marvelous effect. A splendid improvement over the old variety. Late flowering. September.

Scariosa, White Spire Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

A magnificent pure white Gayfeather. Just as tall as the September Glory from which this variety is a sport. Superb for a bold effect in the garden as well as a stunning flower for cutting.

Spicata, Silver Tips Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

A strong growing plant which sends up several rigid spikes of bloom, the color of which is lavender with a strong and decided silvery sheen, hence its name "Silver Tips." It is a very showy variety for the garden and much prized as a cut flower. Like all other Gayfeathers it is free from bugs, requires no care and increases in size each year. It is a fine, fool-proof plant, growing only half as tall as September Glory.

Muehlenbeckia Complexa
(See page 70)

Lupinus - Lupine

Stately, colorful and beautiful perennials. The pea-shaped flowers are closely spaced on three- to four-foot spikes. The effect made by these colorful spires places the Lupines in the front rank of hardy border plants.

Culture. Growing Lupines well is not as much a problem of soil as it is one of atmospheric conditions. They require ample moisture, full sun and do not like the hot drying winds of summer. They do equally well in heavy or light sandy soils. Water freely when ground is dry. They look best planted in bold groups. Plant in fall or early spring, ten inches apart. Whenever possible, do planting and transplanting in fall.

Polyphyllus, Blue Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00
(Hardy Lupine). Clear blue spikes, 3 to 4 feet high, during June.

Polyphyllus albus Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00

oyal Hybrid Lupine

Lavandula - Lavender

An old-fashioned, fragrant, shrubby perennial, which has been grown for centuries in almost every garden. It has hoary leaves and bears its lavender-colored flowers on erect spikes in July and August. There are several varieties of it; the best for this country are named below. Its fragrant flowers are highly valued for drying and for use in nosegays or potpourri, as well as in linen drawers. The entire plant is aromatic not only when the flowers or leaves are bruised but on a summer day distills its spicy fragrance into the warm air.

Culture. Prefers a dry, medium soil and a warm position. The best time to plant is in spring; fall planting is all right if plants can be protected. Cut back moderately in March or April for neat appearance.

Gray Lady

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

Somewhat lighter in color than Hidcote. It produces from three to five hundred flower spikes when well established. After flowering and throughout the rest of the year its handsome and fragrant silvery gray foliage is a pleasure to behold. It is one of the nicest plants recently produced at Wayside Gardens. We suggest its use for edging around Rose beds or along walks. In a dry warm sunny spot it will do well and develop into a fine specimen.

Hidcote

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00, 100 $60.00

This is the deepest purple-blue of all lavenders. It grows dwarf and compact and has highly fragrant silver-gray foliage as well as richly scented flowers. An altogether desirable plant. Height about 1 foot; never spreads over 18 inches which makes it a wonderful thing for small low hedges as well as being a choice plant for the border. Perfectly hardy.

Lobelia Cardinalis

LOBELIA - Indian Paintbrush

One of the showiest scarlet border plants we have. They are ideal plants for waterside or for moist, partially shaded borders.

Culture. Lobelias require a moist and shady position to do well. If grown in a border prepare the soil by digging in plenty of well-decayed manure before planting. They are best grown in large colonies, and should be planted 6 inches apart. Plant in spring or fall, protect lightly in winter. They must have plenty of water in dry weather.

Cardinalis Each 95c, Three $2.70, Doz. $9.50
(Cardinal Flower). Rich, fiery cardinal flowers, often producing 4 to 6 spikes 24 to 30 inches long.

Vedariensis Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
Bushy growing rigid plant with fine dark green foliage and dozens of spikes covered with violet-purple flowers. It is one of the extra good all-summer flowering perennials which when grown in a border along with Phlox is one of the outstanding plants during the dry, warm weather period. Practically trouble-free and hardy; provides a bright spot of color when it is needed. Height about 24 to 30 inches

Malva

[70]

LYTHRUM - Purple Loosestrife

Suitable showy plants for moist, sunny borders and the waterside. The plants are of stately growth, and bear their rosy or purplish flowers in tall leafy spikes.

Culture. Grow in ordinary soil in moist, sunny borders, or in groups by the waterside. Plant in autumn or early spring and divide and replant.

Superbum, Morden's Pink Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00

This fine Lythrum originated at the Morden Experiment Station, Morden, Manitoba, Canada. The plant grows to a height of three to four feet and bears dozens of spikes covered with deep Phlox-pink florets from June to late September. Lythrum Morden's Pink can be grown anywhere; it is as hardy as a tree. It does well during the driest weather but comes to perfection in a moist, sunny location where it develops into a magnificent showy clump 3 feet across or more. An excellent summer flowering perennial.

Lady Sackville Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

The favorite with English gardeners. Brilliant rose colored flowers on twiggly stems. Valuable for waterside and moist situations, 5-foot stems. July-August blooming. This, in short, describes this fine English variety. Of course, its merit is its color which is a bright rose and its closely set flowers, resulting in a more compact spike. It has shown up most satisfactorily in our nursery and we recommend it without hesitation.

Morden Gleam Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00

It originated at the Experimental Station, Morden, Manitoba, Canada. Without doubt Morden Gleam is the nearest red of any Lythrum, a brilliant, gleaming carmine. Completely hardy, thrives anywhere, from coast to coast. Grows in full sun or part shade in just ordinary soil. It is the easiest of all hardy perennials to grow, requiring practically no care. Blooms continuously for weeks right through summer's heat. After it is through blooming, the seeds color attractively and in the fall the foliage turns striking red-purple. Makes an attractive bushy plant 40 inches tall.

LILY-OF-THE-VALLEY (Convallaria Majalis)

We are happy to be able to offer you again our fine strain of large Lily-of-the-Valley. This bold, strong form is especially well adapted for garden planting. If reasonably taken care of, a bed of them will produce beautiful long-stemmed flowers in abundance for as long as you live.

MALVA

Related to the Mallows. They are free-flowering and showy perennials. Well adapted for a hot sunny border. The flowers are large and attractive, borne in terminal clusters; leaves are deeply cut and lobed.

Culture. Ordinary soil and a sunny position, well drained. A little covering in coldest sections is advisable.

Malva Alcea fastigiata Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

A fine bushy plant producing clear pink flowers in terminal clusters; excellent for a hot dry place, flowers just about all summer; four feet tall, easily grown, requires little or no care. A fine hot weather plant.

MUEHLENBECKIA

Complexa

This is a curious twining plant. Miniature heart-shaped leaves spangle the fine black wiry twining growth. It is a dainty vigorous and unusual climber; can also be grown as a most distinctive maidenhair-like dwarf plant. It is one of those choice things that never fail to interest. Any fair garden soil in full sun will do. Does exceptionally well by the sea. Give light covering if planted in the autumn.

Compact growing, produces 20 or more 12- to 18-inch spikes covered with fully double rose-red flowers; makes a brilliant show.

MONARDA - Bee-balm; Bergamot

The flowers are borne in close heads or whorls on stems about 2 to 3 feet high, surrounded by colored bracts, and the leaves are more or less fragrant. Attractive plants for the semi-shady or sunny border, or for the city gardens.

Culture. Grow in ordinary soil in sunny borders or in light shade. All may be naturalized in the wild garden. Plant in bold groups in autumn or spring, 10 inches apart. Divide and replant every third year.

Adam Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00
The newest and best of the Bergamots. The compact growth and large flower heads put Adam on top of the list. In England where it originated it is quickly replacing Cambridge Scarlet, because the red color is more pleasing and flowers are much more freely produced; the flowering period also lasts over a long time. Does well in light shade but develops its fullest when grown in full sun. A perfect border plant of easiest culture you'll enjoy growing.

Didyma, Cambridge Scarlet Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00
Brilliant crimson-scarlet flowers are produced freely from June until August. A good plant for wild garden as well as border or garden in the city where other flowers don't grow well.

Didyma, Croftway Pink Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00
A most appealing rich rose-pink. Hardy and free blooming. Like other Bergamots, it presents an irresistible attraction for hummingbirds. Does well in shady gardens and is excellent for cutting.

Mahogany Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00
Presenting a vivid new color nuance in an old, greatly loved family—the Bee-balm or Oswego Tea. Striking cluster heads of fragrant, whorling flowers of deep Indian-lake-red, like Currant jelly. Fine for mid-summer bouquets. Distinctly perfumed leaves and blooms. Height 3½ feet. A handsome, long flowering, easily grown, trouble free plant. What more could be asked.

MYOSOTIS - Forget-me-not

Their dainty blue flowers are produced freely and are always pleasing to the eye, whether massed in beds or on the margins of borders or ponds.

Culture. Most at home in damp positions, as the margins of water, but will thrive in moist, shady borders. Plant in autumn or spring about 6 inches apart.

Palustris semperflorens Each 80c, Three $2.25, Doz. $8.00
Large, rich blue flowers with yellow eye; a charming plant for damp places and a more profuse bloomer than the alpestris, which also is inclined to be biennial in habit.

Nepeta Mussini (See page 74 for color)

Iberis Autumn Snow, Showing its Flowers in Autumn
(See page 67)

MERTENSIA - Virginia Cowslip; Blue Bells

All are of medium growth, and well suited for shady or partially shaded borders. Mostly blue- or white-flowered. The only one we really recommend is Mertensia virginica.

Culture. All will succeed in ordinary soil. A shady or partially shady position is desirable; lovely planted in open woodlands together with daffodils. Plant in autumn or very early spring, 6 to 8 inches apart.

Virginica Three $1.55, Doz. $5.50, 100 $32.50
An early spring-flowering plant, growing about 1 to 1½ feet high with blue flowers fading to pink; one of the most interesting of our native spring flowers.

NIEREMBERGIA - Trailing Cup-flower

A dwarf, creeping plant with spoon-shaped leaves, and creamy white, bell-shaped flowers. An interesting plant to grow in a moist, shady border. Does very well in full sun.

Culture. Grow in sandy loam freely mixed with well decayed manure, in a moist spot, and plant in spring only, 6 to 8 inches apart. Give plenty of water in dry weather. Protect lightly over winter.

Rivularis Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00
Charming dwarf creeping Alpine plant bearing large, creamy white, cup-shaped flowers from June till September; most desirable plants for the rockery as well as for the foreground of the border.

NEPETA - Ground Ivy; Catmint

The three varieties listed below are beautifully suited for garden use. The foliage is aromatic and silvery gray. The flowers are lavender-blue. The upright growing kinds make a perfect subject for massing in the border while the dwarf forms are unparalleled for foreground planting or as edgings. Few plants lend themselves to such widely varying garden conditions or are as ornamental throughout the season.

Culture. Ordinary soil or even poor sandy soil, well drained, and a sunny position will suit the Nepetas. In very cold locations, plant in spring only; otherwise in fall or spring, 12 inches apart. Never cut off summer growth until early spring. Old tops act as fine winter cover. Trim faded flowers to promote new bloom.

Blue Beauty (Upright Growing) Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00
From France came this profusely spring-flowering border plant where it is also called Souvenir de Andre Chaudron. It is compact and upright in growth. Twenty to thirty flower stems to one plant. Excellent for cutting as well. It grows about two feet tall, and does exceptionally well in hot dry places. Flowers are produced throughout the summer. The foliage is gray-green, contrasting well with surrounding plants. A most satisfactory plant of very easy culture.

Mussini Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00, 100 $55.00
Here we have one of the most satisfactory and showy edging or border plants. Its growth is compact and low spreading. It stays "put" and does not crowd out plants nearby, seldom is over 15 to 18 inches wide. In early summer it is covered with dozens of 12 to 15-inch stems which bear small, fragrant, lavender-blue flowers. After the first burst of bloom which lasts better than 2 months, old flower stems should be removed and there will be an intermittent blooming after that until frost, in addition to its ornamental silvery gray-green foliage. Does perfectly in hot, dry, sunny places where soil is sandy, poor and dry. Avoid wet locations and shade.

Tartarica Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00
A new species, valuable because of its erect growing habit. Flower trusses are large and lilac-colored on stems 2½ ft. high. It flowers from June until September and is of easy culture, not requiring frequent transplanting. The cool, misty lilac flowers are most desirable during the summer when blue flowers are at a premium.

OENOTHERA - Evening Primrose

The species named below are especially suitable for growing on the margins of sunny borders and rock gardens, and all make a continuous and brave display of color throughout the summer with little attention.

Culture. All require a well-drained medium sandy soil freely intermixed with well-decayed manure and a sunny position to grow and flower freely. Show to the best advantage when grown in groups. Plant 8 inches apart in spring or fall. They are apt to perish in winter if grown in heavy, damp soils.

Tetragona (Fyrverkerii) Hybrids

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

An exceedingly free-flowering plant. During the entire summer it is covered with flat trusses of golden yellow, cup-shaped flowers, the brown-red stems and bright green leaves making a fine background for the golden blossoms.

Youngi

A strong, stocky, large-leaved plant with firm, shiny foliage, numerous bright lemon-yellow flowers on stems about 24 inches tall from June to August. Iron-clad hardy even on heavy clay soils. Does well in full sun and is valuable for growing in light shade, multiplies freely.

ORCHID - Hardy

Bletilla hyacinthina

Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00

A beautiful small Orchid anyone can grow in the garden or in the house in a small pot filled with ordinary garden soil. Planted in November it will bloom for you early in March. The plant may be removed to the garden where it will grow freely. Six to eight dainty Cattleya colored flowers grow on a stem about 12 to 15 inches tall. These last from 6 to 8 weeks. Grows easily as any hardy perennial plant.

PENTSTEMON - Beard Tongue

Very popular hardy flowering plants. Most attractive for massing in beds or borders. They are not only of graceful habit, but also decidedly beautiful from a decorative point of view. The flowers are tubular and Foxglove-like in shape.

Culture. The Pentstemons require a rich, well-manured loamy soil, and a well drained, sunny place. The dwarf kinds should be grown on the margins of the border, or in the rock garden. Plant in autumn or early spring. Place the plants 10 inches apart each way.

Barbatus, Rose Elf

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

An outstanding, good hardy plant; neat, compact in habit and very prolific blooming. Ten or more flower spikes to a single plant. About 18 inches tall; covered with lovely clean, shell-pink flowers during June, July and August. Fine cut flowers and perfectly hardy.

Newberry

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

Late in summer there again is some bloom but not on tall spikes. Foliage is deep shiny green, almost evergreen. Does best in sun. A very fine plant for the hardy border.

Oenothera Youngi

Phlox Subulata

MOSS OR MOUNTAIN PINKS

An early spring-flowering type with pretty, moss-like, evergreen foliage, which, during the flowering season, in April and May, is hidden under masses of bloom. An excellent plant for the rockery, the border, and invaluable for carpeting the ground or covering bare spots.

Culture. All Phlox Subulata should be grown in full sun. In shade they will die within a year. The soil should be dry and sandy and not too rich. Dig and replant every fourth year to prevent them from getting weedy. Plant in fall or early spring, 8 inches apart.

In spring this plant is sold in pots to insure best results; in fall field-grown plants are best. Like shade. Very attractive in combination with Tulips or other early spring-flowering bulbs.

Nivalis Camla

Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00

Here we have a real treasure from England. The first plant of this lovely little jewel was brought to this country by Wayside Gardens. The flowers are pure pink without any trace of magenta. It grows about 8 inches high and when in bloom in May and June no foliage can be seen. It does not creep and spread rapidly as do other creeping Phlox, but always remains a neat and tidy little plant.

Stolonifera, Blue Ridge

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

This creeping Phlox came to us from England a few years ago. It has been carefully tested for habit and winter hardiness at Mentor and we find it perfect in that respect as well as outstandingly beautiful. It creeps over the ground but sends up upright stems about 3 or 4 inches tall which carry on top a cluster of the handsomest blue flowers you have ever seen and a shade which cannot be reproduced accurately by printers' ink. Here is a choice small plant for shady places in border foreground or rock garden.

Platycodon Grandiflorum

PLUMBAGO - Leadwort

Larpentae Each 95c, Three $2.70, Doz. $9.50, 100 $57.50

One of the most desirable of late blooming, low growing hardy plants. If left undisturbed it will very soon spread into a clump 12 to 18 inches in diameter, not over 6 to 8 inches high, solidly covered with small clusters of bright peacock-blue flowers during late summer and fall. It does perfectly in semi-shady or very hot corners or equally as well at the base of shrubs. Its extra long period of bloom plus its fine leathery, small foliage set it apart and it is considered one of the finest of garden plants. Grow it in well drained soil; it does perfectly in sand. Space plants 8 inches apart and spread roots flat when planting. It starts into growth quite late in spring so don't be alarmed if no new growth appears promptly after planting. Cover lightly in very cold locations during winter. Once planted it is there to stay for years to come.

Platycodon Mariesi

Pulmonaria
Angustifolia
Coerulea
(See page 88)

PLATYCODON - Bellflower

One of the most satisfactory and attractive hardy plants for the sunny summer garden. It has broad blue or white bell-shaped flowers on rigid stems with clean deep green, insect free foliage and is therefore a very, very fine garden plant.

Culture. Best grown in a sandy or light loamy soil; location should be in a well drained spot preferably in full sun, but they do quite well in light shade. When once planted they are best left alone and permitted to develop into solid clumps often 8 to 10 inches across. Do very fine in exposed seaside gardens as well. Best results are obtained if planted in groups of three.

Grandiflorum

Large, showy, deep blue flowers on 20-inch spikes are produced all summer. A splendid plant for the hardy border.

Paeonia Moutan - Chinese Tree Peonies

One of the choicest plants available for the garden. Quite hardy, and does well under the simplest treatment. It flourishes in the most astonishing manner, bearing blossoms from 6 to 8 inches across, which increase every year in beauty and size. A grand addition to the garden, as they do not die down to the ground like the herbaceous sorts, but make fine bushes 3 to 4 feet in height covered every spring with elegant flowers.

Culture. It is advisable to avoid wind-swept locations and to protect the early bloom buds in case of late spring frosts. The south or east side of a planting of evergreen shrubs, wall or building is a very good location for Tree Peonies. Mulching is advisable the first winter after transplanting. Apply mulch of light material after ground is frozen solid. Any good, well drained garden soil is satisfactory. Never cut back woody branches.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT As Well as for Your Flowers

What your plants need is a balanced organic food, not just a stimulant. They need one containing in right amounts, those things that make plenty of strong roots, produce sturdy stalks, thrifty foliage and an abundance of good sized blooms. That's exactly the kind of Plant Food we use at Wayside Gardens. Much of our success in growing such unfailingly fine plants is due to it. Turn to page 214 and get the full facts about it.

Papaver Orientale

Oriental Poppies are the royal representatives of this popular family. Rich tints of rose, salmon-pink, white and lavender, as well as Indian-copper-red are now available besides the brilliant reds. Hardy Phlox

The Real Backbone of Your Summer Garden

SEARCH where you will, say what you will, after all is said and done, Phlox still holds its head highest as an indispensable in every garden from coast to coast.

None other has so many desirable attributes or adapts itself so happily to all gardens. Do you know of any that give an equal in showy, colorful bloom? What other hardy plant needs as little attention or grows as prolifically and flowers so long?

What one of your garden family, dollar for dollar, stretches its bloom over so long a period? Gives you so much for your money?

For first blooming in early spring comes the welcome Subulata, the delighting Moss or Mountain Pinks, giving you drifts of cheery color.

For blooming in shade there's the Stolonifera Blue Ridge which comes early and continues till early summer. Thrives in sunlight or shade.

For summer until fall there are the members of the Decussata family.

For choicest of all: If you were to ask us what Phlox are the very best of them all, we would unhesitatingly recommend those listed in this book as the finest available to date.

The late Capt. Symons-Jeune has done a beautiful job creating new varieties. All of his best kinds are now offered here.

The hundreds of varieties now available are quite likely to be confusing; we have, therefore, discontinued growing any but the best and newest varieties noted for their clear colors, freedom of bloom, and strong habit. They are offered in this book.

It is easy to grow Phlox

To grow Phlox really well the soil should be well drained, deeply spaded, and enriched with Wayside Gardens Organic Plant Food. Planting may be done in fall or spring in a sunny border. Set the plants 10 inches apart. Lift and divide every three or four years, it helps produce big flowers. Never let plants go to seed, never water overhead, always keep blooms and foliage dry, letting hose run slowly on the ground. This method of watering prevents mildew.

RUDBECKIA

White Lustre

A beautiful stately plant with large pure white starlike flowers, the cones of which have a delightful metallic lustre not unlike old brass and old copper mixed. The stems are stiff, 3 feet high, foliage clean and insect free, never bothered by hot or dry weather and just about grows anywhere as long as the location is sunny. An established plant will produce from 10 to 15 fine spikes, never failing regardless of weather. Hardy as an Oak.

This new dwarf variety, Gold Quelle, does not grow over 3 feet high. Flowers from September to November with a superb display of double, clear yellow blooms. A most desirable plant for autumn color. Insect free, not bothered by weather, easily grown, almost indestructible. Height 3 feet.

Rudbeckia, Goldsturm

RUDBECKIA

They are produced in the greatest abundance on nicely branched stems blooming throughout July, August, and September. Here is a plant which is not bothered by insects, heat or drought and is hardy anywhere; requires practically no care. A fine new addition to the summer blooming hardy plants.

Giant Flowering Stokesia, Blue Star

STOKESIA - Cornflower Aster; Stokes' Aster

It is of easy culture and flowers throughout the summer and autumn until stopped by hard frosts. A most worth-while addition to the hardy plant garden.

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

PINKS, HARDY GARDEN. (See Dianthus.)

POTERIUM - Burnet

There are a trio of species of this genus which are worthy of a place in the mixed border. They are native of North America, also belonging to the Rose order. They have graceful, pinnate foliage, and bear their flowers on dense spikes. The flowers are useful for cutting.

Culture. All will thrive in any ordinary soil in a sunny border. Plant in autumn or spring. They enjoy moisture at the root and do not get winter killed even in wet places.

Obtusum

Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00

A fine plant with excellent foliage and numerous rose-pink spikes of flowers, not unlike Bottlebrush in form, are produced from July to September. Loves a sunny, moist place and is ironclad, surviving in wet spots where other border plants fail. Height of spikes when in bloom about three feet. A really permanent and hardy plant.

PULMONARIA - Lungwort

A perennial noteworthy for hardiness of growth, freedom in flowering, and for its adaptability for growing in shady borders or rock gardens. The plants have rough foliage sometimes speckled with white, and blue or reddish flowers borne in racemes. This is so old an inhabitant of gardens that its history is obscured in the mists of time, but it probably originated in Italy and was introduced some time before 1683. It is a delightful plant for the semi-shady garden, the foliage being highly ornamental, and the spring-borne flowers are pink on first opening, changing to clear blue as they develop. Its simple needs are easily satisfied with a cool or partially shaded position and a soil which is heavy rather than light, but reasonably well drained.

Culture. Grow in ordinary soil in groups in the shady, mixed border, in masses under the shade of deciduous trees, or in the rock garden. Plant 10 inches apart in autumn or early spring.

Angustifolia Coerulea

Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

A charming low growing early flowering plant which does splendidly in wet heavy ground in shade as well as in full sun. In early May it is covered with bright light blue flowers of the color of Forget-me-nots. It combines well with Tulips or other early spring flowering bulbs. Increases rapidly and is hardy as an Oak. About 8 to 10 inches high.

The feature of this excellent form is its striking opalescent blue foliage as well as its compact habit. Cut back each April to desired size, also prevents it from blooming; flower spikes are best removed as they appear, flowers are of no value. In mild climates plants will grow to 2 feet. Winter Hardy Tritomas - Kniphofia

Heretofore the Red Hot Poker has been known generally as a brilliant orange-red, fall-flowering plant. There are species, however, which are early blooming and quite hardy. These have been successfully crossed and recrossed so that now we can offer a collection of hardy, early flowering kinds. In selecting the new colors, naturally white, ivory, and pale yellow shades were given preference because they were in the first place totally lacking and secondly they are the most desirable tints for early and midsummer gardens. Every plant we send out will produce numerous flowers, but not until the second year do they come to perfection. Highlight your garden with these novel flowers, and use them freely for cutting, for which they are so perfectly suited.

LARGE FLOWERED TRITOMAS Winter Hardy Varieties

Earliest of All Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00

It is perfectly hardy and a handsome foliage plant when not in bloom.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT—As Well as for Your Flowers

What your plants need is a balanced organic food, not just a stimulant. They need one containing in right amounts those things that make plenty of strong roots, produce sturdy stalks, thrifty foliage and an abundance of good sized blooms. That's exactly the kind of Plant Food we use at Wayside. Much of our success in growing such unfailingly fine plants is due to it. Turn to page 214 and get the full facts about it.

A fine new introduction of real merit, and a plant which does withstand hot dry weather without suffering. Altogether a very worth-while border plant.

Blue Peter Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

A recent novelty from England and without doubt the best of the early summer flowering Veronicas. The flower spikes are of deepest navy blue on stiff stems about 15 to 18 inches tall. This variety will replace Blue Spires as soon as it is better known because of its better color and far superior habit of growth and floriferousness. A heavy bloomer and of easy culture. A "must" for your garden. (Blue Peter is the name given the blue flag displayed by ships ready to leave port.)

Crater Lake Blue Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

For foreground planting in the border where you want a strong growing plant and a rich mass of color, there is nothing much better than Veronica Crater Lake Blue. It grows about 18 inches tall, prefers sun but does well in light shade. The dozens of flower spikes are the color of Oregon's famous Crater Lake.

Icicle Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

This fine white Veronica has been most attractive in our nursery and many visitors have spoken of it. The white spikes it produces are about 15 in. tall and keep on coming throughout the summer and well into fall. The plant is as hardy as an Oak and multiplies freely without being weedy. The flowers are at their best when most gardens are a little jaded. In addition, they are fine for cutting. All in all, this is a splendid new variety.

Longifolia subsessilis Each $1.25, Three $3.50, Doz. $13.00

2 feet. July to September. One of the handsomest blue-flowering plants. Perfectly hardy and increases in strength and beauty each year. Spikes completely studded with beautiful blue flowers; fine for cutting and one of the best plants for the hardy border.

Two Perennial Gardens for You

Illustrated in Color On Pages 104-105

THE EARLY GARDEN: (18 feet long and 5 feet wide.)

Plants were so chosen as to create two distinct mass bloom effects. During May and June, Iris, early Veronica, Clove Pinks, and Lemon Lilies create a colorful effect, to be followed in July by a gorgeous lot of color largely created by perennial Phlox supported by Statice, Silver Artemisia, and summer blooming Veronica. This color lasts well into September. The varieties we have selected are easily grown and will increase in size each season and are up-to-date kinds. By repeating this planting, the border can be made 36 feet long. Repeating is done by professionals and produces a fine result.

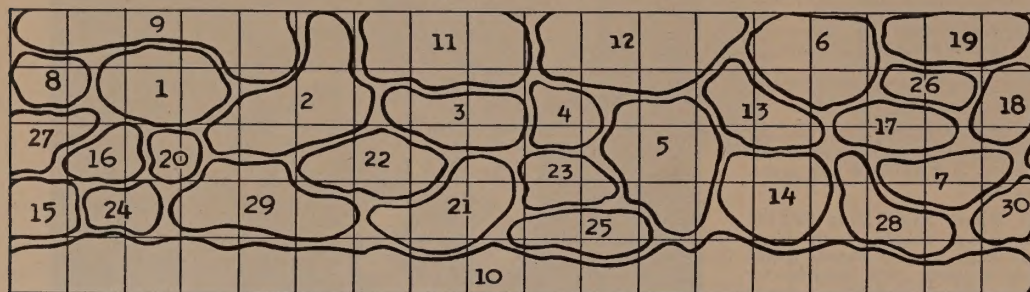

THE LATE GARDEN: (18 feet long and 5 feet wide.)

Here again there are two "peak" bloom periods. The first one in June and July when Delphiniums, Lilies, and Oenothera are at their best. The second or autumn display is made largely by hardy Asters both tall and dwarf, at their best throughout September and October. In selecting the varieties for this garden we have chosen the best of easy culture and fine clear colors.

PS

In the Early Garden we show Lupines. If Lupines do not grow well in your locality, we send in their place the yellow Thermopsis Caroliniana, if advised to do so.
Fence shown in illustration: Posts were painted same green as surrounding foliage, boards white. Result, fine unbroken horizontal white lines. Try it!

Planting Plan for May-June; July-August Garden

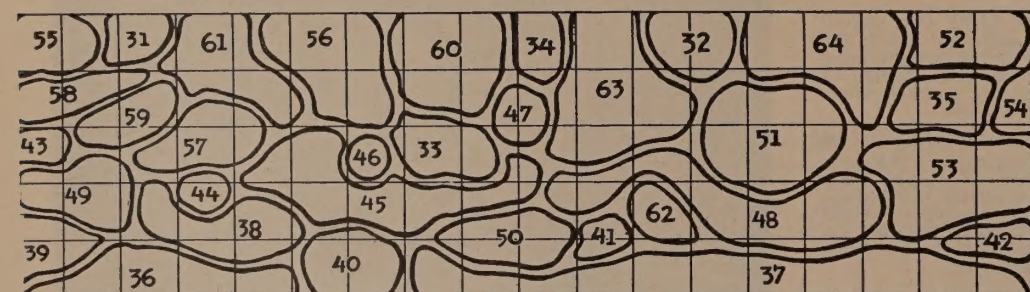

Tall clumps of Siberian Iris with Hemerocallis, German Iris, and Lupines form the background. In the foreground are early Veronicas, Coralbells, Pinks, and Dianthus Essex Witch, making a beautiful grouping for May and June. The place of these early flowers is taken in midsummer by Phlox, Shasta Daisies, Platycodon, and Tiger Lilies, which are at their best in July and August.

The catalog value of the plants needed to plant this border is $81.48
If you would like to reproduce this border in your garden we will furnish the plants required for the special price of $60.00 for the Early Garden.

Planting Plan for the June-July; Sept.-Oct. Garden

During June and July this border is blue with Delphiniums between which are planted Regal and Umbellatum Lilies. The yellow foreground is created by Oenothera, also called Sundrops. In September a riot of color is produced by the Hardy Asters, Chrysanthemums, with Plumbago in the foreground. This gorgeous autumn display lasts until the end of October.

The catalog value of the plants needed to plant this border is $78.49

3 New English Veronica Spicata Varieties of Exceptional Merit and Freedom of Bloom

Barcarole

Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

It grows compactly to about 10 inches. The flower spikes are solidly covered with deep rose-pink flowers. Vigor and freedom leave nothing to be desired. It produced over 20 spikes on 2-year-old plants. Flowers are from late June until end of August. This new English Hybrid bids well to become a great favorite border plant in this country.

Minuet

Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

Its silvery gray foliage and dusty pink spikes of flowers make this one of the outstanding Veronicas. In bloom in July and August, it gives a beautiful cool effect. The flowers and foliage of this fine plant are so distinct one cannot miss it. It is easy of culture, perfectly hardy and free blooming. All it asks is a sunny place. Height about 15 inches.

Pavane

Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

This new English introduction will be well received over here. Its lovely 18-in. spikes are rigidly erect and of a fine shade of clear pink. It has performed beautifully at our nursery where it flowered from late June and throughout August. As many as 20 spikes on one plant. Like Barcarole, it withstands heat and drought remarkably well and is of easiest culture.

Violas

Violas are among the most beloved flowers. Their cheerful and colorful blossoms are so easily grown, no matter where, be it in the city, suburban garden or in the country. From Switzerland came Floraire, our favorite! Its dainty pale blue flowers may be picked before the winter's snow has melted. In hot summer weather it stands up better and flowers most freely; with fall and cool weather it bursts forth again into masses of blooms which defy cold weather until well after Christmas.

Culture. To grow Violas well good soil is a great advantage, although fine results are obtained from plants planted in any soil that has been well dug, and a heavy dressing of partially rotted manure incorporated at time of digging. Plant 8 inches apart in fall or early spring and plant firmly.

VIOLA ODORATA - Sweet Violet

Odorata semperflorens

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

A sweet scented perpetual flowering Violet. It never stops blooming. The flowers are pinkish lavender and you can always pick a nosegay from a few plants. The fragrance leaves nothing to be desired. This perpetual flowering Violet is a good grower and if you plant it in a favorable location will soon become a big clump. Does well in light shade. Perfectly hardy. A joy to own.

Rosina

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

Producing not only in spring but again in late autumn quantities of dainty, deliciously fragrant, pink or old rose flowers. Useful for bordering or as a ground cover in half shade or full sun.

Royal Robe

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00, 100 $60.00

This glorious variety is a lustrous shade of deepest violet-blue. The blossoms are richly fragrant and open out flat like a small Pansy. It is quite unnecessary for us to expatiate on the transcendent beauty of this Violet. Suffice to say a trial in your own garden will bear out all we have had to say and more. A few plants of this Violet in the garden will serve to furnish quantities of deliciously fragrant bloom either during early winter or early spring and at a time when flowers are most highly prized. Stems are long and excellent for picking. Plants multiply freely and grow into big clumps.

Double Russian

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00, 100 $60.00

Perfectly hardy anywhere, producing double sweet scented violet flowers in abundance. A splendid variety for that troublesome shady place and that is not all, when established it will surprise you as well as delight you with its superb fragrance.

White Czar

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

A beautiful white Violet. The flowers are on long stems; they are large and substantial and are produced in great abundance; in addition to its free flowering it is also a strong growing variety and is quite happy in full sun. A fine companion for Royal Robe which still continues to be the best of blue Violas.

VIOLA CORNUTA - Tufted Pansies

Catherine Sharp

Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00, 100 $55.00

A splendid hardy blue Viola for the garden as well as for the cool greenhouse for winter blooming. The flowers are large and grow on long, stiff stems which place them well above the foliage. Two-year-old clumps are 18-24 inches in diameter, remain nicely compact, produce hundreds of flowers throughout the entire spring, summer and fall. Viola Catherine Sharp is hardy. Does well in light shade and is a charming subject for the rock garden as well. The brilliant yellow eye helps give the lovely blue flower additional life and sparkle. A reliably hardy Viola with all the habits of a good garden plant.

Floraire

Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00, 100 $55.00

A most remarkable Viola. No sooner has the snow melted than it commences to flower, keeping on all summer without let-up until covered by winter snows. It is not unusual to find dozens of blooms on a plant after Christmas. Lavender-blue is the prevailing color, sometimes showing lighter or darker tints.

Floribunda Roses

We Here Offer a Selection of the Finest Varieties

Floribunda Roses or Cluster Roses are a group of Roses especially produced for mass planting. They are noted for their permanence, continuity of bloom, and ease of culture. Their habit of growth is bushy, and their chief characteristic is sturdiness, and they bloom continuously in numerous clusters from single to full double, and include the entire range of colors of Roses. A distinctive feature is the long-lastingness of the flowers in all weathers. They are best planted in large groups and masses, in beds, so they will blanket the ground. Occasional plants placed in front of the shrub border create a superb color display.

Oberon

Oberon

Soft salmon-apricot fully double flowers perpetually produced on strong rugged plants particularly suited for bed planting. This briefly sums up Oberon. But there is more to it. It is a Rose in a class by itself. Many visitors told us they preferred it to Fashion. The color is not only softer and more delicate but Oberon is much, much more free flowering. It is perpetually covered with bloom literally until frost. Here is a beautiful European Rose which will make a name for itself over here in a short time.

Each $2.50, Three $6.60, Doz. $26.40

Golden Delight

A full flower of Hybrid Tea type but smaller, carried singly and in clusters. Deep clear yellow maintaining its color. Just as beautiful as Allgold, which is a sister plant. Foliage small and deep green, no blackspot. A sturdy, low growing bedder, height 1½-2 feet. It is next best yellow to Allgold in our opinion. Its main difference is that its color is just a shade lighter yellow.

The color shown in the illustration should be several shades darker. Rightly named, it is a delightful Rose.

Each $2.50, Three $6.60, Doz. $26.40

Golden
Delight

"Allgold"

(Plant Patent No. 1665)

The Rose with Amazing Color Stability

Here is what the originator says:

"ALLGOLD has been consistently good with me. The first year the colour caught my eye. No other Floribunda has its deep unfading clarity. It is shining gold from the first glimpse of colour in the bud until petal drop.

"The more we have grown of this variety and the more experience we have had of it, the better we like it. We have not been able to find a fault with this Rose. Wet or dry, cold or hot, the blooms open the same clear unfading golden yellow. 'Sunshine on a dull day,' it brings cheer into any garden whatever the weather.

"Especially noticeable has been its resistance to black spot. It remains in full leaf even when other varieties around it are leafless.

"It is the considered opinion of both amateurs and nurserymen in England that it is the most outstanding yellow Floribunda yet introduced. For depth of colour, unfading qualities, freedom of flower, health of growth, it is absolutely 'tops.' Winner of leading awards from the National Rose Society, The Royal Horticultural Society and The Royal Agricultural Society of England."

Each $2.50, Three $6.60, Doz. $26.40

OTHER OPINIONS

FLORIDA: Everglades Nursery. We are very pleased to advise that the Roses ALLGOLD received from you are growing and blooming profusely. They are growing very vigorously and are branching evenly and making very nice looking plants. We are very pleased with them and the yellow blooms are causing quite a sensation with our customers. We have never had a Rose that performed as beautifully as your ALLGOLD.

NEW ZEALAND: 7th August, 1957. (Avenue Nurseries, Levin) New Zealand. ALLGOLD put up a magnificent display last autumn (April-May) and far surpassed anything that Golden Delight had done. ALLGOLD really shone out amongst all the other Roses and was a real show for quite a long period. We wished that we had imported three times as many of it.

HOLLAND: Jan Spek, Boskoop, Holland. I just went through the Roses I patented for you and came to the following conclusions: I think your ALLGOLD is the very best and would say that it seems the best yellow Polyantha on the market.

FRANCE: 24 September, 1956. (Roseraies Pernet Ducher). La rose ALLGOLD. Cette variété paraît très bonne. (Cette variété) a une très bonne couleur jaune qui résiste bien, elle est bien supérieure à Goldilocks.

ITALY: Arturo Ansaloni (Bologna) Italy, August 20, 1957. As reported previously the Rose ALLGOLD has been very interesting; this year again we have had the opportunity of ascertaining that this novelty is very floriferous; the individual flowers of good shape, double and the colour is a deep yellow. In our opinion this is the best yellow among Floribundas.

SOUTH AFRICA: Edenvale Nurseries, Transvaal. ALLGOLD. Of all the varieties on our display this is the one that attracted the most attention. We wonder whether it was because of its colour—a truly deep, rich, sparkling yellow (the deepest yellow yet found in a Floribunda); or because of the size of the heads which are large with the flowers firmly held in position. Perhaps the admirers were amazed to see such exceptionally healthy, glossy, leathery foliage—which means ALLGOLD has everything. We have found this variety completely disease resistant and an excellent grower while the colour of its flowers is held until the petals drop. Raised by Mr. E. B. Le Grice of England and we have the privilege of introducing this magnificent Rose in South Africa.

RHODESIA: From Warfields Nurseries, Salisbury, S. Rhodesia. ALLGOLD has done more to arouse interest in the Floribunda class since we have had it than any other variety we can remember. Its chief point is its amazing colour stability in our hot sun whereby it fills a much needed want. Growth is excellent and the bush compact, not growing too tall for bedding as do so many of the new vigorous varieties. With ten months of good growing weather a tall grower becomes quite unmanageable towards the end of the season.

Floribunda Rose, Fashion

Fashion Each $2.00, Three $5.25, Doz. $19.20
(Plant Pat. No. 789). All-America Award Winner for 1950. An exquisitely beautiful Floribunda. The color is luminous coral-pink overlaid with gold which softens to clear coral and then deepens into deeper tinted tones at the finishing stage. Pointed buds are Oriental red and slowly open into miniature-like Hybrid Tea form. The open flowers are about 3½ inches across and have a delightful old rose fragrance. Grows about 2½ to 3 feet tall; good foliage and prolific blooming. At the National Rose Society's Show in London it received the Gold Medal and was the sensation of the show.

Poulsen's Pearl Each $2.50, Three $6.60, Doz. $26.40
Produces a wonderful show of single, pearl-white flowers, marked at the center with dark stamens. A strong and healthy variety. Like all of Poulsen's Roses it is a free bloomer of easy culture and very hardy. If you like single Roses here is one to grow.

Poulsen's Pearl

Circus (Plant Patent No. 1382)

Each $2.50, Three $6.60, Doz. $26.40
The predominant color of Circus is yellow with the tight buds richly marked red. As the bloom unfolds, it offers a most interesting, ever changing succession of shades and tints with fully blown flowers putting on a finishing flourish of bright scarlet. Flowers profusely in clusters. Good stems for cutting. Flowers fragrant. A first class Floribunda Rose. All-America Award winner for 1956.

Poulsen's Supreme

Each $2.50, Three $6.60, Doz. $26.40
Camellia-pink with yellow eye. Large clusters of semi-double flowers on a vigorous and healthy bush. Here again one of Poulsen's fine introductions noted for hardiness and easy growth as well as lots of flowers.

Lavender Girl (Plant Patent No. 1672)

Each $5.00, Three $12.75, Doz. $51.00
Lavender Girl in the bud is a variable ruby-red changing in the newly open bloom to a most interesting rosy purple which shows on the inside of the petals. It is the full bloom, however, which really distinguishes the Rose. It is then that it comes into its own, achieving a unique lavender all its own and keeping it unfaded.

Long slender buds open gradually with their high-centered form to a striking, slightly cupped, fully open, fragrant flower. The richly decorative, long, graceful, golden stamens give an air of charm to the whole ensemble. The stout stems usually carry 5 to 10 buds which open gradually, giving a long, graceful blooming period. New stems constantly carry on the blooming.

Sandringham Each $2.00, Three $5.25, Doz. $21.00

A great favorite in Europe and will be here also as soon as it becomes better known.

United Nations Each $2.50, Three $6.60, Doz. $26.40
Light pink with a touch of yellow in it. Just an ordinary light colored variety which soothes where the others dazzle. Grows to a modest height. Also described as orange and apricot shaded. Immense trusses. A miniature Ophelia. 24 inches.

THE LOVELIEST PINK FLORIBUNDA

Rosenelfe Each $2.00, Three $5.25, Doz. $21.00
The unbeaten pink Floribunda. The La France pink double blooms are Hybrid Tea form, perfect, almost like a double Camellia. Tight and long lasting, therefore excellent for cutting. It is rated by the American Rose Society as second only to Fashion and The Fairy among the pinks but it is of course entirely different in form and purpose. Floribunda Roses come and go; there has not yet been one that could beat Rosenelfe, each year more and more are planted. You also must grow Rosenelfe, let all newcomers be as they may be. We and thousands of others claim it to be the loveliest of the pink Floribundas.

Rudolph Timm Each $2.50, Three $6.60, Doz. $26.40
An unusual color combination. Deep pink, almost red reverse with white shaded pink inner petal. A strong grower. The many long lasting flowers are quite artistic in effect and last a very long while. It is robust and free flowering and does not grow too tall, seldom over 30 inches. A splendid variety for mass color and easily grown between other plants as it requires only minimum care.

A magnificent and prolific blooming Floribunda. The flowers when fully open are semi-double and of the most brilliant glowing scarlet. For garden display and color brilliance it is hard to beat. Particularly is it desirable because of its vigorous growth and apparent ease with which it produces its brilliant clusters of flowers. Introduced in Europe in 1953 where it has become a great favorite, and is seen in parks and gardens everywhere. This variety and Frensham are the two most popular varieties because they are the two best.

Hill Top
Each $2.50

Blue Ribbon Roses

Hill Top (Plant Patent No. 525)

Hill Top is one of the choice introductions of Hill's, one of their best. The handsomely moulded flowers have loosely outward rolled petals quite pointed, creating the effect so sought in Roses. The color at opening is a deep capucine-buff and remains that shade in the center of the flower while the outer edges of the flower petals turn a pale pinkish buff. Hill Top is a very free blooming variety and a clean, strong grower. As you know, it is one of the favorite cut flower Roses and soon will be a garden favorite because of its color as well as its clean, strong habit.

Each $2.50, Three $6.60, Doz. $26.40

Butterscotch (Plant Patent No. 613)

Nothing like the color of Butterscotch has so far been seen in Roses and very few Roses have as beautifully shaped flowers. The length and grace of the flower petals of this new variety are outstanding. The outside of the handsome petals is a soft, pale orange-yellow; the inside lemon-chrome at the base, changing to pale yellow-orange, penciled very lightly with orange-buff. The general color effect is a soft pastel cupucine-buff. Visitors picked Butterscotch as one of the finest and most outstanding Roses in our fields. This variety is an origination of the Hill Greenhouses in Richmond, Indiana. We are sure you will find Butterscotch one of the choicest Roses you ever grew. There is no other Rose like it.

Flaming Sunset

A deeper sport of McGredy's Sunset. The colors are particularly striking in the autumn. Recommended as a brilliant Rose for the garden and for decorative purposes. The flowers are light orange-red with yellow reverse, very vivid. Foliage light bronzed green. Neat form of flower which the center holds firm and compact as the outer petals open out. Of exceptional merit.

Mahogany (Mahogana)

Here is a most unusual red Rose; its flowers have a decided mahogany tint. There are many red Roses but there is nothing quite in color like this. It cannot fail to please you because of its subtle coloring. It is outstanding in all kinds of weather, blooms freely and is a good strong grower. Recently introduced by Wilhelm Kordes who has given us many fine varieties through the years.

Josephine Bruce

(Plant Patent No. 1294)

Its superb black-crimson flowers unquestionably proclaim it to be the best and finest and darkest red of the red Hybrid Tea Roses obtainable today. Similar in growth to Crimson Glory but somewhat more upright. The flowers are simply superb in form and produced in prodigious quantities throughout the entire season. Flowers when cut and put in water indoors, will outlast any other Rose. As a garden plant it is unbeatable. Excellent dark green foliage; of easy culture and very hardy. Produces a superabundance of flowers. We say again, it is the best dark red Rose obtainable today.

Confidence

Michele Meilland

A Rose for the connoisseur, a gorgeous light-colored Rose for the garden and for cutting. The flower, of dainty appearance, stands on a slim firm stem. It is light pink, sometimes showing a faint tinge of lilac and at others, quite boldly marked coral or yellow. The stems are reddish purple, the leaves dark. Meilland, the originator of Peace, considered this his loveliest Rose and named it for his wife. He says of it, we quote: "It has the aura of perfection that is only found among aristocrats whether they be of the plant or animal kingdom. Truly a flower for the sophisticated who desires something more beyond just red or yellow."

(Plant Patent No. 1316)

Plant is of medium size, perfect for Rose beds, upright in growth. The flowers are borne on moderately long but strong, rigid stems without any signs of "weak neck." Flowers are very long and pointed in bud stage, opening beautifully into large, high centered flower of perfect Rose form. Its keeping qualities after being cut are better than average. Its color in all stages is superb, a symphony of pink, salmon, apricot with a touch of yellow against a background of coppery green foliage. Truly a Blue Ribbon Rose!

The illustration shows the color of Dawn as it is early in summer and again in autumn. It is several shades lighter during the hot summer days.

The great number of flowers produced and luxuriant foliage all combine to make this perhaps the most outstanding new Hybrid Tea Rose in years. The bud begins to show its combination of colors as the petals separate and is from there a constantly changing picture. The cream-white is lined with pink, and the flower finally opens to a most pleasing, unusual combination of pink and white with a suffusion of yellow. The fragrance is strong and a very pleasing addition to the ensemble.

The compact plant does not stop blooming at any time during the season.

Here is a superb Rose of recent introduction but somehow never received the publicity it deserves. It is a descendent from the famous Charlotte Armstrong. Color salmon blended with rose and peach. Helen Traubel (Plant Patent No. 1028)

Each $2.75, Three $7.20, Doz. $28.80

Clear pastel tones of pink to apricot, even approaching orange at times. It has an unusually long, graceful bud, a very large open flower with good form, fine substance and pleasing fragrance. The plant has proven to be exceedingly vigorous with us.

Love Song (Plant Patent No. 1360)

Each $2.50, Three $6.60, Doz. $26.40

Radiant, rich salmon-pink with brilliant yellow on the lower third of the petals and a lighter yellow reverse. The buds are deep gold edged with a dark coppery rose. The pointed centers elongate as the buds develop and become more urn-shaped, usually as the first petals slowly unfold. At this stage they are yellow and deep coppery salmon-pink. The colors do not fade as the blooms open.

Pink Peace (Meilland) (Plant Patent No. 1759)

Each $3.00, Three $7.95, Doz. $31.80

This is the Rose that HAD to be named Pink Peace! It's great! And—it's a direct descendant of that finest Rose of all time! The difference in favor of Pink Peace, apart from color, is in the terrific size of the bloom and in the greater free-blooming quality. The deep, dusty pink—a most attractive shade that's rich, soft and fetching—is completely charming. Blooms come very freely and continuously on long stems, opening from very fat, shapely buds to very double, very full cupped flowers. Upright, well branched and bushy with strong canes.

Peace (Plant Patent No. 591) Each $2.50, Three $6.60, Doz. $26.40

This Rose is almost unbelievable. One marvel of it is the dawn-like range of colors through which it passes, from opening yellow buds, each petal edged with pink that seems to deepen as the flower slowly opens. The shades of color vary, too, from flower to flower and through the changing seasons. Though the bloom is unusually large, long lasting and constantly fresh looking, its effect is always delicate and lovely. The individual petals are long and of great substance, gradually opening, a few at a time, around a high-pointed center, to a great golden hearted, very double, fully open flower. The plant is as superior as the bloom, and in the same large-scale way.

The bud is long and pointed, the flower is 3 to 4 inches in diameter, high-centered, never showing the center.

Each $2.25, Three $6.00, Doz. $24.00

The fragrance is excellent, foliage very good; all in all a fine addition to the selection of yellow Roses.

My Choice (Plant Patent No. 1769)

(AWARDED THE NATIONAL ROSE SOCIETY GOLD MEDAL AND THE CLAY CHALLENGE VASE FOR THE BEST SCENTED BRITISH ROSE OF 1958. AWARD OF MERIT CHELSEA SHOW 1959.)

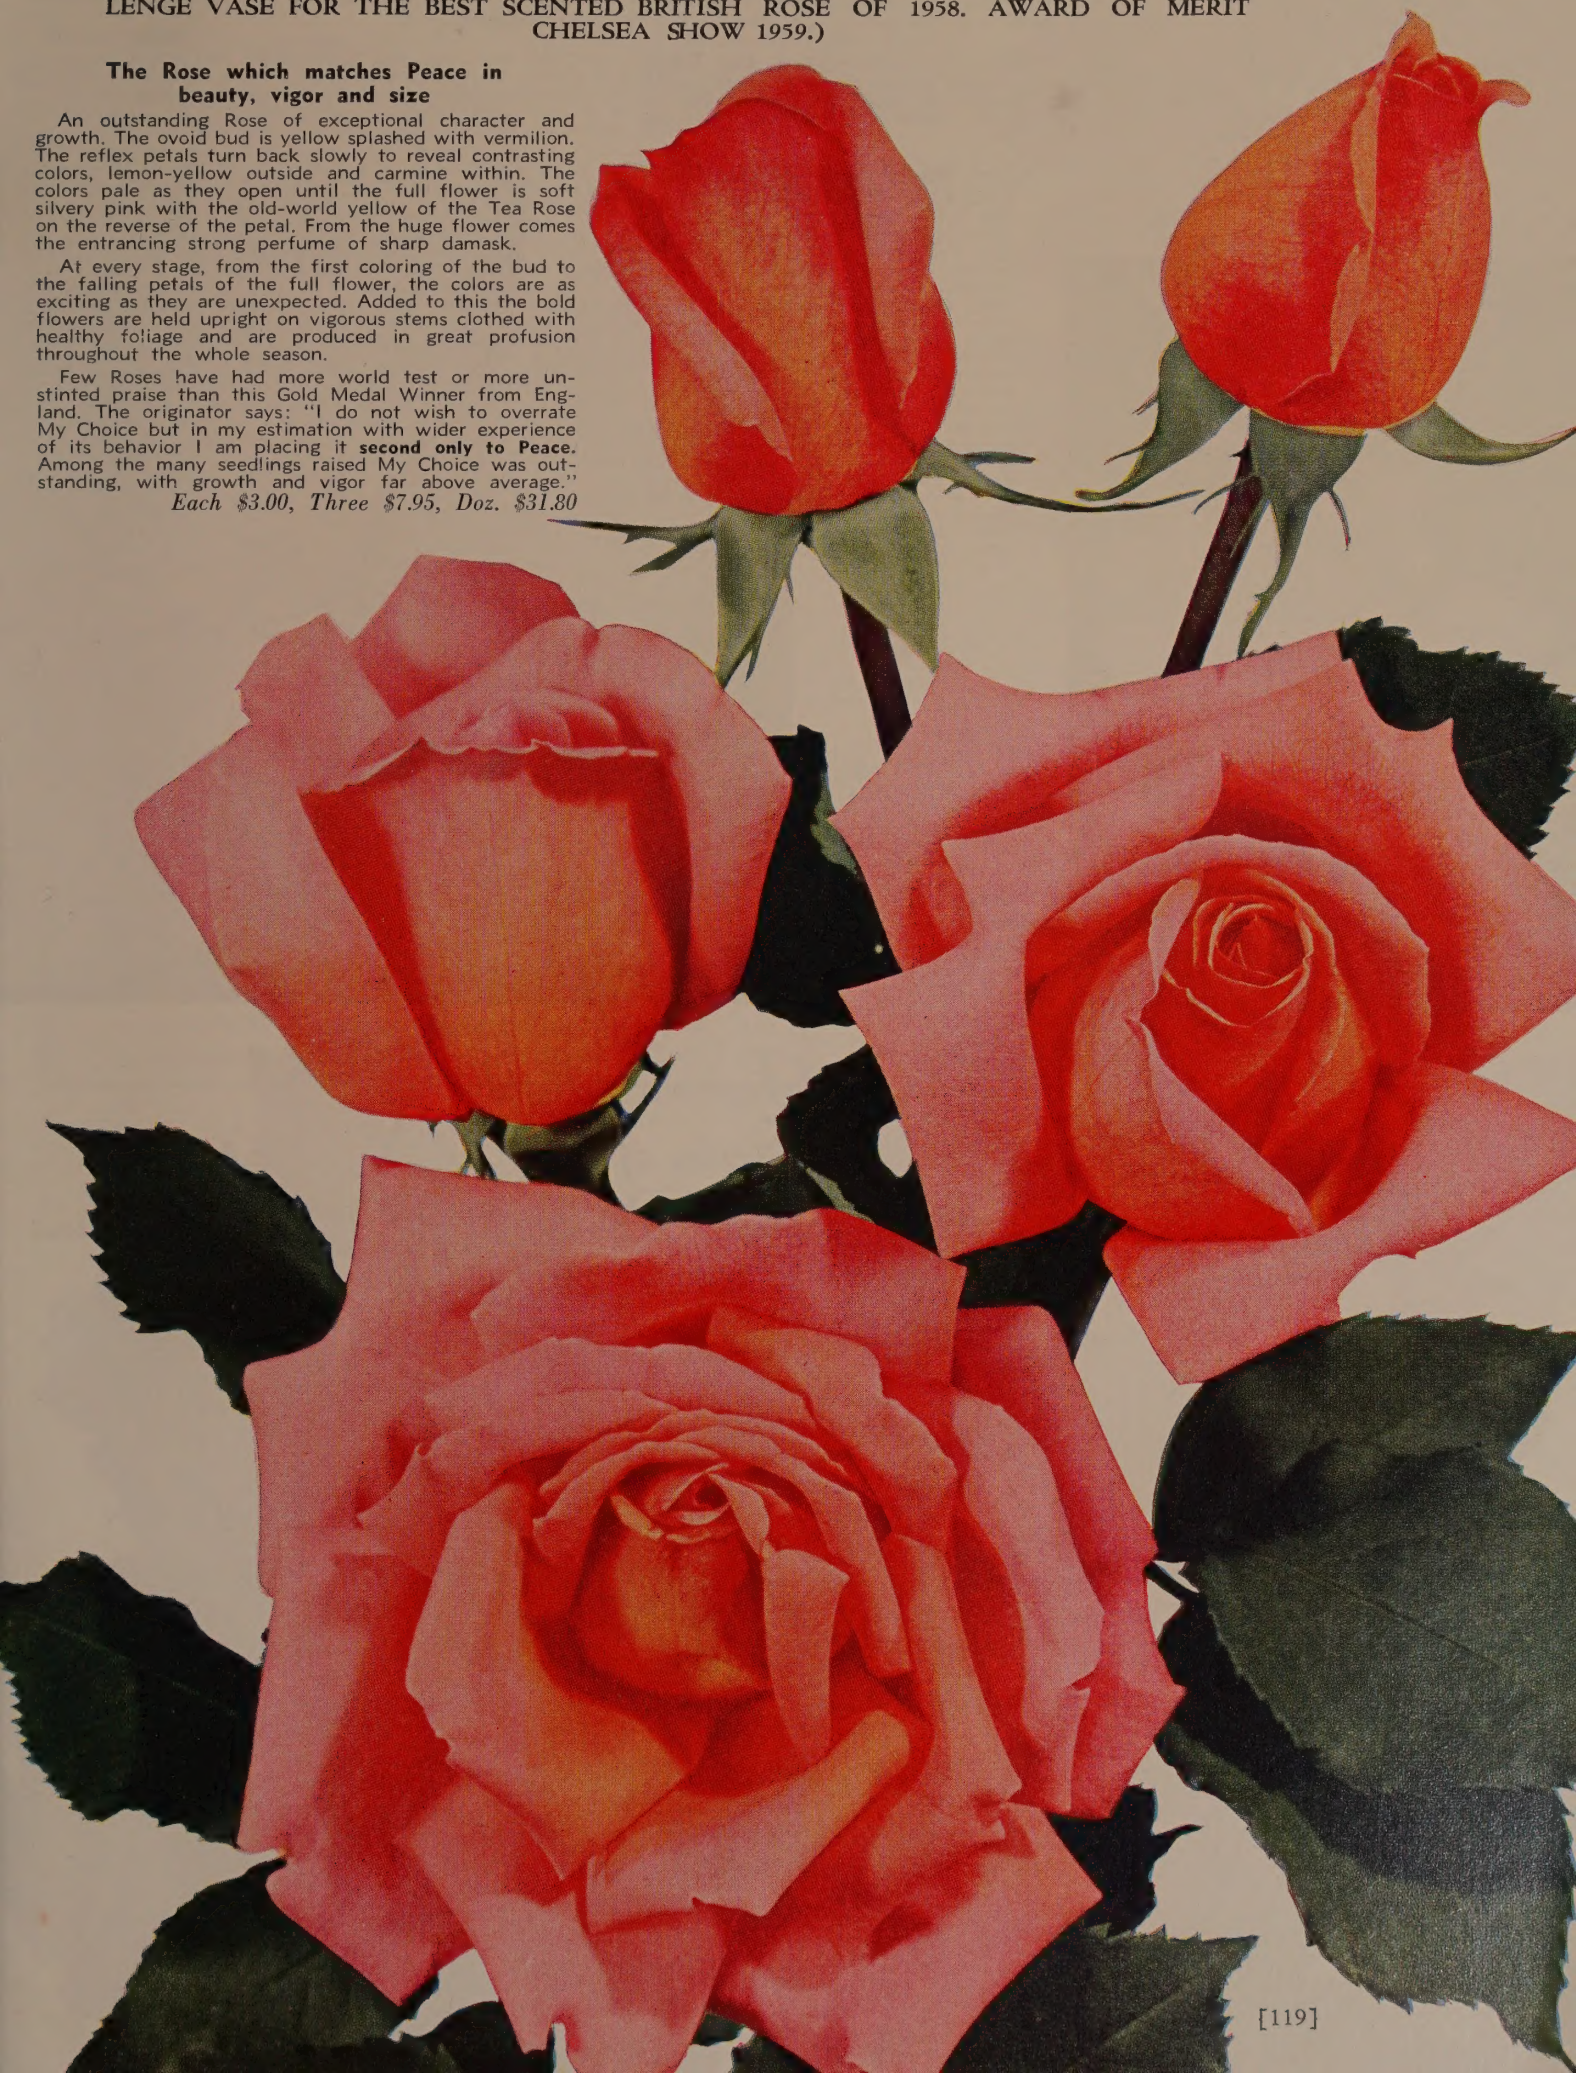

The Rose which matches Peace in beauty, vigor and size

An outstanding Rose of exceptional character and growth. The ovoid bud is yellow splashed with vermillion. The reflex petals turn back slowly to reveal contrasting colors, lemon-yellow outside and carmine within. The colors pale as they open until the full flower is soft silvery pink with the old-world yellow of the Tea Rose on the reverse of the petal. From the huge flower comes the entrancing strong perfume of sharp damask.

At every stage, from the first coloring of the bud to the falling petals of the full flower, the colors are as exciting as they are unexpected. Added to this the bold flowers are held upright on vigorous stems clothed with healthy foliage and are produced in great profusion throughout the whole season.

Few Roses have had more world test or more unstinted praise than this Gold Medal Winner from England. The originator says: "I do not wish to overrate My Choice but in my estimation with wider experience of its behavior I am placing it second only to Peace. Among the many seedlings raised My Choice was outstanding, with growth and vigor far above average."

Dainty Bess

An exceedingly charming and daintily colored single Rose of perfect form. The broad petals are delicate shell-pink which form a beautiful contrast to the conspicuous bunch of crimson stamens. It is always greatly admired for its charm and loveliness, and the blooms last exceptionally long.

A Message from Fred Rockwell

MOST FOR YOUR MONEY

By F. F. Rockwell
America's Foremost Horticultural Writer

Every spring finds thousands of new admirers beginning their worship at the shrine of the traditional Queen of Flowers—the Rose. Frequently I am asked: "Which of the new Roses shall I buy? They are all described in such glowing terms that I cannot make up my mind, especially as I have a limited budget."

I invariably answer this question by asking another: "Why do you feel you must have new Roses? The best of the standard ones are better than many of the brand new and will still be glorifying gardens and giving their owners the ultimate in satisfaction for decades to come." This statement is made on the basis of our having grown, as they came along, most of the new Roses introduced during the past quarter century.

I find it very gratifying therefore, that the keen plantsmen at Wayside Gardens have decided to provide America's gardeners with a collection of "tried and true" Roses that have stood the test of time, especially as they can be produced and sold (because they do not carry any royalty fees and extensive advertising "overhead") at moderate prices. Selection of varieties for this list has been based upon reports—extending over many years and from all sections of the country—by members of the American Rose Society, the supreme court of decision as to which Roses are best for average American gardeners.

Some new Roses of course immediately establish their worth and make the all-time team—such Roses as Pinocchio, Fashion, Peace and Frensham. But a great many of them soon fade away, even from the catalog pages of the concerns which introduced them, while such old timers as Frau Karl Druschki (introduced in 1901), Crimson Glory and Eclipse still glorify home gardens and win blue ribbons in Rose shows.

Let us not forget these grand time-tested varieties when making selections for that Rose garden which is to mean so much to us—especially if we wish to invest Rose dollars where they will pay the highest dividends.

Sixteen Rose Varieties of Highest Rating by THE AMERICAN ROSE SOCIETY

Here are listed 11 varieties of Hybrid Tea and 5 Floribunda Roses. These particular kinds have through the years proven to be outstanding. They are being grown all over the country because of their beauty as well as dependability. All are rated high by The American Rose Society. You may grow these with the knowledge that they are as beautiful as those of recent introduction.

The exquisite, long, tapering buds and opening flowers show no color other than clear sunshiny yellow—the brightest, clearest and “lastingest” yellow you’ll find in Roses. One of the most pleasing things about Buccaneer is the ease with which it grows. Extremely vigorous and large, the plant is well clothed with large, good-looking foliage. From early spring until late fall, you’ll enjoy a profusion of sunshiny buds and flowers held proudly erect on some of the longest and strongest stems imaginable.

Montezuma (Plant Patent No. 1383)

That delicate pure pink shade, found only in the choicest Cattleya Orchids, has at last been reproduced in the new “Queen Elizabeth” Rose. All-America Winner for 1955. A lovely new color and new type as well, for this charming new ruler of rosedom is the first of a new class of “Grandiflora” Roses. Its exceptional vigor insures a healthier, more luxuriant blooming all season long. Queen Elizabeth flowers are borne on long, almost thornless stems both singly and in clusters.

Pink Parfait

Pink Parfait (Plant Patent No. 1904)

Pink Parfait is the latest A.A.R.S. winner in the Grandiflora class. Its flowers are a delicate blending of pink pastel shades, with the bud stage ranging from dawn-pink to apple-blossom-pink. The buds are medium sized but produced in heavy quantity, and it is not unusual for a mature plant to carry 100 or more buds at the same time. In the open stages, the semi-double flowers range from dawn-pink to deep rose, the color often varying somewhat according to the weather. Perhaps the most significant characteristic of this winner is the ease with which it can be grown anywhere in the United States.

Though the plants grow old, they never grow up—rarely exceeding 18 inches in height. The miniature buds expand into pure white flowers approximately an inch in diameter. The bushes are unique and novel in form, being globular or rounded like a freshly clipped Boxwood. The luxuriant foliage, so bright that it has the appearance of having been shellacked or polished, lends to the plants a snappy, tailored effect. From spring until fall, all through the season, the plants are literally smothered in a glistening white snowbank of Roses.

Each $2.00, Three $5.25, Doz. $21.00

Sweetheart Rose

Cecile Brunner Each $1.75, Three $4.65, Doz. $18.60

This dainty Rose produces flowers in quantities that are truly prodigious. Many stalks break from the base of the rugged plants, each stalk providing numerous sprays. Each stem of the spray is tipped with a dainty peach-pink bud. The deep peach-pink changes to salmon in the opening flowers, and at the height of the season the entire plant is a bank of soft pink and salmon. This lovely effect can be transferred into the home, where you will find its delicate flowers last for many days.

Cecile Brunner (Shown life size)

Miniature Roses

Miniature Roses are best used as edgings or in solid beds by themselves. Like all Roses, they prefer a good, rich loam with a pH of 6.5, in other words, just slightly acid. In cold localities, they should be protected from too severe weather. A slight hilling of soil around the plants and a generous covering of straw will bring them through the winter nicely. In spring, trim dead tips only. Do not remove any more growth than necessary. Feed with Wayside Gardens' Plant Food. An occasional spray, such as is used for Roses, will keep them clean.

Small Flowered Cluster Roses

The Polyantha or Baby Roses are very popular for edging and for bedding purposes. The plants grow into shapely, compact bushes about 12 to 18 inches high and they are covered with a great mass of flowers from early in the season until severe frost destroys their beauty. The blooms, though small, are very effective, as they are arranged in showy trusses that accentuate their rich and beautiful coloring.

Rosa Rugosa Hybrids

Rugosa Roses are particularly valuable for hardiness, healthiness and ability to thrive under most adverse conditions of soil and climate, withstanding almost anything. They are distinguished by erect, very spiny stems, and by their tough, curiously wrinkled or Rugosa foliage. Particularly valuable for hedge or shrub-beries in seashore gardens and regions where winters are very severe. Many are everbloomers.

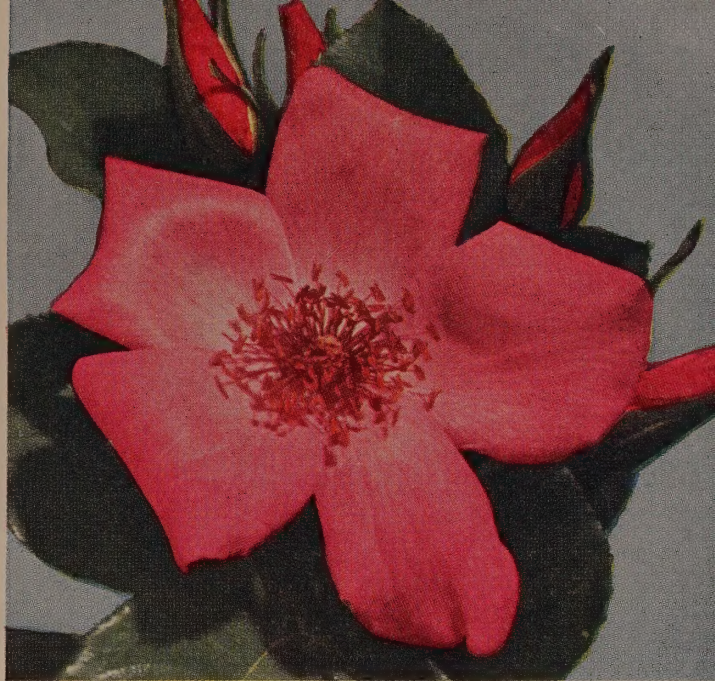

Planting Distance: Hedges—1½ to 2 feet. Shrubs—3 to 4 feet.

Pruning: Shrub types—cut out old canes and shorten new canes to 4 feet or less.

Height: 4 to 5 feet except where noted.

Flamingo Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

This variety is the result of a cross between Rosa Rugosa and Hybrid Tea Rose, White Wings. It is a fine, all-summer and autumn flowering shrub-like plant. The flower buds are pointed and occur in clusters. The saucer-like flowers follow each other in a constant procession until stopped by frost. Color is flamingo-pink in summer and a deeper rose-pink in fall. Grows to a height of about 4 to 5 feet; foliage abundant and rich gray-green. Has wintered in Mentor, Ohio, perfectly, not freezing back an inch in below zero temperatures. A fine border shrub blooming all season. Flowers more profusely if you don't fertilize it.

Frau Dagmar Hartopp Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

Like all Rugosa Roses it loves the seashore and does remarkably well on the poor, sandy soils which are usually found in such localities. The foliage is rich green and heavily crinkled, no black spot or similar troubles. The silvery pink flowers are studded all over the plants and rise just above the foliage from early June until frost; will stand below zero temperatures. Plants are rugged and hardy. An excellent European variety of recent introduction you will want for those difficult places not to mention for those sections of the country where Hybrid Tea Roses do not survive. Average height about 3 to 4 feet high, lower on poor soil; may be cut back to as low as 10 inches and will produce a sea of flowers.

Sweet Sultan

Noted for its Delightful Fragrance

Here is a most unusual Rose; first of all it is perpetual flowering. The large single flowers come in small clusters, are scarlet heavily shaded velvety maroon with gleaming golden anthers. A striking flower in the garden and superb for cutting. An unusual feature and added attraction is the rich autumnal color of its foliage. It can be used as a dwarf climber, or if you wish, a handsome shrub Rose for the border. It has great vigor and excellent health. Don't miss it.

Climbing Roses

Climbing Roses require no pruning in the spring beyond cutting out of very old or dead wood, and the shortening of the laterals and long canes to make the growth conform to the space to be covered; but a severe pruning in July, directly after they have finished flowering, is beneficial. Cutting away at that time some but not all old flowering wood will encourage a vigorous growth, which will give an abundance of flowers the following season.

Albertine

Each $2.25, Three $6.00, Doz. $24.00

One of the very best ramblers by virtue of the large flowers, red tinted foliage and quick growth. The color is light salmon-pink with shades of yellow, copper and red in the bud stage. Flowers in a wonderful mass in June and July with a few incidental blooms later. Fragrant and very vigorous. Use it on pergola, arch, pillar, or fence.

Blaze

Each $1.75, Three $4.65, Doz. $18.60

Hardy everblooming climbing Rose which inherits the blazing color of Paul's Scarlet Climber and the everblooming habit of Gruss an Tepitz, thus combining the most attractive features of both parents.

Crimson Shower

Each $2.50, Three $6.60, Doz. $26.40

A wonderful late blooming Wichuraiana rambler Rose. Flowers July through September. This extension of the flowering period of ramblers should prove of value to all who desire a planting scheme giving a succession of bloom. The flowers are produced in clusters in great abundance, are of rosette form and about an inch across. The clear shade of crimson certainly appears as an improvement on that of other red ramblers. The foliage is of the very best Wichuraiana type, consisting of shiny green leaflets which look highly polished. Use it on pillar, arch, pergola, fence. A great climbing Rose easily grown and prolific.

Dortmund (New)

Each $2.50, Three $6.60, Doz. $26.40

Introduced by Kordes in 1955, an outstanding constant blooming short climber or pillar Rose. Flowers occur in big clusters, blood-red or scarlet of such intensity that it unfailingly calls attention to itself. Until late in the autumn it will produce its brilliant blooms. Shiny dark green clean foliage for background completes the picture. A superb new variety.

and Pillar Roses

Dream Girl (Plant Patent No. 643)

Each $2.50, Three $6.60, Doz. $26.40

The new everblooming Hardy Climber and Pillar Rose. This variety fills a long-felt need for a real coral-pink, full-petaled, hardy climbing Rose. Another most appealing quality is its pleasant spicy and penetrating fragrance. The blooms last for days after cutting. Beginning in June when older climbers like Mary Wallace, Dr. W. Van Fleet and others in this class finish blooming, Dream Girl produces successive crops of flowers throughout the summer, ending with a gorgeous display in late fall. It has a neat, compact habit which allows for easy training on a 6- to 8-foot trellis or arbor; also does well when trained as a "pillar" Rose.

Gold Rush

Each $2.00, Three $5.25, Doz. $21.00

A vigorous climber, producing masses of handsome yellow flowers; has nice foliage and unlike most hardy climbers, it will produce flowers on its new growth for the season. We predict a great future for it. So far it has proven to be the best and hardiest of the yellow climbing Roses.

Golden Glow (Plant Patent No. 263)

Each $2.00, Three $5.25, Doz. $21.00

The pure spectrum-yellow Hybrid Tea-like flowers are 3½ to 5 inches in diameter, emitting a tea fragrance. Perfectly hardy. We consider it about the best all-around yellow Climber.

Inspiration

Each $2.50, Three $6.60, Doz. $26.40

Inspiration is an appropriate companion Rose for the new Dream Girl, with similar growth habit. It is not too rampant or tall growing and so has many uses on trellises, arbors, and pillars, of medium size and habit. Successive crops follow from June on through October and show the same sparkling tones as found in that old Hybrid Tea, Pink Radiance, and the once-blooming Mary Wallace Climber. It is very hardy, reliable and free blooming in all sections, same as Dream Girl Climber.

Paul's Scarlet

Each $1.50, Three $3.90, Doz. $15.60

This is one of the favorites. The flowers are scarlet-red, semi-double and freely produced in clusters of from three to ten flowers; each on much-branched canes. It is a strong grower and very hardy; canes are flexible and easily tied to a fence, pergola or post.

Sparrieshoop

Each $3.00, Three $7.95, Doz. $31.80

Imagine a flower of Dainty Bess about twice its size and you come close to the magnificent pink chiseled flower of Sparrieshoop. Many call it the perfect flower; never have we seen anything so near perfect in form and color. It is perpetual flowering, constantly providing you with the most beautiful cut flowers. You can grow it anywhere along with the shrubs, or provide a short post to tie it onto if you prefer to grow it as a pillar Rose. Originated by that famous rosarian, Kordes, who modestly says, "It is quite good." Don't miss this superb variety; it is easily grown, free from trouble and quite hardy.

White Dawn

Each $1.75, Three $4.65, Doz. $18.60

Here is the hardy, everblooming white climbing Rose we have been waiting for. Created by Dr. Longley of the University of Minnesota. The flowers are double, snow-white, fragrant and produced constantly from late spring to frost. Also, it WILL BLOOM THIS SUMMER AND FALL. With us, it is just as hardy as New Dawn, one of its parents.

Hardy Exbury and Knaphill Azaleas

Cultural Instructions Apply the same method as given for Azaleas

They are so named because they were developed by that fine plantsman Lionel de Rothschild on his estate named "Exbury." Sufficient time has elapsed since their creation several years ago to permit selection and re-production of the finest of these hybrids so that they could be sold by name. They are now offered here. One of their outstanding characteristics is hardiness. Below zero temperatures do not interfere with flowering. Their colors are exquisite and they are fragrant. Mature plants, depending on variety, will reach a height of 5 or 10 feet. We urge you to plant some of these aristocrats in front of the house or in any other choice spot; you will enjoy them for your entire life.

Aurora

The large, broad petaled flowers are a lovely salmon-pink with a distinctive golden flare on the upper petals. Heavy trusses of bloom add to its distinction.

Balzac

A fine red with flame markings on upper petals. Truss of flowers when established will measure 12 to 15 inches. Flowers are fragrant. One of the very good hybrids.

Basilisk

Truly one of the loveliest Exbury Azaleas. Each flower cluster contains from 12 to 14 flowers. The blossoms are 3½ inches wide, creamy yellow, frilled and fragrant.

Brazil

Tangerine-red flowers with a slightly frilled edge, color darkens with age. Outstanding in a mixed planting because of its unique bright color.

Bright Forecast

Warm shadings of salmon-pink and golden yellow. Large fragrant flowers; strong growing plant of fine habit.

Bright Straw

Deep rich yellow flowers which have the characteristic broad petals of the Exbury Azalea. Grows into a fine plant which is very hardy, and a heavy bloomer.

Cecile

Buds deep pink opening to salmon-pink with yellow flare, also noted for its large flower.

Exbury White

Large pure white flowers with orange-yellow blotch. A lovely white Azalea of good habit and sturdy growth.

Firefly

Apricot-yellow would describe the color best. Large flowers in big clusters are freely produced on a good strong growing plant. This is one of the lovely pastel colored varieties.

Gallipoli

A most unusual color in Azaleas, best described as watermelon-red. Large ruffled flowers on a compact growing plant.

Gibraltar

A beautiful luminous coppery red. The richly colored flowers are flat with broad petals and delightfully fringed. As the name implies, it is a strong grower and blooms exceedingly free.

Golden Girl

Deep yellow blooms with deeper golden yellow blotch make this an outstanding variety. Its strong rich color makes it stand out. Nice habit and strong growing.

Golden Sunset

Golden yellow flower with orange blotch. It was given an Award of Merit in 1956. One of the good deep yellow shades.

J. Jennings

The truest red of all the Exburys. While the flower size is not as large as the others, the color is excellent and a well established plant is a brilliant sight.

Marina

One of the best. Immense flowers of pale yellow with shadings of pink and deeper yellow. A charming color combination and a first class plant. One that is much sought after.

Maryclaire

Huge flowers beautifully frilled and lovely, apple-blossom-pink with yellow flare in the throat. One of the best pink varieties.

Middle East

A magnificent Azalea. Its deep yellow blooms have an orange shaded overtone which makes it brilliant and outstanding. No collection of these new Azaleas is complete without a specimen of this variety. Strong growing, free blooming, large trusses, as well as a superb coloring, make this an outstanding plant.

Orangeade

The large fringed flowers are a delightful pale orange, come in big clusters on a nice strong growing plant. Makes a bright cheerful show.

Pink Delight

Large rosy pink flowers in big bold trusses in great profusion would sum up the flowers, but that is not all. Pink Delight is outstanding as a fine strong growing plant of neat habit as well as exceptionally free blooming. If you want a deep pink colored Azalea, this is it.

Renne

This striking new variety is about as close as Mr. de Rothschild came to a large flowered red. The color is a rich flame-red, almost a self. We consider this to be one of the best in its color range.

Sonja

Sparkling white flowers in big clusters on a neat strong growing plant, one of the newest and best white varieties.

CULTURAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR DECIDUOUS AZALEAS

Plant them in a loose, well drained soil to which has been added liberal amounts of moist peat moss. Soak the soil thoroughly after planting, taking care to have the top of the root ball no more than one inch beneath the surface. A surface mulch of some loose humusy material such as dried leaves or coarse peat moss will be beneficial. Water plants freely during the summer months and be sure to remove the old flower trusses before they go to seed. This promotes fine flowers the next season. While they may be grown perfectly in full sun, the flowers will last longer if the plants are given the benefit of a little light shade. Do not cultivate deeply as the roots are close to the surface of the soil. For fertilizing we especially recommend cottonseed meal or cow manure; if neither are available, a heavy top dressing of Wayside Gardens Plant Food is excellent. Deciduous Azaleas, which means those kinds which are not evergreen, are shipped without a ball of earth just like any other common shrub so there are no heavy transportation charges involved.

Major de Rothschild's Estate. 150 acres of Azaleas and Rhododendrons
The Birthplace of de Rothschild Supreme Selections

The Unparalleled Perfection in Azaleas De Rothschild Supreme Selections *

The new DE ROTHSCHILD SUPREME SELECTIONS are unequalled by any other Azalea hybrids we have ever seen. The individual broad-petaled flowers are up to four inches across, and they range in color from pure white through soft pastels to deep yellows and fiery reds and oranges, almost unbelievable until one actually beholds them.

Here is exciting news for those who love Azaleas. And in these days that includes almost all gardeners, for certainly no other flowering shrub has, during recent years, gained so rapidly in popularity. An entirely new race of deciduous Azaleas were created by the late Lionel de Rothschild, who worked with them lovingly and patiently for over a quarter of a century at Exbury, his estate near Southampton, England. Mr. de Rothschild was perhaps England's most keen and discerning plantsman, and his collection of species and hybrid Azaleas is famous the world over. It covers two hundred and fifty acres.

DE ROTHSCHILD SUPREME AZALEAS are very hardy and are being successfully grown as far north as Nebraska.

The Story Behind Supreme Hybrid

Carefully note size of immense flower clusters

THE STORY behind the creation of these Supreme Selections is interesting. Beginning back in 1918, Mr. de Rothschild procured from Mr. Anthony Waterer, one of England's most renowned nurserymen, the choicest varieties of his famous Knaphill strain of Azaleas, considered the best at that time. The Knaphill Azaleas were the result of over fifty years' work of careful breeding and selection at the Waterer Nurseries, where American species, notably the eastern Flame Azalea (R. calendulaceum) and the California species R. occidentale were crossed with selected Mollis japonicum types to obtain greater hardiness, increased flower size, and a wider range of colors. Some of these were sufficiently distinct to be given individual names, one of these being an excellent yellow called George Reynolds. This, and selected plants of Rhododendron Molle, a large flowered yellow Chinese species, were used intensively to improve the Knaphill strain, which finally became known as the Exbury Hybrids. Several of these Exbury Hybrids were given names and propagated. Some twenty or more of these named varieties are offered on page 138.

The work of selecting and hybridizing was painstakingly carried forward. As the best of these new hybrids bloomed, it was Mr. de Rothschild's practice to select two parent plants from each color group; the pinks, reds, yellows, et cetera. These were chosen for size, vigor, color and texture. Then these selected parents would be crossed, care being exercised to keep each two parents within their own color category. As each succeeding generation flowered, he would destroy ruthlessly all except the few plants that measured up to his very exacting standards. All the rest, which numbered into the thousands, were yearly consigned to the bonfire, as he never kept one that failed to show improvement over its parents. And now you can enjoy the results of Mr. de Rothschild's decades of labor, tremendous expense and infinite patience.

the Creation of AZALEAS

IN KEEPING with Wayside Gardens' policy of finding and giving to American gardens the best in plants which the world has to offer, we now bring you exclusively and direct from Mr. de Rothschild's estate, the most perfect of his Supreme Selections of hardy Azaleas, propagated here at Wayside with all the care and skill that our generation of "root strength" experience can give them.

The flowers shown were picked at random from a lot of plants growing at Wayside Gardens and which are ready to be sold. We have not selected any special colors for sale so do not ask us to supply them as named varieties of the Supreme Selections are not yet available. It will be several years yet before we can do so and therefore offer the Supreme Selections in mixed colors only.

Supreme Hybrid Azaleas in Small Sizes

Several of our customers have written asking if they could not buy small plants of the Supreme Hybrids, stating they would enjoy growing the young plants into large specimens in their own gardens. Knowing that de Rothschild Supreme Hybrids are hardy, husky, strong growers and will not present a cultural problem but will readily develop into fine specimens, we have decided to offer two and three-year-old plants. They will bloom first or second year after planting.

Responds to the same treatment as the other Azaleas listed.

Hybrid Rhododendrons

We offer a fine lot of flowering plants in four sizes in various shades: Red shades, Pink shades, Lavender shades, Purple shades, as well as White.

Azalea Mucronulatum

One of the very first Azaleas to flower, opening rosy lavender flowers the same time as Forsythia. Planted in front of a Forsythia, it makes a handsome combination. It will succeed splendidly in soil which is almost alkaline. Quite fast growing. Give some water during very dry periods. Ultimate height about 6 feet. Makes a magnificent show in early spring.

Don't miss these, they are among the finest and earliest shrubs to bloom in spring. Easily grown, good foliage, increase in size rapidly. We consider this Azalea among the best. Hardy most anywhere.

Royal Azalea

AZALEA SCHLIPPENBACHI

Hardy as an Oak. Blooms beautifully in deep shade.

The Royal Azalea is one of the first to bloom. It produces clusters of big, showy Rhododendron-like flowers which are a soft rose-pink, clean and clear in color, making a beautiful show. Ultimate height of plant varies from 3 to 5 feet and they never fail to flower. What is more, they are hardy under zero temperatures, do well in shade or sun and do not require an acid soil nor do they need a heavy ball of earth for successful transplanting. A fine low-growing profuse flowering shrub for the border or planting in front of the house.

Early Azalea Schlippenbachi

One of the finest and easiest to grow of the Hardy Azaleas.
Perfect for shady places.

Azalea Mucronulatum

Azalea Pontica

They flower after the Azalea Mollis have finished flowering. Also known as Hardy Ghent Azalea.

Their blooming time, requirements and general habit are the same as those of Azalea Mollis. As to hardiness, they are even hardier but their special merit is the unusual range of colors which is available in this group. While the flowers of the Ghent Azaleas are not nearly as large as those of the Mollis varieties, their brilliance and variation of tints place them along the choicest spring shrubs. Most desirable in colder sections of the country, as because of their hardiness they never fail to bloom.

Ignaea Nova Each $5.00, Three $14.00, Doz. $50.00
Brilliant carmine-red flowers with gold blotch in big heads. Very outstanding and brilliant; in addition it is late flowering. A fine variety.

Swamp Honeysuckle

As its name implies it loves a wet spot; therefore a fine plant for low places in the garden. Does beautifully in full sun or light shade. Its white and blush-pink flowers just load the air with their delicate fragrance in late June and July. Hardy as an Oak, grows from 3 to 5 feet tall; foliage brilliantly colored in autumn. An excellent American Azalea of easiest culture.

HARDY VINES AND CLIMBERS

GIVE YOUR GARDEN A THIRD DIMENSION

Vines and vine-like climbing shrubs provide beauty where no other plants can—up in the air! They greatly increase the apparent size of the small garden, new pergolas, unsightly outbuildings or sheds, dead trees, wire and rough wooden fences, stony banks—into beauty spots. Considering the fact that, in addition to these virtues, most of them last for years or even a lifetime, and require an absolute minimum of ground space and care, it is surprising that we Americans make so little use of them. In England, much of the universally recognized charm of the humblest cottage gardens to the most extensive estates, is due to the generous use of vines. Look about your garden and see where a vine or two could add immeasurably by covering a too-prominent wall surface, or softening and beautifying too harsh, bold lines.

The following pages present a wide selection of vines and climbers, adapted to many different purposes. Is your problem a bare wall on the shady side of the house? Then Climbing Hydrangea, the aristocrat of all wall vines, is the answer. Or perhaps you have a narrow wall surface in the sun, where one of the large-flowered Clematis would be a show piece—and incidentally they are just as effective trained to a post, in providing third-dimensional color in the flower border. The small-flowered Clematis Montana rubens and Tangutica make a show all summer and into autumn, and are tough enough to thrive in any sunny location.

For masses of color way up in the air—on a balcony, along an eave or atop a pergola—nothing surpasses Wisterias. Ours are not the usual plants, grown from seed, but are from grafts and have bloomed in our nursery before we send them out. A tree-form Wisteria makes a strikingly beautiful lawn specimen.

For a vine to be trained—by a moderate amount of pruning—to fit any space or assume any desired form, there is nothing to equal Pyracantha Lalandi, an evergreen Firethorn which is attractive with white flowers in spring and retains its autumn clusters of burning orange berries well into the winter. And for a graceful tracery effect on fine stonework which must not be completely covered, there is nothing better than the self-climbing daintily fern-leaved Ampelopsis Lowi, a miniature leaved form of the commonly used Boston Ivy.

Hydrangea Petiolaris

CLIMBING HYDRANGEA • THE CHOICEST OF ALL VINES

Hydrangea Petiolaris—Climbing Hydrangea. The choicest vine.
Par excellence for growing on shady walls.

This perhaps is the finest and choicest of the following vines offered in our catalog. It is not a rampant growing plant but when established makes good growth each year. It is woody but clings to brick or wooden walls without support, and also does fine on old trees or stumps.

Its foliage is bold, clean and shrub-like, and a rich dark green color. Short spur branches projecting from the wall are topped with white fragrant Hydrangea-like blooms throughout the summer. The effect created is most artistic as well as amazing.

Last, but not least, it does equally well in shade or sun. In fact, we recommend the Climbing Hydrangea for north, west walls or such places where shade is dense in summer. If you own one of these vines you will have something you will admire all your life. The height can be easily controlled from 10 to 20 feet as desired.

It is difficult to transplant field-grown or large plants. We therefore send you young stock from 6-inch pots which will reach a height of 2 to 3 feet the first year. It prefers a warm, well drained location.

Silver Variegated Baltica Ivy

Stardust *Each 80c, Three $2.25, Doz. $8.00,
100 $50.00*

This is a lovely silvery variegated form of the Baltic Ivy. The leaves are as if dusted with silver and silver edged, closely set along the vine and they are somewhat smaller than those produced by the green variety. The effect created is cool and so unusual and uncommon it is almost startling in a mild sort of way. Here really is something choice be it as a vine to grow on a wall, or as a ground cover. It is also very attractive as a house plant in a north window. Only a limited number of plants available in 2½-inch pots.

The New Double Blue Clematis

A beautiful variety of Clematis with large double blue flowers composed of pointed petals, giving the effect of an exploding star. They occur in tremendous quantities on well established plants. It is a robust climber and makes a good show over a long period. However, the first year after planting while becoming established it will produce single flowers as well as double, but will bloom fully double as soon as it is well established. It is a magnificent vine.

Large Flowered Clematis

The Most Colorful Vines for the Garden

These European garden treasures are notable for their spectacular flowers. Outstanding in color and in form, they lend distinction and charm to any garden. Grown on trellises, arbors, pergolas, old tree stumps, and walls, these climbing plants flaunt their beauty in high places above other flowers. They are superb subjects to be grown on posts placed in the hardy border, providing, as it were, color on top of color.

Both the large and the small-flowered varieties are a "must" in every garden. While the large-flowered forms provide great richness of color, the small-flowered kinds impress us with their curiously formed flowers which are produced in great abundance. All varieties last well when cut and lend themselves to many unique arrangements.

Culture: Clematis are very easily grown if you will observe a few requirements. First, they enjoy a rich, loose soil. This is easily prepared anywhere. If your soil is heavy, mix it freely with peat moss or any other humus. For top results, make the planting hole very much larger and deeper than needed for the size of the roots. The large hole, filled up to the right height with good soil, provides an excellent root run which in turn brings forth a quick, luxuriant growth and many more flowers. Remember, you are planting a vine. It needs ample nourishment to make the growth it is called upon to do. At time of planting it is recommended three-quarters of the top growth be cut back. The crown should be covered with $\frac{1}{2}$ to 1 inch of earth. This is a must, never leave crown or sprouts uncovered. A light mulch around the plant is helpful to retain moisture. The contents of a 4 inch flower pot of Wayside Plant Food mixed into the soil used for planting is ample. Top dress soil each spring with same amount for luxurious growth.

(We do not ship Clematis into California, Washington or Oregon.)

Clematis Paniculata

Clematis Virgin's Bower

Besides the large-flowered Clematis, there are several varieties producing smaller blooms in large panicles. All are very desirable and most useful as climbing plants for trellis, arbor or posts. The golden-flowered Clematis Tangutica as well as Montana are of strong growth and are splendid vines in bloom all summer. Paniculata which really is one of the loveliest, sweet-scented vines we have, makes a magnificent show in autumn.

Culture: All require a rich, light, well drained soil and should be grown in full sun. A support should be provided for them to climb on, and it is well to tie the vines in their early growth. Trim and remove dead vines early in spring. Plant in fall or early spring and for free-blooming, give an annual feeding.

Coccinea texensis

Grow 10 to 12 feet. A very handsome, hardy climber, bearing small, thick, bell-shaped flowers, of bright coral-red, in wonderful profusion from June till frost. Each $3.00

Montana Alba

A strong growing and vigorous as well as an extremely hardy vine which will thrive under most adverse conditions. Grow it on a fence, trellis, or old apple tree which it will cover with masses of starry-white blossoms which can be seen from a great distance. Flowering in April and May, it is one of our best spring blooming climbers. Each $3.00

Montana Rubens

Same habit and same virtues as Montana Alba except that flowers vary from blush-pink to pink. Each $3.00

Paniculata

This hardy climber is one of the choicest and most satisfactory climbing, flowering plants. Of strong, rapid growth with small, dense, cheerful green foliage and pure white, deliciously fragrant flowers, in greatest profusion in August and September. 2-year plants. Each $2.00

Tangutica (Golden Clematis)

An easily grown variety from Western China. Its soft gray-green leaves form a fine background for great masses of large, nodding yellow flowers which are followed by silvery gray, feathery seed clusters. This is one of the good, all summer and fall flowering vines, growing well even under adverse conditions. Each $3.00

Venosa Violaacea

CLEMATIS JOUINIANA, MRS. ROBERT BRYDON

By crossing the lovely sweet scented, deep blue, bushy or dwarf Clematis Davidiana with a very strong and robust growing native American variety, we obtained a beautiful climber, which grows about 8 to 10 feet high. The top of this vine is covered with billowy masses of pale watery blue flowers at their best in August and September. It is perfect for covering fences, trellises and pergolas. Being absolutely hardy, it can be used anywhere. Is entirely free from insect pests, is always neat because the past season's growth should be partly removed each fall leaving about 3 feet, not more. Easy to grow. Ordinary garden soil will do. Each $3.00

Bignonia (Campsis) Trumpet Vine

Mme. Galen

Each $4.00, Three $11.00, Doz. $40.00

The Scarlet Trumpet Vine, Bignonia Radicans, is one of the popular vines found growing on many fences, barns or stone walls. It has been discontinued by us, however, in favor of the much lovelier hybrid Mme. Galen. The blooms of Mme. Galen are open, flaring flowers 2½ to 3 inches across and grow in clusters all summer long. The color is rich apricot, tinted orange, handsome and showy against the fine foliage of the plant. No insects bother it. It is clean, quick growing and requires no support. It will fasten itself to brick or wood. Is perfectly hardy but likes a sunny location. You will never fail to admire its flowers throughout the summer.

Yellow Trumpet

Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

The apricot-yellow flowered trumpet vine is one of the most cheerful vines to bloom during summer. Its requirements are very simple, ordinary soil not too rich and plenty of sunlight is all it needs. The clusters of bright apricot trumpet-like flowers are freely produced throughout the entire summer and well into fall. Hardy anywhere; insects don't bother it, perfect for fences or covering trees or walls. Needs no fastening as it clings tenaciously to whatever support is provided. It really should be called Apricot Trumpet.

Ampelopsis (Vitis Inconstans) Boston Ivy

Lowi (Miniature Boston Ivy) Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

The small-leaved Boston Ivy is a charming self-clinging and quickly climbing vine. The leaves are small, palm-like and deeply lobed, turning into beautiful autumn tints before falling. This variety is especially well adapted to cover stone gate posts or low walls. The close fitting short-stemmed leaves do not allow birds to nest. Its effect is tracery-like and does not completely cover the brick or stonework. It is quickly replacing the common Boston Ivy or Veitchi variety, because it is so much more charming for small surfaces.

Ampelopsis, Beverly Brooks

Ampelopsis

Beverly Brooks Form

Each $3.00

A much improved Ampelopsis Veitchi. It is far superior to the usual type which we have discarded; completely self-clinging. The leaves are small and shiny during the summer and assume various red autumn tints. It is not too rampant and can be grown in any exposure. The plants we offer are grown from cuttings, in so doing all the fine characteristics are retained of this much superior form. It is superb in covering large surfaces, its shiny leaves taking on delightful autumn colors. Here is a vine you will enjoy all your life and well worth the little extra money. Resulting from a superior method of reproduction.

Graceful Ampelopsis Lowi

Lonicera-Honeysuckle

Their climbing qualities are all that can be desired, but the fragrance of their flowers makes their strongest bid for favor. They are perhaps to the old-fashioned garden as a vine what the Hollyhocks are as a plant. They simply should be there somewhere.

Goldflame

Each $2.00, Three $5.75, Doz. $20.00

Immense, showy clusters of trumpet-shaped buds and fragrant blooms. The outside of the petals is brilliant flame-pink, the inside a creamy golden yellow. Dark glossy foliage adds to its charm. The plants can be sheared to form a hedge or allowed to grow naturally as a vine or shrub. Blooms freely from early spring until heavy frost.

Halliana

Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00

Hall's Honeysuckle is so well known it needs no further introduction. It is a favorite old-fashioned vine with fragrant buff-yellow flowers throughout the summer. Does well in shade or sun and is excellent for covering rough objects or banks. (Also see our offering on page 6).

Halliana Aurea Maculata

Each $2.00, Three $5.75, Doz. $20.00

This is the golden variegated form of the well known Hall's Honeysuckle. The golden foliage is quite stunning and ornamental when seen on trellis or fence. Branches taken from it contribute handsomely to the effect of a vase of flowers. In the garden the golden-leaved Honeysuckle makes a colorful display which lasts well into the winter. In milder climates the leaves are retained throughout the winter. Flowers are buff-yellow and as fragrant as the common Honeysuckle.

Henryi

Each $2.00, Three $5.75, Doz. $20.00

The Evergreen Honeysuckle. There are practically no vines which retain their foliage during the winter in the colder parts of the country. Therefore, the Henryi Honeysuckle is a very valuable variety. Its long, clean, dark green leaves remain on the vine all winter. The flowers, while fragrant, are of no importance, but the blue-black berries produced in autumn add materially to the charm of this plant. Does well in shade and is also an excellent windbreak. Hardy as an Oak.

Lonicera Halliana Aurea Maculata

Sempervirens Magnifica

Each $3.00,

Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

A magnificent Evergreen Honeysuckle with coral colored blooms of large size and beautiful blue-gray-green foliage. The brilliant and cheerful flowers are freely produced; a worth-while novelty which is particularly well adapted where a not too large space must be covered, because it does not grow as big as any of the other kinds offered.

Serotina, Winchester

Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

Also called the late Honeysuckle. Flowers are rich red-purple outside and produced in abundance from July until October. A clean, fast and strong growing vine which makes a colorful ground cover as well. A fine improvement over the common Honeysuckle. Sweetly scented!

Celastrus Bittersweet or Wax Work

Loeseneri (Chinese Bittersweet)

Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

Surest and most prolific fruiting variety known. This new importation is a rare species from Central and Western China. The clean leaves are glaucous green and somewhat larger than those of the common Bittersweet. It is the most prolific fruiting kind we know. In autumn, yellow and orange-scarlet berries cover the vine all over instead of in occasional small clusters as in the common Bittersweet. It's a sure fruiter. You do not have to plant two plants in one hole.

Angulatus (Giant Wax Work)

Each $3.50

A bold vine with immense clusters of berries which make a terrific show in the autumn. Do not attempt to use it on a small trellis; it is too big a vine for that. Perfect for covering a good size pergola or arbor or fence where it will have room to develop.

Lonicera Halliana

Lonicera Serotina Winchester

Polygonum—Silver Lace Vine

Akebia

Trifoliata

Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

A fine, rather fast growing climber with rich dark green bug-free trifoliate leaves. In a very short time, it reaches its maximum height of about 20 feet. There are numerous small purple flowers in April. Needs no particular growing requirements. Does well in shade and sun. A fine clean foliage plant. A No. 1 for covering trellis, fence or stumps.

Euonymus - Evergreen Bittersweet

The Most Versatile, Hardy, Easily Grown Evergreen Vine and Shrub. The Plant of 1000 Uses.

The Euonymus are particularly desirable for their dense, evergreen foliage and extreme hardiness, some varieties on account of this taking the place of the English Ivy for wall covering, others that of the Boxwood as an edging plant, while Acuta is a splendid ground cover, and one of the best creepers for rockeries is Kewensis. All do well in sun or shade.

Radicans vegetus

(Evergreen Bittersweet.) A strong growing variety, with larger leaves than the type, and producing bright orange-red berries, which remain on the plant the greater part of the winter. As an evergreen, absolutely hardy wall cover, this plant is unequalled. Beautiful on big old trees or shady places.

Kewensis

Each $1.75, Three $4.75, Doz. $18.00, 100 $125.00

(Miniature Evergreen Bittersweet). A variety with very small, dark green foliage. Everyone who has seen this appreciates its value as a graceful vine or ground cover. It grows close to the ground, and is a most valuable plant for a shady place in the garden where a dainty evergreen is needed. Fine ground cover under small trees. Beautiful as a small vine.

Euonymus Vegetus

Lycium

Lycium - Chinese Carnosum

A most attractive vine-like plant. The soft purple, dainty starry flowers are followed by pendent, oval, bright orange-red fruits whose clusters bow down the whip-like arching branches. Small, narrow, gray-green leaves on long twiggy growth. Flowers in May and June while the brilliant red fruit remains for months. It is a shrubby vine perfect for an airy effect. Hardy and requires no care, always effective and eye-catching.

Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

Polygonum - Silver Lace Vine

Auberti (Silver Lace Vine) Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

One of the fastest growing vines in cultivation. The foliage is perfectly clean. No insects bother it. It has no pests and it grows 15 to 20 feet the first year after planting. In summer it is covered from top to toe with foamy sprays of white flowers. It requires a warm, sunny exposure and well-drained sandy soil, fairly rich. If given these conditions its growth is astounding. Will cling to any kind of support, and it will cover an unsightly building, wall or barn in two years time. Be sure to plant only in full sun, eastern or southern exposure. Is harmless on shingle or wooden walls.

Tree Wisteria

Few plants are as impressive and lovely as the Tree Wisteria when in bloom.

CARE OF TREE WISTERIAS

The proper time to "shape-up" or "trim" your Tree or Vine Wisteria is from the third week in July until August 15th. Cut back new growth to fourth or fifth bud. Fertilize only during winter months—November, December and January—never in spring. Spring feeding induces unreasonable growth and not flowers. Very important it is to remember that newly transplanted Wisteria trees or vines often do not "leaf out" until August. Water plants freely while in this apparent dormant state.

Wisterias

THE QUEEN OF VINES

All Wisterias we send out, either vines or tree form, have flowered in the nursery. You can absolutely depend on yours to bloom. Newly transplanted Wisterias sometimes remain dormant (show no leaves) until August. Don't be alarmed at this dormant state. Water freely deep down and they will start when they are "good and ready."

Floribunda "Issai" Each $6.00
A very fine thing, entirely distinct and having many excellent qualities. Flowers a clear purple, much deeper color than common Japanese and are borne very profusely. It is also decidedly precocious, coming into bloom very young. The short, silky seed pods hang on all winter if not cut off, and are quite ornamental.

Floribunda longissima Each $6.00
Extra long clustered Wisteria. Lavender-blue. We have actually measured clusters well over four feet long and there is dependable record of old vines producing occasional clusters fully six feet long! If the longest possible clusters are wanted fertilize heavily in autumn after the leaves have fallen, but not in spring or during the growing season.

Floribunda longissima alba Each $6.00

Floribunda rosea Each $6.00
Pink Wisteria. The finest Pink Wisteria we have ever seen. Clusters about 15 to 18 inches long. Slow to begin flowering but once started it blooms profusely. All plants have already bloomed in the nursery.

Floribunda violacea plena Each $6.50
Double Violet Wisteria. The only double Wisteria known in this country, has the darkest colored flowers of all. They are exactly like dark purple Violets borne in clusters about 15 to 18 inches long. Very free bloomer.

Royal Purple Each $6.00
Truly a royal vine. Its freedom of bloom and magnificent clusters of flowers proclaim it to be one of the best. The long heavy clusters of purple-blue flowers completely cover the plant. We offer nothing but plants which have flowered in the nursery. The carefully grafted kind that is sure to bloom quickly.

Sinensis (Chinese Wisteria) Each $5.00
This is the old favorite called Chinese Purple, but really lavender shaded blue. Our plants are guaranteed to bloom.

Sinensis alba (White Chinese Wisteria) Each $5.00
Has white fragrant flowers. Our grafted plants are guaranteed to bloom.

INFORMATION ABOUT WISTERIAS

Because the flower buds can be killed by extremely low temperatures, Wisterias may fail to flower and are not recommended for planting in the following states: Idaho, Iowa, Maine, Northern Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, North Dakota, South Dakota, Vermont, Northern Wisconsin and Wyoming.

CARE OF WISTERIA VINES

All our stock is grafted and grown in a special manner to induce early bloom rather than a lot of useless wood. Seedlings or plants improperly propagated may go eight or ten years without ever producing a flower. We maintain that if wood is the main thing wanted, it is more economical to patronize a lumber yard than a nursery.

For largest flowers, fertilize Wisterias in autumn after leaves have fallen; never during spring or summer as this induces too much growth and no flowers. It is essential to expose Wisterias to full sun if you want an abundance of blooms.

Tree Wisterias

No more lovely sight can be imagined than a Tree Wisteria in bloom. The purplish blue flowers are produced by the hundreds and completely cover the tree during May, transforming it into a thing of sheer beauty. In formal gardens Tree Wisterias are indispensable. On the lawn they develop into beautiful specimens and live for generations, increasing in beauty and dignity each successive season. The plants we offer are grown on stems about 4 to 5 feet high and the crowns are about 2½ to 3 feet in diameter. Every plant has bloomed before it leaves our nursery.

Blue Tree Wisteria Each $9.00, A Matched Pair for $17.00
The most popular color. These were grown from grafts taken of the variety illustrated in color.

White Tree Wisteria Each $10.00, A Matched Pair for $19.00

The new varieties are perfectly beautiful. The flower clusters are longer and the various kinds offer a variety of color and form. For color descriptions see under heading "Wisterias," above.

Hardy Baltic and English Ivy

The famous English Ivy with its familiar evergreen, glossy foliage, requires winter protection in cold sections of the country where it is exposed to chilly winds on open walls. It can, however, be planted with perfect safety as a ground cover or as an edging to flower beds anywhere. Baltica as well as the Bulgarian are perfectly hardy and we recommend their use on the north side and west side of buildings and walls or in shady places or as a ground cover under trees in dense shade. The 2½-inch pot plants offered are very economical.

ENGLISH IVY (Hedera helix) For Ground Covering in Shade

English Ivy should be used where temperatures are not too severe.

HARDY BALTICA IVY (Hedera helix gracilis) For Covering Walls

The well known English Ivy with its shiny, evergreen, glossy foliage is not suited for the northern parts of this country as a wall covering. It is lovely on the walls throughout the south, but its use should be carefully considered north of Washington, D. C.

The north wall of our office building in Mentor, Ohio, is completely covered with a fine form of the Baltica Ivy (Hedera helix gracilis). Baltica Ivy will withstand temperatures as low as 10 degrees below zero but only when growing on north and west walls. Bright sunlight on east and south walls will kill it. For that position you'd better use Climbing Hydrangea or Boston Ivy for solid covering or its miniature form, the variety Lowi if a tracery effect is preferred.

BALTICA IVY—Stardust

Each 80c, Three $2.25, Doz. $8.00, 100 $50.00

This is a lovely silvery variegated form of the Baltica Ivy. The leaves are as if dusted with silver and silver edged, closely set along the vine and they are somewhat smaller than those produced by the green variety. The effect created is cool and so unusual and uncommon it is almost startling in a mild sort of way. Here really is something choice, be it as a vine to grow on a wall, or as a ground cover. It is also very attractive as a house plant in a north window. Only a limited number of plants available in 2½-inch pots.

BULGARIAN IVY (Hedera Helix Bulgarica)

Plants from 2½-inch pots, Doz. $6.75, 100 $40.00, 1000 $350.00

This fine hardy Ivy was obtained by us from the Botanic Gardens of St. Louis. Its foliage is much the same shape as that of Hedera Gracilis differing particularly in its shiny leaves which are also more closely set along the stems. Its hardiness equals that of the common Baltic Ivy and is fine for covering walls as well as a ground cover.

Hardy Vines and Climbers Their Care and Culture

PRUNING SUGGESTIONS

As a general rule, climbers should not blot out or completely mask a wall. Instead, they should break up its surface, permitting some of the brick or stonework to show through. Ampelopsis, Ivies and similar vines should, therefore, have their growth thinned out by the complete but judicious removal of certain runners at their point of junction with those that are to remain. No snags must be left. The careful spacing of branches or runners is the rule.

GROWTH HABIT

Self-clinging Climbers produce anchorage on their young growth either on the stem or the ends of the tendrils. They, therefore, only become self-clinging once fresh growth is made. It is advisable to cut back newly purchased or planted plants severely so that fresh young shoots or runners will be quickly induced. It may be not until the second season before plants are fully anchored.

Any reasonable soil will grow most vines quickly. It is advisable not to set a vine tight against a wall. Better leave a foot of space between plant and wall as it makes for better growth and root action.

HEDGES

Nothing adds more to the general appearance of a property than neat, well chosen hedges to provide privacy, supplemented by suitable edgings or low borders to demark the several areas within the grounds. Many famous old gardens owe much of their charm to just such plantings.

By making selections from the very complete list available here at Wayside you can enjoy not only the distinction which hedges and screens lend to your garden, but an added thrill from possessing the unusual, for a number of our plants have come from private estates abroad, and are to be had only from us. Among these new and improved varieties are many which, due to definite habits of growth eliminate or reduce to a minimum, the pruning and clipping required by outmoded forms.

Among the choice hedge and border plants we offer are tall but narrow growing species that give privacy without taking up too much space; others of medium height; and still others that are low growing, or even miniature in size, suitable for framing beds or borders, or edging walks. Some of the new varieties of hedge plants are so upright and compact as to require practically no care in the way of pruning or trimming—a great help in these days of high cost labor and crowded weekends.

TALL HEDGES (4 to 5 feet) are needed on almost every place for protection along boundary lines, or as "dividers" between different areas. Such a planting is a long-term investment, often for a lifetime, and one should not be content with the usual Privet, requiring constant clipping, and often killed in severe winters; nor with the usually unkempt Barberry. If you wish to use either Privet or Barberry, there are much more satisfactory varieties available than those commonly sold.

One of the greatest contributions in many years to the ranks of plants useful as hedges is the Mentor Barberry (Berberis Mentor-ensis). In moderate climates it remains evergreen through the winter, and even as far north as Chicago and Boston, until mid-winter or later; it is so upright in habit that it can be grown without pruning; will grow in almost any soil; and is dense and thorny enough at the base to make a real barrier against animals. It thrives in hot dry locations such as near foundation walls.

A Yew hedge always adds a mark of distinction to any garden, becoming ever more beautiful with the passing years. The very best variety we feel for this purpose is Taxus Hatfieldi.

Maintaining a good looking hedge in shade is no easy matter. Because of lack of sunlight the plants usually lose their foliage near the ground, causing a lanky naked appearance. A shrub that is eminently satisfactory in such a difficult location is Ribes Alpinus or the Alpine Currant. Its foliage is small and dense; it is much branched and tight growing, forming a compact plant. Its growth is slow, requires the minimum of pruning, probably once or twice a year. Will survive 20 below zero just as well as 100 in the shade. Also the new upright growing Snowberry, Symphoricarpos White Hedge, only recently imported from abroad, is a hedge that will do perfectly in deep shade, in full sun and is indisputably hardy.

HEDGES OF MEDIUM HEIGHT (2 to 4 feet). Many of the plants in the preceding group may, by more or less constant shearing, be kept as low as three feet, but there are kinds of natural dwarf growth not requiring frequent clipping or pruning to keep them at the desired height. Among these is a remarkably hardy Box from Korea so tough that it is grown even in Canada. A low hedge with beautiful foliage in autumn is Aronia—the new upright form. Especially good in quite heavy shade, as is Deutzia gracilis, producing lovely sprays of white flowers which are superb for cutting. Another outstanding low hedge or edging shrub is Potentilla. Two varieties, Katherine Dykes and Gold Drop, do not require pruning and are in bloom from spring until frost. Best grown in colder sections, thrives at twenty-five degrees below zero.

Most of us think of Cotoneasters as spreading plants—hence the common name Rockspray. But C. divaricata, shrub-like in form, in addition to its attractive Box-like foliage, brightens the autumn garden with a display of brilliant Christmas-red berries. For a hedge topping a bank or wall we suggest Cotoneaster apiculata with semi-drooping branches that give it a graceful, rounded top, starred during autumn and early winter with red berries similar in appearance to cranberries, seldom over two and one-half feet high. Interesting color notes may be introduced with dwarf Golden Privet (Ligustrum Vicari), a slow grower and reliably hardy; also the Arctic Willow (Salix purpurea nana) with blue-gray foliage that harmonizes with neighboring flowers of any or all colors; it is tough, thrives in wet soils and low temperatures.

MINIATURE HEDGES OR EDGINGS (12 to 24 inches). Often a permanent but very dwarf border is wanted to edge a narrow path or a flower border. Where dwarf English Box cannot be used, a good substitute is Pachistima Canbyi, a compact evergreen for sun or light shade. Less than a foot tall and with a natural spread of eighteen inches, these hardy little plants make an ideal miniature hedge, either sheared to a narrow width or left natural. The dwarf Hedge Viburnum (V. opulus nanum) is exceptionally good in wet or heavy soils and makes a rather large-leaved hedge not over twenty-four inches even when left untrimmed. It thrives in shade or sun and withstands extreme cold. For brilliant color in a low border there is nothing to equal Crimson Pygmy Barberry—but it must have full sun as otherwise it loses color. This little gem of a hedge plant remains at about a foot in height without trimming.

Sunny Locations. Not infrequently there arises the problem of maintaining a small hedge or edging in a very sunny position. Helpful here are things such as Potentilla Gold Drop, flowering all summer and hardy to the Arctic Circle; and Hypericum Hidcote for moderate and warmer climes.

EDGINGS. All of the above are woody plants, but there are also herbaceous kinds that are excellent for dwarf hedges, and especially for borders along walks or around flower beds. Among these are Santolina, Teucrium, Lavender, and where Lavender is not hardy enough, we suggest you use the dwarf compact Sage, or the gray-leaved George Graves Thyme; Heuchera Rosamundi and Dianthus, especially the varieties Essex Witch, Her Majesty and Old Spice.

For Shade. While not usually thought of as hedge plants, there are a few perennials that make good low borders or edgings in fairly dense shade. Most vigorous and effective is Hosta or Funkia, available in several varieties, including H. variegata, with cream and green foliage. Epimediums give a shower of delightfully fairy-like blooms in spring, while the decorative foliage lasts late into autumn.

Taxus Hatfieldi

Cotoneaster

Multiflora

Hedging size, 2 to 3 feet:

Each $1.75, Three $4.75, Doz. $18.00, 100 $125.00

Here follows a report published by the nationally famous Morton Arboretum of Lisle, Illinois: "More spectacular are the red-fruited forms, which comprise a majority of the species in cultivation. Of these, Cotoneaster Multiflora is a perennial favorite here. Our greatest specimen has long since exceeded its designated ultimate height, and grown into a shapely bush 10 feet tall. The whip-like branches are arching and spreading, and in late May erupt along the entire length into clusters of white Hawthorn-like flowers. An effect equally pleasing prevails in autumn when good sized crimson fruits of dazzling brilliance fringe the branches. They remain effective well into October or November. Between the flowering and fruiting seasons, interest is furnished by the broad, clean appearing foliage of soft blue-green." For hedges this variety is particularly well adapted.

Euonymus

Alatus compactus Hedging size, Each $2.75, Three $7.85, Doz. $27.50

In the Arnold Arboretum in Boston this shrub causes much comment each autumn for its unbelievable brilliance of foliage. Its compact growth, easy culture, and slow growth make it one of the outstanding shrubs for hedges as well as individual specimens in the garden. Its ultimate height is six feet. Does well in shade. Ours is the true compact, slow growing form and perfect for that small hedge which does not require clipping. In late fall it will turn into a line of fire. Hardy anywhere.

Please see page 179 for color.

Deutzia

Gracilis

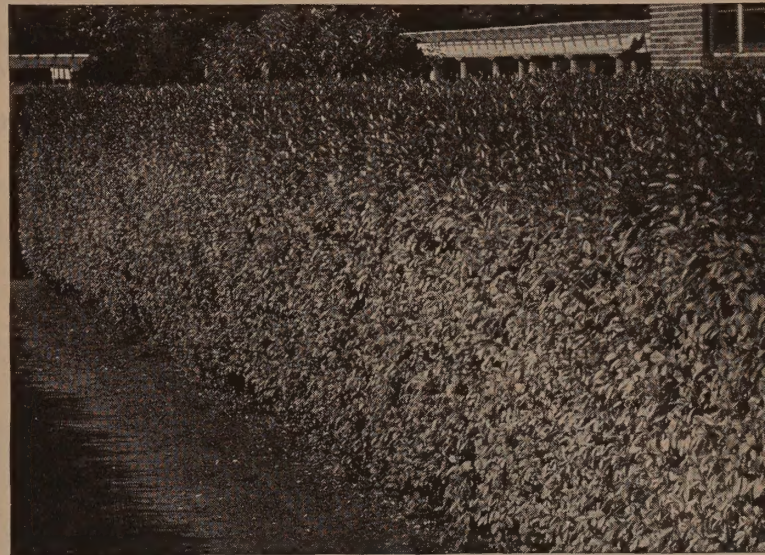

Special size for hedges, about 15 inches high, Three $3.50, Doz. $11.00, 100 $75.00

Here is one of the nicest low growing and prolific flowering shrubs for small low hedges. It does perfectly in full sun but it is just as happy in light shade. Masses of white flowers in May over a long period cover the plant. It is so formal and compact in its growth it needs no pruning. Just the same if it is desired in a smaller size than its natural growth, clip it to the size required; this is best done immediately after flowering. Perfectly hardy and requires no care. Hedge shown bloomed the same year it was planted. Ultimate height if not pruned, about 2 feet, spreading 18 to 24 inches. Can be pruned to retain size of 12 inches wide and 18 inches in height without impairing its free blooming.

Hatfieldi One of the Finest Upright English Yews

There is really nothing finer and richer looking than a hedge of dark evergreen foliage such as that produced by the English Yew. In winter or summer it is always something to be proud of and enjoy. It is pyramidal in growth and requires the minimum of trimming. Being one of the choicest evergreens and somewhat slow growing, large plants, as a result, are quite expensive. So many visitors to the nursery have urged us to sell them smaller sizes, telling us they were perfectly willing to start with less expensive plants. We, therefore, decided to offer this in the smaller size.

Ligustrum

Amurense (Hardy Amur River Privet)

Amur River Privet grows upright and looks much like the common California Privet but it is much hardier and much more vigorous. By all means it is the best variety for planting in severe climates. It is almost evergreen and quickly makes a superb closely-clipped hedge. Remember Privet hedges look best when wedge shaped in section and not square topped. The best size and fastest growing are plants about 2 to 3 feet high.

Hardy Korean Boxwood Hedge

Buxus Koreana - Hardy Korean Box

Korean Boxwood

This is one of the most satisfactory of evergreen hedge plants. Our original stock came from Canada and was used to temperatures many degrees below zero. It thrives where it is impossible to have the common Boxwood. We have grown a nice quantity of plants at Mentor outdoors without protection subject to all weather conditions and we recommend it wholeheartedly. Its foliage is not quite as round or shiny as of the well known Boxwood but it is just as effective. You may clip it into a formal low hedge or, if you prefer, let it grow more or less natural. We furnish plants which will permit either way of handling.

Light shade or sun in any reasonably good soil. Plant fall or spring 6 to 8 inches apart.

The Best Barberry

Drought Resistant Mentor Barberry

BERBERIS MENTORENSIS (Plant Patent No. 99)

It has very stiff, upright growing branches and quite formidable thorns. Its foliage is heavy and thick and of perfect color—a green as dark as the Japanese Yew. In hot and dry seasons or in localities where high temperatures go hand in hand with lack of rain, it never shows any signs of rust and discoloration of foliage no matter how hot or dry it may be. In Ohio the leaves remain green until after the holidays. In Kansas, Oklahoma, Utah, and the Southwest, Berberis Mentorensis is evergreen and considered the finest evergreen plant for hedges. It is amazingly satisfactory growing around airways or close to dry foundation walls, and does an outstanding job in city gardens, either as single specimens or as a hedge. Its unusual ability to withstand heat and drought is nothing short of wonderful. Always good and clean looking, upright growth, easy upkeep (requires really no pruning), and its tenacious foliage, more than compensates for the lack of berries. We heartily recommend Berberis Mentorensis to you. For hedges plant in a single row, 15 to 18 inches apart for best effect.

First—It is evergreen practically the year around. Think what that means.

Second—Its sturdy, erect growth carries a thick dark green foliage right down to the ground. Is never bare-legged.

Third—When used for a hedge, its thorny, strong growth forms a formidable barrier to man or beast.

Fourth—Needs no pruning. It is of erect growth which becomes dense when the plant is three or four years old. No upkeep! No pruning!

Fifth—Combined in a foundation planting with evergreens, it provides a beautiful and artistic contrast at very small expense and without elaborate preparation of soil.

Dwarf Red Barberry, Crimson Pygmy

Everyone who has seen it wants it because of its charm and cheerful coloring of its foliage. The old leaves are bronzy blood-red while the new growth tips are several shades lighter, which sparkle in the sunlight. Our oldest stock plants, now several years old, measure 15 to 18 inches in diameter and are about 12 inches high. Each one is a picture in itself. Individual plants are colorful and will make a fine showing in front of any shrub planting, in front of a house for instance. It is of slow growth and excellent as edging to walks or flower beds where it will be most attractive.

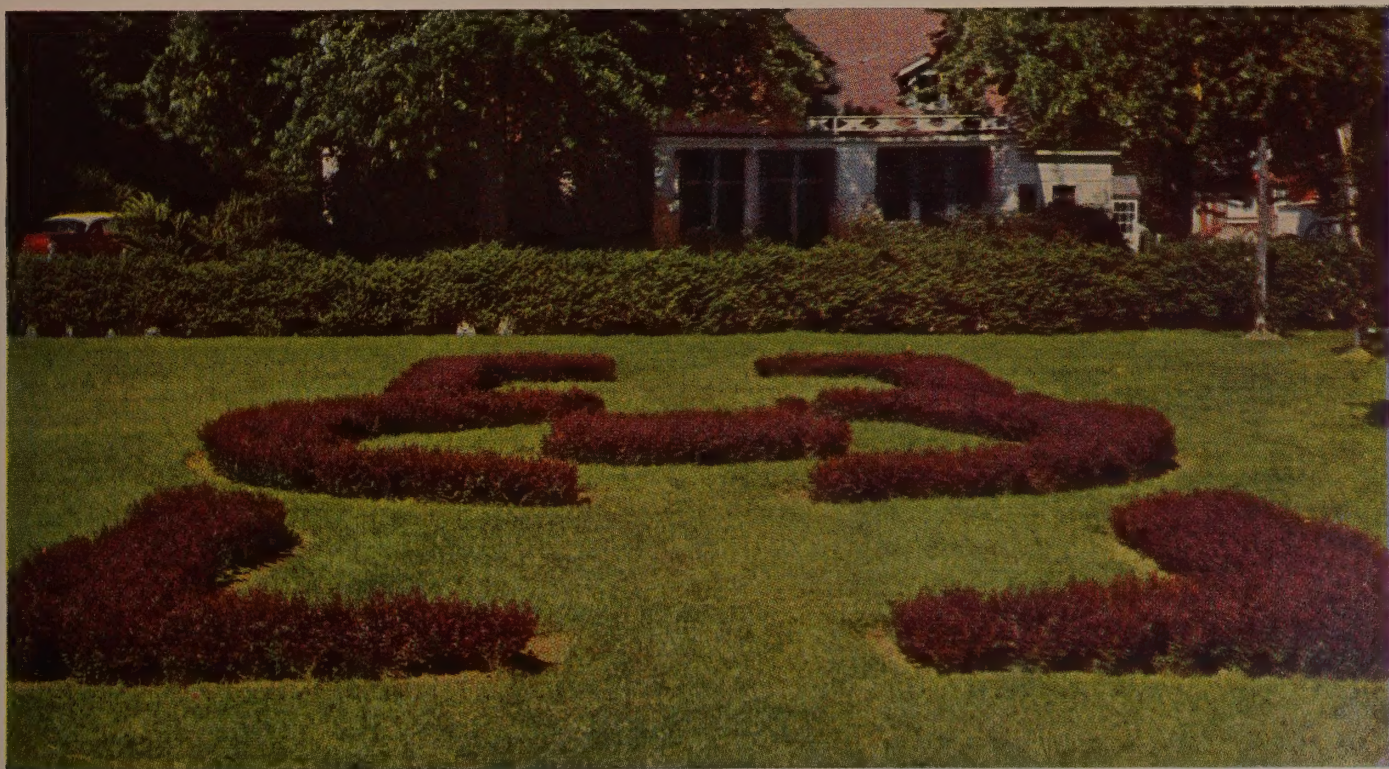

Outstanding for permanent beds or for lettering on lawns. Must be grown in full sun in order to obtain the brilliant foliage color. If grown in shade they will not color correctly.

ILEX CONVEXA HETZI

This is one of the choicest of evergreens. It is very bushy, has shiny dark green, Boxwood-like foliage somewhat convex and it grows about 4 feet high and 3 feet across. The glossy leaves are so profuse that twigs are invisible. Left to itself it grows "informally formal" and blends beautifully with other evergreens. As a small "accent" plant, it is faultless. For small hedges it is a jewel, particularly in cold climates where Boxwood is impossible. Space plants 18 inches apart. An absolute "must" for every garden. Does well in light shade or full sun and is equally happy on alkaline or acid soil, and last but not least, it is hardy.

COTONEASTER

Divaricata

Hedging size, 18 to 24 inches:

Each $1.75, Three $4.75, Doz. $18.00, 100 $125.00

A low growing, much branched and graceful shrub from China. Its ultimate height is about five feet and it is perfectly suited for hedges of medium height, say from 3 to 5 feet. Foliage is small and round, highly polished dark green. It creates a splendid effect. Brilliant small egg-shaped, red fruits in autumn add to its beauty. Few shrubs equal Cotoneaster Divaricata in the border or as a hedge plant.

HYPERICUM

Hidcote

Each $2.75, Three $7.85, Doz. $27.50

From the famous Hidcote estate in England, we obtained this fine variety a few years ago. It grows into a twiggy shrub about 18 in. tall and about the same diameter. Throughout the summer, it is covered with bright yellow, cup-like flowers about 2 in. in diameter. In cold winters, it freezes back to the ground but this does not matter because it springs up from the base, producing each summer its masses of blooms. A fine shrub for the foreground in the border in cold climates. In the temperate parts of the country it will reach a height of about 3 to 4 ft. Flowers are fragrant and appear late June continuing until mid-October.

RIBES ALPINUS - Alpine Currant

For Hedges in Shade. Hardy at 20 below

A moderately slow growing shrub. It is densely branched and sturdy and does not require much pruning or clipping. There are no other shrubs which are so well suited for hedges in deep shade nor are there many shrubs which can be grown successfully in such low temperatures. Its foliage is small and attractive. Planted 2 feet apart it makes a dense hedge. It is also most valuable to grow on the north side of a building or under tall trees where undergrowth is desired.

Through the years we have been much impressed with the beauty of the true Chinese Dogwood. We also observed that amongst the many hundreds we have grown at Wayside Gardens there occurred a lot of variations. We have selected from these better forms an outstanding specimen which we have called "Milky Way." Young specimen plants of this particular type are now being offered. They will start blooming one or two years after planting but as the tree grows a little older and bigger it will simply stagger you with its beauty. Don't delay planting one, nothing you ever saw in a garden can equal it.

FLOWERING SHRUBS AND TREES

Even if your place is quite fully planted, you may find it well worth while to discard some of the overgrown or inferior material, and replace it with something more distinctive—something in memory of someone or some event.

MODERATE-SIZED TREES FOR MODERN HOMES

Many of the old-time favorites, such as Sugar Maple, Oak and Linden, are too large for average modern home grounds. Good smaller scale substitutes are Moraine Locust, fast growing, in form resembling an American Elm, but disease-free; Sunburst Locust, new growth on which is golden yellow, giving a unique two-toned effect; Red English Hawthorn; varieties of Mountain Ash (Sorbus); and Dogwood (Cornus), of which we have an especially fine selection named White Cloud, as well as the practically unknown Chinese species C. Kousa Chinensis. Particularly effective when in flower, and providing limited areas of shade, are Fringe Tree (Chionanthus) and Laburnum Vossi, the Golden-chain Tree.

On many places of moderate size, small trees of formal habit are desirable as lawn specimens. Here plant such striking things as the Crataegus Maskei, the Katsura Tree (Cercidiphyllum), Hornbeam (Carpinus columnaris) and Crimson King Norway Maple which gives much the effect of a small Copper Beech.

The Flowering Crabs and Peaches form the most showy and colorful groups for spring display.

LARGE SHRUBS FOR MASS COLOR

When you are buying plant material, be sure that you get varieties that will prove satisfactory, that will give you a real lift every time you look out of your big view windows, and which you can take real pride in showing to friends and fellow gardeners.

Every gardener knows how flowering shrubs in spring supplement and enhance the beauty of a flower border. Summer and autumn flowering shrubs are, if possible, even more important in this respect. So be certain to have them in your garden. Here are some that will take you right through the season.

For spring: Forsythia—especially Spring Glory, which blends so perfectly with all other flower colors, and Lynwood Gold; Mock-orange (Philadelphus)—old favorites, of which we offer several greatly improved varieties—Innocence is superb; and Viburnum (Snowball)—especially the new variety Carlcephalum, which we consider near the top of all flowering shrubs; and Weigela Bristol Ruby, which is practically everblooming. And of course the Lilacs, of which we have a fine collection.

For summer: Kolkwitzia or Beauty Bush, an arching fountain of delicate pink unsurpassed for hot and dry locations; Tamarix, exotic looking, with tapering feathery sprays that the flower arrangers enthuse over; Vitex (Chaste Tree) producing a summer-long succession of lavender-blue spikes.

Latest of all to flower are the Altheas, tall shrubs to about ten feet. Many Altheas have rather unsatisfactory muddy colors, but the four greatly improved varieties which we list have clear, bright hues. One of the most unusual shrubs you can possess is Corylus contorta, "Harry Lauder's Walking-Stick Bush"—a horticultural curiosity, but easily grown.

Of course no flowering shrub border is complete without some of the Shrub Roses—such new introductions as Sparrieshoop. May we suggest a few of the newer, reflowering sorts such as our own Mabelle Stearns which blooms continuously; that wonderful Polyantha, The Fairy; the Rugosa Hybrids, Frau Dagmar Hartopp; and the fine new single Flamingo; Will Scarlett, a Hybrid Musk; and Fruehling's Gold, a Scotch Rose which we consider one of the very finest additions to the Shrub group.

SMALL SHRUBS FOR SMALL GARDENS

Many owners of small places forego the pleasure of having a variety of shrubs because of the mistaken idea that they "just haven't got room for them." Worse, yet, they fail to realize that the things they do grow—especially annuals and lawn grasses in inconvenient or undesirable locations—require a great deal more time and "fussing over" each season than would be required by suitable shrubs. May we suggest your trying a few of the following, none of which grow much over four feet, or lower, with occasional pruning. Several are spreading in habit, and suitable for "problem spots" such as steep slopes, stony banks and the like.

The Potentillas and Hypericums are among the choicest of all hardy shrubs for a small garden, as they are in bloom practically all summer long. Where only a few shrubs can be grown these should certainly be included. Cydonia (Flowering Quince), an old favorite, is known to most gardeners only in the fairly tall varieties; Knaphill, about one-and-a-half feet high; and Rowallane, only thirty inches, provide brilliant early spring color.

The Viburnums (Snowballs) are noted for fragrance, and for the fact that they thrive under conditions of shade and wet soil that would discourage most other plants. Deutzia: D. gracilis and D. Kalmiaflora grow only to about three feet; and D. crenata pendula, with drooping branches, is ideal at the top of a low wall or bank, or in front of more upright shrubs.

Spireas, valued for their general hardiness and longevity, are old friends, but if you are familiar only with the common Bridal Wreath (S. Van Houttei), and Anthony Waterer, you will be delighted with incomparably better ones such as Swan Lake, a truly beautiful low shrub, Japonica coccinea, and Arguta a dwarf early form, the airy sprays of which are delightful in arrangements of Daffodils and other early spring flowers. It is worth growing a bush for this purpose alone! Another fine low shrub, indispensable to the flower arranger for late summer use, is the Blue "Spirea" (Caryopteris) of which our own introduction, Heavenly Blue, is particularly fine. For unusual winter and pre-spring color there is a new Cornus alba, Coral Beauty; its clusters of upright stems, after the turn of the year, glow with increasing intensity, and provide the first sign that spring is actually on the way. There really should be one or more in every garden.

Flowering Shrubs and Trees

Abelia

Grandiflora

Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

A lovely shrub which bears a continuous supply of white and pink, Arbutus-like flowers from early summer until frost. Foliage so glossy that it sparkles in the sunlight. Grows about 3 feet. Recommended for a sunny warm shrub border in groups or alone. Highly useful as a hedge for sunny or partly shaded situations. Very popular in the South. Has proven quite hardy in the Cleveland, Ohio area.

Abeliophyllum Distichum

(Korean White Forsythia)

A Forsythia with white blossoms! This is the exclamation of incredulity frequently heard from those coming across a blossoming Korean Abelialeaf for the first time. Both produce their bell-shaped flowers in early spring before the leaves. The Abelialeaf is a much lower growing shrub than most Forsythias, however, averaging about 3½ feet in height.

Abeliophyllum Distichum is a native of Central Korea where it was found in 1919. Lest there be any question about the hardiness of this Korean native, we might add that it has been growing in the Morton Arboretum since 1938 when it was first introduced into the United States. It has not only proved reliable but a regular bloomer as well, asking only a well drained location in full sun. The deep purple flower buds are produced in autumn. In a mild climate they open in February and transform the bush into a mass of white sweetly fragrant blossoms. The flowers are actually pale pink when they open but soon fade to white.

The plants we offer are many years old and will make a handsome display no matter where you put them. Bright sun contributes to deep and richly colored foliage. This is a "must" for every garden.

Norway Maple "Crimson King"

Acer Platanoides Schwedleri Nigra (Plant Patent No. 735)

About ten years ago a fascinating purple or maroon-leaved Norway Maple tree was sent to America from Europe. It created the same sensation over here as it did in Europe. Several specimens were propagated and planted along the East Coast as well as on the Pacific Coast for observation. The results have been most gratifying. It proved perfectly hardy and happy where Maples grew and it retained its magnificent leaf color throughout the entire summer. The effect is not unlike that of the Copper Beech but in addition, the tips of the branches and the young foliage are of a lighter shade and glisten brilliantly in the sun. One would think the tree was in bloom.

Here truly is a rare thing in trees; a superb plant for lawn, small or large; street trees or specimen for contrast among other trees. Our supply is limited and will be for several years to come. Order promptly and you will possess one of the finest trees you ever owned.

It is especially desirable along the sea coast where few trees will survive the salty winds.

As Well as For Your Lilacs

What your Lilacs need is a balanced organic food, not just a stimulant. They need one containing in right amounts, those things that make plenty of strong roots, produce sturdy stalks, thrifty foliage and an abundance of good sized blooms. That's exactly the kind of Plant Food we use at Wayside Gardens. Much of our success in growing such unfailingly fine plants is due to it. In addition, Wayside Plant Food is excellent to put on the compost pile occasionally. It greatly helps decomposition of all vegetable matter. If trees need feeding, poke holes into the ground and fill with Wayside Gardens Plant Food.

Buddleia Alternifolia

Hardy Buddleia Alternifolia (Fragrant Buddleia)

Buddleia Alternifolia by reason of greater hardiness does not die back annually like the well known Buddleias. It was the late Reginald Farrer who found the remarkable shrub in Kansu, China, and was responsible for its introduction into cultivation in 1914. Loose and airy in habit with gracefully arching branches and soft green, willow-like leaves. Early June is the season when Alternifolia really reaches its climax for it is then that its pendulous branches erupt all along into tight bundles of pleasingly fragrant, purplish lilac blossoms. "A gracious, small-leaved, weeping Willow when it is not in flower and sheer waterfall of soft purple when it is." Inasmuch as the flowers are borne on last year's wood any pruning should be done immediately after flowering. A sunny, well drained location, even poor soil, will fulfill this Buddleia's cultural requirements. Ultimate height about 8 feet. We know of no other shrub which requires so little moisture to produce the immense amount of flowers this one does—it seems to thrive when other plants fail.

Cut-Leaf Birch

The Best Buddleias Butterfly Bush SUMMER LILACS

Butterfly shrubs bloom abundantly the same year you plant them. Are easy to grow and require little or no care. Buddleias make their new growth or show signs of life very late in the spring, not until the weather has become quite warm. Therefore, be not alarmed if they do not leaf out as soon as other shrubs.

NEW BUDDLEIA

Black Knight

Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

Its blue-black flowers are outstanding particularly on bright days when seen in sunlight. It blooms freely, makes a neat plant quite compact with dozens of flower spikes held high above the foliage. Its long trusses lend themselves well for cutting and never fail to draw attention because of their unique color. A welcome addition to a most useful group of summer flowering shrubs.

Empire Blue

Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

This is without question the nearest to a true blue Buddleia. The color of its flowers against the silvery green foliage makes a wonderful show. The plant is vigorous and very free blooming and flowers throughout the late summer and early autumn. Flower spikes do well in water. Give it a sunny place and sufficient room and it will develop into a beautiful shrub.

Fascinating

Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

A beautiful new Buddleia bearing long, graceful, somewhat open blooms of soft cattleya-pink or orchid. The illustration shown is somewhat too pink and should be a deeper shade. This handsome strong growing shrub flowers profusely throughout the summer and autumn, and its big round trusses of flowers, 14 to 18 inches long, make it a conspicuous subject. Like other Buddleias this variety attracts a great many butterflies, adding to its charm in the garden.

Flaming Violet (Plant Patent No. 519)

Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

This is one of the most brilliant of the Buddleias. In sunlight in the garden, the immense spikes are an amazing color of flaming violet or doge-purple, intensely brilliant and sparkling with a fiery glow rarely seen in flowers. The flower trusses are completely rounded, measuring 12 to 18 inches long. The individual flowers are spaced closely and open practically all at the same time. They last a long time in bloom on the shrubs as well as when cut and placed in water. The plant is vigorous, strong and upright in growth, and flowers throughout the summer and autumn.

Fortune

Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

In Buddleia Fortune we believe we come very close to perfection. The bush or shrub is of very neat habit, about 5 feet high and 4 feet across. The flower spikes are lilac, thousands of which make up the sprays which are from 12 to 18 inches long. The flowers are produced in superabundance throughout the entire summer and autumn until stopped by frost. They may be cut with stems 2 feet long and last in water for several days. Buddleia Fortune is a grand cut flower as well as a showy plant for the garden.

Purple Prince (Plant Patent No. 706)

Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

The immense broad spikes which resemble Lilacs are a rich, iridescent imperial purple which sparkles in sunlight. The shape and size of the flower spikes of the new Buddleia Purple Prince are unusual and put this variety in a class by itself. The base of the flower spike is at least twice as wide as that of other varieties, giving a very massive effect. These big flowers are produced in unlimited quantities throughout summer and autumn on handsome, rugged, but not too tall plants.

White Profusion (Plant Patent No. 786)

Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

This new Buddleia fills a long felt want for a low growing, all-summer flowering shrub of which there are so few. Not over three feet high and about the same in diameter, it forms a green mound studded with literally a hundred or more short-stemmed flower spikes with pure white blooms. Starting to bloom in early August, a continuous supply of flowers is produced until October. It fits perfectly into the perennial border and is tops in front of taller shrubs, providing a spot of cool color.

BETULA - Birch

Pendula gracilis (Cut-Leaf Birch)

Each $5.00, Three $14.00, Doz. $50.00

Its graceful weeping branches, finely cut foliage and shimmering white bark make this one of the most beautiful ornamental trees. Even in winter, without foliage, the delicate pendulous branches make a lovely silhouette against the drab colors of other trees in the background. It is not too particular as to soil but prefers a moist location and a sunny spot.

White Birch Clump

3-4 ft., Each $6.00, Three $16.00, Doz. $60.00

In naturalization, or as a lawn specimen, this lovely, multiple-stemmed tree is most effective. The white bark of its 3 or more trunks adds great charm to the landscape picture. Growth is gracefully upright, with horizontal branches. It is best to start with not too large trees; if well fed and watered they grow fast. Reaches a height of 35 feet.

The New Upright Growing
Aronia Arbutifolia Erecta

Aronia - Chokeberry

Arbutifolia Erecta

Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

The common Chokeberry is being grown in most every garden, somewhat inclined to be untidy. It is, therefore, that we offer the little known erect form of this useful shrub. Arbutifolia Erecta is as erect growing as the Lombardy Poplar. Mature height about 5 to 6 feet; branches are slender, leaves oblong and 3 inches long becoming vividly colored every autumn. Here is a plant that is perfect where space is limited; hardy and any good soil will grow it satisfactorily. MAKES A HEDGE YOU JUST DON'T HAVE TO PRUNE! Flowers in early summer—brilliant berries and foliage in the autumn.

Aesculus - Chestnut

Carnea Briotii (Red Horse Chestnut)

5 to 6 ft. branched trees, Each $10.00

A beautiful lawn tree of rounded, shapely habit. At the tips of the branches, cone-shaped spikes or panicles of rosy crimson flowers appear in May and June like candles on a Christmas tree. The leaves are palmate, giving the tree an unusual appearance throughout the summer while the shiny flower buds at the tips of the branches add interest during the winter months. A most ornamental tree which is easily grown in any ordinary soil. (All young trees are sparsely rooted. This is a characteristic so don't be alarmed when you receive your plant.) Ultimate height about 30 feet, spread 20 feet.

Red Aesculus - Chestnut

Althea, Wm. R. Smith

Althea Rose of Sharon

(Hibiscus Syriacus)

FOUR BEAUTIFUL ALL SUMMER FLOWERING SHRUBS

Erect growing shrubs of stately and formal shape, particularly well suited for screens or specimens in the shrub border. They bloom from July to frost and give color when most other shrubs have finished blooming. Their ultimate height is about 10 feet.

Culture. Most any soil will do providing it is well drained. They require full sun to do their best. Pruning is not required. They are perfect to grow against a sunny wall. The branches are very willowy and pliable and can be fanned out flat with little effort. Trim away surplus wood and you have an "Espalier" tree far handsomer than can be made with a fruit tree. Require no spray.

Blue Bird

(Plant Patent No. 1739)

This blue Althea is one of the outstanding new summer flowering shrubs. It is vigorous in growth, upright in habit, and a prolific bloomer. The flowers measure 5 inches across, are wide open, resembling big, blue saucers. Summer flowering shrubs are few and far between; Althea, Blue Bird is a magnificent addition to this small list. It will greatly add to the color of the border, or in any shrub planting, and as we have said before, single flowered Altheas are infinitely more attractive than the double flowered forms. 4-year plants about 2 to 3 feet high. They will bloom first year after planting.

Hamabo

Each $2.75, Three $7.85, Doz. $27.50

This most interesting cheerfully colored Althea is not new but practically unknown in this country. It is a great favorite in Europe and we can quite understand why. For several years we have tested it at Wayside and found it as hardy as any of the others. But it is so arresting that everyone visiting us has wanted a plant of it. Flowers are white and red, brilliant and gay, and contrast beautifully with the dark green foliage. Here is a real contribution to the summer flowering shrubs. The plants we send you will flower only a few months after planting.

Woodbridge

Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

This is an improvement over Rubis. Produces very large, wide-open, flaring flowers of a fine clear rose-pink color. The best and most brilliant of the pink Altheas. Its freedom of bloom is outstanding.

Wm. R. Smith

Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

Large, disc-like, pure white flowers which open flat and are produced in great numbers from early July until frost. Most white Althea blooms do not open fully and therefore are not showy. Wm. R. Smith is the one exception. Its flowers are large, open and are superb.

Corylus

Maxima atropurpurea (Purple-Leaved Filbert) Each $4.00, Three $11.00, Doz. $40.00

For a rich display of bronze foliage there is not much better than the Purple-Leaved Filbert. It is a much branched shrub covered from top to bottom with fine, bronze leaves which make a pleasant break in the monotony of the green leaves in the shrubbery border. The richest and deepest colors are obtained when it is grown in full sun. Maximum height about 10 feet. Can be kept any height up to 5 feet with pruning. Hardy anywhere! A fine plant for the lawn as a single specimen and much prized for cutting. Its bronze leaves blend beautifully with flowers indoors.

Avellana Contorta

Each $6.00, Three $16.00, Doz. $60.00

A rare shrub which is frequently referred to as the "Harry Lauder's Walking Stick Bush." Its fantastically twisted, turned and almost corkscrew-like branches will remind one of Harry's famous cane. Slow of growth but easily cared for. Like all Filberts, it does well in either sun or shade. Plant it where you can enjoy the curiously twisted branches in the winter against the snow. Ultimate height about 7 feet. Here is a really good conversation piece.

Maxima Aurea

Each $6.00, Three $16.00, Doz. $60.00

This is the golden leaf Filbert. Its handsome leaves are tinted a soft greenish yellow, the young new growth golden yellow. Brightest shades are obtained when grown in full sun. Handsome shrub for the garden and its foliage like the purple Filbert is fine decorative material.

Each $3.50, Three $9.75, Doz. $35.00

Cytisus

Praecox (Warminster Broom)

One of the most beautiful of all May-flowering shrubs. Grows about 4 to 5 feet high. The twiggy evergreen branches are pendulent and in May are hidden under a mass of sulphur-yellow, pea-shaped blooms. The effect created by this shrub when in bloom is most unusual and one of the highlights in your garden. Our original stock plants came from the Arnold Arboretum in Boston where year after year they continue to make a grand display. Perfectly hardy and of easy culture. We send you 3-year plants that already have flowered in 5- or 6-inch pots. Pot plants invariably establish at once and this is the best way to transplant them.

Each $3.50, Three $9.75, Doz. $35.00

Cercis

Canadensis, Wither's Pink

This is the pink form of the well known Redbud. It is a graceful open tree of about 12 to 15 feet in height. Before the leaves appear the branchlets are covered with clusters of pink pea-shaped blossoms which combine beautifully with the Dogwoods which are in bloom at the same time. Wither's Pink Redbud is a choice plant to own.

Each $8.00

Chinensis (Chinese Redbud)

This charming, brilliant spring-flowering shrub is a Chinese counterpart of the American native Redbud. It flowers at the same time, but the quantity and quality of its flowers far surpass those of our common wild form. In the special selection of Coral Beauty we have a plant of slower neater and more compact growth. It is not as tall and has a much brighter colored bark. In winter the stems are brilliant coral-red in vivid contrast with other shrubs or snow. For winter color in the garden, or for cutting, there is nothing better. Cotoneaster Apiculata
Growing on top of wall.

Cotoneaster Divaricata

Cotoneaster

A very very important family of shrubs including amongst its members some of the most indispensable of hardy shrubs. We here list only a limited number of kinds, those we have found to be especially well suited to American gardens in the colder sections of the country. They retain their bright shiny foliage well into winter. Provide brilliant autumn color either of leaf or berry. They are tolerant of almost any soil and condition and last but not least, they will grow into beautiful hedges which can be clipped or left natural as may seem desirable. Salty winds near the seashore are no problem; they thrive on it.

Apiculata (Cranberry Cotoneaster)

Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

A beautiful hardy dwarf Cotoneaster from Western China. This little known variety grows about 2 feet high with arching branches weighted down during the autumn with masses of bright crimson fruits about the size of a Cranberry. The foliage is shiny green and beautiful through the year in mild climates, while in cold parts of the country it loses its leaves late in the fall. Perfectly hardy. Apiculata is especially well suited for low hedges. Its growth is dense and needs no pruning. Its fruit is fully as large as a Cranberry and more brilliant.

Dielsiana 2 to 3 ft., Each $5.00, Three $14.00, Doz. $50.00

This is one of the fine shrubs. Height about 6 feet and lots of style. Arching branches are crowded with small pink flowers which are replaced in early autumn with thousands of scarlet berries while the foliage itself becomes also brilliantly tinted in late autumn. Its arching habit, fruit and colorful foliage truly make this a beautiful shrub.

Divaricata Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

A low growing, much branched and graceful shrub from China. Its ultimate height is about five feet and it is perfectly suited for hedges of medium height, say from 3 to 5 feet. Foliage is small and round, highly polished dark green. It creates a splendid effect. Brilliant small egg-shaped, red fruits in autumn add to its beauty. Few shrubs equal Cotoneaster Divaricata in the border or as a hedge plant.

Floribunda Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

Grows into a beautifully shaped round bush. Branches slightly arching and heavily covered with handsome blue-green foliage. It flowers as freely as the English Hawthorn and in fall is covered with thousands of small brilliant red berries.

Meyeri Each $6.00, Three $16.00 Doz. $60.00

One of the finest of the hardy Cotoneasters, growing 6 feet tall. The branches are slightly pendulent. The leaves are gray-green above and silvery below, somewhat tomentose. Covered in autumn and late summer with coral-pink fruits, making a lovely picture in the autumn garden. Of easy culture and perfectly hardy.

Cotoneaster Meyeri

COTONEASTER

St. Monica 2 to 3 ft., Each $6.00, Three $16.00, Doz. $60.00

A hybrid Cotoneaster which will reach a height of 15 feet. Evergreen in milder climates, retains its leaves a long time when grown in colder locations; long willow-like leaves. Fruit is bright red borne in pendulous bunches or clusters. A showy fine tall shrub for background use or blocking out undesirable buildings. Best transplanted when not too big; grows fast.

Racemiflora Veitchii Each $5.00, Three $14.00, Doz. $50.00

This variety is conspicuous for its large flowers and red fruits which persist almost through the winter. Grows about 7 feet tall and is excellent for hedges and develops into a fine specimen plant for the lawn. Any reasonable soil and full sun.

Wardii Each $5.00, Three $14.00, Doz. $50.00

This is perhaps the most evergreen variety and very hardy as well. Berries bright orange-red persisting well into winter. Ultimate height about 8 feet. An excellent variety for hedges and like all Cotoneasters does well near the sea. Any reasonable soil suits it. An interesting feature is the downy shoots which turn a shining brown, leaves green on top and white felted below.

Cornus-Dogwood

It has been our experience as well as that of many of our customers that medium-sized Dogwood trees establish more easily and grow more rapidly than large trees, unless the big trees are moved with a big ball of earth.

We have therefore grown a special size plant. It is bushy, well shaped and about 3 feet tall, with a wonderfully nice root system. It will grow fast and bloom for you not later than one year after planting.

Florida (White Dogwood) Each $4.50, Three $12.50, Doz. $45.00
Nothing we can say will add to the charm, beauty and popularity of the white Dogwood. It is THE finest native American small tree. We offer well rooted, 3- to 4-foot trees, which is the size that transplants and grows the best.

White Dogwood Seedlings

2 years old, Doz. $8.00, 25 $15.00, 100 $50.00

Every season we get requests for small Dogwood trees which people want to plant in woods they own, or some open spot, where they can grow into flowering trees. This takes about 2 to 3 years if nice, husky, 2-year-olds are planted. We offer 2-year trees which will develop rapidly. Not offered in less than a dozen.

Florida rubra (Pink Dogwood)

2½ to 3 ft. Each $6.00, Three $16.00, Doz. $60.00

There are no trees or shrubs which possess a larger measure of attractiveness throughout the whole year. The rare pink Dogwood is similar in all respects to the common variety except that the flowers are a beautiful shade of pink. A good specimen in full bloom is a magnificent sight in spring. Does well in shade. We offer plants about 3 feet tall, which is best size for transplanting.

Florida, Cherokee Chief (Plant Patent No. 1710) Each $8.00

A fine almost red form of the pink Dogwood. It is a spectacular plant which blooms profusely and makes a brilliant show. When in flower it contrasts well with the White Cloud Dogwood. A first rate small tree.

Florida, White Cloud

2½ to 3 ft., Each $7.00, Three $18.00, Doz. $67.50

From thousands of seedlings of white Dogwoods, we selected several years ago an outstanding variation. This distinctive tree was replanted and grown by itself for further observation until we were satisfied we had something extra fine in white Dogwoods. It is outstanding in particular, for the immense amount of flowers it produces as well as the rapidity with which it starts flowering so freely. At opening the flowers give a creamy yellow effect which after a few days, changes over to white. When in bloom the tree is literally a white cloud; the foliage is almost not to be seen. Instead of just planting ordinary seedling trees, particularly when space is limited, try this new variety. It will reward you with greater masses of blooms for all your life.

CORNUS OFFICINALIS - Cornelian Cherry

Very closely akin to Cornus Mas which is known as the Cornelian Cherry. Our original plant of the Officinalis variety came from the Morton Arboretum at Lisle, Illinois, and is noted for its many clusters or umbels of yellow flowers which occur in great quantities in February and March. A very artistic plant from Japan. Its early bloom never fails to interest and when branches are cut they lend themselves to artistic arrangements. Good foliage, hardy anywhere and easy to grow.

CORNUS KOUSA CHINENSIS

(Also called Benthamia Japonica)

Chinese Dogwood was brought to the Arnold Arboretum from China by E. H. Wilson in 1907. The flower heads are extremely large, frequently 5 to 6 inches across, the white bracts overlapping the button-like mass of real flowers in the center. Experts have acclaimed this Dogwood as the finest of Chinese plants introduced to America. Its flowers are produced in June long after the American Dogwood has bloomed and remain in excellent condition for nearly a month. The fruits are like large Strawberries, and very much enjoyed by the birds. Its foliage turns scarlet in autumn. This is a rare tree known only to a limited few. It is a magnificent contribution to the American gardens and we urge you to plant one as soon as possible so you may enjoy this Oriental beauty soon. Ultimate height about 12 to 15 feet. It is much harder than our Dogwood and will flower and grow profusely where the American Dogwood would not survive.

Caryopteris - Hardy Blue Spirea

Blue Mist

Each $2.00, Three $5.75, Doz. $20.00

(Mastacanthus x Mongolica). This charming low growing shrub is a very real contribution to the meager list of summer and fall flowering shrubs. It is covered from August till autumn frost with numerous clusters of powdery blue, fringed flowers. This shrub grows about 18 to 24 inches tall and is perfectly rounded, making a small mound about 2 feet in diameter. The foliage is lanceolate and slightly toothed and silvery green in color. A truly worth-while plant for the flower border as well as for in front of the shrubbery border. Particularly valuable because it is one of the latest flowering shrubs. Blue being a rare color at any time in the garden makes the Caryopteris doubly welcome.

Heavenly Blue (Plant Patent No. 1091)

Each $2.25, Three $6.50, Doz. $22.50

A delightfully deep blue colored autumn flowering shrub. It is the dark blue form of Caryopteris Blue Mist which Wayside Gardens introduced several years ago. Heavenly Blue is our own origination; the result of crosses and selections made at Mentor. Heavenly Blue is upright in growth. When mature, it is about 15 to 18 inches in diameter and 18 to 24 inches tall. One shrub will produce 30 or more beautiful deep blue flower spikes, a color which we all know is quite rare at any time and particularly so in the autumn garden. It does best in a light soil; in fact, the sandier the better, and must be grown in full sun. It comes to perfection in a warm, dry, sunny spot. We consider this new shrub one of the finest things available for rich autumn color.

Calycanthus

Floridus

Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

Few shrubs are so well known as the Carolina Allspice. In fact, over a large part of the United States it is called "Shrub" or "Shrub Bush" without any other qualification. In some places it is referred to as the "Sweet-scented Shrub," the "Sweet Shrub," or the "Strawberry Shrub." The handsome, dark red-brown flowers are produced in early spring. During the summer, the plant is neat and very handsome, with glossy, corrugated foliage. It grows 4 to 5 feet high.

Cercidiphyllum - Katsura Tree

Japonicum

Each $6.00, Three $16.00, Doz. $60.00

The Katsura Tree develops into a slender, pyramidal, bushy tree 50 to 80 feet high, usually with several trunks. Its handsome, round or heart shaped foliage is especially attractive, being purplish pink when unfolding, then becoming green and bronze, turning scarlet and gold in the autumn. Several planted in a row 10 feet apart form a fine wall of foliage. Far more satisfactory than Lombardy Poplars. Beautiful as an individual specimen. Its maidenhair-fern-like foliage is put into motion by the slightest breeze. Plants we send out are about 3 to 4 feet tall.

Cercidiphyllum Japonicum

Calycanthus Floridus

Carpinus - Hornbeam

Betulus columnaris

Each $9.00

This is one of the most perfectly pyramidal of deciduous trees. Its bark is sinewed and streaked gray. The ascending branches are close together and absolutely upright in growth, creating a vertical effect not produced by any other trees. It is a fine plant for a restricted place and where a vertical effect is desired. In late fall its foliage is richly tinted with bright autumnal colors. Grows well in sticky, heavy clay soil. Carpinus betulus columnaris is a monumental small tree highly stylized and formal. It is a perfect plant for some focal point. Handsome in winter as well as in summer. You should find room for this rare plant in your garden. We offer young specimen trees about 5 feet tall.

Carpinus Betulus Columnaris

Crataegus Oxyacantha

(English Hawthorns)

The English Haw or Hawthorn is a lovely flowering shrub or small tree about 15 feet high, with spreading branches and stout spines. The leaves are broad, the 3 to 5 lobes much toothed. Its flowers are in large clusters and produced in immense quantities. The fruits are scarlet. They are especially well suited for the small garden or as specimens on the lawn where a Maple would be too big and create too much shade.

Paul's Scarlet English Hawthorn

Each $7.00, Three $18.00, Doz. $67.50

This is a brilliant pink, double-flowered variety. One of the choicest ornamental trees in existence. Foolproof and hardy; sure blooming. It is a joy to see it each spring.

Maskei

Each $8.00

Not unlike Paul's Scarlet in habit and form except for a stronger more robust growth and a larger amount of flowers. To see a well established tree of Maskei in bloom covered with its double light rose colored flower clusters is a sight you won't soon forget. Hardy, easily grown, in full sun, please!

Autumn Glory

Each $7.00, Three $18.00, Doz. $67.50

This magnificent Hybrid Thorn grows into a medium sized tree about 15 to 18 feet high. Makes a shapely head and has deep green foliage. In spring it is very attractive with its many big clusters of white blooms. But in early autumn it really is a sight to behold when the immense clusters of giant berries turn a brilliant red. In our opinion it is even more spectacular than the well known and popular Mountain Ash. The fruit remains on the tree well into the winter. A rare, beautiful and unusual small tree you will enjoy in your garden for many, many years.

CRATAEGUS MONOGYNA STRICTA

This is the upright form of the common May or Hawthorn except that this is vigorous, columnar, white flowering form in full bloom in May. For dry and poor soil conditions it is particularly suitable; will grow 20 or 30 feet high. It may well replace the undesirable Lombardy Poplar as it is an upright, narrow tree of all-round merit and beauty of form and valuable as a single specimen. It is a tough tree requiring no attention, excellent for a narrow screen if planted 5 feet apart.

Each $6.00, Three $16.00, Doz. $60.00

Crataegus Monogyna Stricta

Deutzia, Pink Pompon

Deutzia

All Deutzias are showy flowering shrubs of very bushy habit. They have many stems rising directly from the root, arching upward and outward, thickly covered with foliage which almost completely disappears in May under a superabundance of panicles of small, frilled, bell-like flowers. They are hardy throughout most of the country.

One of the outstanding good qualities and merits of the following six mentioned Deutzias is their freedom of bloom in quite heavy shading. Gracilis especially is perfect under shady conditions.

Chunii

Each $3.50, Three $9.75, Doz. $35.00

A very beautiful and remarkable July blooming species. Flowers 1/2 inch across; petals pink outside, white within, reflexed, exposing the yellow anthers. Panicles of flowers are 4 inches long, produced all along the branches. Height about 4 to 5 feet. Give sunny location. Any soil not too wet will do.

Crenata pendula

Each $3.50, Three $9.75, Doz. $35.00

This beautiful, strong growing hybrid came to us from France a few years ago. It produces large, single, milk-white flowers in handsome pyramidal clusters. Shown in England a few years ago, it received an Award of Merit from the Royal Horticultural Society. Its low, pendulant growth and modest height, 3 to 4 feet, make it an excellent shrub for foreground planting. Last, but not least, is the enormous amount of flowers which completely cover the bush at flowering time.

Elegantissima

Each $3.50, Three $9.75, Doz. $35.00

A medium sized shrub which has only recently come to the fore. It is highly recommended for its lovely rose-pink tinted, fragrant flowers. Individual blooms are often 3/4 of an inch across. It is of neat, upright habit and particularly well suited for today's small gardens.

Gracilis

Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

Seldom more than 2 feet high. This is one of the prettiest and most graceful of all the Deutzias. The plant makes a fountain-like bush attractive at all times of the year. In May it is covered with an astonishing profusion of delicate snowy white flowers. It does well in light shade and is well adapted for low edging to walks or paths, excellent in clumps in the foreground in the border.

Kalmiaeflora

Each $3.50, Three $9.75, Doz. $35.00

A low growing bushy shrub. The branches are slender and slightly arching. Covered in late May and early June with Kalmia-like pink flowers. It does not grow over 3 feet and, therefore is an excellent shrub for the small garden or in the foreground of the shrub border. Of easiest culture. Give it a sunny spot or light high shade. Again, we repeat, a nice small shrub for the small garden.

Pink Pompon

Each $4.00, Three $11.00, Doz. $40.00

Pink flowers in pompon-like clusters in great profusion in late spring make this one of the outstanding new dwarf shrubs. Another good point is that it will flower splendidly in light shade. Height about 3 to 4 feet. Here is one of the good small shrubs for today's smaller gardens.

Caryopteris, Blue Mist

Davidia Involucrata

DAVIDIA - Dove Tree

Involucrata

Each $15.00

The Dove Tree is one of the rarest trees in cultivation and originally came from Western China where old specimens reach the height of 40 to 50 feet. It is slow to start but once established, growth is rapid. Any ordinary soil suits it. The leaves are mulberry-like and sweet scented when bruised. The outstanding feature of the tree consists of two large white bracts of unequal size, enveloping the flowers which develop in late May. The hanging white bracts are almost constantly in motion and resemble doves in flight. This is one of the most beautiful trees in existence. After 15 years work we have produced a very few which are about 3 feet tall and offer these at $15.00 each. We believe there are no other plants of this size obtainable in America. We do not recommend you attempt to grow this beautiful tree in the colder sections of this country; south of Philadelphia is safe or temperatures milder than encountered there.

Desmodium Penduliflorum

Cydonia-Flowering Quince

One of the first shrubs to bloom in spring. Their brilliant flowers and shiny foliage place them among the No. 1 plants for the spring garden. They may be allowed to grow into specimen plants or trimmed into hedges. Ultimate height about 5 to 6 feet. We offer here a collection of new hybrids. These varieties are outstanding. The size of their blooms as well as the quantity in which they are produced is almost unbelievable.

New Hybrid Cydonias

The beautiful hybrid Cydonias offered under this heading are great improvements and, as soon as they become more plentiful and better known, will be universally grown. Our stock is decidedly limited. We, therefore, urge you to send for yours at once and be one of the first to have them in your own garden.

Charming

Each $3.50, Three $9.75, Doz. $35.00

Large flowers of soft salmon-pink deepening towards the ends of the petals. A nice orderly shrub which produces a mass of color early in the spring. When fully grown it will be about 6 feet tall. We offer plants about 3 feet tall, ready to bloom.

Coral Beauty

Each $3.50, Three $9.75, Doz. $35.00

Its lovely coral blooms are a real treat to behold. Exceedingly free blooming; it makes a grand show in the spring and provides a fine background for Tulips or other spring bulbs. As a cut flower you will find it also most desirable. The plants we send are about 3 feet tall and ready to bloom.

Falconet Charlot (Cameo)

Each $5.00, Three $14.00, Doz. $50.00

Most attractive, double, salmon-pink flowers somewhat lighter pink inside. This is perhaps the best of the double pink Cydonias. It is upright in growth. Maximum height about 6 to 8 ft. on mature plants. A choice variety which is quite scarce.

Knaphill

Each $4.00, Three $11.00, Doz. $40.00

This fine flowering Quince originated in England and is a choice low growing plant. Eight-year-old specimens in our nursery are about 16 inches high and 18 inches across. It forms a small mound which in early spring is completely covered with big vermilion-red flowers. An ideal variety for planting in front of the shrub border or foundation plantings; it may also be used for low edgings. Knaphill will unquestionably become as great a favorite here as it is in Europe. We offer nice bushy specimens about 12 to 15 inches high.

Nivalis

Each $3.50, Three $9.75, Doz. $35.00

This is the best pure white Quince. The sparkling white flowers contrast well with the dark green foliage. A very handsome flower for cutting as well as a fine early flowering shrub for the border.

Rowallane

Each $4.00, Three $11.00, Doz. $40.00

This is a recent new variety from England. It makes a low growing plant about 24 to 30 inches high and as wide. Foliage good rich dark green which appears after the plant has flowered. The blooms are plentiful and rich vermilion-red. Intensely bright and sparkling, a splendid plant for the foreground of the shrub border.

Stanford Red

Each $3.50, Three $9.75, Doz. $35.00

The flowers are extraordinarily large, open geanium-red and deepen to an intense blood-red of great strength and carrying power. It is excellent for cutting, the flowers lasting a long time and in addition, it's almost thornless. A beautiful shrub to grow with white Tulips. A "must" for your garden. We offer plants about 3 feet tall, ready to bloom.

DESMODIUM (Lespedeza)

Shrub-like plants producing long, willow-like canes which give the plants a lovely effect. Its thousands of purple blossoms are a magnificent sight late in the fall.

Culture. Any good garden soil will do. Plant in full sun in the hardy border together with purple and bronze Chrysanthemums or at the base of shrubs. Remove all growth in spring, cutting the plant back to the ground.

Penduliflorum

Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

For a final burst of color before winter sets in nothing equals the Desmodium. It is a densely growing shrub about 4 feet high. Its handsome green foliage is almost fern-like. Branches are upright but arching and are covered with drooping racemes of liquid purple flowers so densely one hardly sees the plant. It combines beautifully with the Chrysanthemums. The display of color is truly gorgeous.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

As Well as for Your Flowers

What your plants need is a balanced organic food, not just a stimulant. They need one containing in right amounts, those things that make plenty of strong roots, produce sturdy stalks, thrifty foliage and an abundance of good sized blooms. That's exactly the kind of Plant Food we use at Wayside Gardens. Much of our success in growing such unfailingly fine plants is due to it. Turn to page 214 and get the full facts about it.

Upright Growing Cydonia—Perfect for Hedges and Single Specimens

Here is a fine, early flowering shrub with excellent habit. It grows upright to a height of about 6 to 7 feet when mature. It may be held down to 4 or 5 feet if you wish by simply topping it once or at the most twice a year; side pruning is not necessary. The flowers are large and deepest crimson-red. The upright stems are covered with them from the ground up. You can well imagine what a brilliant effect is made when Spitfire Cydonia is used for a hedge. The plants are not more than 2 feet across when mature so that it is an excellent subject to use as a single specimen as well as in shrub plantings where space is limited. No flower buds have ever been killed nor has there been any damage from frost to the wood in temperatures as low as 15 degrees below zero. We have had this plant under test for ten years and think it is a fine addition to flowering shrubs that may be successfully used for hedging as well as specimen planting. We offer plants about 3 feet tall, ready to bloom.

Genkwa (Lilac Daphne)

Each $5.00, Three $14.00, Doz. $50.00

This is one of the finest garden gems, not only rare but beautiful. In March and April, Lilac-like blue flowers are produced on gracefully pendulant branches before the foliage appears. Its ultimate height is about 3 feet. It can be grown in flower border, rock garden or in front of shrub border. Likes well drained, ordinary garden soil but will thrive without protection in localities where temperatures go below zero. Transplants with absolute success if pot-grown plants are set out. We offer fine young plants about 12 to 15 inches tall in pots. Daphne Genkwa spreads slowly, in time forming a bushy plant about 3 feet across. A beautiful thing to see when in bloom.

Fagus Sylvatica Tricolor—

Daphne

Daphnes are lovely, fragrant plants and the two varieties offered give bloom from very early spring to May and, occasionally, through the summer. All are of delicious fragrance and dainty, compelling beauty. They are hardy with little protection except in the coldest sections of the country.

Culture. They prefer a sunny position in well drained, sandy soil. In order to keep the evergreen foliage perfect, protect it with a little straw during the coldest part of the winter. The plants will withstand temperatures as low as 10 below zero. Water sparingly in summer. Daphnes will not grow well in cold, poorly drained soil.

Cneorum (Garland Flower)

These shrubs are of spreading habit and do not grow over 8 to 12 inches high; producing delicately perfumed rose-pink blossoms. The flowers completely cover the plant not only in spring but again in early autumn. As an edging plant in front of evergreens or shrubs, it is unequalled. It also forms a splendid low hedge along garden walks and around flower beds.

Daphne "Somerset"

This deliciously fragrant and easy to grow Hybrid Daphne originated in England. It has received the highest honors from the Royal Horticultural Society of Great Britain. When first shown in London, England, it was one of the highlights of the show. It has been on test at Wayside Gardens for many years, and has successfully wintered without protection all kinds of weather that occurred during that period.

During May and early June the plants are covered with delightfully scented blush-pink, star-shaped flowers in clusters 6 to 8 inches long. The fragrance is not unlike that of Daphne Cneorum or Viburnum Carlesi. It grows and flowers exceptionally well in light shade.

The foliage is rich dark green, giving the plants the appearance of Boxwood. It remains green in northern Ohio until the beginning of March when the new leaves push the old ones off the branches. In those sections of the country where temperatures are moderate, Daphne Somerset is evergreen.

Left unclipped it grows about 5 feet high and 4 feet wide.

It is a lovely low shrub for in front of the shrub border and blends happily with hardy plants in the flower border as well as with other evergreens.

Visitors to our nursery, professional as well as amateur, all have admired it. Mr. F.F. Rockwell, garden expert and writer of many horticultural books and articles, remarked when he saw it in bloom this spring: "Here is one of those rare things that happens once every 25 years or so." It is a choice plant with a great future.

Daphne "Somerset"

FLOWERING PLANTS GROWING IN 5-INCH POTS

Fagus Sylvatica (European Beech)

The Noblest of Trees—Plant it as a Monument in Memory of Someone or Some Special Event

The European Beeches are the most magnificent and stunning trees. Symmetrical in habit with smooth gray bark; their foliage is clean and shiny and comes in several different colors. The tree is long lived, two to three hundred years is not at all unusual. Tough, hardy, and immune to insects and fungus. Their monumental quality makes them eminently suited for specimen planting. There just is not another tree to equal it.

Fastigiata

Each $8.00

The columnar or upright growing European Beech, is also known as the Dawyck Beech. It is a spectacular plant; grows into a column just like the Lombardy Poplar. Pendula

Each $10.00

Plants offered are about 4 to 5 feet.

Purpurea

Each $10.00

The Rivers' Purple Beech is in the opinion of many people, the noblest and most beautiful large specimen tree in cultivation. Its deep black-bronze foliage is unsurpassed. Easily grown and given good care and water during dry periods, they grow quickly into nice specimens.

In spring it is a plant par excellence for growing in shady places, under tall trees or in sunless corners. It makes a fine hedge and can be pruned any way to suit. Blends beautifully with evergreens, grows equally well on acid or alkaline soils and is hardy. In autumn numerous orange berries add to its charm. Transplants easily in fall or spring. Does excellently in shade.

Most Prolific Flowering Forsythias

They Are the Best to Date

Beatrix Farrand

This beautiful Forsythia originated in the Arnold Arboretum in Boston, where it was named for Beatrix Farrand, one of America's foremost women landscape architects. This Forsythia is a vigorous growing plant and makes a large symmetrical bush 6 to 8 feet tall. The flowers are deep golden yellow and of immense size, frequently 2 inches in diameter. An excellent contribution to early flowering shrubs. It has proven to be the hardiest of all Forsythias.

Lynwood Gold

This splendid new Forsythia originated in Ireland and predict it will replace, before many years, all other varieties of deep yellow color. It is one of several fine new shrubs we have obtained in Europe for introduction in this country. The branches are erect and literally smothered under golden yellow flowers from top to bottom. Not only are the flowers produced in the most profuse manner but the individual blooms are better and fuller in form as well as of greater substance, apparently never minding bad weather. For a magnificent show of golden yellow, there is nothing better. It is superb for cutting and flowering in the house during the winter months. It has been carefully tested for several years in Mentor and we recommend it without hesitation. Ultimate height 5 to 7 feet depending on conditions. Lynwood Gold Forsythia is a worth-while companion to the fine new and popular pale yellow variety, Spring Glory, we have been introducing during the past few years.

Spring Glory

Forsythia, Spring Glory is without question the loveliest of all the Golden Bells. When seen in bloom, it is a sight not easily forgotten, its large pale yellow flowers completely cover the branches in such masses that they literally bend with their weight. It would not be far amiss to say that it produces twice the number of blossoms of the common Forsythia. Further, the pale yellow color is very pleasing and brilliant, infinitely more attractive and cheerful than that of the varieties now in general use. If you desire a sparkling and cheerful display in your garden in early spring, plant a few Forsythia Spring Glory. There is nothing which will make you forget winter as quickly nor announce spring as flamboyantly. Spring Glory is "the variety" to grow for flowering indoors. Branches cut during January and February burst into bloom without any trouble in a few days and make a gorgeous show in the house during the winter months at practically no cost to you.

Ginkgo Biloba

Also called the good luck tree. Touch it and your wishes come true.

One of the oldest things in the world is the Ginkgo tree, dating back to prehistoric times. Millions of years ago trees resembling Ginkgos were common throughout the northern hemisphere, still existing as fossils. They belong to the conifer family but their fan-like leaves, which turn bright golden in late fall, are shed each year. The method by which the Ginkgo achieves fertilization is one of the most astonishing things in Nature. They are beautiful trees for planting on the lawn as a specimen as well as perfect for avenue planting. Their foliage is impervious to insect attack and they grow moderately fast. A tree to own. We ship them about 5 to 7 feet tall.

Gleditsia-Locust Sunburst Locust

(Plant Pat. No. 1313)

A graceful, small tree, perfect for the small or medium size garden. Handsome, green, fern-like foliage, which at the tips of the various branches is bright yellow, creates an effect as if the tree were in bloom. Throughout the entire growing season these yellow tips and leaves persist. It is easily transplanted, grows in most any kind of soil, is of rapid growth and hardy. Here is a most attractive novelty you will enjoy.

Well grown, nice trees, 5 to 7 ft., Each $7.00

Moraine Locust

(Plant Pat. No. 836)

A beautiful vase-shaped tree, in form resembling the American Elm. Dutch Elm disease is killing many Elms and nurserymen have been doing their best to find a suitable tree to take the place of Elms. The answer after many years of testing, is the Moraine Locust. Do not confuse the Moraine Locust with the native Locust tree.

First of all, it is fast growing and happy on a wide range of soils.

Second, it is easy to transplant.

Third, it does not produce unsightly seed pods and has no thorns.

Fourth, it is hardy and handsome. Not too dense, grass will grow under it.

It is a beautifully shaped tree and as we said before, resembling in form the American Elm. It is a perfect street tree and most satisfactory on the average small lawn where a tall tree and some shade is required.

6 to 8 ft. trees, branched, Each $8.00

Hydrangeas

Hydrangeas certainly belong amongst the showiest of summer and autumn flowering small shrubs. They do particularly well along the seashore. In light shade under trees or on the shady side of a building whether planted singly or in big groups they come to perfection. When grown in acid soil their colors are of various shades of blue from light to dark depending upon the acidity of the soil. In cold and very exposed locations it is advisable to protect the Lacecap and Hortensis varieties by hilling up earth and some straw or leaves in addition. This little care is rewarded by magnificent blooms the following summer. Paniculata and Quercifolia do not require this extra care.

To make soil acid use Aluminum Sulphate (See page 215).

Hortensis or Globe Shaped Flowers

Domotoi (Double-Flowered Hydrangea)

Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

This beautiful hardy variety produces large, globe-shaped clusters 12 to 15 inches in diameter, composed of immense semi-double flowers. Very frequently the main stem produces 3 or 4 additional smaller bloom clusters below the main flower head, creating a veritable bouquet. The flower heads are well above the foliage and last 8 to 10 weeks or more. The color is pure pink on alkaline soil but will change to a magnificent light blue if the plant is grown in acid soil. It grows into a stout plant two to three feet in diameter and about the same in height, has healthy decorative foliage throughout the season. An impressive, showy Hydrangea which will grow in full sun or light shade.

Parsival

Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

A lovely, low-growing variety noted for its very heavy blooming. Depending upon the acidity of the soil, the color of the flower deepens to a dark blue on very acid soil. It is well to cover plants with some leaves in cold sections of the country as it materially help to produce more flowers.

Lacecap Flowers

The Lacecaps are those with a lacy, flat, plate-like head of bloom consisting of a ring of large petaled ray florets surrounding a central mass of small fertile flowers; growing to a height of 6 feet and bloom from July until September. A little winter protection in cold sections helps to produce more flowers during the summer.

Blue Wave

Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

The lacecap "Blue Wave" is a vigorous and hardy variety originally raised by Lemoine of Nancy. It is most effective when grown in partial shade and in an acid soil. The large plate-like heads of flowers are rich blue or pink on some soils and the small fertile central florets are purplish blue. It makes a roundish bush about 6 feet high and it is not advisable to cut this variety back severely after flowering. When this is done, many side shoots are produced which are frequently damaged by frosts.

Mariesi

Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

Wide, flat corymbs of rosy pink color; the ray florets very large. When grown in an acid soil the flowers turn to a very rich blue. A delightful effect is made when clumps of 3 or more are grown under tall trees (high shade). Give light winter protection in cold locations.

Serrata, Grayswood

Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

A bushy shrub seldom over 3 feet with handsome foliage. Flowers are a fine lace cap form. The inflorescence is blue with the ray florets white, changing to pink and finally to deep crimson. Grows in any good soil but give it a little protection during the winter in very cold localities.

Veitchii

Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

Large, flat umbels of pearly white sterile blooms surrounding turquoise-blue fertile florets. In moderate climates this Hydrangea will reach a height of 6 to 8 feet. Blooming from July through August, it is one of the fine subjects in the garden. Any reasonable soil will do. In cold locations give slight protection. Grow in full sun or light shade.

Hydrangea—Shrub Form

Paniculata Grandiflora

Each $2.00, Three $5.75, Doz. $20.00

Adaptable to almost any situation in the garden, this splendid Japanese introduction is absolutely hardy and can always be relied upon to provide a pleasing spectacle in late summer when every shoot is terminated by an extremely handsome, large, pyramidal panicle of white, star-shaped blossoms. These change to bronzy pink as they age and, together with the attractive tints of the autumn foliage, create quite a delightful picture at a time when any flowering shrub is particularly welcome.

Quercifolia

Each $4.00, Three $11.00, Doz. $40.00

The Oakleaf Hydrangea is a most valuable shrub, blooming late summer and throughout the entire autumn. It is one of the few plants which is perfectly at home in quite deep shade. The artistic flowers are borne in open conical heads, majestic and showy, changing from white to soft rose lasting seemingly indefinitely. The big ornamental leaves take on rich autumn tints and help to provide color and interest where it is almost impossible to obtain it at a time of the year when very few shrubs have bloom. Seldom over 4 to 5 foot high and of slow growth. Hardy, requires no particular care. Here is a plant of the "first water."

Halesia (Snowdrop Tree)

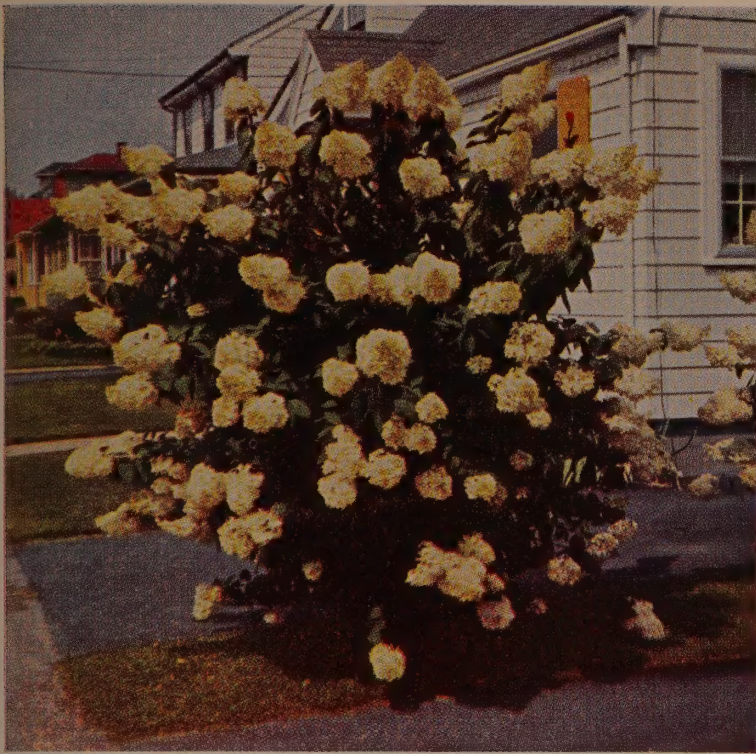

Monticola

Each $4.50

The Silver Bell or Snowdrop Tree, also sometimes called the Lily-of-the-Valley Tree, is a most attractive round-headed, bushy little tree with horizontal branches and rather ordinary foliage. Its beauty consists in the thousands of small white bells which dangle in bewildering profusion from the lower side of the branchlets. Certainly no flowering tree is handsomer and daintier than the Silver Bell in full bloom, and it is always an object of great interest and curiosity. Hardy and readily grown.

The plant grows vigorously and attains a maximum height of 4 to 5 feet. It is bushy in habit with many bright green stems, attractive all winter. Give it a sunny location in front of the border and its golden yellow blooms all summer will be a pleasure. The flowers last well in water and are excellent for cutting.

MAHONIA

Aquifolium

Each $3.25, Three $9.25, Doz. $33.50

This is more popularly known as the Oregon Holly-Grape. It has large, spiny, metallic looking leaves which turn a bronzy red in autumn. In spring the clusters of yellow flowers are very attractive. These flowers are followed by blue fruit in June and July. We consider it one of the most attractive evergreens of easy cultivation. Does perfectly in north exposure in planting of evergreens. Ultimate height about 2½ to 3 feet, depending on location where grown. Does not mind shade and has very ornamental foliage for cutting.

It is a small form of the common Ilex Convexa with a great deal of punch. Its small, shiny, bright foliage and compact growth definitely put it in a class by itself. You should have one or more of this delightful little shrub. Height about 12 inches and 10 inches wide.

Hippophae Rhamnoides

Hypericum

Attractive and charming low growing, summer-flowering shrubs. Their brilliant flowers are beautifully formed and grow on slender branches from early summer until stopped by frost. Excellent subjects for the flower border or in the foreground of taller shrubs, as well as for ground covering.

Calvinium Each $2.00, Three $5.75, Doz. $20.00
This is a most valuable variety because it can also be used as a ground cover for both sunny and semi-shady places. The underground runners are produced so freely as to completely cover the ground; at the tops the golden yellow flowers shine like jewels. Its height is about 12 to 18 inches. We recommend this as one of the best and hardiest.

Hidcote Each $2.75, Three $7.85, Doz. $27.50
From the famous Hidcote estate in England, we obtained this fine variety a few years ago. It grows into a twiggy shrub about 18 inches tall and about the same diameter. Throughout the summer, it is covered with bright yellow cuplike flowers about 2 inches in diameter. In cold winters, it freezes back to the ground but this does not matter because it springs up from the base producing each summer its masses of blooms. A fine shrub for the foreground in the border in cold climates. In the temperate parts of the country it will reach a height of about 3 to 4 ft. Flowers are fragrant and appear in late June, continuing until mid-October.

Hypericum Sungold (U. S. Plant Patent No. 568)

A hardy, shapely, dwarf shrub which grows into an almost completely oval shape of 2½ to 3 feet in diameter, and about 18 to 24 inches in height, densely covered with foliage that is handsome throughout the summer. It bears its cymes of golden flowers at the end of every shoot of the summer's new growth. It flowers more freely and much longer than any of the Hypericum Patulum now in general use. Its flowers are bigger and produced in immense quantities, transforming this lovely plant into a small mound of gold when in full bloom.

Of particular interest and value is its exceptional hardiness. In our nursery tests over five years it has proven its ability to withstand cold weather as well as outgrow and outbloom any Hypericum we have ever seen. The average size of bloom is from 2½ to 3 inches in diameter.

Each $2.75, Three $7.85, Doz. $27.50

Heaths and Heathers

CALLUNA - ERICA

The Heaths are hardy, compact, low growing and spreading, evergreen shrubs. They are most useful for planting in front of shrubs or evergreens and, naturally, are perfect for edgings. They come to perfection when planted in quantities of six or more in one clump to fill in a bay or bare spot. There are many varieties, some winter-blooming and others for spring or summer show. The small foliage is densely arranged around wiry, short stems and takes on lovely shades of green and bronze throughout the winter.

All Heaths and Heathers do best in a well drained, warm soil which should be about two-thirds sandy loam and one-third peat, well mixed. Mix through this well rotted cow manure and if this is not available, use Wayside Gardens' Plant Food at the rate of a cupful per plant. Soil should be slightly acid and always well drained. The first winter after planting, it is well to cover newly set out plants with a light covering of straw or leaves. Water freely during dry, hot weather. Occasionally trim tips to keep plants looking neat; this is the last season's growth. Remove it in early April before new growth starts. It is the new growth the flowers are produced on.

CALLUNA

H. E. Beale Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

The spreading growths are gaily decorated with extra-large, double, silvery pink blossoms from early August to late October. One of the first twelve Heathers to plant, succeeding even on clay soils.

J. H. Hamilton Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00
A new Heather, 12 inches high but much wider, found on Mt. Maughan, Yorkshire. It has semi-prostrate, interlacing growth and is one of the most distinct of the family. From July to winter its slender, 3-6 in. twigs are roped with delightful rose-pink, full double flowers.

Hypericum Hidcote—A lovely all summer flowering low shrub.

Hippophae - Sea Buckthorn

Rhamnoides Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00
A thorny plant, the leaves of which are willow-like and bright, very silvery gray. It is a formidable hedge plant as well as outstanding ornamental for near the seashore. Yellow berries are left alone by birds and remain on plants from September until February. A decorative shrub, will grow anywhere even on the sand dunes and face the salt sea wind bravely where nothing else will, which is something very important. For those living near the shore or whose gardens are dry and sandy soil this shrub is indispensable.

Hippophae Rhamnoides

Ilex-Holly

CONVEXA

This is one of the choicest of evergreens and was introduced into this country in 1919 by E. H. (Chinese) Wilson. It has taken many years of effort to produce this little beauty in quantities, but now it's here for you to enjoy. It is very bushy, has shiny dark green, Boxwood-like foliage somewhat convex and it grows about 4 feet high and 3 feet across. The glossy leaves are so profuse that twigs are invisible. Left to itself it grows "informally formal" and blends beautifully with other evergreens. As a small "accent" plant it is faultless. For small hedges it is a jewel, particularly in cold climates where Boxwood is impossible. An absolute "must" for every garden. Does well in light shade or full sun and is equally happy on alkaline or acid soil, and last but not least, it is hardy.

Convexa Hetzi

This is a very fine form of the well known Convexa; it has proven to be hardier and stronger growing. The glossy boxwood-like leaves are profuse and as the plant is closely branched it has a rich boxwood-like appearance. We recommend it without reservation.

Special Size for Hedges

It is a very fortunate fact that it is possible to transplant the smaller sizes of Ilex convexa Hetzi without a ball of earth, and obtain complete success, providing the transplanting is done before the end of May. A reasonable amount of watering shortly after planting is advisable although Ilex convexa Hetzi does not do well in overly wet soil. It prefers good drainage and full sun. Its popularity is spreading and it is being used in increasing numbers. We can well understand this because we do not know of many other plants as handsome as this. Please turn to page 159 where you will see an illustration of Ilex convexa Hetzi in color. We have grown a number of this type of plant for hedging purposes. Space them 12 to 15 inches apart and before many summers go by, you will have a lovely medium size evergreen hedge you'll enjoy always.

Each $4.00, Three $11.00, Doz. $40.00

This is the deciduous Holly. It is slow growing and ultimately reaches a height of about 10 feet. In winter, after the leaves have been shed, it is one of the most showy shrubs because of the persistent brilliant red berries which hang on practically all winter. They make a cheerful showing outside against the snow and are charming for cutting and winter decorations. Also it is a fine plant for moist places, where other shrubs would not be happy.

KOLKWITZIA - Beauty Bush

Amabilis

Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

A handsome flowering shrub which came from China. While upright in growth its branches at the ends are arching, almost pendulant, so that they cover the ground about them and never look "leggy" and bare. It is perfectly hardy anywhere, has excellent foliage and in June is a fountain of bell-shaped light pink flowers not unlike the Weigela. Grows anywhere and does exceedingly well in dry, sandy, poor soil. Ultimate height about 7 to 8 feet. A shrub that never fails to please, particularly good to grow in hot, dry corners near buildings.

LONICERA

Tatarica Zabelli

Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

Here is a shrub of medium size which is without question one of the best for exposed and really cold locations. It is extremely hardy, will withstand cold blasts of wind, does not mind sun or shade and is not particular about soil. Foliage is excellent, growth dense, of moderate size. It is just the plant you have been looking for. In early spring the bush is transformed into a red mound by the thousands of red flowers which cover it from top to bottom. We offer heavy, bushy plants, 18 to 24 inches tall.

Laburnum Vossi—The loveliest small tree for June and July bloom

LABURNUM - Golden Chain

Vossi

Each $7.00, Three $18.00, Doz. $67.50

Bushy plants ready to flower. This is the long clustered Golden Chain. The flowers are not unlike those of the Wisteria and beautiful golden yellow. The hanging clusters of blooms are often 18 to 20 inches long and are borne very profusely in late spring, transforming the small tree into a mass of golden yellow. Here is one of the nicest small trees for today's smaller gardens. It is magnificent when in bloom and handsome when not because of its smooth bright green bark and clover-leaf-like foliage. It is best planted where it has some shade or on the north side of the house. Does beautifully mixed in between taller shrubs. It usually blooms first year after planting. This is a "must"; you'll want more than one.

Bold, formal, and upright, with its unique shaped leaves which turn yellow in autumn, it is one of the finest of pyramidal trees. Lilac Species

THE DAPHNE LILAC

Microphylla Superba

Each $4.50, Three $12.50, Doz. $45.00

A remarkably lovely shrub, deliciously fragrant, introduced from China. Graceful, slender stems; mahogany-red buds opening to soft pink, panicles of small individual florets. The flowers produce a two-tone effect that is most unusual and novel. The main truss is on top of each stem and smaller trusses are set down the branches, so that the entire plant forms one large bouquet. The foliage is very decorative, about one inch long and three-fourths inch wide. Blooms again in the fall. Of neat habit, seldom growing over 5 feet tall.

THE PINK PEARL LILAC

Sweginflexa

Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

A handsome Hybrid species of neat clean growth, makes a fine looking shrub about 6 to 7 feet tall when fully grown. At the end of May when the French Hybrid Lilacs have finished blooming, Sweginflexa produces a profusion of long, graceful flower panicles of perfect form. The flowers are long tubed, reflexing at the tip, delightfully fragrant and a soft coral-pink or empire-rose. The pearly effect of its color is responsible for the common name, "Pink Pearl Lilac." Blooming after other Lilacs have finished, this is a lovely and valuable plant which helps to continue the procession of bloom in the garden. Hardy anywhere, an unusual plant, we send plants about 2 feet tall which will bloom first year after planting.

Magnolia Soulangeana

Metasequoia Glyptostroboides

Metasequoia Glyptostroboides

THE DAWN CYPRESS—The Primeval World's Giant Tree

A tree of exceptional beauty; it is hardy and easy to grow. Until 1945 the genus Metasequoia had only been known from fossil specimens but in that year a Chinese botanist, Mr. T. Wang, discovered living specimens in Hupel province. The tree was duly named Metasequoia Glyptostroboides by Doctors Hsen-Hsa and Wan Chun Cheng. Soon after its discovery in 1945 an expedition was sent out by the Arnold Arboretum of Boston to collect seeds. Several plants raised from this seed were given to Wayside Gardens for propagation. In the wild state the Dawn Cypress grows to a height of 115 feet. It is a rapid grower, forming an erect narrow pyramid of soft fresh green foliage very like that of the deciduous Cypress. In the autumn the tree assumes a lovely subtle tone of apricot-gold with a slight flush of strawberry-pink before it suddenly sheds its leaves for the winter.

Culture. Any good soil, likes moisture, dig a good size hole to give roots a good start. It has proven hardy at below zero temperatures in Mentor, Ohio. A report from Finland also states it is quite hardy there. It is one of the most ornamental and rarest conifers ever introduced in this country.

Magnolia

Soulangeana

The popular Magnolia Soulangeana is a hybrid, the result of a cross between M. Denudata and M. Liliflora. Its flowers are white within and more or less stained purplish without. Many Soulangeana Magnolias have been grown from seed with the result that the offsprings varied widely. We offer a fine form of Soulangeana and two outstanding variations of this popular hybrid: Alexandrina, a large white, and Nigra, also called Liliflora, a long flower wine-red outside, pink and veined inside. It makes a small tree with gorgeous shining foliage and in early spring produces its enormous, pinkish white flowers, more or less purplish outside and slightly fragrant. Soulangeana is the showiest of the family for planting in northern gardens, and when in bloom, even one plant will dominate the garden—yes, the neighborhood, if it is a sizeable specimen.

Dwarf Korean Lilac

Syringa Palibiniana Each $5.00, Three $14.00, Doz. $50.00

This is a fine dwarf growing Lilac from Korea where it was discovered in 1917. Not yet well known but it will be used in great numbers in today's small gardens. It flowers profusely, panicles are about 6 inches long and lilac or lavender colored. Foliage is small and clean. Plants are rounded and bushy in our nursery, never over 3 feet high and 3 feet across, although very old specimens found were 6 to 8 feet. Here is a rare and fine plant of only recent discovery you will enjoy having.

Syringa Palibiniana Standards

Sold out for the season

A most attractive Tree Lilac, intended for formal gardens. Looks especially good in the center of a flower or Rose bed. The head is symmetrical, leaves small and clean. In late June a mass of flowers completely covers the top. Here is a choice item for the person who wants something different. Stems are about 36 to 40 inches high. Unlike other Lilacs, Palibiniana blooms the first year of planting.

PERSIAN LILAC

A dense compact plant with good foliage which, at blooming time, is completely covered under a tremendous amount of bloom. We know of no other Lilac which flowers so prolifically and responds so splendidly under what might be termed indifferent treatment. It blooms ahead of the French Hybrid Lilacs and the flowers do splendidly when cut. The ultimate height depends much on soil conditions. Average would be about 7 to 8 feet and almost that much across.

Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

French Hybrid Lilacs

The finest and highest rated varieties.

The following are the "cream" of the cream of Lilacs. They stand out above other varieties because of their enormous trusses and exquisite colors, as well as their fragrance. No more need be said than "these are the best to date."

The plants offered are healthy and vigorous, about 2 feet tall, depending on the habits of the variety, and will flower profusely as soon as they have become well established.

PLANTING INSTRUCTIONS FOR LILACS

It is very important you plant Lilacs deeply. See to it that they are planted at least 2 or 3 inches deeper in your garden than they were grown in the nursery. Further, do not expect Lilacs to bloom correctly with full size flowers until not less than two years after planting. Lilacs require time to re-establish themselves and develop flower buds of the proper size and color. They respond rapidly to heavy feeding and are lovers of alkaline soils; use lime freely and again feed freely.

Alice Eastwood (New) Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

The buds are claret-purple, when open are handsomely double Cyclamen-purple. Clusters are beautifully formed and slender, almost "spike-like" and are particularly handsome when used as cut flowers. A unique and extra fine variety.

Ami Schott Each $3.50, Three $9.75, Doz. $35.00

Magnificent double deep cobalt-blue flowers with paler reverse. The panicles are dense and broad. This is a superb novelty.

"Wayside Gardens" Garden Dust is a mighty fine combination of the recently discovered insecticides. We use it at Wayside and keep our plants clean and healthy without much difficulty. To make a report here of what goes into this dust is more or less pointless. What is important is that it does a perfect job for us and we know it will for you. We are not so much interested in a little profit from an insecticide as we are interested in seeing that whatever plants you buy from us or what flowers you already have, grow well and give you pleasure. It is for this reason we make this dust available to our customers. Prevention is better than a cure so dust frequently and dust sparingly for best results.

Malus---Flowering Crabs

Two groups of flowering trees, the Cherries and the Crabs, stand far above all others in daintiness and grace. The Japanese Cherries are well advertised by the spectacular planting in Washington, D. C., now the even lovelier Crab Apples are being planted by the thousands and rightly so. Crabs are extremely hardy and will thrive in positions and exposure which would be fatal to the more delicately constituted Cherries. They also exhibit a greater variety in character of tree, a wider range of color in their blossoms, and in autumn are adorned with glittering clusters of fruit in shades of green, yellow, orange, scarlet, and crimson. No other flowering trees equal the flowering Crabs in profusion of bloom, and amongst other good qualities, varieties may be selected which have a restricted growth or dwarf habit so that they will never become too large and clumsy.

Malus, Red Jade

(Plant Patent No. 1497)

This dramatic flowering Crab, as you will note from the illustration at left, is semi-weeping or rather pendulant in habit. The flowers are legion and blush-white, transforming it into sheer beauty in the spring. However, it is not the flowers but the brilliantly colored fruit in autumn that makes this variety a sensation. There is nothing quite like it. Originating in the Botanical Gardens in Brooklyn, New York, arrangements were made for Wayside Gardens to introduce it to the public. Here, unquestionably, is a small tree that will thrill you with its beauty as well as every passerby who sees it. Only a limited number of plants are available at this time.

Crimson Brilliant

The Most Brilliant Red Flowering Crab to Date!

(Plant Patent No. 939)

This new brilliant red, semi-double Flowering Crab comes to us from Des Moines, Iowa. We are indebted for this beautiful tree to Mr. A. F. den Boer, who is recognized as America's leading expert on Flowering Crabs. More than 27 years of breeding and selecting have gone into the creation of this, his choicest specimen. First of all, it is very hardy and can be grown anywhere. It is of medium size; when mature it is about 15 feet tall so it can be grown in small gardens without crowding out other things. It grows quickly and will flower a year after planting, but as the tree grows older it increases in floriferousness. The fruit is purple-red in color and about the size of a Cherry and the flesh is also red. The six-year-old specimen illustrated was completely covered with crimson flowers of a shade not unlike that of the well known Darwin Tulip, City of Haarlem. Crimson Brilliant Crab is without any question the finest of the red Crabs. There is nothing that can compare with it and it is our choicest introduction of new Crabs.

Nice trees about 5 to 6 ft.

Here is a fine new flowering tree you will surely want for your collection.

Malus Kaido, Fragrant Midget Crab

Dwarf Growing Flowering Crabs

You of course are familiar with the dwarf Apple and Pear trees. They are especially grown on "dwarfing understock" or roots which prevents them from reaching their normal size as well as induces them to bear fruit early and heavily.

We have done the same thing with a number of distinct and handsome Flowering Crab Apples, which will permit you to grow them in the shrub borders or as small colorful specimens on the lawn. It requires more time and care to produce this type of tree so they cost somewhat more than the regular type. For small gardens or as a specimen in a flower bed they are made to order. The dwarf varieties available are:

Hopa

Hillieri

Kaido

Katherine

All are priced at $5.00 each.

When ordering be sure and mention "dwarf trees."

Flowering Crabs and Their Care

Newly planted Flowering Crabs should be watered freely the first year. After planting, spade in 2 quarts of Wayside Gardens' Plant Food in top layer of soil about 10 inches deep. Do this once more the following year then stop. Feeding and too free watering induce rapid growth but not flowering. Keep soil somewhat poor and dry for early and free blooming. For lots of bloom don't water and don't feed. Remember that each variety has its own particular habit of growth and form. Not all grow with straight trunks or are perfectly upright. Branching habits vary with each variety and this is what makes them so interesting, particularly if planted in groups of six or more. All produce fruit which ripens over a long period to the delight of birds. Trees live to a ripe old age, flowering freely each year no matter how old they are. Remember don't feed if you want bloom.

Potentilla (Buttercup Shrub)

A sensational plant—

one of the greatest of all summer flowering shrubs!

The shrubby Potentillas are among the most rewarding and accommodating of hardy garden plants. Floriferous and disease free as well as easily grown. They thrive in ordinary fertile soil in sun or partial shade. Prodigious they display their hundreds of yellow or cream blossoms which look like miniature single Roses throughout the summer and well into the late autumn; in fact, until frost. In form and habit they vary widely between low sprawling or prostrate hummocks to dense medium sized shrubs well suited for low carefree hedges. They may be planted in fall or spring and are particularly recommended for those locations where temperatures go much below zero. When used for hedges, plant 18 inches apart. They are native of Manchuria and Northern China.

Fruticosa, Gold Drop Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

A charming small shrub of such compact growth as to resemble a small, irregular shaped mound about 2 to 2½ feet high. It is closely and densely covered with small, fern-like leaves and studded with intensely brilliant golden yellow, buttercup-like flowers from early June until October. This delightful small shrub may be used in front of the shrub border or in the foreground of any perennial planting. It does best in full sun and is hardy in below zero temperatures. Spaced 12 inches apart in a single row it will make one of the most charming informal hedges that can be imagined. A No. 1 small edging plant. Succeeds in sub-zero temperatures on most any kind of soil.

Jackman's Variety Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

An extra good variety which makes a continuous display of large, brilliant yellow flowers in shape like those of the Strawberry. Deeply lobed beautiful foliage, very bushy habit; grows into a fine upright compact specimen. Particularly good as a plant for a low hedge.

Sutters Gold Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

A low growing shrub, stems ascending or procumbent; small leaves, dense, fern-like, closely set along the stem, forming a carpet of mossy green on which are studded dozens of large golden buttercup-like flowers. The variety is at present the largest flowered of the yellow Potentillas and surely one of the nicest. A native from the cold plains of northern China.

Katherine Dykes Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

In England this is considered the best of the Potentillas for garden use. It grows about 2½ feet high, sometimes 3 feet, is compact but with arching branches which are studded with clear sparkling yellow cup-like blooms from beginning to end. For background, there is the handsome, small, fern-like foliage. Blooming all summer and being of medium height, never spreading much over 3 feet, it is one of the choice small all-summer flowering shrubs. Perfect for small gardens or in narrow borders. Don't miss this little gem which needs no care. We know of no single small shrubs that bloom so persistently and as lovely as Potentilla, Katherine Dykes.

Longacre Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

Prostrate and spreading habit; when fully grown it forms a cushion 3 feet in diameter. Its nice small fern-like foliage is a perfect background for the bright yellow flowers which persist from early summer until late fall. Makes a lovely clump of color in foreground of border. One of the best new dwarf shrubs. We cannot say enough about the cheerfulness of this plant in the garden. It is of recent introduction but before long will be grown everywhere.

Moonlight Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

Upright growth, light glaucous green foliage, very free-flowering with an abundance of large lemon-yellow flowers. A fine variety to plant along with the darker yellow sorts for contrast. It is in bloom all summer long.

Mount Everest Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

A vigorous upright grower with deep green foliage studded with pure white flowers. We believe this to be the best of the white kinds. It makes a good contrast if planted in the foreground of evergreens.

Primrose Beauty Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

Pendulent branches, giving this plant a fountain-like effect. Flowers are abundantly produced, saucer-shaped, creamy yellow with darker yellow base. It is one of the new varieties and a very good one.

Potentillas

For charming low hedges or edging, Potentilla are excellent. Compact in growth, slow growing, can be pruned to most any small size. Fern-like foliage and a constant display of small golden, cup-shaped flowers throughout the summer make them the No. 1 small edging plants. Succeed in sub-zero temperatures on most any kind of soil. Space them 12 inches apart. Use any variety of your choosing.

Special size for hedges: Three $4.75, Doz. $18.00, 100 $125.00

Neillia Longiracemosa

An interesting small flowering shrub from China growing from 3 to 5 feet in height. In general appearance not unlike the well known Spirea. The erect stems bear racemes of peach-pink flowers in May and June. It is happy in almost any soil and situation. An attractive little shrub for small gardens and in front of the shrub border.

Rosea Each $5.00, Three $14.00, Doz. $50.00

A choice but little known Chinese shrub. Erect stems seldom over 5 feet high bearing racemes of peach-pink flowers in May and June. They do best in moist loam but not too well in full sun. An interesting addition to a shrub border.

The star-like flowers open in Lily-like fashion, the centers showing a decided light purple flush. This extra touch of color, plus its intense and delightful fragrance which can be detected over the entire garden, sets this shrub aside as one in a class by itself. Its growth is orderly, nice and bushy, and grows about 5 feet tall and 4 feet in diameter.

They are of such purity of whiteness as to make all other Mockoranges seem gray by comparison. The fragrance is delightful, more delicate, yet more penetrating than that of Jasmine. Its flowers are so intensely white one constantly marvels at its ethereal effect. A "must" in every garden. Ultimate height about 6 feet. Unquestionably the most prolific flowering Mockorange.

Pachistima

Canbyi Each $2.00, Three $5.75, Doz. $20.00, 100 $150.00

This small Holly-leaved prostrate little evergreen shrub spreads about 18 inches. Several planted together make a perfectly charming ground cover. It grows equally well in sun or shade and is hardy anywhere. Because of its ease of culture and fine habit without any care, it is rapidly becoming first choice as a cover for graves as well as in small shady places in the garden. As a ground cover, plants should be spaced 6 inches apart.

Pachistima Canbyi

Pyracantha Firethorn

Coccinea Lalandi Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

A most remarkable fruiting evergreen shrub. Bears attractive large trusses of white flowers during the late spring followed by an abundance of brilliant orange-scarlet berries which remain late into the winter. A marvelous plant for foundation planting where soil is dry. The long shoots it makes can be used as a vine over a doorway or along a window casing. The plants can be trimmed to fit any position. It is difficult to transplant field-grown or large plants. We therefore send young stock from 6-inch pots which will reach a height of 2 to 3 feet the first year. It prefers a warm, well-drained location.

Lalandi Fructu luteo (Yellow Pyracantha)

Each $4.50, Three $12.50, Doz. $45.00

Habit of growth, hardiness and blooming similar to the well known Firethorn. Its difference is in the color of the berries which in this case are golden yellow instead of red. They are produced in prodigious quantities. Grow it as a shrub or train as a vine. Full sun, well drained sandy soil and southern exposure will grow it to perfection. Like all Pyracantha it must be transplanted in small size from pots. Grows fast and will bear fruit first year after transplanting.

Watereri

Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

This variety excels as a specimen and is excellent for hedges. Its twiggy and bushy dense habit makes it a superb plant for that purpose. A foam of white flowers cover the branches and masses of red berries light it with fire in autumn like all Pyracanthas. They transplant best in small sizes from containers and we offer nice plants ready to bloom and bear fruit. Likes a warm dry sunny location; if given that it will develop into a remarkable specimen or they can be grown into a superb hedge.

Pyracantha Coccinea Lalandi in Bloom in Spring

SORBARIA

Aitchisonii

Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

Its beautiful foliage is this shrub's great merit. It is rich green and pinnate and the veins on the long pointed leaflets not unlike a Mountain Ash, are most strikingly etched, contrasting well with the bright red stems and petioles. Upright panicles, 12 to 18 inches long, of white flowers in late summer. A superb plant which grows about 10 feet high. We recommend last year's growth be cut to the ground each spring and then it will make 5 feet of growth with flowers at the apex. Hardy anywhere and of easy culture, requiring no care.

SYMPHORICARPOS

White Hedge

Each $2.25, Three $6.50, Doz. $22.50

This is a much improved form of the well known Snowberry Symphoricarpos Racemosus. The pendulous characteristic of Racemosus is completely eliminated in the variety White Hedge, which is a far superior small shrub. Its growth is upright, strong and compact and the clusters of white berries are borne in erect trusses in an unusually large number. We consider it a great improvement and a fine addition to colorful, medium sized shrubs for today's smaller gardens, and it is a perfect small shrub for a shady place.

Orbiculatus Erect

Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

A slow growing and erect small shrub. The white flowers in summer are followed by large bright red berries in autumn. A neat small plant for a tight spot and unexcelled for a hedge plant. Hardy as an Oak; does equally well in light shade or full sun, not particular as to soil. Ultimate height about 3 to 4 feet.

Orbiculatus, Magic Berry

Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

Dwarf bushy habit, ultimate height about 3 to 4 feet. Tips of branches slightly pendulent which in autumn are heavily covered with small red fruit perfect for cutting and indoor use. Magic Berry also makes a fine hedge plant and fits perfectly in any shady spot around the house.

Stephanandra Incisa Crispa Nana

Stephanandra

Incisa Crispa Nana

Each $2.00, Three $5.75, Doz. $20.00, 100 $150.00

A graceful and elegant very dwarf shrub with finely incised bright green leaves which in autumn change to a brilliant reddish purple. It has small clusters of white flowers, but it is for its dainty crimped, fern-like foliage that the plant is really grown. It does splendidly in shade and makes a nice ground cover on the north side of a house, or under shrubs or trees. Seldom over 2 feet high but it will spread 3 feet across. It is a native of Korea and Japan and a pleasing shrub during the winter as well when its naked brown zigzag branches carry on the show. It is particularly fine as a foreground specimen plant. Combined in a planting of low growing plants in front of a house or below a picture window, it is perfect, and it is equally useful in front of shrubs. It can also be used to make an attractive low hedge. Space plants 12 inches apart for hedge purposes.

Prunus

FLOWERING ALMONDS, CHERRIES, PLUMS AND PEACHES

Among the Flowering Prunes are several handsome shrubs called variously: Flowering Plums, Flowering Cherries, Flowering Almonds and Flowering Peaches. They are so well known that they do not need any introduction. They are very hardy. We supply in each case a plant of fine quality which will bloom first year after planting.

Flowering Cherries

Very beautiful early spring-flowering small trees, seldom growing over 25 feet tall. From early to late May they are loaded with single or double flowers of great charm and beauty. There are upright growing, spreading and weeping forms of this lovely tree. All Cherry trees offered are from 3 to 5 feet tall, depending on the nature of the variety. Will bloom first year after planting.

State quarantines prohibit the sending of certain fruits and their flowering horticultural forms such as: Flowering Almonds, Flowering Plums, and Flowering Peaches, into Arizona, California, Idaho, and Washington.

Akebono (Daybreak) Each $6.00, Three $16.00

In our opinion this is one of the most beautiful trees. It is the double pink flowering type of the famous Yoshino Cherry so widely planted in Tokyo, which are single. There are said to be over 10,000 trees of it in that city. We get the same old thrill from it every spring as it does not seem possible to remember from one year to another how superbly beautiful it is. Luckily it is one of the best growers and soon makes a good sized and freely blooming tree. Very early.

Amanogawa Each $6.00, Three $16.00

Erect growing, semi-double Cherry. Name means "Milky Way." Unlike all others in its extremely narrow, erect growth, which takes little room. Flowers semi-double, pink, in erect clusters.

James H. Veitch Each $7.00

Big double deep rose-pink flowers are produced by the thousands on a tree with rather a broad top somewhat wider than Kansan but it does not grow quite as tall as the latter. For small gardens it is perfect. Good ornamental foliage helps to make it a desirable variety. A heavy bloomer, makes a magnificent show.

Kanzan Splendens Each $6.00, Three $16.00

Also called Kwanzan and Sekiyama. All names mean Gateway to the Mountain. Probably the most popular and best known double. Flowers very large, up to 2 inches, with about 30 large petals; deep rosy pink.

Shirotae Each $6.00, Three $16.00

A lovely variety highly valued by all who love flowering Cherries. Its double, snowy white flowers are very large and heavy, produced in great abundance. The Arnold Arboretum Bulletin often mentions it because of its beauty and hardiness.

Ukon Each $10.00

A rare treasure! A Flowering Cherry which was almost lost. Its large semi-double primrose-yellow flowers every spring hanging between the young copper tinted leaves create a sight not easily forgotten. The tree is vigorous, of open habit, creating a handsome sight when in bloom.

WEeping CHERRIES

Single Pink Weeping Cherry Each $10.50, Three $30.00

Double Pink Weeping Cherry Each $10.50, Three $30.00

"Weeping heads" are grafted on straight trunks about 6 feet tall. They grow rapidly and develop in no time into beautiful weeping trees which in spring are a glorious mass of flowers. Weeping Cherry trees transplant early and without trouble of any kind but they should be pruned properly and severely so they will develop into handsome trees. We have done the pruning and guarantee results.

Subhirtella

Autumn Flowering Cherries

A delightfully graceful variety, makes a small tree about 12 feet high which is loaded with small pink flowers in spring and again in the autumn. Flowering branches are somewhat pendulant, creating a most artistic effect. One of the choice kinds. Is wonderful if grown as a tall shrub.

Each $6.00, Three $16.00

Hally Jolivette

Pink Mist Cherry

In bloom for 2 to 3 weeks.

This is a very compact and very finely branched tree. Its branches are produced by the legion, willowy yet stiff. In early spring they are covered with thousands of small pink blossoms transforming the plant into a pink fluffy ball of flowers unlike anything you have ever seen before. When out of bloom, the foliage is handsome and pleasant to look at. A first rate novelty we unconditionally recommend. It was produced by the well-known Dr. Karl Sax of the famous Arnold Arboretum in Boston. Here is beauty and hardiness combined into a superb plant. We consider it a "must."

Beautiful plants in bush form, 3-4 ft. high for shrub border.

Each $5.00, Three $14.00.

Standard or regular tree from on stems about 3½ ft. high with fine, bushy head. Each $6.00, Three $16.00.

Flowering Peaches

The general habit of all is much the same, the main difference being in color of flowers and time of blooming. They should be very severely pruned every year as soon as they have finished blooming and before growth starts. Cutting them for decoration accomplishes the same purpose and is highly beneficial but should be completed as soon as flowers are gone. All growth of the previous season should be cut back to about 8 inches. Don't touch them in the fall as that is simply cutting off potential flowers.

Spring planting only is recommended except in localities where temperatures do not go below 10 degrees of frost. All flowering Peach trees offered are about 5 feet tall, depending on the variety.

Cardinal Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

Profusely laden with rich colored madder-rose or Tyrian rose double blooms which have a rich crimson sheen. A brilliant and beautiful effect is created. A thrill you will long remember. A rare plant for your garden.

Iceberg Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

A magnificent pure double white Peach. Spotlessly white flowers in great quantities give an effect not often seen in flowers. A perfect beauty.

Pink Charming Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

Delightful and charming is what visitors tell us of this variety. Lovely double rose-pink blossoms grow in superabundance, making this small tree look like a huge bouquet.

Flowering Plums

Pissardi rosea (Purple-Leaved Plum "Special Selection")

About 4 to 5 feet tall. Each $5.00, Three $14.00, Doz. $50.00

The deep bronzy foliage of this small tree is its great attraction; however, the thousands of pink, single flowers in spring are not to be overlooked. Most "purple" leaved trees lose much of their color throughout the summer, but this is not the case with this special selection of ours recently imported from England. Its foliage is of the deepest shade of purplish red imaginable, almost black. It makes a fine contrast plant and helps give variety and color in the garden, easily grown and ideal for the small yard or special point of interest. Ultimate height about 10 feet. Occasional pruning will keep it in shape desired.

Triloba, Dwarf Plum Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

The Flowering Plum blooms in May before the leaves come out. The delightful double, quilled, bright pink flowers stud every twig and branchlet so heavily no wood is visible. Very handsome and should not be left out of any garden. Is a splendid early blooming shrub for the border and its flowers are excellent for cutting. Ultimate height about 8 feet.

Triloba, Standard or Tree Form Each $5.50

Standards of Prunus Triloba are very effective in formal gardens or as single specimens on lawn or around beds.

Double Pink Flowering Plum

For description and illustration of flowers and fruit see pages 206 and 207.

Prunus Glandulosa

Glandulosa alba Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

The small, very double, white rosettes grow in great abundance along the stem in late April and early May. Lovely when in bloom. Ultimate height about 4 to 5 feet.

Glandulosa rosea Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

Produces very double, rose colored flowers in great profusion in spring. One of the most charming old-fashioned early flowering shrubs, and is still unsurpassed in beauty in its season.

Glandulosa rosea, Standard or Tree form Each $6.00

We have grown this charming free-flowering shrub on stems 2½ feet tall. They are perfect for a special interest point in flower beds or a setting in a formal garden. Here is something charming and unusual.

Prunus Triloba

Robinia - Pseudoacacia

Locust - False Acacia

A most useful as well as attractive tree. It is of picturesque outline, very rugged and open-branching. Bright pinnate Acacia foliage and racemes of white flowers. It thrives on the poorest soils. Below are given three remarkable horticultural varieties.

Friesia because of its pale gold foliage.

Fastigiata because it is a beautiful fast growing pyramidal tree.

Tortuosa grows into a noble straight stem with sinuous "twisted" branches.

All grow about 40 feet tall. Their open branches permit grass to grow luxuriantly right up to the trunk. Just the tree you need near a terrace where too dense shade is undesirable, and they thrive on the poorest soil. They root deeply and do not rob top soil.

FOUR UNUSUAL LOCUSTS

Friesia* (New) 6 to 8 ft., Each $7.00, Three $18.00, Doz. $67.50
A magnificent Locust which has yellow foliage. The young shoots are almost orange. In autumn the foliage changes to coppery yellow. Through all this color one sees the bright red thorns. It is a magnificent plant and only recently introduced in Europe. We were fortunate in obtaining a few nice husky plants. Here is something rare and handsome.

Fastigiata* (New) 6 to 8 ft., Each $7.00, Three $18.00, Doz. $67.50
The habit of growth is more slender than that of the Lombardy Poplar and because of its lovely foliage it is a far superior plant. It seems alive as the slightest wind sets the leaves in motion. Just the thing for a narrow space or to block out a pole where a wide spreading tree would not be permitted. Here again a rare tree of recent introduction in Europe.

Monument* (Robinia Hispida). 6 to 8 ft., Each $7.00, Three $18.00
A tree that can be grown in every garden, big or little. It may be used as a small lawn specimen or in the shrub border where it will not crowd or harm plants near by. During late May and June it is covered with drooping clusters of deep rose-colored flowers resembling Pea blossoms. Will grow in any soil anywhere. Ultimate height about 10 to 12 feet. We offer nice plants about six feet. Prune it severely immediately after planting.

Tortuosa* (New) 4 to 5 ft. trees, Each $7.00, Three $18.00, Doz. $67.50
This is a straight stemmed Locust with curiously twisted branches. It is one of the most unusual plants we have discovered abroad. When the leaves are gone and the branches stand out clearly against the sky, it is fascinating to look at. You cannot plant anything in your lawn which will give you more pleasure especially in the winter.

Salix Salamonii

Rhus (Smoke Tree)

Bronze-Leaved Smoke Tree

Rhus Cotinus Rubrifolius Each $4.50, Three $12.50, Doz. $45.00
Here we have the rare bronze-leaved and "bronze-plumed" Smoke Tree. The common Smoke Tree is too well known, nothing more need be said about it except that it has been a favorite garden shrub for hundreds of years. The bronzed-leaved form has handsome bronze tinted foliage and a bronze colored so-called plume or smoke. It is one of the outstanding shrubs in our nursery and has caused a great deal of comment. We are sure that this rare shrub will make a fine display in your garden. We offer nice bushes about 2 to 3 feet tall.

THE PURPLE-BLACK SMOKE TREE NOTCUTT VARIETY

(Plant Pat. No. 1457)

Rhus Cotinus Foliis Purpureis Notcutt Variety

Each $6.00, Three $16.00, Doz. 60.00

Coppery purple-black foliage and coppery purple-black smoke plume. A fantastic shrub. Magnificent richly colored foliage which is somewhat lighter in tone when young becoming darker as it ages. Feathery plumes in June and July just as richly colored as its foliage. Plant is of neat, compact growth. Its foliage is incomparable. There is no other purple Smoke Tree like it. The feathery plumes are large and richly colored. In autumn when the leaves begin to turn, this shrub is a riot of colors. It was a sensation when first shown in England where it originated and was turned over to Wayside Gardens exclusively for introduction under patent in this country. Stock very limited. We send out plants about 2 to 3 feet tall. Here is something outstanding and tremendously different.

Salix - Willow

French Pussy Willow Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

Not the wild Pussy Willow but a fine cultivated French variety. Branches of this variety have been selling at retail during the winter months in cities at from $1.00 to $2.00 per dozen. You can grow them on your own lawn! Enjoy these dainty silvery pink flowers every winter. A beautiful round shrub in summer or use them for tall screens or backgrounds. Cut the ends of the branches in January or February. Place them indoors in a vase of water. Watch them unfold their large catkins of silver-pink, from 1 to 2 inches long. They will repay you many times their cost in pleasure. Ultimate height 10 feet. Cut back branches to 6 inches when planting and each spring after catkins have formed to promote long, vigorous new canes.

Repens* (Golden Dwarf) Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

Its foliage is brilliant silvery gray, branches are slender and arching, forming a delightful gray hummock of about 3 to 4 feet in height. Can be pruned to any desired height. Dainty yellow catkins occur in March and April, excellent for decorating. A superb small shrub with conspicuous foliage and high decorative value.

Purpurea Nana

Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00, 100 $65.00

Dwarf Blue-Leaf Arctic Willow. Discovered north of the Arctic Circle. A charming low-growing Willow excellently suited for low hedges. Grows anywhere in wet or heavy soils where other plants perish. It is able to withstand the lowest temperatures encountered in this country, is of easy culture. The foliage is a lovely gray-blue-green. Can be clipped for formal effect or left natural as desired. Should be planted about 8 inches apart. May also be grown as single specimens in the foreground of the shrub border. Its natural height is about 3 feet. May be clipped and held to 12 inches high and 12 inches wide.

Salix Salamonii

This is one of the fastest growing trees we know about. It was obtained through a cross of the common Weeping Willow, Salix Babylonica, with the variety Alba.

It is much hardier and stronger as well as faster growing, handsomely weeping with good foliage. Used freely in England but not well known in this country. We know of nothing better for quickly blocking out undesirable views or buildings. Does well in moist soil and when established grows as much as five to six feet in one season while young. Grows ultimately as tall as the common Weeping Willow. The best size for planting is young trees about 5 to 6 feet tall. They establish at once and grow rapidly. We do not offer larger trees because of this fast growth and recommend spring planting only in very cold locations.

A limited number of trees available at $6.00 each.

Double Pink Flowering Plum, Purple Leaf Plum (Blireiana)

About 4 to 5 feet tall Each $5.00, Three $14.00, Doz. $50.00

This small tree grows about 15 feet tall. In early spring it is covered with large clusters of pink blossoms like those of the double flowering Cherry. In fact it is often mistaken for a flowering Cherry. It is very hardy and should be used in place of flowering Peaches or Cherries in those localities where the latter are not hardy. In addition to the delightful display of double pink flowers you will enjoy the bronze-colored foliage as well as the delicious, small, sweet Plums which ripen in early autumn. Here is a small tree equally charming for the small garden or as a specimen on the large lawn. It is the first tree to bloom along with the Forsythia.

Ribes (Flowering Currant)

King Edward VII

Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

Long, pendent racemes of deep crimson flowers grow along stiff, straight stems, transforming the small shrubs into a bright handsome plant. This color is particularly welcome because there are so few shrubs of this color in bloom in March and April. Has sturdy, broadly bushy habit and grows about 4 to 5 feet tall. Does very well in light shade.

Spiraea

We are happy to make you acquainted with several little known choice varieties of Spiraea. Some were discovered growing in fine English gardens, while others were found in botanic gardens abroad. Our main object was to obtain varieties of medium height, the kinds that do not have to be "butchered" each year to keep them under control. All are easily cultivated, of graceful habit, with pleasing foliage as well as an abundance of bloom. They are hardy and trouble free.

Arcuata

Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

A jewel from the Himalaya Mountains, perfect for today's landscape. It rarely is over 4 feet tall and flowers unbelievably heavy. Excellent foliage, neat habit, pendulant, requires no care and does not need to be so often "butchered" like Spiraea van Houtte to keep it to desired size. A splendid plant for small gardens and houses. The perfect dwarf Spiraea van Houtte. Flowers pure white in June and July followed by conspicuous seed clusters of mahogany-red which remain on the plant for months. Are just as handsome as the flowers.

Arguta Compacta (Foam of May)

Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

Deservedly the most popular white Spiraea. Every twig is festooned with dainty white flowers towards the end of April. This special selected compact form is much smaller, very bushy and dense with foliage. It is completely hardy and does not grow much over three feet. A mound of white when in bloom. Its compactness and neat growth make it an eminently good subject for low hedges that do not require much pruning. A beautiful little shrub.

Spiraea Crispifolia

Crispifolia (Daphne Spirea)

Each $3.00,

Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

Also called the Daphne Spiraea, it is a dwarf very slow-growing Japanese species not over 10 to 12 inches high when mature. The flowers are scarlet-rose, borne on very short stems so freely they completely cover the plants in July. When not in bloom they show a low mound-like mass of sharply toothed puckered leaves. As attractive as any small evergreen. Hardy as an Oak, use it in the rock garden or for a low edging as well as in front of other dwarf shrubs. It is a rare little gem. Looks very much like Daphne cneorum

Spiraea Sanssouciana

Sanssouciana

Each $5.00, Three $14.00, Doz. $50.00

An outstanding member of a large family developed by that well known German Botanist K. Koch. A compact plant about 4 to 5 feet high when mature; excellent foliage throughout the season, but in July covered with upright rosy pink panicles twelve or more inches long and 6 to 10 inches at the base. It is then that this shrub steals the show. We feel it is one of the best plants that could be added to the list of shrubs for American gardeners. Hardy anywhere, trouble free, will grow in any reasonably good soil.

Japonica coccinea

Each $2.25, Three $6.50, Doz. $22.50

Similar in growth and habit to the Anthony Waterer Spiraea. The flowers of this new variety are much better and richer crimson-red. No one will ever again plant the old Anthony Waterer once they have seen this fine improvement. Ultimate height about 30 to 36 inches.

Japonica Fortunei

Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

Deeply serrated leaves and bright red flowers. Its fern-like foliage is handsome throughout the summer. An attractive front row shrub which must not be overlooked. Of easy culture, hardy as an Oak, height about 16 to 18 inches.

Spiraea Arcuata

Trilobata, Swan Lake

Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

Trilobata is a rare Spiraea from North China and Siberia, "Swan Lake" is a fine form of it which amazes one by its masses of white flowers. It has thin interlacing twigs and never grows over 3 to 4 feet in height. It is a lovely small shrub when its hundreds upon hundreds of clusters of white flowers mingle with the dark green, 3- to 5-lobed, gooseberry-like leaves. Resembles a small Spiraea Van Houttei which is a Trilobata seedling and seen everywhere as well as being much taller. Here is a perfect, profusely blooming small plant for the small garden.

Spiraea Japonica Fortunei

Spiraea Lemoinii Alpestris

SPIRAEA

Lemoinii Alpestris

Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

A rare little plant which forms a dense matlike growth about 4 to 6 inches high. The small lance-like leaves are on short wiry branches each one tipped with a small cluster of light pink flowers which occur heavily in spring but continue to provide color throughout the entire summer. It is a superb little creeping shrub for carpeting bare spots in front of shrubs. It is hardy, grows freely, chokes out weeds and gives a tidy appearance to an otherwise uninteresting spot.

STACHYURUS

Praecox Gracilis

Each $5.00, Three $14.00, Doz. $50.00

A remarkable shrub from Japan, hardy and easily grown. Inclined to like slightly acid soil or sandy peaty loam. However, it grows freely here in Mentor along with other shrubs. Height about 6 feet. Bushy plant with reddish brown shoots. Flowers are pale yellow, borne 12 to 20 on stiffly drooping racemes early in March. Would bloom in February in milder climates. A choice rare and interesting shrub.

STEWARTIA

Monadelphus

Each $7.00

An uncommon shrub, grows to a height of about 10 feet. It has 1½ to 2½-inch elliptical leaves slightly serrated and pubescent beneath. The 1 to 2-inch fragrant white flowers beneath two large bracts with violet anthers, are borne in the leaf axils during July. Often referred to as an "imitation Camellia." It is a stately shrub at all times with handsome, very effective foliage and rigid branches. Most unusual when in bloom. We offer a limited number of plants about 4 to 5 feet high which will bloom the first year after planting.

SORBUS - Mountain Ash

The Rowan Tree, with the Oak and Ash and Thorn, was one of the magic trees of the fairies. Dark legends of the "Druids of Eld" cling to the heathenish Rowan and its blood-red fruit. But the old name departed with the magic, and the witching Rowan is now prosaically called the Mountain Ash and planted widely in the most unromantic places for the glittering color of its fruit in autumn.

Aucuparia

Each $5.50, Three $15.00, Doz. $55.00

It forms a symmetrical, round-topped tree 20 to 25 feet high, with striking foliage somewhat like that of the Sumac, and enormous clusters of scarlet-orange berries in the autumn. The fruit is very attractive and the robins like the berries. It is a fine small tree easily grown.

Salix Repens, Golden Dwarf (See page 204)

Sorbus Aucuparia (Mountain Ash)

Viburnum Carlcephalum Fragrant Snowball

(Plant Patent No. 776)

This is the famous and splendid hybrid from V. Carlesi and V. macrocephalum, which originated in England just before the war. The originator turned this wonderful shrub over to Wayside Gardens for introduction in this country.

It is absolutely hardy and has gone through several winters here in Mentor with temperatures as much as ten degrees below zero. It is of branching habit and quick growth, growing about 6 to 7 feet high and can be pruned to any size or shape desired. Does equally well in acid soil or those which are alkaline.

It is a most profusely flowering shrub with large cymose clusters of blossoms which may be as much as 6 inches across, rarely ever smaller than 4 inches, either flattened or globular, mostly the latter. The flowers are exceedingly fragrant, rivaling its seed parent.

It is a deciduous shrub and carries a wealth of foliage. The leaves are practically identical with those of V. Carlesi but in the autumn are brilliantly colored.

This hybrid was shown at the Royal Horticultural Show in London before the war where it received the highest awards and praise. We claim without reservation that it is one of the finest spring flowering shrubs we have ever seen.

Viburnum Setigerum

(Theiferum)

You may ask why devote an entire color page to this one shrub. There is a good reason we feel. Viburnum Setigerum is one of the finest of tall growing shrubs and it is not as well known as it should be. It is a plant that should be in every garden. It is compact growing and upright, ultimately reaching a height of 10 feet. In early summer it produces quantities of white flowers which are followed in autumn by dense clusters of glistening brilliant red berries against a bronzy green foliage. At that time for several weeks Viburnum Setigerum steals the show in the garden. It is one of the finest shrubs in cultivation. Do find a place for it; you will enjoy that investment all your life. We offer two sizes as follows for a most attractive price.

USE WAYSIDE GARDENS "EXCLUSIVE" ORGANIC PLANT FOOD

Use It for Permanent Results

Declared by experts "Tops." For Bulbs, Roses, Lawns, Flower Gardens. Used at WAYSIDE in the production of millions of fine plants. It is wholeheartedly endorsed for our customers.

Thousands of customers and strangers alike have visited WAYSIDE GARDENS. They have marvelled at our nursery plants. Invariably, they ask us the same question:

"To what do you attribute the superior qualities of your plants."

And invariably our answer is the same: "The chief reason for the high quality of WAYSIDE products is due to the fact that we use only the very finest Plant Food that skill and money can produce!"

You will agree that we have entirely too much at stake to afford to use any other kind. In addition to the enormous investment represented by our nurseries, we have a reputation to maintain among thousands of the most critical floral customers in the land. We prize and guard very jealously such possessions . . . Contented only with the best we advise our customers to adopt the same attitude, in order that the fine specimens grown at WAYSIDE may be duplicated in your own garden. We recommend only that which we ourselves use.

We Learn from Experience and Experts

We are indebted to a noted English gardener for the Exclusive Organic Plant Food we use in growing millions of plants of superior quality. Among other things, he said:

"A lawn should not be treated like a hayfield, but like a permanent garden. Therefore, I object to chemical fertilizers for lawns. It is not the QUANTITY of grass cut from the lawn each week, but the DENSITY AND LUXURIANCE OF THE GRASS which produces the effect of walking over a thick velvet carpet that counts. If you want a thick lawn in which there is no room for weeds, it is essential that you use a properly balanced ORGANIC Plant Food."

WAYSIDE'S exclusive organic Plant Food is made from bone meal, dried blood, ground fish, phosphate and muriate of potash, in proportions recommended by the "old country" expert. These long-lasting ingredients give your flowers a well-balanced diet, containing in just the right amounts those things that go to make strong roots, sturdy stalks, bright green leaves, a profusion of foliage and an abundance of large and healthy blooms year in and year out. It does not stimulate, but nourishes any and all plants and imparts to them a youthful and lusty vigor. It disintegrates slowly. Use it consistently year after year and your garden will be among the most beautiful and most permanent.

Wayside Gardens "Exclusive" Organic Plant Food Contains No Useless Weight or Bulk Producing Fillers

A 100-lb. bag for $9.00; 500 lbs. for $40.00; 2000 lbs. for $125.00

Prices are F.O.B. Mentor, Ohio and we ship by truck or rail freight collect unless otherwise instructed.

How to Use Wayside Gardens Organic Plant Food

We need not use much of it to obtain the lasting results. Furthermore, it is easy to use and apply it. If your garden is an established one, apply twice a year, March first and October first. Use 15 to 25 pounds for top dressing a space 500 square feet for Hardy Plants, Roses, Annuals, and Bulbs. Twice this quantity for Shrubs, Azaleas or Rhododendrons. In making a new garden, double the amount recommended and mix with the soil. Planting may be done at once. For old lawns, use 10 to 25 lbs. for top dressing 500 sq. ft. For potted plants, a 3-inch potful mixed with a bushel of soil will give you splendid results.

A little goes a long way and lasts a long time.

USE WAYSIDE GARDENS DEHYDRATED COW MANURE

How often, in reading articles or books about growing some particular plant, have you found the recommendation that well rotted cow manure should be used to give it a strong, safe start. And just as often haven't you had to say to yourself "That's just fine—but where on earth am I going to get any real cow manure?"

Well, you no longer need to ask yourself that question. The answer is—Wayside's Dehydrated Cow Manure. It is the real McCoy: 100% manure; nothing taken away, nothing added. And it is prepared in the most convenient, most effective and most easy-to-use form in which it has ever been possible to obtain it.

Where "old" cow manure is particularly recommended—as in the growing of Roses, Delphiniums, and such humus-loving bulbs as Tuberous Begonias, Gloxinias and Callas, it is an answer to the suburban gardener's prayer.

As Wayside Dehydrated Manure is all manure, it is the perfect companion for Wayside Organic Plant Food which does contain other essential elements—they go together like a horse and carriage. We therefore suggest that you use both in your round of garden operations if you want the most successful garden you have ever had.

HOW TO USE

For Flower or Vegetable Gardens: Broadcast about 8 to 10 lbs. per 100 square feet before planting, rake well into soil.

House plants: Use about one level tablespoonful for every inch of diameter of pot, mix into soil and water.

For Seed flats: Use 2 parts of sifted soil mixture and one part of Dehydrated Cow Manure.

Home-made Compost: Dehydrated Cow Manure is an efficient bacterial activator for making compost from garden and kitchen wastes. Add contents of 5-inch flower pot occasionally to compost pile to help break down waste.

TOMENTOSUM MARIESI WAYSIDE GARDENS FORM Lovelier Than Dogwood

Here is a magnificent shrub of medium size that should be in every garden. When in bloom most people consider it lovelier than the Dogwood. Its tabulated architectural branching sets off the plates of flowers. The outer "lace cap" with large, pure white, sterile blossoms surrounds the small, fertile ones which fill the center. The particular form offered is a selection made at Wayside Gardens, chosen first for its freedom of bloom as well as flowering close to the ground; second, because of its fine compact habit of growth, and it never becomes "lanky" or bare at the base of the plant. Third reason is its fine foliage which colors handsomely in the autumn, making a fine foil for the brilliant red berries. Its ultimate height will be about 6 to 7 feet depending on conditions. Bugs don't bother it.

TOMENTOSUM PINK BEAUTY

To us Viburnum Tomentosum is one of the loveliest of flowering shrubs. It rivals in grace and beauty the White Dogwood. We now offer a pink flowering form of this lovely shrub opening white and gradually shading into deep pink as the flowers age. It is well not to fertilize this variety heavily as too rapid growth and too rich soil have a tendency to weaken the coloring. As a shrub and foliage plant it is unequalled. We offer nice bushy plants ready to bloom.

Bushy plants, 18 to 24 in., Each $6.00

Tomentosum Each $4.00, Three $11.00, Doz. $40.00
If all the other Viburnums were thrown into the discard, this one would justify the family. It is a superb flowering shrub and the spectacle of a good Tomentosum in bloom is a sight not ever to be forgotten. In early June the horizontal branches become perfect mosaics of wheel-like clusters ringed with dazzling white flowers, with spidery sunburst centers, resembling a fall of snow. Ultimate height 8 feet.

Burkwoodi (New English Hybrid)

Bushy plants, 2-3 ft. Each $4.00, Three $11.00, Doz. $40.00
18-24 in. Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

A most amenable new shrub thriving in sunless places and smoky towns. Waxy bluish-white and delicately perfumed, the flowers of this new Viburnum are produced in early spring when the leaves are unfolding. They form round, domed clusters, and the Gardenia-like fragrance is so sweet as to pervade a large area. The plant grows about 6 feet high and 4 to 5 feet in diameter. It likes a well drained location with plenty of moisture. This is a new medium sized shrub—a real aristocrat. For the small garden, where there is room only for the choicest shrubs, the one Viburnum above all others that should be grown is Viburnum Burkwoodi. Foliage brilliant in autumn, shiny dark green all summer.

Carlcephalum (See page 211)

Opulus Nanum (The Hedge Viburnum)

Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00, 100 $100.00

A dwarf, stubby plant never over two feet high, particularly well adapted for edgings and hedges in wet or heavy clay ground where it is difficult for other plants to thrive. Does well in light shade. It is extremely hardy. Can be clipped or left natural as desired, in either case it grows into a fine compact and low hedge which requires no care.

Opulus Compactum

Each $5.00, Three $14.00, Doz. $50.00

A rare, dwarf form with umbels of red berries in early autumn. Very compact habit and very freely fruiting are the outstanding characteristics of this variety. The common Viburnum Opulus is a well known and much used shrub. Its drawback is that it grows too fast and too big, constantly requiring pruning to keep it in bounds. All these objectionable habits are eliminated in the new compact, dwarf form we offer. Grows about 4 to 5 feet high. We offer nice 2 to 3-ft. plants.

Opulus Xanthocarpum (Golden-Fruited Cranberry Bush)

Each $4.00, Three $11.00, Doz. $40.00

This makes a handsome bush 5 to 7 feet high. It is particularly attractive from July to December when its beautiful blossoms are replaced by immense clusters of 1/2-inch golden yellow fruits. The clusters of berries are many and heavy, and create a beautiful show against the rich green foliage. The heavily fruited branches may be cut for indoor decoration. They combine stunningly with Gladioli, Dahlias, or Chrysanthemums. The clusters of fruits retain their beautiful golden yellow tint for six weeks or more. Easily grown, hardy as an Oak. May be planted in fall or spring. The plants we ship are about 4 feet tall.

Setigerum (See page 212)

Wrightii

Each $6.00, Three $16.00, Doz. $60.00

This distinct and beautiful shrub came from Japan. Its handsome oval metallic-green leaves have sunken veins creating a most attractive effect in addition to the color. From August until October large cymes of glistening red fruits produce a brilliant display while during October and November the foliage turns a rich crimson. It develops into a spreading bush about 4 to 6 feet high. Hardy and trouble free. What more could you ask from any plant.

Weigelas

The Weigelas are an interesting and useful family of shrubs, flowering in May, June and July. The flowers in shape may be likened to those of a Fox-glove and are borne in immense quantities. They prefer a moist soil and do not like shade or roots of large trees encroaching on them. Otherwise their culture is simple. The average ultimate height of most varieties is about 5 to 6 feet.

Avalanche Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

This is a popular white Weigela. It grows about 5 to 6 feet high. In late spring and early summer it is a beautiful plant to see with its thousands of pure white, trumpet-like blooms. It makes a fine contrast if planted alongside of Bristol Ruby. We send plants about 2 to 3 feet tall.

Boskoop Glory Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

Of all the rose-pink Weigelas, this probably is the best grower and most free blooming. Neat habit, good foliage and about 3 to 4 feet when mature. A hardy and trouble free shrub.

Fairy Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

A handsome shrub for any garden, big or small. Grows about 5 feet tall and in spring is completely covered with light pink blooms which possess a great depth of color and sparkle like pearls. It is early flowering and one of the great French hybridist Lemoine's latest and best. We send plants about 3 to 4 feet tall.

Hortensis Nivea Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

We obtained this fine shrub in England a few years ago. It is outstanding because of its large white flowers which not only make a fine show in the garden but are excellent for cutting as well.

BRISTOL RUBY Spring and Autumn Flowering

The color of the flowers is a pleasing sparkling ruby-red, shading to garnet-crimson. They are produced in immense quantities and create a wonderful display of colors. After the big spring display is past there is again a fine showing of bloom throughout the summer and entire autumn. Few shrubs produce flowers as freely and over so long a period as does Bristol Ruby Weigela. It attains a height of 6 to 7 feet at maturity, and grows into a perfectly formed, well rounded specimen requiring very little pruning because it flowers well from old wood; no die-back or uneven growth at any time.

Vitex Macrophylla

Vitex (Chaste Tree)

Macrophylla Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

A graceful shrub with attractive spikes of lovely lavender-blue flowers. Blooms profusely from July until fall and grows more than ten feet high unless pruned back. It is a most desirable summer-flowering shrub of distinctive appearance. Fits in well in the border and is also suitable as a lawn plant. Its form, foliage and lilac flowers are very unusual. In early spring this plant often appears dead upon first examination. The reason for this is that Vitex remains dormant very late and does not start into growth until the weather has become quite warm.

TAMARIX - Tamarisk

Tamarix should be cut back to 6 or 8 inches when transplanted. If this is not done, success is doubtful.

Summer Glow Each $3.00, Three $8.50, Doz. $30.00

There is a lacy loveliness and charm about this lovely shrub not found in any others. The beautiful silvery blue-green foliage is like a veil. A sharp and delightful contrast is made by the airy Tyrian rose-pink flower spikes which appear on top of the delightful foliage all summer long. The flowers and foliage are lovely for cutting. This shrub is also excellent for seashore or lakeshore gardens, being very tolerant to salt air and wind. The plants we send out will bloom the first year. Ultimate height about 8 feet. Can be pruned and kept to 5 or 6 feet if desired.

Dwarf Fruit Trees

Fruit the Second Year After Planting

Below is offered a selection of the best Dwarf Apple, Pear, Peach, Plum and Cherry trees. They have been carefully grown on a "dwarfing" root system. You will never need a ladder to pick the fruit and care for the trees. With reasonable care, they will start to bear fruit the second year after planting. The size of the fruit will pleasantly surprise you as it is usually larger than when grown on regular trees. They are ornamental as well and perfect for the average small garden of today.

DWARF APPLES

Our Dwarf Apple trees are propagated by placing the variety on a special type of Malling Rootstock, which were developed in England and which are imported from that country. These trees at maturity will reach a height of 12 to 15 ft. tall and they can be planted 15 to 20 ft. apart in your home orchard. Besides being a beautiful addition to the landscape of your home, they develop crops of fruit each year. You will have much enjoyment standing on the ground picking fresh, luscious fruit from these trees within 2 years after you plant them.

Cortland 2-yr., 3 to 4 ft., Each $3.25, Three $9.00

DWARF CHERRIES

Great New Northern Star 2 to 3 ft., Each $3.25

Very hardy, will succeed farther north than any other Cherry. It is a cross between a very hardy Siberian Cherry and the English Morello. It is a Morello type of pie Cherry and at first the fruit is a bright red, changing to a mahogany-red. The skin is tender and the flesh is juicy, meaty and tender. The tree is small by nature but very productive. Ripens July 5th to 10th and the fruit will hang on the tree in good condition for about two weeks. Promises to become a leading commercial variety.

DWARF PEACHES

Here is something really new. A dwarf tree at maturity, 8 to 9 feet tall, producing crops about the second year after planting.

Elberta 2 to 3½ ft., Each $3.25, Two $6.25

Leader of all Peaches and the greatest commercial variety on the market; 50% of the Peaches planted are Elberta. A beautiful Peach of good quality, not only the best orchard variety but also valuable for planting in the garden. Elberta is hardier in bud than many varieties; therefore, a more uniform cropper. It is large, yellow with red cheek, juicy, high flavor. Flesh yellow; freestone. September 15th to 20th.

Hale-Haven 2 to 3½ ft., Each $3.25, Two $6.25

A marvelous Peach, results of crossing the famous J. H. Hale with South Haven. A large, beautifully colored, yellow-fleshed Peach. Ripens approximately 10 days to 2 weeks ahead of Elberta. Perfect freestone; strong grower. Good shipper, and a prolific, heavy bearer. The tree is hardy and fruit is of the highest quality. Should be in every planting. September 1st to 5th.

Golden Jubilee 2 to 3½ ft., Each $3.25, Two $6.25

The Sensational Peach. We recommend this New Jersey Experiment Station introduction. It is a real money-maker. Quite hardy, resists excessive cold. Sure cropper, after severe winters and heavy frosts. Golden Jubilee is without equal as an early, large yellow freestone of highest quality. Flesh is yellow, tender, juicy and sweet. August 20th to 25th.

Dwarf Apple

DWARF PEARS

Our Dwarf Pear trees are budded on Quince roots. This is the only known way to horticulturists to successfully grow Dwarf Pear trees. We list only two varieties: Clapp's Favorite and Seckel, which we have found to do best. Most of the Dwarf Pear trees we are offering have borne fruit in the nursery row. They will bear fruit after you have planted them at least the second year and bring many years of enjoyment and scores of successful crops as they develop into their full size.

Clapp's Favorite 3 to 4 ft., Each $3.25

Large, pale lemon-yellow fruit with brown dots. Fine texture, juicy, buttery, with a rich, sweet, delicate vinous flavor. Tree hardy and productive. Thrives where other varieties fail. August 15th to 20th.

Seckel 3 to 4 ft., Each $3.25

The Pear to plant for eating fresh and pickling. Medium size, skin rich yellowish brown with deep, brownish red cheek when fully ripe. Flesh very fine grained, juicy, sweet and good. Trees resistant to blight, very productive and hardy. Should be planted in fertile soils, not heavy clay. September to October

"Howard's Miracle" Plum

(Plant Patent No. 721)

Here are some facts about the "Miracle Plum": Extraordinarily large fruit, average diameter $2\frac{1}{2}$ to $2\frac{3}{4}$ inches. An outstanding surprise to the palate, flavor not unlike Nectarine, Peach and Plum mixed; skin thin and unnoticeable when eating fruit, miniature stone, meat Nectarine-like in quality. Keeping qualities excellent, delicious in preserves, fruit ripens over long period during July and August. Exceedingly fast growing and quick bearing tree, which will bear the third year after planting. An ornamental tree of medium size, foliage persistent, in autumn richly tinted not unlike the leaves of a Maple. Can be grown in a small garden.

Howard's Miracle Plum is self fertile which means that you do not have to grow another variety of Plum near it in order to get a good quantity of fruit, but for what is called a heavy commercial crop it is necessary to provide cross pollination.

As to its hardiness, we have reports from customers in Iowa and northern Wisconsin in which they inform us that these trees survive without any damage temperatures as low as 20 degrees below zero.

Apricot, Hungary's Best

APRICOT

A rapid growing small tree which is also quite ornamental. It flowers very early in spring and when in bloom it is just as handsome as a Flowering Cherry. It does best in a warm, well drained soil either sandy or heavy. It requires very little pruning. Thin out unwanted or crossing branches. Check leaders by cutting them back to desired length. An occasional top dressing of rotted manure is helpful but do not overfeed as it has a tendency to produce much unwanted growth and not fruit.

We offer 2-year-old, 3 to 4 ft. trees, well rooted.

Hungary's Best

Each $2.50, Three $7.15, Doz. $25.00

A very fine hardy variety which bears heavily along the shore of Lake Erie. It is one imported many years ago from Hungary by Mr. Horvath of Rose fame. Has proven itself tip-top. Grows into a beautiful small shade tree which bears delicious fruit.

BLACKBERRIES

Eldorado

Doz. $4.00, 25 $6.50, 100 $20.00

An excellent variety for the home gardener. The berries are of large size and superb quality, with a flavor that is rich, sweet and luscious. They are almost as thick as they are long, and coal-black. The canes are ironclad hardy, of stocky, vigorous habit; so stout and strong that they do not need staking.

GOOSEBERRIES

Do best on heavy loam. Well rotted manure with an addition of 2 ozs. of sulphate of potash per square yard makes a perfect fertilizer. Plant 4 to 5 feet apart or, if planted as a hedge, set plants 18 inches apart. Prune in late winter, cutting out some of the main branches and shortening new "leads" back to within about 6 inches of the previous year's growth. Also cut back side shoots to within an inch of the base. This produces good fruiting spurs. In dry weather, water freely.

Pixwell Gooseberry

Each $1.20, Three $3.40

It "picks well" because the berries hang on slender stems an inch below the branches. Its few thorns are rather soft, which makes picking a quick and easy operation. Pixwell carries heavy loads of large, fine quality berries. The Dominion Experiment Station at Morden, Manitoba, Canada, says: "Pixwell continues the leading Gooseberry for Manitoba conditions. It is exceedingly vigorous and always bears heavy crops."

Gooseberry Standards

Each $5.50

This is the Gooseberry bush grown on a tall stem 3 or 4 feet high. It is very popular in England. It gives fine character to the garden and is very ornamental as well. The plants we offer were grown especially for us in England and are of a large fruiting kind.

New Hardy Carpathian ENGLISH WALNUT

Fast growing—plenty of cool dense shade. Glossy dark green leaves, grows to a height of 35-40 feet tall. They survived the coldest winter on record in New York State. No disease problem or spraying necessary. Be sure to plant two or more trees. This will insure adequate pollination with large crops of nuts.

Everbearing Raspberry, September

RASPBERRIES

We offer strong, 2-year bushes that will give you an abundance of berries. Start bearing the very next year after planting. You'll enjoy them in your own garden, to eat out of hand, for the table, for jellies, jams, preserves. Only home-grown fruit will give you that "plus" in delicious and tempting flavor.

A moist soil is preferred; in fact, Raspberries like it. Canes should be planted in a row 18 inches apart. The top of the root must not be more than one inch below the surface; in other words, plant shallow. Cut canes back to 2 feet from the ground at planting time. After fruiting, old canes should always be cut out. Select the best young canes and tie them up to a stake or wire. In fall, mulch with rotted manure and leave until spring. Do not spade ground near Raspberries as they are shallow rooters. Only use hoe for most shallow cultivation. Deep planting is harmful. We repeat, feed with Wayside Gardens Plant Food at the rate of 1 lb. per plant lightly worked into the soil.

September Everbearing Red Doz. $4.50, 25 $7.50, 100 $25.00
First crop in June, second crop starts in September, continuing till stopped by freezing. Vigorous and hardy, producing heavy crops of large, flavorful berries of glossy red color and excellent keeping quality. Finest and most delicious everbearing new Raspberry—wonderful for your garden.

Latham Red Doz. $4.50, 25 $7.50, 100 $25.00
Enormous crops of round, firm-textured berries from late June until the middle of July. Rich brilliant red; delicious fresh or canned. Beautifully rounded berries that have a rich and superb flavor.

Cumberland Black Doz. $4.00, 25 $6.50, 100 $20.00
Vigorous, healthy plants that produce splendid crops of large, remarkably firm berries, sometimes $\frac{7}{8}$ inch in diameter. Largest of the blacks, prolific, wonderfully flavored.

GIANT BLUEBERRIES

Cultivated Large-Fruited Hybrids

The new, named varieties of cultivated Blueberries are not self-fertile. A bush grown by itself will not bear fruit, but where six or more plants are grown in close proximity, perfect fertilization of the blossoms takes place, and abundant crops of huge, luscious berries result. Consequently our Blueberries are sold in units of six plants (mixed varieties) or in blocks of 24 plants or more (mixed varieties). Orders for single plants will positively not be accepted for reasons noted above.

2-year size, $7.50 per unit of 6 plants, 3 units of 6 plants, $21.00

CULTURE OF BLUEBERRIES

Are much more easily grown than generally believed. They like a moist soil and plenty of water at the time fruit is developing. They prefer a slightly acid condition but do quite well on neutral soil, which should contain a reasonable amount of humus. A top dressing of rotted manure applied in fall gives excellent results, or a commercial fertilizer rather high in nitrate of soda, will answer the purpose. An evergreen fertilizer used for Rhododendrons or Azaleas is perfect. Once every two or three years remove some of the old wood. This is best done early in spring before blooming. Rooting close to the surface, it is advisable not to cultivate too deep. Grow in full sun.

RED LAKE CURRANT

Nothing goes better on toast for breakfast than clear, sparkling, bright red Currant jelly. Everyone loves Currant jelly; and if you have never tried it, mix Currants with Red Raspberries for a special dinner treat. Red Lake is the best red Currant for the home garden. The large scarlet berries grow in long clusters, well filled to the tip. They ripen in early midseason, but hold over a long period to use or sell as desired. Currants are very easy to grow and are extremely hardy. Plant once and you'll enjoy them for years and years. Six bushes will give your family a good supply of Currant jelly and some for mixing with Raspberries as well.

Grapes

A health giving, delicious fruit that has always been a favorite for gardens both large and small. These largest grade No. 1 plants will bear heavily every year; in fact, some fruit may be expected the year after planting. Very ornamental growing on fences, pergolas, arbors, etc.

Culture: Of the several shoots which spring from the top of the main stem, one or two, not more, of the strongest should be permitted to grow. All others should be removed. Those permitted to grow, should be developed into what are known as the "foundation stems." Lateral growths will spring from these foundation stems and it is on this lateral growth that fruit is produced. Lateral growth is pruned or cut back to suit the purpose the vine is planted for; if for fruit the pruning is severe; if for an arbor or shade and fruit is not the first consideration, lateral growth is retained to have the coverage needed. As soon as the leaves drop in early winter, all laterals are cut right back to their base and from the knobs so formed, fresh growth will arise each spring and provide the fruiting wood for that year.

Grapes do well on most any kind of soil and require a reasonable amount of water during dry weather. It is a well known fact that finest fruit is produced if you feed a lot of bone meal. That is where Wayside Gardens Plant Food does a splendid job. Use 3 lbs. per vine, spaded into the ground early in spring. Feed heavily each year.

Golden Muscat

Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

ASPARAGUS

The New "Waltham Washington"

25 for $7.00, 50 for $12.00, 100 for $20.00

The Waltham Washington Asparagus is a superior, high yielding variety. The plant was developed by the well known vegetable plant breeder, Prof. Young, at the Waltham Field Station of the University of Massachusetts. It grows vigorously, spears are large and tender; tips remain tight until quite tall. Color is dark green with purplish tinge. Produces 30 per cent more stalks than standard kinds. Flavor is superb. This is the first year of its introduction.

RHUBARB

Red Stem Rhubarb, Valentine

A splendid new Rhubarb that will replace all other varieties in very short order. Valentine is the latest and best of the red-stemmed Rhubarb introductions. It has the best flavor, the best color, and requires the least amount of sweetening. It produces dark red stems which are dark red clear through to the heart. When cooked, makes a tempting looking dish of the sweetest and finest flavored, most beautiful red sauce. The plant grows fast and produces an immense amount of stems. Stock is not too plentiful of this variety, but six divisions are enough for the average family. Also remember that Rhubarb is what might be called a lifetime plant. Therefore, buy the best, a few cents more spread over many years does not mean anything. Will produce stems for use first year.

Cherry-
Red

A few years ago, we received from that fine German hybridizer, Wilhelm Pfitzer of Stuttgart, a few tubers of Cannas.

Mr. Pfitzer wrote us that these were a very dwarf growing form of Cannas he had finally been successful in developing after several years of effort. His object was to obtain a form so dwarf it could be used in tubs for porch, terrace, or roof garden decoration as well as find a place in the flower border or in front of shrubs where some color was needed.

We were most enthusiastic with the results. When they first flowered here, several people visiting the nursery wanted to take them with them right then and there.

After careful propagation, we now have sufficient stock of several varieties to offer to our customers. They still are an exclusive item with Wayside Gardens but it won't be long before other growers will be offering them.

Their colors are soft and pleasing. Flowers are produced all summer long in abundance. Fine foliage helps to make them handsome, colorful plants.

Pfitzer's New Dwarf Cannas

Pfitzer's Cherry-Red Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00

The flowers are in long clusters and of a most pleasing soft shade of cherry-red. It is a free bloomer and makes an excellent showing from early summer until frost. Has fine green leaves and looks particularly well with a green background. Grows about 36 inches high and very desirable where a bold color effect is required. Does splendidly in tubs and makes fine contrast with white summer furniture.

Pfitzer's Chinese Coral Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00

A sturdy plant about 30 inches high when in full bloom. Handsome and ornamental green foliage. The flowers are bold and well developed, of a remarkable Chinese coral shade. Sometimes the flowers seem almost light amber or pinkish Havana. A rare color, hard to describe. Makes a fine low colorful plant anywhere in the garden, and is excellent in a flower tub.

Pfitzer's Shell-Pink

A compact, husky plant with excellent rich, deep green foliage. The entire plant when in bloom is seldom over 30 inches high. The flower clusters are superb and show handsomely just above the ornamental leaves. A tiptop variety for planting in between hardy plants or an occasional clump in front of shrubs. Also makes a perfect specimen in a tub for porch or terrace. This is a beautiful shade of pink. We have grown a large quantity of them which is the reason that they can be sold for somewhat less than the other varieties.

Pfitzer's Primrose-Yellow Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00

This is perhaps the finest of all yellow Cannas. Its immense clusters of blooms are soft barium-yellow. Some call it primrose-yellow with emerald-green glow. Plants are bushy with excellent foliage about 30 to 32 inches high. For a bright spot against evergreens or shrubs, there is no better variety. The color is penetrating and cool, of the most pleasing shade. A brilliant variety for tub or garden planting.

Pfitzer's Porcelain Rose Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00

The flowers are in long clusters and of a most pleasing soft shade of porcelain-rose. It is a free bloomer and makes an excellent showing from early summer until frost. Has fine green leaves and looks particularly well with a green background. Grows about 36 inches high and very desirable where a soft color effect is required. Does splendidly in tubs and makes fine showing in the garden.

Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00

PASTEL COLORED CANNAS

The tints of these new Cannas are remarkable for their delicateness yet they sparkle in sunlight. Gone are the hard, offensive colors of the old Canna. Gone also are the spindly, small blooms. These new Canna hybrids have immense trusses with individual flowers as large and larger than those of Gladioli. May we suggest that you plant a few of these in your flower border to give added color or possibly a plant or two in a sunny spot against a fence or the house and be sure to grow some in tubs for terrace or roof garden decoration.

Aida Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

The individual florets that make up the trusses in this sterling variety, like the others of the set, are Gladiolus-flowered. The petals are broad and rounded, each petal touching or overlapping its neighbor. The trusses are luxuriant and full, greatly enhancing the value of the tints and colors that make up the flowers. The base color of Aida is old rose overlaid with delicate salmon. As these colors merge, the flowers open and expand into a floral fabric of sheer pastel loveliness.

Eureka Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

Bold ivory-white flowers and good clean green foliage, of medium height, sums up this variety. Color blends exceptionally well when planted with the pastel colored kinds we recommend you to grow; provides a soft cool color in summer.

La Boheme Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

This may prove to be the favorite of all. Like the others of the series, the flowers are rounded, the trusses nicely formed, building into great heads of glorious bloom. The soft rosy peach overlaid with delicate pearl tints the flowers in a manner that baffles description. La Boheme is vibrant with life and beauty and when you view the gorgeous finale as the flowers develop over the foliage, it will be apparent to the beholder that this exquisite Canna merits the name.

STANDARD VARIETY OF CANNAS

The President Three $1.45, Doz. $5.25, 100 $30.00 Giant flowers of intense scarlet; green foliage. 4 ft.

La Traviata Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

Entirely different from the others of the series and bows its head to none. Every petal and every flower is full of life and vigor. They are perfectly placed in the truss and build up to beautiful heads of color. La Traviata is a self-color, a delightful and lively shade of old rose, and makes an ideal foil for the soft pastels.

Mignon Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

Quite different from the rest of the series. The lower petal of the giant florets comprising the truss is old gold washed with overtones of peach and rose. The three upper petals are lighter in tone, the old gold being less apparent; the remaining colors, peach and rose, culminating in a soft alpine glow. The blending of all this beauty in the wide open flowers marks Mignon as a fine and striking new Canna.

Mme. Butterfly Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

Like the opera for which it is named, it brings to the eye in color tones the same joy and happiness that is derived from hearing the arias of the beautiful opera. Soft horizon-yellow washed with overtones of day-break-pink tint color the flowers in the most beautiful manner. When the trusses are fully open and expanded Mme. Butterfly might well be considered one of the finest.

Rigoletto Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

This variety is unsurpassable in its color. Like Aida, Rigoletto produces a beautiful mass of florets. As to fineness and quality, as far as the flower is concerned, there is little distinction except in color. Rigoletto is pure canary-yellow when first opening, passing to light lemon-yellow as the flowers develop. It is particularly lovely when the heads burst into bloom above the bright green foliage.

NEW CANNA FROM SIAM

Bangkok Each $1.00, Three $2.80, Doz. $10.00

An unusual and interesting Canna from Siam. Flowers are nice size, clear yellow; plant of medium height. Its leaves, however, make it a distinct variety. They are soft green with broad center midrib and side laterals pinkish white creating a most colorful effect for bed planting or as an individual specimen in the plant border. Its foliage is handsome and colorful throughout the summer.

Amaryllis Hybrids

Whether you grow them in the house or in the garden, these Giant-flowering Amaryllis produce truly magnificent blossoms. Even the amateur gardener can confidently expect results and with the least possible care and attention. March, April and May are the months to plant them in your garden and they will bloom during July and August as easily as Gladioli. From these lovely bulbs a vigorous stem shoots out, carrying 4 to 6 very large blooms. We can supply them from November until June, but place your order early.

ROYAL DUTCH HYBRIDS

This is the finest strain available. The flowers are superbly shaped and of mammoth size. Only a very limited number of this genuine type is available and we believe we are the only source where they can be procured.

Royal Rose-Red Shades	Each $2.50

Simon de Goede Each $2.00

One of the expert growers of Amaryllis in Holland has offered us a magnificent Red Royal Dutch form of Amaryllis. It produces superb brilliant red flowers. It is a long lived variety which with a little care will last for many years and increase in size and beauty. We offer this at a special price. Big flowering bulbs. There is nothing better.

AMARCRINUM

The Amarcrinum, a cross between Amaryllis Belladonna and Crinum Moorei, has the appearance of a mammoth Amaryllis, but its color is an even frosty pink. Great trusses of flowers are borne on 3-foot stems. This American creation won the coveted Cory Cup of the Royal Horticultural Society of Great Britain. This amazing flower has a scent similar to that of the famous Dutch Hyacinth.

Big Bulbs Each $3.00, Doz. $30.00

ACIDANTHERA MURIELAE

(Sweet Scented Gladiolus)

A vigorous growing Gladiolus-like bulb which produces highly scented flowers in late summer. The fragrance is delightfully fresh and soft, yet insistent. A few spikes in a vase will make themselves pleasantly known throughout the living room. Flowers are white with brilliant and clear purple markings in centers, length of stem about 2 to 2½ feet. In mild climates the bulbs may be left in the ground where they will soon form good sized clumps. In colder sections, dig and store as Gladiolus bulbs.

Doz. $1.50, 25 $2.75, 100 $10.00

HARDY AMARYLLIS

Halli (Lycoris Squamigera) (See page 233)

Each 50c, Three $1.35, Doz. $5.00

We offer only big American-grown bulbs which will bloom the following year after planting, not devitalized, imported stock at a cheap price which takes several years before they produce flowers. Produce attractive green foliage in early spring which grows until July when it ripens and disappears. About a month later, as if by magic, the flower stalks spring from the ground to a height of 2 to 3 feet, developing an umbel of large, Lily-shaped flowers, 8 to 12 in number, of a delicate lilac-pink shade. The bulb is perfectly hardy and should be covered with about 4 to 5 inches of earth. A small stick or label put where bulb is planted prevents damage to bulb while dormant.

Hardy Amaryllis (Lycoris Squamigera)
Plant between Iris and Lemon Lilies for fall color

ACHIMENES

They love light shade and a reasonable amount of moisture. In fact, they respond perfectly to treatment given Tuberous Begonias. They make charming beds of flowers where because of shade, flowers heretofore could not be grown successfully. In window boxes, in pots in the house or conservatory, they are a constant joy.

Blue

Three 90c, Doz. $3.00, 100 $20.00

A lovely plant for shady, warm places. Very attractive in the rock garden where it provides color all summer long. Equally good as an edger in shady places and excellent in window boxes which do not get much light. Achimenes are also easily grown as pot plants for the house. The tiny little root-like bulbs grow into plants 12 to 18 inches long and require at least 12 inches square.

ANEMONE

The popular flowers of French origin are exceedingly brilliant when in flower and excellent for cutting. They like to be planted about 2 inches deep in a cool, moist, but well drained soil. Will establish without any trouble and remain for years. For northern states we advocate early spring planting, for the southern section of the country fall planting is best. Cover in winter with strawy manure.

DOUBLE ANEMONE

Double Anemone in Mixture Six 85c, Doz. $1.45, 25 $2.70, 100 $9.75

This mixture contains a riot of colors in all shades of blue, red and pink as well as white.

SINGLE ANEMONE

Fulgens annulata grandiflora Six 70c, Doz. $1.15, 25 $2.10, 100 $7.75

The vivid scarlet Windflower loves a comparatively dry porous soil which does not retain water. It is a good variety for planting under shrubs or under a hedge where the soil is naturally somewhat dry, but it must be on the sunny side. There is absolutely nothing which will produce as fine a fiery brilliant scarlet color as Anemone Fulgens. It multiplies freely and forms fine clumps blooming year after year.

His Excellency Six 70c, Doz. $1.25, 25 $2.30, 100 $8.25

A grand variety bearing flowers measuring as much as 3 inches across, of the most vivid, velvety vermilion, with glistening silvery white base and a handsome blue-black central boss. Height 1 foot.

Lieutenant (Blue Poppy) Six 70c, Doz. $1.25, 25 $2.30, 100 $8.25

Large, single blue flowers on long stems, resembling a blue Poppy.

Single Giant Flowering Mixed Six 65c, Doz. $1.10, 25 $1.95, 100 $7.50

These are the popular Anemones so frequently seen in the florists' shops in the early spring. The flowers are unusually large with a wide range of rich and brilliant colors.

The Bride Six 70c, Doz. $1.25, 25 $2.30, 100 $8.25

Single, pure white flowers sometimes showing a faint reddish rim.

CALLA

We call especial attention to the Yellow Calla, which is one of the grandest varieties in cultivation, and most valuable for house or conservatory decoration. In April or May dormant bulbs may be planted near the pool in a sunny spot where they will flower beautifully in August or September.

Elliottiana (Yellow Calla) Each 80c, Three $2.25, Doz. $8.00

One that should be planted extensively. The deep golden yellow flowers are truly magnificent and produced in abundance. The green foliage is spotted white, which adds to its beauty; lovely house plant as well as garden subject.

Rehmanni Each 55c, Three $1.35, Doz. $4.50

The pink or rose Calla. A rather uncommon species, native of Natal. The flowers are small but pink and therefore most unusual. An uncommon plant for the greenhouse or outdoor culture.

[226]

Freesia

EUCCHARIS - Amazon Lily

Grandiflora

Growing plants in pots, blooming size bulbs

Each $1.50, Three $4.25, Doz. $15.00

A rare bulb from the Amazon, producing deliciously scented, pure white, waxy flowers shaped not unlike the Daffodil. The foliage is handsome and evergreen, somewhat like that of the Funkia. May be grown in the garden in warm parts of the country. Does well in the cool greenhouse. Easily grown house plant. Give same care as Amaryllis.

FREESIA

Gold Cup

Six $1.00, Doz. $1.55, 25 $2.85, 100 $10.25

The bulbs of this beautiful golden Freesia lend themselves to a special treatment which keeps them perfectly dormant throughout the winter. You plant them in spring from February until May outdoors and in about sixty days they will start to bloom, husky spikes 12 inches tall each with 6 to 8 beautiful fragrant golden blossoms. We have tested this strain and find it perfect. Cover bulbs with 3 inches of earth, space 3 inches apart, plant in light shade preferred.

HAEMANTHUS

On the short thick stem, which springs from a cluster of thick fleshy leaves, grows a flat umbel of small tube-like flowers which are salmon-red. It is a curious flower which never fails to draw attention. It is quite rare. But a nurseryman friend in India sent us a number of bulbs so we are happy to be able to offer it. May be grown in a pot or outdoors. Give it same treatment we recommend for Amaryllis bulbs.

Each $2.00

HYACINTHUS CANDICANS - Cape Hyacinth

A white summer-flowering Hyacinth, growing 3 to 5 feet in height, gracefully surmounted with from 20 to 30 pure white, bell-shaped flowers. Culture same as for Gladioli.

Six bulbs $1.75, Doz. $3.00, 100 $20.00

ISMENE CALATHINA GRANDIFLORA

One of the best of our summer-flowering bulbs. Clusters of large, fragrant, pearly white flowers, resembling the Amaryllis family.

Each 50c, Three $1.35, Doz. $5.00, 100 $35.00

MONTBRETIAS

Montbretias are of easy culture. They flower freely and require perhaps less care than most bulbs. They do particularly well in the border in light shade or full sun. A clump of a half dozen or more bulbs will continue flowering throughout the late summer and autumn. Rich soil helps to grow tall spikes. A liberal amount of well-rotted manure or bone meal applied at planting time is very beneficial. Water freely in dry weather. Bulbs may be left in the ground over winter with reasonable protection of strawy manure or garden litter. South of Philadelphia no protection is required.

Mixed Colors and Shades

Six 95c, Doz. $1.50, 100 $10.00

Montbretias lend themselves particularly well to be grown in a mixture. The colors range from shades of yellow, orange, bronze, copper to fiery red. The effect from such a mixed planting is most pleasing, and of course, they make choice cut flowers.

Ismene Calathina

[227]

Montbretia

Haemanthus

Nerine

NERINE BOWDENI

These differ from the Nerine Sarniensis in that they are much hardier and bloom in September and October and are planted in the spring. In mild climates bulbs are left in the ground with a little covering; otherwise dug after first frost and stored with the Gladioli or Dahlias for next season's planting. When left in the ground they form big clumps which when in bloom are exciting and might well be grown commercially for choice cut flowers. Here is a rare and really handsome plant. When planting cover top of bulbs with about 1 to 1½ inches of earth.

Nerine Bowdeni

Each $1.50

Large umbels of pink flowers on stems about 18 inches tall during September and October. Likes a warm well drained location in sun. A handsome and unusual flower which is quite uncommon in American gardens and lovelier than Amaryllis.

Nerine Bowdeni, Capetown

Each $1.75

This is the larger form of Bowdeni, larger flower head and taller stem, often reaching a height of 2½ to 3 feet. Produces a superb head of pink blooms. Much superior in beauty to Amaryllis.

Sprekelia Formosissima

Eucharis Grandiflora (See page 227)

Zephyranthes

Red Amaryllis, Simon de Goede (See page 226)

VALLOTA PURPUREA - Scarborough Lily

A rare and choice bulb which produces brilliant scarlet funnel-shaped flowers 3 to 4 inches long in clusters of 3 to 6, borne on erect stiff stems about 18 inches high. Leaves are very ornamental throughout the year which makes a Vallota a choice house plant because, unlike most bulbs, it should never be allowed to "dry off" or ripen but must be kept growing and green constantly.

For indoor growing keep bulb in a rather small pot because crowded roots induce free blooming, otherwise grow like Amaryllis. In mild climates they may be grown in the garden; there the bulbs should be placed 4 to 6 inches below the surface of the soil. They should not be disturbed for years and when ultimately established will produce masses of flowers. During the growing season and in dry weather an occasional soaking of water or liquid manure will be beneficial; never let them go dormant. Any good garden soil well drained will suffice.

Each $1.00

RANUNCULUS - Buttercup

Giant Wayside Hybrids

Doz. $1.00, 25 $1.75, 100 $6.75

The largest and most magnificent strain ever offered. Giant double and semi-double, Peony-like flowers, 2 inches and more across. Yellows, from straw through all shades to deep golden yellow; red, including dark crimson, scarlet, orange-red, and all other shades of red; orange-pink—in fact every desired color is included in this mixture. Not reliably hardy north of Washington, D. C.; except in warm, sheltered borders. Plant the bulbs as soon as soil has become warm, placing the claws downward, 2 inches deep and 4 to 6 inches apart. Fine for cutting.

SPREKELIA - Aztec Lily

Formosissima

Each 75c, Six $4.00, Doz. $7.50, 100 $55.00

Brilliant scarlet flowers of almost butterfly shape and formation, attractive in garden and good pot plants for the house. Easily grown. This is one of the few Amaryllis bulbs which may be left out in the garden south of Washington over winter with reasonable protection. It multiplies rapidly and makes a brilliant splash of color in the border.

TUBEROSE, SWEET SCENTED

Excelsior, Dwarf Pearl

Three 85c, Doz. $2.75, 100 $18.00

Lovely, large, double flowers of thick, waxlike texture borne on graceful, long, strong stems. Wonderful in the garden, besides being highly prized as cut flowers. They have a rich, exotic fragrance. Plant the bulbs after all danger of frost has passed, and cover them 2 inches deep. For earliest bloom, plant indoors in pots during February or March and transplant to the open in June, selecting a well drained soil and a sunny location.

Single Mexican Early Everblooming

Three 75c, Doz. $2.35, 100 $15.50

White, single flowers of rich scent, on tall stems. Begins to bloom in July and continues throughout the season, each bulb throwing 2 to 5 flower spikes in succession.

TIGRIDIA - Shellflower of Mexico

Pavonia Mixed

Six $1.10, Doz. $1.75, 100 $11.25

Few flowers are more gorgeously colored or so beautiful. Plant in sunny position in a flower border in well drained soil. Same treatment as for Gladioli. Can also be used in beds. Blooms middle of July to September.

ZEPHYRANTHES - Zephyr Flower or Fairy Lily

Small Amaryllis-like flowers on thin usually 8-inch stems occur in great profusion during summer and autumn. With a little protection the bulbs are hardy, all they require is not too hard frost. In the colder section of the country they are best treated the same as Gladioli, taking the bulbs up after a good frost and storing them over the winter like you would Gladioli. Plant in spring. They increase rapidly and are of easiest culture.

Candida

Pure white.

Six 80c, Doz. $1.20, 100 $8.00

Grandiflora (Carinata)

Large, rose colored.

Six $1.35, Doz. $2.30, 100 $15.00

Sulphurea

Chincherinchee

ORNITHOGALUM THYRSOIDES

(Star of Bethlehem, from South Africa)

Six $1.50, Doz. $2.75, 100 $18.00

Flowers last three weeks or more when cut. Noted for its long lasting flowers. The flower scape is from 6 to 18 inches long and blooms in late June. The star-like flowers are white though quite frequently various shades of yellow occur. Bulbs are not quite hardy and should be given same winter care as Gladioli. They increase rapidly and are of easiest culture.

Fancy - Leaved Caladium

Fancy-leaved Caladiums are now being grown in large quantities in gardens. Nothing is simpler to grow and nothing gives as beautiful a mass of color as do the fancy-leaved Caladiums. Throughout the summer and fall their magnificent leaves create a wonderful effect. For cutting for table decoration they are unmatched. They create a stunning effect in vase or bowl, no matter how used. A group of a dozen or more planted in light shade or full sun is as colorful as a bed of Tulips. They are particularly valuable for growing in light shade where annuals would not do. Simply plant bulbs 4 inches deep and 6 inches apart in April or May, and it won't be long before they are up unfolding their remarkable leaves. Dig up bulbs in fall and use again next spring. If you have never grown fancy-leaved Caladiums do so now and a pleasant surprise is in store for you.

Vallota Purpurea

Tuberous Rooted Begonia

No other plant is so valuable for summer bloom in shady places. Beginning in July, they carry many huge flowers in a wide range of pastel colors, from pure white to yellow, salmon and deep rich crimson. Enormous flowers, running 6 inches or more in size, are held above broad, attractive foliage. In addition to use in the garden they make excellent plants to force in pots for indoor bloom.

We have learned from many years of experience that bulbs measuring about 2 inches produce the finest results.

Our Choice Select Types Mixture

Rare Forms and Colors in Mixture

Contrary to the practice of propagating named varieties of Tuberous Begonias, we offer selected seedling tubers instead. Propagation of individual varieties is costly and slow, so that by the time a sufficient amount has been reproduced for introduction they are already obsolete as compared with seedlings. Breeding is advancing so rapidly that today's choice is the discard of tomorrow. During flowering season we select and mark all the choicest new seedlings which are above average in size, form and color. We are offering tubers of these to connoisseurs who desire only the finest for their gardens and conservatories.

This mixture contains a fantastic riot of colors, forms and shapes. Yellow, pink, white, rose, salmon in all tints and hues. Gorgeous Camellia-shaped blooms, curiously crested giant single flowers as well as brilliantly colored pompons. A bed of these growing in a shady place will give you an endless variety of rare flowers for table decoration, not to mention a magnificent display of color outside throughout the summer and fall until stopped by frost. The bulbs should then be dug and stored in a cool place. They will be ready for planting the following April. With little care they last almost forever, they keep more easily than Gladiolus bulbs.

Begonia Multiflora Grandiflora

BEGONIA MULTIFLORA

Here we have a most interesting European development in Tuberous Begonias. This strain has been bred to produce hundreds of medium sized flowers per plant, instead of a limited number of the giant flowers. Beds and borders planted with Multiflora Begonias are more colorful and brilliant because of the greater masses of blooms which are carried well above the foliage. They also are able to withstand heat and direct sunlight better than the other types but of course their big value is their ability to give lots of color in shade. The bulbs should be dug after the tops have been killed by frost and may be used again the following season. They increase in size from year to year.

Mme. Helene Harms Each 45c, Three $1.25, Doz. $4.50, 100 $30.00

BEGONIA MULTIFLORA GRANDIFLORA

The delightful and prolific blooming Begonia Multiflora was crossed with the large Camellia-flowered type with the result a most interesting form was produced. The flowers of this Grandiflora form are twice as large as those of the regular Multiflora. Not only that, the larger form produce small, Camellia-like blooms in the same abundance as produced by the regular Multiflora. They are excellent pot plants for indoors and remarkably showy in the garden. A hard frost is the only thing which stops them from blooming.

Mixed colors only, Each $1.00, Three $2.85, Doz. $11.00, 100 $75.00

Begonia Evansiana

HARDY BEGONIA EVANSIANA

Handsome Clean Foliage, Attractive Pink Flowers
All Summer and Fall in Deepest Shades

Begonia Evansiana is an ideal hardy bulb for woodland planting or ground covering. Shady places in woods or under shrubs which in early spring are gay and colorful with Virginian Blue Bells, Trillium, Grape Hyacinths, and Bloodroot present a "sore sight" all summer and fall when their foliage has disappeared. A few hardy Begonia bulbs planted right on top and over these spring-flowering bulbs will create a most attractive effect which lasts all summer and fall until frost. The bulbs are left in the ground over winter and will continue year after year, increasing rapidly from the small bulblet produced each season. Space them 6 to 8 inches apart and plant 2 inches deep. Evansiana is one of the most useful summer-flowering bulbs because it grows and blooms where nothing else will and is a perfect "follow up" for spring-flowering bulbs in naturalistic plantings.

These brilliantly colored flowers are easily grown by anyone. In fact, we do not know of any other house plant which responds so quickly and easily to the simplest of care and treatment. Their gorgeous velvety flowers last for months and make a stunning effect between the soft handsome leaves. The bulbs may be planted from early February until late May to provide for a succession of flowers. Place one bulb in a 5-inch pot filled with good, rich, sandy loam. Cover bulb about one inch, water sparingly. Place at once in warm, sunny window or conservatory. Growth is quite quick. After flowering save the bulbs to be used again another season because they can be used over and over for many years.

A Very Rare and Choice Lily! Easily Grown

A special gold medal was awarded to a display of this variety in the Gardens on Parade at the New York World's Fair. The flowers are a tender shade of buff or creamy old ivory with three or four buff, longitudinal lines, and marked with rosy amber on the basal half of the segments. This lovely shading is enhanced by attractive brown anthers. The flowers are of fine size, broad and spreading. Begins to bloom the end of July, and blooms over a very long period.

Lilium Auratum

Hardy Lilies

Few flowers bring your garden the unusual and exotic beauty of Lilies, the romance of the far corners of the earth in which many of them were discovered. They have come from Europe, Asia, Africa and the wild crannies of America to delight you with their different grace and loveliness, their uncommon charm and colors that offer you the pleasure of "pointing with pride." Growing some of the new Hybrids gives you enjoyment and satisfaction like that of collecting rare jades or porcelains.

Lilium Centifolium Hybrids

These magnificent hybrids are quickly replacing the Regale Lily. As they are grown from seed, there is a pleasing variation in flower form as well as coloring. Some show a cool sea-green, others delicate shell-pink. Many are tinted soft shades of yellow.

Centifolium "Olympic Hybrids Special Select"

For the more discriminating gardener we offer a number of specially selected bulbs of the Olympic Hybrids. These plants are tagged in the fields during the flowering season and represent the choicest and finest as selected from acres of Lilies. Quantities are limited and all reservations must be received early. The general types available are the large formal waxy white trumpets characteristic of the trumpet family, of unusual substance and vigor, and exhibiting ideal placement with either white or light pink exteriors—the wide flaring open bowl-shaped type, usually with brownish or light greenish exteriors to the petals and the very large flowered irregular form which has recently shown up in our seedling plants, possessing longer petals which are often slightly twisted or ruffled, giving the flower a most graceful, informal shape.

Centifolium "Pink Perfection Strain"

Although in habit and in culture the plants are similar to the Centifolium Hybrids, the flowers are shaded pink. This color extends over the inner surface as well as the outer surface of the petals and is indescribably beautiful. This offering is bound to become one of the most popular of garden Lilies as soon as sufficient stocks are available. Specially hand selected bulbs.

Each $1.35, Three $3.75, Doz. $13.75, 25 $26.25

Speciosum Lilies

The petals are well rolled back and are handsomely spotted, often branded with distinct color. The anthers are conspicuous for their size and color, and extremely delicate poise. In addition to these attractive qualities, it has a strongly waved outline to the petals, which adds much to its beauty. It flowers through the late summer into autumn. The cultivation of the Lily is simple, sending up its flowering stems year after year in increasing numbers.

Speciosum magnificum

Rich ruby-carmine, margined white; stout of substance and broad of petal, this variety stands out prominently on account of its vigorous growth as well as the size and depth of coloring.

Speciosum rubrum "Red Champion"

A handsome deep colored variety of the Speciosum Lily. Superb for garden decoration, cut flowers or pot culture in a cool greenhouse. Our strain is uniform, disease free, vigorous, and AMERICAN-GROWN. The foundation stock was discovered locally on the slopes of Mount Hood, where it had grown undisturbed for some forty years. It likes a situation in well drained soil. Likes light shade during the hottest part of the day.

One of the finest and most outstanding Lilies. A well grown clump of Auratum Lilies is a marvelous sight. The flowers are large, often 7 to 8 inches in diameter, borne in clusters of 6 to 12 blooms on a 3-foot stem. They are ivory-white with broad golden band, recurving petals and delightfully fragrant, blooming July to September. They dominate the garden at that time.

Auratum Hybrid "Jillian Wallace"

Each $3.50

This bold and lovely Lily hybrid is now, and may well be for years to come, the best of all the new Auratum hybrids. The fully opened flowers are more than 8 inches across and the plants bear as many as seven of the huge flowers on 5- to 6-foot stems. The best color description we can give is that the petals are Tyrian rose with white margins and spotted with a really intense, deep crimson. The petals are slightly crested on the inner edges, near the base of the flower. The flowers are strongly but nicely scented and the entire plant makes an unforgettable impression. We have built up a substantial stock of this magnificent new Lily hybrid.

Mid-Century Lilies In Mixed Colors

For the past few years we offered a number of named varieties of the Mid-Century Lilies. The response was so overwhelming that we found ourselves oversold even before the normal season opened. This year with still only limited quantities available of the named varieties, we decided to offer a mixture consisting not only of the kinds offered but including hundreds of fine hybrids as well. We guarantee this mixture to contain only the choicest of our new hybrids in a range of most brilliant colors.

Lilium Regale (The Regal Lily)

One of the most beautiful and one of the easiest of Lilies to grow, it never fails—"Lilium Regale" is truly a Royal Lily; worthy of a place in every garden; it is a lover of loam and sunshine. A vigorous grower with sturdy stems, 4 to 6 feet high, densely covered with fine foliage. Center of flower flushed with yellow shading to white at outer edges; externally the flowers are streaked with brown on the "ribs," shaded through almost translucent petals with a delightfully pearly tint; the contrast between the color of the reverse of the petals and the gold shading of the throat is extraordinarily beautiful. The Regal Lily is very floriferous and when thoroughly established, bears as high as 18 to 20 flowers.

For purity of color, heavy substance, health and dependability, Gold is tops. 14-16 buds open well and keep their color and size to the tip. For maximum spikes one must plant the larger size bulbs.
- Golden Sunshine Three 85c, Six $1.50, Doz. $2.75, 100 $18.00
During the waning days of summer Golden Sunshine exhibits a glorious array of mellow gold. Just the color to complement nature's fall pageant. Golden Sunshine is a vibrant yellow of leathery substance, slightly ruffled, with 8-10 florets open at once in formal placement.
- Green Ice Three $1.25, Six $2.25, Doz. $4.00, 100 $25.00
The first green Glad to be listed by us. We have never been enthused over the so-called "greens" but believe Green Ice is here to stay. The color is a light chartreuse shading deeper in the throat. Blends well with other colors. Try using it in flower arrangements.
- Gunsmoke Three 85c, Six $1.50, Doz. $2.75, 100 $18.00
This variety sends up tall, ruffled, smoky-salmon heads and Glad fans will wish for more of this unusual color. Only by growing it in your garden will you know how good it really is.
- Harrisburger Three 80c, Six $1.40, Doz. $2.50, 100 $16.25

- Innocence Three 85c, Six $1.50, Doz. $2.75, 100 $18.00
The delicate "baby-pink" coloring and softly recurved form create a picture one cannot soon forget. But despite the delicate appearance, Innocence possesses extremely heavy substance. It easily attains a height of five feet, opening 8-10 florets on 20-22 bud spikes.

- Ruffled Ebony Three $1.00, Six $1.75, Doz. $3.25, 100 $22.00
This midnight-hued variety with brilliance of sheen is an exceptionally beautiful Glad. The only variety in its color class that has broad petaled, round florets that suggest opulence and substance like leather. Ruffled Ebony is a sure stopper with garden visitors. Many buds on tall stems.
- Sans Souci Three 80c, Six $1.35, Doz. $2.25, 100 $14.00
This spire-like scarlet beckons across the garden. Its rounded florets have an easy grace, its color a luscious glow. Robust and precocious, Sans Souci is deserving of its rank as a leading scarlet.
- The Rajah Three 80c, Six $1.35, Doz. $2.25, 100 $14.00
Robed in all the richness of an Indian potentate, The Rajah ranks as one of the three leading purples in commerce today. The Rajah opens 8 crisp, round, slightly ruffled florets of lustrous sheen on model spikes.
- Traveler Three 80c, Six $1.35, Doz. $2.25, 100 $14.00

- Wild Rose Three 80c, Six $1.40, Doz. $2.50, 100 $16.25
Rose-pink, it opens 7 to 8 heavy-substanced, cream throated florets on tall, graceful spikes that stand as erect as ten-pins. Because of its beauty and model behavior in every way, we predict Wild Rose will be one of the leading introductions and will be widely grown.
- Wintertime Three 85c, Six $1.50, Doz. $2.75, 100 $18.00
A sparkling, frosty white which revels in the warmth of summer, producing a fine display of flowers on strong stems.

A dashing, dancing, dazzling little elf. He's robed in brilliant scarlet and he wears a creamy white halo at all times. He craves to come right in the house with you. In the garden he is hale and hearty.
- Cutie Three 80c, Six $1.40, Doz. $2.50, 100 $16.50
The cutest little glad, a face up! Try using it and you'll find it so easy to put together. It is a light rose with a deep rose throat instead of a light pink.
- Daintiness Three 85c, Six $1.50, Doz. $2.75, 100 $18.00
In our estimation the best white miniature. The heavily ruffled creamy white florets have excellent substance and fine carriage on their graceful, slender stems.
- Emily's Birthday Three 80c, Six $1.35, Doz. $2.40, 100 $15.50
An early bloomer. Nicely ruffled apricot-salmon with yellow throat dusted with scarlet.
- Fifth Avenue Three 85c, Six $1.50, Doz. $2.75, 100 $18.00
High style and rich coloring mark Fifth Avenue as a top Glad. Deep, silky maroon shade with graceful form. Five or six round, carved, glistening florets open at one time on long stems.
- Lavender Petunia Three $1.00, Six $1.75, Doz. $3.00, 100 $20.00
The 4-5 airy, round, plain-petaled deep lavender florets on thin wiry stems contrast dramatically with the large icy-white throats of Lavender Petunia. Fast becoming a leader among the "tiny tots."
- Li'l Abner Three $1.00, Six $1.75, Doz. $3.25, 100 $22.00
Li'l Abner belongs to the little fellows. You'll be captivated, as we were, when you see his jam-smudged face. For these tiny yellow florets with their reddened edges and throat mark look just like that. As cute as colorful!
- Pelletier D'Oisy Three $1.00, Six $1.75, Doz. $3.25, 100 $22.00
This French miniature is the oldest and the oddest variety in our catalog. Pelletier D'Oisy is a rather plain-petaled, recurved chartreuse flower with a red throat blending to pepperings of red on the lips. It is a "natural" for exotic or sophisticated arrangements.
- Statuette Three 80c, Six $1.40, Doz. $2.50, 100 $16.50
A tiny ruffled yellow with amazing inflorescence. Statuette easily opens 8 on a slender, straight 16-18 bud spike. It has a faint penciling of lavender in the throat. Grand for arrangements and a sure winner on the show table.
- Miniature Gladiolus in Mixture Doz. $2.25, 25 $4.00, 100 $14.00
The original primulinus blood is not seen in this group. Some are intensely ruffled and wide open flowers—just miniatures of the big Glads. Very choice and deserving of a place in your garden. We offer a splendid mixture.

Annual Plants in Jiffy Pots Ready to Bloom

Delivery from May 15th to June 1st. We do not ship Annual plants west of the Mississippi River. All shipments must go by express. Our box will not permit shipment by parcel post.

Many of our customers do not have the opportunity to grow or obtain at home plants of the better and newer annuals. It is for them we have grown for several years a quantity of these finer varieties.

If you find it difficult to germinate seed of Petunias, etc., we suggest you order our potted plants instead. They will make a magnificent showing throughout the entire summer.

5 plants of one variety are sold at the 10 rate.
50 plants of one variety are sold at the 100 rate.

Annuals can only be sent by express.
We cannot ship less than 25 plants.

Please Read Carefully!

We use two standard size boxes. The smaller container holds 25 plants, the larger one 50 plants. It is for that reason your combined requirements for Annual plants should always be for amounts which can be divided in units of 25 or 50. In other words, if your order calls for 75 plants, we would ship them in two boxes, one holding 50 plants and one containing 25 plants. This also explains why we cannot fill orders for a total of less than 25 plants, and can ship express only.

Precision Pruning

works on the principle of the pruning knife. The holding blade grips the stem firmly. The curved, keen-edged cutting blade slices through it in one single, smooth cut. The action is effortless; it will not bruise even the tenderest shoot, nor falter on the toughest. With the Wilkinson Sword range of pruners, every gardener can become an expert.

This Wilkinson Sword family of pruners is rather more than a range of tools. Each one is an instrument. An instrument that does its job with a sensitive and surgical precision, giving the perfect clean cut. Each pruner

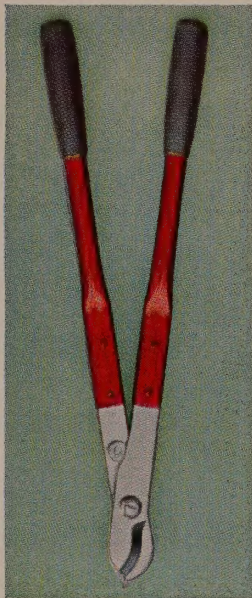

Knifecut Pruner

W40 Knifecut Pruner A Magnificent Tool

The most efficient pruner ever produced. Perfectly balanced with light alloy handles specially designed to fit the hand. Note the unique double floating bearings. One holds the blades together and prevents twisting; the other gives the cut its smooth, sliding action. The blades are rust-resisting, and a groove is provided in the holding blade to drain off sap and stop the blades sticking together. The neat flick catch operates a hidden spring to open the pruner. A superb tool and a superb gift.

Long Handle Pruner

W421

Long-handle Pruner

When a bough is too large for normal pruning, you don't necessarily need a saw. The Long-handled Pruner will come to your aid. It laughs at any branch up to 1 1/4" thick and has a usefully long reach. It's amazingly light and easy to use, with its carefully designed rust-resisting sword steel blades, tubular steel handles and rubber grips.

$7.50

Edging Shear

has three cutting edges which allow forward and backward cutting movements. It creates tilth, uproots weeds, draws seed drills, levels seed beds. It gets into the awkward corners and tops everything by sharpening itself as it works.

$8.00

Edging Shear

Takes the back-ache out of trimming round the lawn as it glides along its purposeful way. The curved heel allows you to vary the cutting depth according to the drop between lawn and flower bed or path, and it can work in as little as 1 1/2". The same hollow-forged rust-resisting blades and exclusive floating bearing as the hand shears. And the same unflinching efficiency. Once again it's the design that does the work.

W413

Hedging shear

The sort of shear that takes you around the garden looking for things to trim, plus a pruning notch that takes bigger branches in its stride. Note how the handles are angled and spaced to suit natural body movements. Hedge trimming is one of the gardener's most satisfying tasks when he uses a Wilkinson Sword shear.

For long handles Steel takes over

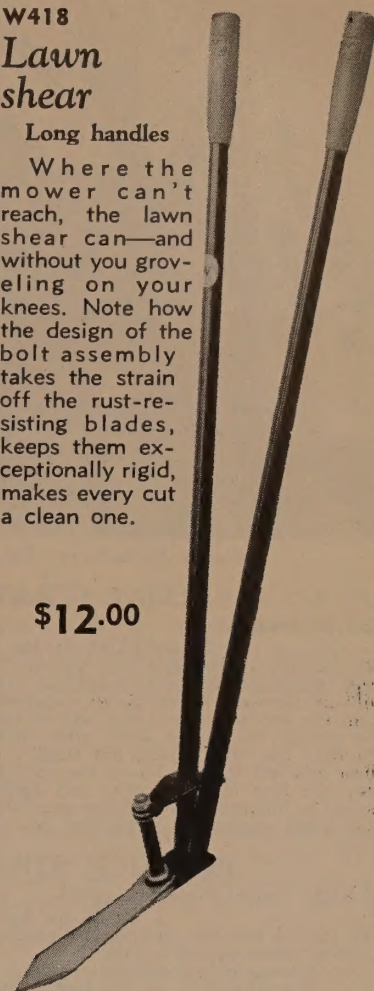

When tools need long handles, wood has to give place to steel. Tubular steel handles are much lighter, much tougher, much slimmer. There is less whip in the handles, and the cutting action is cleaner and quicker. Wilkinson Sword long-handled tools have stove-enameled tubular steel handles and comfortable rubber grips. The blades, of course, are rust-resisting sword steel.

W418 Lawn shear

Long handles

Where the mower can't reach, the lawn shear can—and without you groveling on your knees. Note how the design of the bolt assembly takes the strain off the rust-resisting blades, keeps them exceptionally rigid, makes every cut a clean one.

Teakwood is often spoken of as indestructible. We therefore were very pleased to be able to obtain these hand made handsome decorative tubs in Holland where they are used in almost every home. They are made from the finest Java Teak, with two wide heavy bands. We import two different styles: one beautifully polished and sculptured for indoor use; the other polished and equally handsomely finished for use outdoors on terrace or porch. This tub can of course also be used indoors. Its appearance is that of fine furniture. It has straight staves, while the kind for indoors are turned and molded. You may plant directly in these tubs and not use a flower pot; in that case be sure and drill three small holes for drainage in the bottom. Alpine Strawberry, Baron Solemacher

ALPINE STRAWBERRY

Baron Solemacher

12 for $3.00, 25 for $5.00, 50 for $8.50, 100 $15.00

We strongly recommend this variety. To those who cannot grow the large fruiting types, it is invaluable. It thrives on poor soil and being without runners, it makes an excellent edging. It fruits continuously from the end of June to the end of October, particularly heavy towards the end of the season when other Strawberries are over. Picked fresh, the fruit has little flavor, but slightly crushed and mixed with a little sugar and left for two hours, they develop their full value. Treated thus, they are fine for shortcake, and are excellent with fruit salad. They should be planted 6 or 8 inches apart and grow well in poor or indifferent soil. Water reasonably during hot, dry weather.

Red Rich is the best everbearing variety of the day by University tests:

Quote: "University of Illinois

College of Agriculture

Red Rich is by far the best. I think it is the everbearer for which we have been waiting.

Sincerely,

Herschel L. Boll, Assistant in Pomology"

Unexcelled Production: A pint per plant the first season, doubled to a quart or more the second season under proper growing conditions. Unsurpassed as a freezing berry; firm and deep red clear through; does not mush-up when thawed. Being honey sweet, it requires little additional sugar. Red Rich can be frozen whole! You can make an important test with Red Rich by slicing the berry through and noticing the deep red color that runs clear through the core. It is the only Strawberry that will not mush-up when thawed.

Old Fashioned Kitchen Herbs

No Herb Gardens Should Be Without Tarragon "Epicure"

With the exception of Watercress and Mint, it is best to grow Herbs on fairly poor land. A sandy soil, not rich, but well drained, produces the most flavorful results. Full sun and not too much water during the summer is desirable. Flavor rather than much growth is what must be looked for. Mints are best grown on reasonably moist soil, not too rich, in full sun. When using an insect spray, be sure to select one which does not leave a harmful residue on the leaves. It is well to always wash tops before they are used.

Angelica

(Angelica officinalis). Supposed to have angelic healing virtues and used in flavorings. Very ornamental.

Asperula—See Sweet Woodruff

Chive (French Delicate)

(Allium schoenoprasum). Finely chopped leaves give a delicious flavor to hors d'oeuvres, and salads.

Common Thyme

(Thymus vulgaris). Dried leaves season meat dishes, gravies and dressings; fresh leaves excellent in salads.

Lemon Geranium

(Pelargonium limoneum). Fragrant leaves used in potpourris.

Peppermint

(Mentha piperita). Leaves and tender tops may be infused in cooling drinks.

Rose Geranium

(Pelargonium graveolens). Leaves flavor puddings and jellies.

Rosemary

(Rosmarinus officinalis). Fragrant leaves scent potpourris.

Sage (Dwarf Compact Form)

This is a fine compact, low but upright growing form of Salvia officinalis. Leaves are somewhat smaller but otherwise there is no difference. It makes a splendid edging to beds or walks. Its silvery green foliage is fragrant as well.

Savory, Winter

(Satureia montana). Leaves season meats, sausages, vegetable dishes and certain liqueurs. An excellent plant for edging borders.

Spearmint

(Mentha spicata). Fresh leaves used to flavor sauces and iced drinks, particularly juleps.

Sweet Marjoram

(Origanum majorana). Fresh leaves season sausages, vegetable dishes and salads or scent potpourris.

Sweet Woodruff

(Asperula odorata). Hay-scented leaves used to flavor wines. The plant is a good ground cover for shady places.

Tarragon, "Epicure"

This variety is particularly delicate and rich in flavor. Our plants are from a rare and much prized French strain. Used in salads and in the making of vinegar. Delicious in Jello and fruit cups.

True Lavender

(Lavandula officinalis). Dried flowers commonly used for scenting linens and in potpourris.

GOLDEN VARIEGATED SAGE

A delightfully fragrant Golden Variegated Sage. Not only a kitchen herb but also a distinctive looking unusual ornamental plant for the front of a sunny border. Loves a dry sunny spot.

Each 90c, Three $2.50, Doz. $9.00

PURPLE-LEAVED SAGE

When planted in full sun in a warm dry place the color of the long strap-like leaves will surprise you with their rich violet-purple color. If you grow sage for flavoring you may as well grow this form and have beauty along with utility.

Each $1.10, Three $3.00, Doz. $11.00

EVERBEARING FIGS

Grow Them in Tubs for Terrace Decoration

The Fig is particularly adapted to pot culture. As a pot or tub plant it is very ornamental either indoors or outdoors, and is an abundant bearer of fruit. It will winter safely in a cool cellar, or it can be allowed to harden off with a few fall frosts and then be brought indoors for growing during the winter. If the top is frozen it can be cut to the ground, and when it begins growing, it will produce fruit on the new wood. It is for pot or tub culture that we particularly recommend Figs. When grown in the open ground, it will develop a crop of fruits as far north as Maryland. Plants bear the first year. The fruit is very sweet and delicious; of good size; with flesh that is firm and meaty, and of very fine quality.

MEYER LEMON

While this is not a garden plant such as one would purchase from Wayside, we nevertheless want to offer it, as we receive so many requests for it each year. It is a variety which grows freely in a pot in a sunny window. The flowers are delightfully fragrant and the fruit is large and juicy. As a house plant you will be charmed with it.

"EXCLUSIVE" ORGANIC PLANT FOOD

Declared by experts "Tops." For Bulbs, Roses, Lawns, Flower Gardens. Used at WAYSIDE in the production of millions of fine plants. It is wholeheartedly endorsed for our customers.

Thousands of customers and strangers alike have visited WAYSIDE GARDENS. They have marvelled at our nursery plants. They have been known to actually gasp for breath at the sheer beauty of 400 acres of flowers brought to such a high degree of perfection. Invariably, they ask us the same question:

"To what do you attribute the superior qualities of your flowers?"

And invariably our answer is the same: "The chief reason for the high quality of WAYSIDE products is due to the fact that we use only the very finest Plant Food that skill and money can produce!"

You will agree that we have entirely too much at stake to afford to use any other kind. In addition to the enormous investment represented by our nurseries, we have a reputation to maintain among thousands of the most critical floral customers in the land. We prize and guard very jealously such possessions.

Contented only with the best we advise our customers to adopt the same attitude, in order that the fine specimens grown at WAYSIDE may be duplicated in your own garden. We recommend only that which we ourselves use.

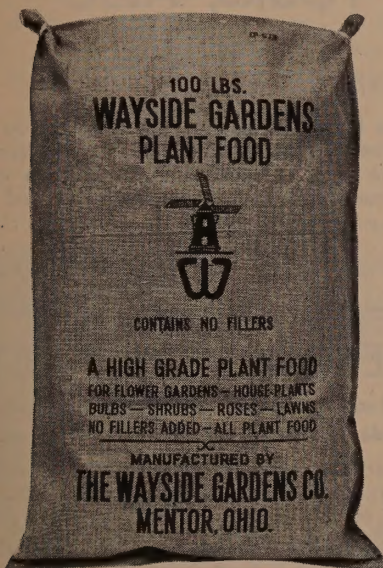

We Learn from Experience and Experts

We are indebted to a noted English gardener for the Exclusive Organic Plant Food we use in growing millions of plants of superior quality. Among other things, he said:

"A lawn should not be treated like a hayfield, but like a permanent garden. Therefore, I object to chemical fertilizers for lawns. It is not the QUANTITY of grass cut from the lawn each week, but the DENSITY AND LUXURIANCE OF THE GRASS which produces the effect of walking over a thick velvet carpet that counts. If you want a thick lawn in which there is no room for weeds, it is essential that you use a properly balanced ORGANIC Plant Food."

WAYSIDE'S exclusive organic Plant Food is made from bone meal, dried blood, ground fish, phosphate and muriate of potash, in proportions recommended by the "old country" expert. These long-lasting ingredients, heavy with life-producing qualities, give your flowers a well balanced diet, containing in just the right amounts those things that go to make strong roots, sturdy stalks, bright green leaves, a profusion of foliage and an abundance of large and healthy blooms year in and year out. It does not stimulate, but nourishes any and all plants and imparts to them a youthful and lusty vigor. It disintegrates slowly. It is excellent to use in bulb plantings as well as in Rose beds, or hardy plant borders. Use it consistently year after year, and your garden will be among the most beautiful.

Wayside Gardens "Exclusive" Organic Plant Food Contains No Useless Weight or Bulk Producing Fillers

A 100-lb. bag for $9.00; 500 lbs. for $40.00; 2000 lbs. for $125.00.

Prices are F.O.B. Mentor, Ohio, and we ship by truck or rail freight collect unless otherwise instructed.

This Plant Food may only be obtained direct from WAYSIDE GARDENS. The best proof of its superior qualities is that it is used in large quantities right here at WAYSIDE. Knowing its value and importance in your garden, we feel no hesitancy in urging you to include some of it in your order for plants. Made by Wayside Gardens for Wayside Gardens. It is the lasting results that count.

How to Use Wayside Gardens Organic Plant Food

We need not use much of it to obtain the lasting results. Furthermore, it is easy to use and apply it. If your garden is an established one, apply twice a year, March first and October first. Use 15 to 25 pounds for top dressing a space 500 square feet for Hardy Plants, Roses, Annuals and Bulbs. Twice this quantity for Shrubs,

Azaleas or Rhododendrons. In making a new garden, double the amount recommended and mix with the soil. Planting may be done at once. For old lawns, use 10 to 25 pounds for top dressing 500 square feet. For potted plants, a 3-inch potful mixed with a bushel of soil will give you splendid results.

GARDEN SPRAY

AN EXCELLENT, MULTI-PURPOSE GARDEN SPRAY FOR INSECT and FUNGUS CONTROL

Almost every amateur gardener has become confused by the many kinds of insecticides and fungicides on the market, and the many complications involved in their use.
From the multitude of letters we receive about the subject, we would say the confusion is about complete.

WE HAVE THE SAME PROBLEMS

The only difference between your garden and ours is size. On our 400-acre garden of fine plants, we must use the very best spray to protect our investment.

Each year we have prepared, for use at Wayside, a single spray to take care of our spraying problems. We instructed the manufacturer to package this same spray, in convenient home garden sizes, and we are offering them to you at the lowest possible price.

We are vitally interested in your having a good garden, and remaining a booster for Wayside Gardens, so it is important to us to pass on to our customers the benefit of our experience.

There is no need to keep a dozen or so remedies on your shelf when one or two will do the job completely and thoroughly.

A simple application of Wayside Gardens' spray, once every three weeks, during the growing season, will do more to control plant disease and insects than any other cure we know to date.

GARDEN DUST

The Multi-Purpose Garden Dust

Use It Where Inconvenient to Use Garden Spray

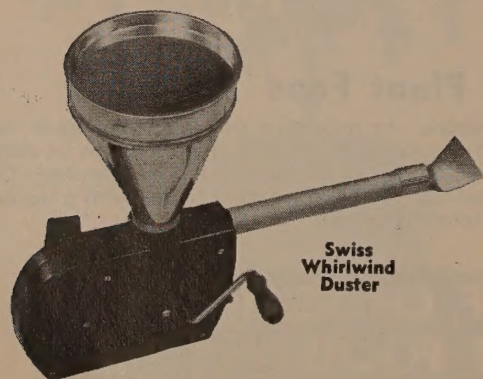

"Wayside Gardens" Garden Dust is a mighty fine combination of the recently discovered insecticides. We use it at Wayside and keep our plants clean and healthy without much difficulty. To make a report here of what goes into this dust is more or less pointless. What is important is that it does a perfect job for us and we know it will for you. We are not so much interested in a little profit from an insecticide as we are interested in seeing that whatever plants you buy from us or what flowers you already have, grow well and give you pleasure. It is for this reason we make this dust available to our customers. Prevention is better than a cure so dust frequently and dust sparingly for best results.

Your plants need a balanced organic food, not just stimulants.
They need in right amounts, those things that make plenty of strong roots, produce sturdy stalks, thrifty foliage and an abundance of good sized blooms year after year. That's exactly the kind of Plant Food we use at Wayside. Not just an over-stimulating "shot in the arm."
Much of our success in growing such unfailingly fine plants is due to it. A successful garden will be yours if you will follow our advice.

It's Easy to Order by Mail from Wayside

New Customers Are Invited to Read This Page Before Ordering

The business of Wayside Gardens is conducted each spring and fall with many gardeners and is based on confidence and co-operation. By its very nature, most of our shipping must be done during only a few weeks in each season. Based on many years' experience, we have worked out systems for handling plant materials expeditiously and correctly. However, to smooth these seasonal rush periods out as much as possible, it is extremely helpful if you will order as early as possible.

We Ship at Proper Planting Time

All plants, roses, shrubs or bulbs will be shipped at the proper period during planting in your locality. If there is a special date on which you would like to receive your order, mention it on your order blank. Weather permitting, we will comply with your request, but remember a "rainy" day can upset the best laid plans. If, upon receipt of package or bundle, you are not able to plant contents at once, open package containing hardy plants to admit air, keep roots moist and store in a cool place, away from wind and heat. Boxes or bundles containing shrubs or roses should not be opened but kept in a very cool place until you can plant. We pack carefully and a few days' delay in planting will not matter if you carry out the above instructions.

Remittances Must Accompany Order

Your remittance and your order will be acknowledged when received. Checks, money orders or bank drafts may be used. Please avoid the use of currency as much as possible. Because of possible delay and the nature of the material involved, we do not like to ship any nursery stock C.O.D. but will if you insist.

Shipping Directions

It is not possible to determine weights of shrubs or plants in advance; therefore, we have never included transportation charges in the purchase price of any of our products. Unless instructed to the contrary, we ship by Express, this being the fastest as well as the best method because large bundles rarely comply with postal regulations.

We can forward small orders by parcel post and, if wanted sent that way, add 10 per cent to value of order for postage and packing to points east of the Mississippi River and 15 per cent to points west of the Mississippi River.

Our Method of Packing

Shrubs, roses, bulbs and hardy plants are sent in separate packages, sometimes several weeks apart because they do not mature at the same time and are transplanted at widely differing periods. Perennial plants are never included in the same bundle with shrubs or roses. So do not be alarmed if you don't receive all you have ordered all in one bundle at once. This special notice is to save you unnecessary correspondence.

Quantities and Prices

- 1 or 2 plants of one kind are sold only where each rate is quoted.
- 3 to 5 plants of one kind are sold at the three rate. We do not sell any hardy plants in smaller units than three unless the variety is specifically quoted per each.
- 6 to 24 plants of one kind are sold at the dozen rate. 25 or more plants of one kind are sold at the hundred rate.

WAYSIDE GARDENS GUARANTEE

1. We guarantee each order we send out to be filled with stock of fine quality and to reach you in good live growing condition. If you are not entirely satisfied, return it at once and we will replace it free or refund your money.
2. Wayside stock is very carefully grown and handled. Under normal care and conditions it will grow and flourish. Of course, you would not expect us to replace free of charge stock lost due to conditions beyond our control, such as extreme heat or cold or possible neglect or lack of experience on the part of the planter.
3. However, if you will report losses due to the above-mentioned conditions within the period of 30 days, accompanying your report with remittance of one-half the original purchase price, we will be glad to send you new plants for those lost. Shipment of these items will be made at the earliest possible date or, better still, you can add them to your next order. When reporting, state clearly quantity as well as variety. Replacements are made as soon as possible upon hearing from you.
